CHAPTER I: INTRODUCTION

1. Introduction

1. The Accused in this case is Gaspard Kanyarukiga, who was born in Kivumu commune, Kibuye préfecture.<sup>1</sup> In 1994, Kanyarukiga was a businessman who owned a pharmacy in the Nyange Trading Centre, located in Nyange secteur, Kivumu commune, Kibuye préfecture.<sup>2</sup> He opened the pharmacy in the late 1980s.<sup>3</sup> He also owned a business in Kigali.<sup>4</sup> Kanyarukiga is alleged to be criminally responsible under Article 6(1) of the Statute and as part of a joint criminal enterprise. The Prosecution has charged Kanyarukiga with genocide, complicity in genocide (in the alternative) and extermination as a crime against humanity for acts allegedly committed in Kivumu commune between 6 and 30 April 1994. The Defence disputes all charges and raises a defence of alibi. Following is an overview of the main allegations.<sup>5</sup>

2. Summary of Procedural History

2. Gaspard Kanyarukiga was arrested in South Africa on 16 July 2004 and transferred to the International Criminal Tribunal for Rwanda (ICTR) on 19 July 2004. The Prosecution case commenced on 31 August 2009. After calling eleven witnesses over 14 trial days, the Prosecution closed its case on 17 September 2009. The Defence case opened on 18 January 2010 and closed on 11 February 2010. The Defence called twenty-three witnesses over fourteen trial days. The Chamber undertook a site visit in Rwanda between 19 and 21 April 2010. Closing arguments were heard on 24 May 2010. The Chamber pronounced its unanimous judgement on 1 November 2010 and the written judgement was filed on 9 November 2010 after the conclusion of the editorial process. The procedural history is set out in full in an Annex to this judgement.

3. Overview of the Case

Attacks on Tutsi civilians in Kivumu commune

3. The Prosecution alleges in the Amended Indictment that, following the death of the Rwandan President on 6 April 1994, Tutsi civilians were attacked in their homes in Kivumu commune and some of them, including Grégoire Ndakubana, Martin Karekezi and Thomas Mwendezi, were killed. Based on the undisputed testimony of eight Prosecution witnesses and two Defence witnesses, the Chamber has found beyond reasonable doubt that Tutsi civilians were attacked and killed in Kivumu commune after 6 April 1994. The Prosecution, however, has failed to establish that Grégoire Ndakubana, Martin Karekezi and Thomas Mwendezi were among the victims of these attacks.

<sup>3</sup> According to the Defence opening statement, the Accused did not own the pharmacy prior to 1987. T. 18 January 2010, p. 15; Prosecution Final Brief para. 14.

<sup>5</sup> With regard to some allegations, the Chamber has found that the Accused did not receive adequate notice. These allegations are not included in this overview of the case.

Tutsi civilians seek refuge at Nyange Parish Church

4. The Amended Indictment alleges that, as a result of the attacks on Tutsi civilians in Kivumu commune, Tutsi civilians sought refuge in public buildings such as the communal office and the Nyange Parish Church.<sup>6</sup> The Chamber has found, based on the consistent and corroborative testimony of seven Prosecution witnesses and three Defence witnesses, that Tutsi civilians sought refuge from these attacks at the Nyange Parish Church. The evidence, however, is insufficient to establish beyond reasonable doubt that Tutsi also sought refuge at the Kivumu commune office.

Meeting on or about 10 April 1994 at Nyange Parish

5. The Amended Indictment alleges that, on or about 10 April 1994, Gaspard Kanyarukiga, Father Athanase Seromba, Fulgence Kayishema, Grégoire Ndahimana and others attended a meeting at the Nyange Parish Presbytery, at which the state of insecurity and killings were discussed and at which Father Seromba blamed the inkotanyi for killing President Habyarimana. One Prosecution witness provided evidence that, on 10 April 1994, Kanyarukiga arrived at the Nyange Parish with Fulgence Kayishema, Télesphore Ndungutse and Grégoire Ndahimana and attended a meeting with Father Seromba. The Prosecution witness did not give any evidence as to what was discussed at this meeting. The Chamber has doubts about the witness's account of this particular event and therefore has not relied on his evidence.

Meeting on or about 12 April 1994 at Nyange Parish

6. The Prosecution alleges in the Amended Indictment that, "on or about 12 April 1994", Kanyarukiga, Kayishema, Ndahimana, Ndungutse and others attended a meeting with Father Seromba on Seromba's balcony at the Nyange Parish. The evidence shows that the meeting described in the Amended Indictment occurred on 14 April 1994. Two Prosecution witnesses testified that at least Kanyarukiga, Kayishema, Ndahimana and Mbakirirehe met with Father Seromba at the Nyange Parish on 14 April 1994. The Defence presented one witness who testified that he was at the parish on 14 April 1994 and that no one met with Father Seromba on that day. The Chamber finds that the two Prosecution witnesses are generally credible and that the Defence evidence does not cast doubt on their testimony. The Chamber has therefore found it established beyond reasonable doubt that Kanyarukiga attended a meeting at the Nyange Parish on 14 April 1994. It has not been established however, that this meeting was held on the presbytery balcony.

Armed attackers surround the Tutsi at Nyange Parish

7. The Prosecution alleges that from 12 April 1994, armed attackers, including interahamwe and gendarmes, surrounded the Nyange Church, where the Tutsi had taken refuge. The Chamber has considered the evidence of several events between 12 and 15 April 1994 in the context of this

---

<sup>6</sup> The Trial Chamber notes that the Amended Indictment refers to Tutsi civilians who sought refuge in the Nyange Church as "refugees". Prosecution and Defence witnesses also used the term "refugee" to describe the Tutsi who took refuge at the church. The Chamber notes, however, that according to the Convention and Protocol Relating to the Status of Refugees, a "refugee" is someone who "owing to well-founded fear of being persecuted for reasons of race, religion, nationality, membership of a particular social group or political opinion, is outside the country of his nationality and is unable or, owing to such fear, is unwilling to avail himself of the protection of that country; or who, not having a nationality and being outside the country of his former habitual residence as a result of such events, is unable or, owing to such fear, is unwilling to return to it" (emphasis added). Convention Relating to the Status of Refugees, adopted 28 July 1951, Article 1(A)(2), 189 U.N.T.S. 150, 152; Protocol Relating to the Status of Refugees adopted 31 January 1967, Article 1(A)(2), 606 U.N.T.S. 267, 268. Given that the Tutsi in question were displaced within their country of nationality and had not crossed an international boundary, the term "refugee" does not accurately convey the status of these persons under international law in April 1994. Thus, within this Judgement, the Chamber has only used the term refugee to describe the Tutsi at the Nyange Church when quoting a witness or one of the Parties.

paragraph. The Chamber has addressed the potential notice issues raised in relation to these events in its factual findings below.

8. Based on the evidence adduced at trial, the Chamber has found that the general allegation in this paragraph of the Amended Indictment is established beyond reasonable doubt. The Chamber has also found that, on 13 April 1994, Hutu assailants attacked the Tutsi civilians who had taken refuge at the Nyange Church. Sticks and machetes were also confiscated from the Tutsi on that day. The Chamber finds it has been established that, on 14 April 1994, Hutu assailants surrounded and attacked the Tutsi at the Nyange Parish, but the Tutsi were able to repel the attacks. Finally, it has been established beyond reasonable doubt, that after 12 April 1994, gendarmes were posted at the Nyange Parish, and Father Seromba instructed them to shoot any Tutsi who tried to take bananas from the parish banana plantation. As explained below, the Prosecution failed to establish beyond reasonable doubt all other allegations of criminal or incriminating conduct prior to 15 April 1994.

Attacks and killings on the morning of 15 April 1994 at Nyange Parish

9. The Amended Indictment alleges that on the morning of 15 April 1994, Kanyarukiga, Kayishema, Ndungutse and Ndahimana ordered and instigated the attacks on Tutsi civilians at the Nyange Parish. Allegedly these attacks included stones, traditional weapons and grenades which killed and wounded many Tutsi.

10. Three Prosecution witnesses provided convincing and largely corroborated accounts of Kanyarukiga's presence at the Nyange Parish and the Nyange Trading Centre, close to the parish, during the morning of 15 April 1994. The Chamber has found these accounts to be credible. A number of Defence witnesses did not see Kanyarukiga at the Nyange Parish or the Nyange Trading Centre on 15 April 1994. The Chamber however, has not found that these accounts cast doubt on the Prosecution evidence.

Attacks, killings and attempted burning of Nyange Church later on 15 April 1994

11. According to the Amended Indictment, the attackers turned their focus to the Nyange Church later on 15 April 1994, with gunfire and dynamite. It is alleged that Kanyarukiga and others were present and that they ordered, instigated and supervised the attackers as well as aided and abetted the attackers by providing them with weapons and gasoline.

12. The Chamber has found the largely corroborated accounts of two Prosecution witnesses regarding Kanyarukiga's presence during the attacks and prior to the attempted burning of Nyange Church on 15 April 1994 to be credible. Two Prosecution witnesses provided accounts of Kanyarukiga's presence at the Nyange Parish after the attempted burning of the church and his participation in a discussion with Kayishema about the possible demolition of the church. The Chamber has found one of these witnesses credible and has therefore accepted the evidence of both witnesses on this point. The Chamber does not consider the Defence evidence to cast doubt on the testimony of these witnesses.

Meeting at CODEKOKI on the morning of 16 April 1994

13. The Amended Indictment alleges that on the morning of 16 April 1994, Kanyarukiga and others held a meeting at the CODEKOKI building where the destruction of the Nyange Church and the killing of the Tutsi inside it were planned and agreed to.

14. The Prosecution led no evidence to support this allegation. Rather, the Prosecution has relied on one witness who provided evidence of a meeting, which Kanyarukiga allegedly attended outside his pharmacy on the morning of 16 April 1994. The Chamber has disregarded this evidence as the Prosecution has not given the Accused sufficient notice of this allegation. For these reasons the Prosecution has failed to establish the allegation in paragraph 16 of the Amended Indictment.

Meeting at Nyange Parish on 16 April 1994

15. The Amended Indictment alleges that Kanyarukiga and others met with Athanase Seromba on 16 April 1994 to inform him of their decision to destroy the Nyange Church in order to kill the Tutsi inside. It further alleges that Kanyarukiga instigated the demolition of the church by suggesting that another would be built.

16. Four Prosecution witnesses provided evidence that Kanyarukiga and others met with Father Seromba at the Nyange Parish on the morning of 16 April 1994. The witnesses all testified about what was said or what they inferred was said during this meeting. The Chamber deems two of these witnesses to be generally credible and therefore relies on their testimony, having corroborated the other two Prosecution witnesses on this point. The Chamber also finds, based on the first-hand account of one of these witnesses, as corroborated by the circumstantial evidence of the other three, that the demolition of the church was discussed during this meeting. The Chamber has considered the evidence of one Defence witness who testified that he did not witness a meeting at the parish on 16 April 1994 and four Defence witnesses who testified that they did not see Kanyarukiga in Nyange on 16 April 1994 or hear that he was present. The Chamber does not consider this evidence to cast doubt on the consistent and corroborated evidence of the Prosecution witnesses.

17. Finally, one Prosecution witness gave evidence that Kanyarukiga told Bourgmestre Ndahimana, IPJ Kayishema, Judge Habiyaambere, Ndungutse and others that the Nyange Church had to be destroyed and that he would make it his responsibility to rebuild it. The Chamber has found the testimony of this witness to be compelling and reliable and therefore has no doubt that Kanyarukiga made this statement.

Destruction of Nyange Church with bulldozers and the resulting deaths of 2000 Tutsi

18. According to the Amended Indictment, on 16 April 1994, Kanyarukiga and others were present and instigated the destruction of the Nyange Church with a bulldozer, which resulted in the killing of about 2000 Tutsi civilians. Based on the combined testimony of six Prosecution witnesses and eight Defence witnesses, the Chamber has found it established beyond reasonable doubt that at least one bulldozer was used to destroy the Nyange Church on 16 April 1994, killing approximately 2000 Tutsi civilians who had taken refuge inside.

19. The Prosecution relies on three witnesses to establish that Kanyarukiga was present during the destruction of the Nyange Church. The Chamber had not found this testimony to be credible. The Prosecution brought no evidence to support its allegations against Kanyarukiga regarding instigation.

The Defence Case

20. The Defence has provided an alibi for the period of 12 April to 16 April 1994, which places Kanyarukiga in Gitarama and Ndera, just outside Kigali, during this time. The following factors, in combination, lead the Chamber to its conclusion with regard to the alibi.

21. Firstly, the Chamber finds that the delayed filing of the Accused's notice of alibi and the even later filing of a complete list of alibi witnesses suggest that the alibi has been constructed over a period of time to respond to the Prosecution evidence and meet the particular needs of the Accused.

22. Secondly, the Chamber does not find the Defence witnesses who provided evidence with regard to the alibi to be credible.

23. Finally, the Chamber has carefully considered the observations recorded during the Chamber's site visit. Comparisons between the observations during the site visit and the Defence witness evidence confirm to the Chamber that the evidence given by Defence witnesses is not credible and the route purportedly taken by Kanyarukiga on 16 April 1994 was long, precarious and would not have been taken at all at that time.

24. In combination, these factors lead the Chamber to find that the alibi is not reasonably possibly true.

Verdict

25. The Chamber has found Gaspard Kanyarukiga responsible pursuant to Article 6(1) of the Statute for planning the destruction of the Nyange Church on 16 April 1994. Kanyarukiga is therefore guilty of genocide (Count 1) and extermination as a crime against humanity (Count 3).

26. Kanyarukiga is not guilty of complicity in genocide (Count 2).

Sentencing

27. The Chamber has considered the gravity of each of the crimes for which he has been convicted, as well as aggravating and mitigating circumstances. The Chamber sentences Gaspard Kanyarukiga to a single sentence of 30 years imprisonment. He shall remain in the custody of the Tribunal pending transfer to the State where he will serve his sentence.

CHAPTER II: PRELIMINARY ISSUES

1. Issues Relating to the Indictment

1.1. Facts not Pled in the Indictment

28. Article 20(4)(a) of the Statute guarantees an accused the fundamental right “[t]o be informed promptly and in detail in a language which he or she understands of the nature and cause of the charge against him or her”. The Appeals Chamber has interpreted this provision, in conjunction with Articles 17(4), 20(2), and 20(4)(b) of the Statute and Rule 47(C) of the Rules of Procedure and Evidence (“the Rules”), as requiring the Prosecution to state all material facts underpinning the charges in the indictment but not the evidence by which such facts are to be proven.<sup>7</sup>

29. The Appeals Chamber has further noted that charges against an accused and the material facts supporting those charges must be pleaded with sufficient precision in an indictment to provide notice to the accused.<sup>8</sup> The Prosecution is expected to know its case before proceeding to trial and cannot mould the case against the accused in the course of the trial depending on how the evidence unfolds.<sup>9</sup> However, defects in an indictment may come to light during the proceedings because the evidence turns out differently than expected. In this situation, the Trial Chamber must consider whether a fair trial requires an amendment of the indictment, an adjournment of proceedings or the exclusion of evidence outside the scope of the indictment.<sup>10</sup>

30. The Prosecution is required to plead in the indictment the specific mode or modes of liability under which the accused is charged.<sup>11</sup> The Appeals Chamber has routinely discouraged the Prosecution from merely restating the language of Article 6(1) (or of Article 7(1) of the ICTY Statute) unless it intends to rely on all modes of liability contained therein.<sup>12</sup> Instead, the Prosecution is advised to plead only those modes of liability upon which it intends to rely.<sup>13</sup> When the Prosecution does intend to rely on all modes of responsibility contained in Article 6(1) (or of Article 7(1) of the ICTY Statute), it must plead the material facts relevant to each mode of liability.<sup>14</sup> Failure to do so will result in a defective indictment.<sup>15</sup>

31. Whether particular facts are “material” depends on the nature of the Prosecution case.<sup>16</sup> The Prosecution’s characterisation of the alleged criminal conduct and the proximity of the accused to the underlying offence are decisive factors in determining the degree of specificity with which the Prosecution must plead the material facts in order to provide the accused with adequate notice.<sup>17</sup>

32. The Appeals Chamber has held, for example, that criminal acts that were physically committed by the accused must be set forth in the indictment specifically, including, where feasible, “the identity of the victim, the time and place of the events and the means by which the acts were committed.”<sup>18</sup> In certain circumstances, the sheer scale of the alleged crimes makes it impracticable to require a high degree of specificity in matters such as the identity of the victims and the dates of the commission of the crimes.<sup>19</sup>

33. Where it is alleged that the accused planned, instigated, ordered or aided and abetted in the planning, preparation or execution of the alleged crimes, the Prosecution is required to identify the “particular acts” or “particular course of conduct” on the part of the accused that forms the basis for the charges in question.<sup>20</sup>

34. If the Prosecution intends to rely on a theory of joint criminal enterprise, it must specifically plead this mode of liability in the indictment.<sup>21</sup> Although joint criminal enterprise is understood as a means of “committing” under the Statute, it is insufficient for an indictment to make broad reference to Article 6(1).<sup>22</sup> Rather, the Prosecution must indicate in the indictment whether it is alleging physical commission by the accused, participation in a joint criminal enterprise or both.<sup>23</sup> If the Prosecution relies on a theory of JCE, the purpose of the enterprise, the identity of its participants, the nature of the accused’s participation in the enterprise and the period of the enterprise must be pleaded in the indictment.<sup>24</sup> Additionally, the indictment should clearly indicate which form of JCE is specifically being alleged: basic, systemic, or extended.<sup>25</sup>

35. Finally, an indictment may also be defective when the material facts are pled without sufficient specificity, for example, when the times mentioned refer to broad date ranges, the places are only vaguely indicated and the victims are only generally identified.<sup>26</sup>

36. An indictment lacking the requisite precision is defective. However, the defect may be cured in exceptional circumstances if the Prosecution provides the accused with timely, clear and consistent information detailing the factual basis underpinning the charge.<sup>27</sup> Such information may be provided through means such as a pre-trial brief and annexed witness summaries, the opening statement and motions to vary witness lists.<sup>28</sup> However, the principle that a defect in an indictment may be cured is not without limits. In this respect, the Appeals Chamber has emphasised:

[T]he “new material facts” should not lead to a “radical transformation” of the Prosecution’s case against the accused. The Trial Chamber should always take into account the risk that the expansion of charges by the addition of new material facts may lead to unfairness and prejudice to the accused. Further, if the new material facts are such that they could, on their own, support separate charges, the Prosecution should seek leave from the Trial Chamber to amend the indictment and the Trial Chamber should only grant leave if it is satisfied that it would not lead to unfairness or prejudice to the Defence.<sup>29</sup>

37. The Chamber also recalls that it is to be assumed that “an Accused will prepare his defence on the basis of material facts contained in the indictment, not on the basis of all the material disclosed to him that may support any number of additional charges, or expand the scope of existing charges.”<sup>30</sup> Thus, the Appeals Chamber has held that mere service of witness statements pursuant to disclosure obligations does not suffice to inform the accused of the material facts that the Prosecution intends to prove at trial.<sup>31</sup>

38. Also, as explained by the Appeals Chamber in Karera, a clear distinction must be drawn between vagueness in an indictment and an indictment omitting certain charges altogether.<sup>32</sup> While it may be possible to cure a vagueness in the indictment, omitted charges can only be incorporated into the indictment by a formal amendment pursuant to Rule 50 of the Rules.<sup>33</sup> A Trial Chamber can convict an accused only of crimes that are charged in the indictment.<sup>34</sup>

39. The Chamber has considered whether sufficient notice was given for various pieces of Prosecution allegations and evidence. The Chamber discusses its findings with regard to notice in its factual and legal findings, prior to considering these allegations in its deliberations.<sup>35</sup>

1.2. Decision on the Defence Motion for Exclusion of Evidence

40. On 15 January 2010, the Trial Chamber issued its decision on the Defence request for a stay of the proceedings or the exclusion of several pieces of Prosecution evidence, which the Defence alleged were outside the scope of the Amended Indictment.<sup>36</sup> The Defence's motion for a stay of proceedings was dismissed because the Defence request was not based on delay or pre-trial misconduct, as required by the jurisprudence of the Tribunal.<sup>37</sup>

41. After considering the jurisprudence of the Tribunal regarding notice, the Trial Chamber excluded Witness CBN's testimony that the Accused was at a roadblock on 13 and 14 April 1994 and Witness CNJ's testimony that the Accused went to fetch a bulldozer with a member of the interahamwe.<sup>38</sup> The Chamber dismissed six additional Defence requests for exclusion of evidence on the basis that there was sufficient notice of the particular evidence adduced.<sup>39</sup> In an interlocutory appeal from the Trial Chamber decision, the ICTR Appeals Chamber upheld the Trial Chamber's finding that there was sufficient notice of Witness YAU's testimony that Kanyarukiga threw food intended for the Tutsi at the parish onto the ground.<sup>40</sup>

42. The Chamber reserved until the judgement its decision with regard to evidence provided by Prosecution witnesses that related to meetings the Accused was alleged to have attended.<sup>41</sup> The Chamber has addressed whether the requisite notice has been given for this evidence in the relevant sections of its factual findings below.<sup>42</sup>

2. Evidentiary Matters

43. Article 20(3) of the Statute guarantees the presumption of innocence of each accused person. The burden of proving the guilt of the accused beyond reasonable doubt rests solely on the Prosecution and never shifts to the Defence. The Chamber must be satisfied beyond reasonable doubt that the accused is guilty before a verdict may be entered against him or her.<sup>43</sup>

44. While the Defence does not have to adduce rebuttal evidence to the Prosecution case, the Prosecution will fail to discharge its burden of proof if the Defence presents evidence that raises a reasonable doubt regarding the Prosecution case.<sup>44</sup> An accused person must be acquitted if there is any reasonable explanation for the Prosecution evidence other than his or her guilt.<sup>45</sup> Refusal to believe or rely upon Defence evidence does not automatically amount to a guilty verdict.<sup>46</sup> The Chamber must still determine whether the evidence it does accept establishes the accused's guilt beyond reasonable doubt.<sup>47</sup> Where an alibi is properly raised, the Prosecution must establish beyond reasonable doubt that, despite the alibi, the facts alleged are nevertheless true.<sup>48</sup> When the alibi does prima facie account for the accused's activities at the relevant time of the commission of the crime, the Prosecution must "eliminate the reasonable possibility that the alibi is true".<sup>49</sup>

45. The general principle enshrined in Rule 90(A) of the Rules is that witnesses should be heard directly by the Trial Chamber.<sup>50</sup> However, there are well established exceptions to the Chamber's preference for direct, live, in-court testimony, including the taking of witness testimony by deposition,<sup>51</sup> and the admission of written statements, in lieu of oral testimony, which do not go to proof of the alleged conduct of the accused as charged in the indictment.<sup>52</sup>

46. While direct evidence is preferred, hearsay evidence is not per se inadmissible before the Trial Chamber.<sup>53</sup> The Trial Chamber has the discretion to treat such hearsay evidence with caution, depending on the circumstances of the case.<sup>54</sup> In certain circumstances, hearsay evidence may require other credible or reliable evidence adduced by the Prosecution in order to support a finding of fact beyond reasonable doubt. "The source of information, the precise character of the information, and the fact that other evidence corroborates the hearsay evidence are relevant criteria in assessing the weight or probative value of hearsay evidence."<sup>55</sup>

47. In general, a Chamber can make a finding of fact based on the evidence of a single witness if it finds such evidence to be relevant and credible.<sup>56</sup> Corroboration of a witness's testimony is not a requirement in the practice of the Tribunal.<sup>57</sup> Similarly, even if the Trial Chamber finds that a witness's testimony is inconsistent or otherwise problematic, it may still choose to accept the evidence because it is corroborated by other evidence.<sup>58</sup>

48. Two testimonies corroborate one another when one prima facie credible testimony is compatible with the other prima facie credible testimony regarding the same fact or a sequence of linked facts. It is not necessary that both testimonies be identical in all aspects or describe the same fact in the same way.<sup>59</sup> Corroboration may exist even when testimonies differ on some details, provided that no credible testimony described the facts in question in a way which is incompatible with the description given in another credible testimony.<sup>60</sup>

49. The Trial Chamber may rely on evidence from accomplices or detained witnesses.<sup>61</sup> An accomplice, within the jurisprudence of the Tribunal, is someone who is “an associate in guilt, a partner in crime”<sup>62</sup> or, more specifically, someone who is charged with the same criminal acts as the accused.<sup>63</sup> As explained by the Appeals Chamber, evidence of accomplice witnesses is not per se unreliable, particularly where the accomplice has been thoroughly cross-examined.<sup>64</sup> However, the evidence of accomplice witnesses should be subject to “special caution.”<sup>65</sup> As the Appeals Chamber has noted:

“considering accomplice witnesses may have motives or incentives to implicate the accused person before the Tribunal, a Chamber, when weighing the probative value of such evidence, is bound to carefully consider the totality of the circumstances in which it was tendered.”<sup>66</sup>

50. In assessing the reliability of an accomplice witness, the principle consideration for the Trial Chamber is, therefore, whether or not the accomplice had an ulterior motive to so testify.<sup>67</sup>

51. Provided the appropriate caution is taken to guard against the exercise of an underlying motive on the part of the witness, the Chamber retains full discretion to rely on uncorroborated, but otherwise credible, witness testimony.<sup>68</sup> In assessing the evidence of accomplice witnesses, the Chamber may have particular regard for the extent to which discrepancies in the testimonies were explained;<sup>69</sup> whether the accomplice witness has made a plea agreement with the Prosecution;<sup>70</sup> whether the witness has already been tried and, if applicable, sentenced for his own crimes, or whether he is still awaiting the completion of his trial;<sup>71</sup> and whether the witness may have any other reason for holding a grudge against the accused.<sup>72</sup> Further, the Chamber recalls that, whilst “the ability of the Chamber to rule on the basis of testimonies and other evidence is not bound by any rule of corroboration”,<sup>73</sup> corroboration is one of many potential factors relevant to the Chamber’s assessment of witness credibility.<sup>74</sup>

<sup>63</sup> Ntagerura et al., Judgement (AC), para. 234. The Appeals Chamber noted in Ntagerura that, “the reason for applying ‘caution’ to the testimony of accomplice evidence is that accomplice witnesses may have motives or incentives to implicate the accused person before the Tribunal. Obviously, these motives or incentives are much stronger when the witness is charged with the same criminal acts as the accused [as opposed to crimes of a similar nature].”

52. Where the Chamber accepts the evidence of an accomplice witness, who may have motives or incentives to implicate the accused, it must explain why it accepted the testimony.<sup>75</sup> As the Appeals Chamber has observed, “Trial Chambers cannot merely state they exercised caution when assessing the evidence of an accomplice witness, but must establish that they in fact did so.”<sup>76</sup>

53. The Trial Chamber also has broad discretion to determine the weight to be given to the discrepancies between a witness’s testimony and his prior statements.<sup>77</sup> It is for the Chamber to decide if an alleged inconsistency is sufficient to cast doubt on a witness’s evidence, and the Chamber may accept such evidence, notwithstanding the discrepancies.<sup>78</sup> However, a Trial Chamber is bound to take into account inconsistencies and any explanations offered in respect of them when weighing the probative value of the evidence.<sup>79</sup>

54. Finally, a Trial Chamber is entitled to accept certain parts of a witness’s testimony and reject others.<sup>80</sup> It may, for example, rely on a portion of a witness’s testimony, such as that which is based on the witness’s personal observations, while not relying on another part of the evidence, such as that which is based on hearsay.<sup>81</sup> The Trial Chamber is not required to set out in detail why it accepted or rejected particular parts of a witness’s testimony.<sup>82</sup>

3. Decision on Defence Motion for Acquittal

55. In its 9 October 2009 Decision on the Defence Motion for Judgement of Acquittal Pursuant to Rule 98 bis, the Trial Chamber denied the Defence request for a judgement of acquittal on the allegations contained within paragraphs 11 and 16 of the Amended Indictment.<sup>83</sup> In accordance with the well-established jurisprudence of the Tribunal, the Trial Chamber declined to examine the sufficiency of the evidence in support of these paragraphs in isolation from the remainder of the

4. Judicial Notice

56. According to Rule 94 of the Rules, a Trial Chamber shall take judicial notice of facts of common knowledge and may take judicial notice of previously adjudicated facts.

4.1. Facts of Common Knowledge

57. Rule 94(A) provides that a “Trial Chamber shall not require proof of facts of common knowledge but shall take judicial notice thereof.” Facts of common knowledge are those that are not reasonably subject to dispute: in other words, commonly accepted or universally known facts, such as general facts of history or geography, or the laws of nature. Such facts are not only widely known but also beyond reasonable dispute.<sup>86</sup>

58. In accordance with the Appeals Chamber’s findings in Karemera and Semanza, the Pre-Trial Chamber took judicial notice of the following facts of common knowledge in its decision of 14 May 2009:<sup>87</sup>

- i. Between 6 April 1994 and 17 July 1994, genocide against the Tutsi ethnic group occurred in Rwanda.
- ii. Between 6 April 1994 and 17 July 1994, citizens native to Rwanda were severally identified, according to the following ethnic classifications: Hutu, Tutsi, and Twa.
- iii. Between 6 April 1994 and 17 July 1994, there were throughout Rwanda widespread or systematic attacks against a civilian population based on Tutsi ethnic identification. During the attacks, some Rwandan citizens killed or caused serious bodily or mental harm to persons perceived to be Tutsi. As a result of the attacks, a large number of deaths of persons of the Tutsi ethnic group occurred.
- iv. Between 6 April 1994 and 17 July 1994, there was in Rwanda, an armed conflict that was not of an international character.
- v. Between 1 January 1994 and 17 July 1994, Rwanda was a State Party to the Convention on the Prevention and Punishment of the Crime of Genocide (1948), having acceded to it on 16 April 1975.
- vi. Between 1 January 1994 and 17 July 1994, Rwanda was a State Party to the Geneva Conventions of 12 August 1949 and their Additional Protocol II of 8 June 1977, having acceded to the Geneva Conventions of 12 August 1949 on 5 May 1964 and having acceded to Protocols Additional thereto of 1977 on 19 November 1984.

59. The Chamber recalls that taking judicial notice of these facts does not relieve the Prosecution of its burden to lead evidence to prove beyond reasonable doubt that the Accused's conduct and mental state rendered him individually responsible for genocide or crimes against humanity as charged in the Amended Indictment.<sup>88</sup>

4.2. Adjudicated Facts

60. Rule 94(B) provides that a Trial Chamber may take judicial notice of adjudicated facts or documentary evidence from other proceedings of the Tribunal relating to the matter at issue in the current proceedings. An adjudicated fact is one on which the Tribunal has deliberated and made a final determination.<sup>89</sup> Judicial notice, however, should not be taken of adjudicated facts relating to the acts, conduct and mental state of the accused.<sup>90</sup> Nor should judicial notice be taken of facts that concern core issues in the case.<sup>91</sup> Finally, judicial notice pursuant to Rule 94(B) "is not designed for the importing of legal conclusions from past proceedings."<sup>92</sup>

61. In its decision of 14 May 2009, the Pre-Trial Chamber denied the Prosecution request for judicial notice to be taken of two adjudicated facts: 1) that the Nyange Church was destroyed by a bulldozer on 16 April 1994; and 2) that Athanase Seromba was convicted of committing genocide with respect to approximately 1500 Tutsi "refugees" who had taken refuge at the Nyange Church.<sup>93</sup> The Chamber found that the first of the two proposed adjudicated facts concerned a core issue in the case and that taking judicial notice of this fact could have placed a significant burden on the Accused to produce rebuttal evidence.<sup>94</sup> The Chamber further found that the second proposed adjudicated fact contained findings or characterisations of an essentially legal nature, which were not subject to judicial notice.<sup>95</sup>

5. Alleged Disappearance of Exculpatory Materials

62. When Kanyarukiga was handed over to ICTR representatives in South Africa on 19 July 2004, the Office of the Prosecutor produced a preliminary inventory of items seized from the Accused.<sup>96</sup> A second, more detailed inventory was prepared on 10 September 2004, after the Accused was transferred to Arusha.<sup>97</sup> Kanyarukiga signed this second inventory list on 10 September 2004 but made notations indicating that certain items, including two laissez-passers, were missing from the inventory.<sup>98</sup> On 7 August 2009, the Defence filed a motion pursuant to Rule 68(A) of the Rules requesting that the Prosecution disclose and return three Rwandan laissez-passers or feuille de routes, which it alleged were seized at the time of Kanyarukiga's arrest and delivered to the Prosecution of the ICTR.<sup>99</sup>

63. In its 30 October 2009 decision on the Defence motion for disclosure and return of exculpatory materials, the Trial Chamber denied the Defence request for the laissez-passers on the grounds that it had not been established that the laissez-passers were in the custody or control of the Prosecution.<sup>100</sup>

64. In its 19 February 2010 decision on the interlocutory appeal from the Trial Chamber's decision, the ICTR Appeals Chamber dismissed the Defence's first ground of appeal, finding that the Defence had failed to demonstrate that the Trial Chamber committed a discernible error in finding that there was no basis to order the disclosure of the laissez-passers.<sup>101</sup> Like the Trial Chamber, the Appeals Chamber found that it had not been established that laissez-passers were among the items seized from the Accused.<sup>102</sup>

65. The Appeals Chamber also dismissed the Accused's second ground of appeal but found that the Trial Chamber had erred in its characterisation of the law on alibi when it stated that the laissez-passers "would not have been proof of the [Appellant's] location at any given time."<sup>103</sup> The Appeals Chamber also found that the "Trial Chamber's commentaries upon the evidentiary methods by which the Appellant may present his alibi defence and on any alleged prejudice were unnecessary and premature."<sup>104</sup>

66. Relying on these findings of error, the Defence requests in its closing brief that the Trial Chamber revisit the issue of the laissez-passers or feuille de routes in its final judgement.<sup>105</sup> The Defence argues that it presented compelling evidence of the existence of the laissez-passers or feuille de routes and that the "loss of these important documents in the hands of the Prosecution has seriously detrimentally affected the ability of the Accused to present his complete Defence".<sup>106</sup> The Defence contends that the Prosecution's negligence entitles the Accused to a remedy.<sup>107</sup>

67. The Trial Chamber recalls that the issue at hand has already been resolved by the Appeals Chamber. Additionally, even if believed, the evidence presented by Defence witnesses at trial can only establish that the documents were issued to the Accused in 1994. It cannot prove that these documents were among the items seized from the Accused when he was arrested in South Africa in

6. Notice of Alibi

68. The Defence filed a “Provisional Formal Notice of Alibi” on 30 September 2009, after the presentation of the Prosecution case from 31 August to 17 September 2009.<sup>108</sup> The Chamber recalls that Rule 67(A)(ii)(a) of the Rules requires the Defence to notify the Prosecution of its intent to enter a defence of alibi. Rule 67(A)(ii)(a) indicates that this notification shall be provided “as early as reasonably practicable” and prior to the commencement of the trial. However, Rule 67(B) goes on to say that failure to file any notice under Rule 67(A)(ii), in this case a notice of alibi, does not prevent the accused from relying on this defence at trial. Given this procedural requirement under the rules to allow the Accused in this case to raise an alibi whether or not the notice of alibi was filed before the Prosecution case, the Chamber accepts that the Accused can rely on the defence of alibi and accepts, procedurally, the filing of the notice of alibi.<sup>109</sup>

69. The Chamber will assess what effect, if any, the late filing of the notice of alibi has on the alibi as presented in this case, in its section dealing with alibi.<sup>110</sup>

<sup>109</sup> The Chamber notes that the Prosecution, in its final brief, alludes to the Defence not filing a formal notice of alibi prior to the commencement of the trial in this case. Prosecutor’s Final Trial Brief, filed on 11 May 2010, paras. 265-268.

CHAPTER III: FACTUAL FINDINGS

1. Alibi, 12-16 April 1994

1.1. Introduction

70. As outlined in the Indictment, the Prosecution alleges that Kanyarukiga was present at, or in the vicinity of, the Nyange Parish from 12 to 16 April 1994.<sup>111</sup> Further, the Prosecution alleges that Kanyarukiga undertook activities during this period, which are deemed to be criminal under the Statute.<sup>112</sup>

71. The Defence “categorically denies” Kanyarukiga’s alleged presence and participation as outlined in the Prosecution evidence.<sup>113</sup> The Defence claims that Kanyarukiga left Nyange on 12 April 1994 and stayed in Gitarama from 12 April 1994 to 14 April 1994, whilst he endeavoured to organise travel documents, among other things, in order to travel to Ndera, just outside Kigali, to retrieve his family.<sup>114</sup> The Defence further claims that Kanyarukiga left Gitarama early on the morning of 15 April 1994, passed by Gitarama Military Camp to pick up a soldier-escort and then proceeded to Ndera, stopping at Witness KG55’s house, Witness Hitimana’s shop in Kigali and at a roadblock in Ndera.<sup>115</sup> The Defence further claims that on 16 April 1994, the day that the Nyange Church was destroyed, Kanyarukiga travelled from Ndera to Nyange with his family, via an alternate and longer route than that taken on 15 April 1994.<sup>116</sup> The Defence presented a number of Defence witnesses who claim they saw Kanyarukiga on at least one of these days.

72. The Prosecution submits that the evidence presented by the Defence in support of the Accused’s alibi is “weak, inconsistent and unconvincing” and asserts that there are a number of issues of credibility with the alibi witnesses brought by the Defence. The Prosecution disputes that Kanyarukiga was absent from Nyange during this period.<sup>117</sup>

73. The Chamber notes that it has considered Accused’s alibi in conjunction with the Prosecution evidence during its deliberations.

1.2. Evidence

Defence Witness KG59

74. Witness KG59 has known Kanyarukiga since the witness was young.<sup>118</sup> Witness KG59 testified that he was on good terms with Kanyarukiga, they met often and that the witness thought Kanyarukiga trusted him.<sup>119</sup>

75. Witness KG59 recalled that around 8.00 a.m. on 12 April 1994, Kanyarukiga left the witness the keys to his home in Giko cellule.<sup>120</sup> Witness KG59 said it was usual practice for

Kanyarukiga to leave his house keys with the witness or the witness's wife when he was not at his house in Kivumu commune.<sup>121</sup> Kanyarukiga told the witness that he was going to see his family.<sup>122</sup> Witness KG59 remembered that Kanyarukiga left Nyange on 12 April 1994 because that was the first day that people were killed in his area.<sup>123</sup>

76. Witness KG59 testified that he saw Kanyarukiga again in the late evening of 16 April 1994 when the witness returned Kanyarukiga's house keys to him.<sup>124</sup> Witness KG59 said that Kanyarukiga told him that he had brought his family members to Nyange.<sup>125</sup> Kanyarukiga came to the witness's house on a Saturday night, the same day that the church was destroyed.<sup>126</sup> Witness KG59 testified that he did not see Kanyarukiga's family members when the Accused visited his house on 16 April 1994.<sup>127</sup>

Defence Witness KG45

77. Witness KG45 was 21 years old and a student in 1994.<sup>128</sup> Witness KG45 assisted with Kanyarukiga's businesses and had an extended family relationship with Kanyarukiga.<sup>129</sup> Witness KG45 recalled that Kanyarukiga arrived in Nyange on 6 April 1994 and left Nyange on 12 April 1994.<sup>130</sup> Witness KG45 recalled that early (around 7.30 a.m.) on the morning of 12 April 1994, Kanyarukiga told the witness that he was leaving Nyange to evacuate his family from Kigali and bring them back to Nyange because "the war was intensifying."<sup>131</sup>

78. Witness KG45 recalled that Kanyarukiga's pharmacy was closed on 14 April 1994 between 12.00 and 1.00 p.m. and remained closed until 21 April 1994 because of the insecurity in the Nyange area.<sup>132</sup> The witness noted that during this time Kanyarukiga was not in Nyange.<sup>133</sup>

Defence Witness Juvénal Nshogozabahizi

79. Witness Juvénal Nshogozabahizi is Kanyarukiga's son and was approximately 25 years old in 1994.<sup>134</sup> The witness left his father's house in Gaseke for Gitrama between 9.00 and 10.00 a.m. on 12 April 1994 in three vehicles with Kanyarukiga, Théodomir Rwamakuba (also known as Mateco) and Rwamakuba's family.<sup>135</sup> According to Witness Nshogozabahizi, Kanyarukiga decided to go to Gitarama on 12 April 1994 because Kanyarukiga had not received any news about family members who were in Ndera.<sup>136</sup> In addition, Witness Nshogozabahizi testified that Rwamakuba and his family had to leave Nyange because their safety was threatened.<sup>137</sup>

80. The witness testified that he and Kanyarukiga spent the nights of 12 and 13 April 1994 at a house in Gitarama.<sup>138</sup> Witness Nshogozabahizi recalled that, during the days of 13 and 14 April 1994, Kanyarukiga stayed inside the compound of the house where they were staying.<sup>139</sup> From 12 April 1994 until 15 April 1994, the witness said that Kanyarukiga did not use his vehicle because there was a fuel shortage, and every time Kanyarukiga wanted to go somewhere, he would go on foot or in another vehicle.<sup>140</sup>

81. According to Witness Nshogozabahizi, Kanyarukiga then left the house in Gitarama around 9.00 a.m. on 15 April 1994 in the red Mitsubishi Pajero.<sup>141</sup> The witness believed that Kanyarukiga was going to Ndera to evacuate his family.<sup>142</sup>

82. On 16 April 1994 and in the company of other family members, Kanyarukiga arrived at the house in Gitarama, where the witness was staying.<sup>143</sup> He testified that they arrived after 8.00 p.m., probably around 9.00 or 10.00 p.m.<sup>144</sup> Everyone came out of the house to welcome those who had arrived with Kanyarukiga.<sup>145</sup> The witness recalled that he was happy because he saw his mother, who had arrived with Kanyarukiga.<sup>146</sup> He testified that between nine and ten persons came to the house when the vehicle arrived.<sup>147</sup>

83. Kanyarukiga and those with him spent about 30 minutes to one hour at the house in Gitarama.<sup>148</sup> There was no room for the group to stay overnight at the house, so the party proceeded to Nyange.<sup>149</sup> Witness Nshogozabahizi stayed at the Gitarama house and did not go with his father to Kivumu commune.<sup>150</sup>

84. Defence Witness KG18, a Hutu, was 18 years old and a student in 1994 and has known Kanyarukiga since the witness was a child.<sup>151</sup> The witness said that he has been to Kanyarukiga's house in Kigali on certain occasions with the witness's father.<sup>152</sup>

<sup>136</sup> T. 3 February 2010, pp. 28, 43. Witness Nshogozabahizi said that, when the Accused left Nyange, he had sworn that he would do everything possible to go and evacuate those family members who were in Ndera.

12 April 1994.<sup>153</sup> Witness KG18 also testified that on 12 April 1994, Kanyarukiga and the others were coming from Kibuye, and they were fleeing.<sup>154</sup>

86. The witness recalled that on 12 April 1994, the day Kanyarukiga arrived, Kanyarukiga did not go out.<sup>155</sup> On the following day, 13 April 1994, Kanyarukiga went out once and on the third day (14 April 1994) Kanyarukiga went out with a friend, came back to the house for a meal and then went out again with Théodomir Rwamakuba.<sup>156</sup> During the period between 12 and 14 April 1994, the witness testified that, when Kanyarukiga went out, he would tell “them” where he was going so that if anyone wanted to contact him, they would know where he was.<sup>157</sup>

87. The witness stated that, on 15 April 1994, the Accused left the Gitarama house alone between 7.00 and 8.00 a.m. in the red Pajero.<sup>158</sup> Kanyarukiga did not spend the night of 15 April 1994 in the house in Gitarama.<sup>159</sup> Kanyarukiga’s son told the witness that he was going to find Kanyarukiga’s children and that someone was accompanying Kanyarukiga to his destination.<sup>160</sup>

88. On 16 April 1994, around 9.00 p.m., Kanyarukiga came back to Gitarama with about nine or ten people.<sup>161</sup> The witness said that there were three girls who were Agnès, Spéciose and Aimée, a boy who was eight or nine, four other girls, Kanyarukiga’s wife and Kanyarukiga’s mother.<sup>162</sup> The witness recalled that Kanyarukiga and his family stayed about two hours at the house in Gitarama and then left for Nyange as there was no space to remain at the house.<sup>163</sup>

Defence Witness Philippe Rukabyatorero

89. Witness Rukabyatorero was the interim commander at Gitarama Military Camp from August 1993 until approximately 14 April 1994.<sup>164</sup> He has known Kanyarukiga since 1986, when the witness was at ESM (École Supérieure Militaire).<sup>165</sup> The witness saw Kanyarukiga in Gitarama twice on 14 April 1994.<sup>166</sup>

90. The first occasion that the witness met Kanyarukiga was by accident, at 10.00 a.m. on 14 April 1994 at Hotel Tourisme in Gitarama for about 30 minutes.<sup>167</sup> Kanyarukiga told the witness that Kanyarukiga’s family was “blocked” at his residence in Ndera and that he was trying to find a

91. At approximately 4.00 p.m. on 14 April 1994, the witness met Kanyarukiga for the second time when Kanyarukiga arrived at the witness's office at Gitarama Military Camp.<sup>171</sup> After some discussion, the witness arranged for a feuille de route to be prepared, signed and issued to Kanyarukiga.<sup>172</sup> The witness recalled that the objective of the feuille de route was to enable Kanyarukiga to leave Gitarama, pass through roadblocks in order to arrive in Ndera.<sup>173</sup> Kanyarukiga remained in the witness's office for approximately 30 to 45 minutes.<sup>174</sup>

92. The witness asked a platoon leader to provide him with a soldier to escort Kanyarukiga to Ndera, and the witness introduced this soldier to Kanyarukiga.<sup>175</sup> The witness could not recall the name of the soldier but remembered that the soldier's rank was private first class.<sup>176</sup> The witness asked Kanyarukiga to return the following day to Gitarama Military Camp to pick up the assigned soldier Kanyarukiga so that they could leave for Ndera early that same morning.<sup>177</sup> The soldier returned approximately two days later, around 17 April 1994, and reported to the witness that the soldier and Kanyarukiga had been able to evacuate Kanyarukiga's family.<sup>178</sup> The soldier also reported that the group had problems on their return journey and did not use the Kigali-Gitarama highway.<sup>179</sup> Instead, they passed through Bugasera because there was a lot of fighting in Kanombe and Kicukiro-Remera area.<sup>180</sup>

Defence Witness Thicien Ndaberetse

93. Witness Thicien Ndaberetse was a private first class in the Rwandan Army and was based at Gitarama Military Camp in April 1994. He testified that he was assigned by the commander of Gitarama Military Camp, Rukabyatorero, to travel with Kanyarukiga from Gitarama to Ndera and back to pick up members of Kanyarukiga's family about a week after the president died.<sup>181</sup>

94. Commander Rukabyatorero called the witness to his office, and when the witness arrived, Kanyarukiga was with the commander.<sup>182</sup> The witness did not provide dates that he travelled with Kanyarukiga from Gitarama to Ndera and back, but testified that on the day after they were introduced, Kanyarukiga and Witness Ndaberetse left Gitarama Military Camp around 9.00 a.m. and arrived in Ndera between 2.00 and 3.00 p.m.<sup>183</sup> On their way to Ndera, Kanyarukiga and the witness stopped at a woman's house.<sup>184</sup> Witness Ndaberetse estimated they spent between 40 and 60 minutes at this location before leaving.<sup>185</sup> After passing through Kigali, Kanyarukiga and the witness arrived at Kanyarukiga's house in Ndera and spent the night there.<sup>186</sup> Witness Ndaberetse testified that he and Kanyarukiga came across many roadblocks between Gitarama and Ndera.<sup>187</sup>

95. The witness recalled that in the afternoon of that same day, he and Kanyarukiga went to the bourgmestre's office in Ndera.<sup>188</sup> According to the witness, Kanyarukiga was obliged to see the bourgmestre to obtain another feuille de route, which included the names of his family, because the one they were using did not.<sup>189</sup> Witness Ndaberetse testified that he did not see all the names on the feuille de route obtained from the bourgmestre but testified that the names were typed and that his name and Kanyarukiga's appeared first.<sup>190</sup>

96. The following day, the witness, Kanyarukiga and Kanyarukiga's family left Ndera between 8.00 a.m. and 9.00 a.m.<sup>191</sup> Witness Ndaberetse recalled there were between five and eight people in the car, including children and adults, and the vehicle was full.<sup>192</sup>

97. According to the witness, the vehicle crossed various roadblocks and was stopped at a roadblock referred to as "kilomètre 19".<sup>193</sup> Witness Ndaberetse recalled that they presented their feuille de route, but the people at the roadblock did not acknowledge its authenticity and said that it had been issued by an inyenzi.<sup>194</sup> At the roadblock, the vehicle and the people in the vehicle were checked, and the witness believed the situation to be very dangerous.<sup>195</sup> The "confrontation" lasted between 40 and 60 minutes.<sup>196</sup>

98. The witness recalled that Kanyarukiga went to see the commander of Kanombe Military Camp, and the commander issued another feuille de route to Kanyarukiga.<sup>197</sup> The feuille de route had the names of the witness, Kanyarukiga and members of Kanyarukiga's family.<sup>198</sup>

99. After Kanyarukiga obtained the feuille de route, the party went back to the highway and successfully passed through the kilomètre 19 roadblock.<sup>199</sup> Witness Ndaberetse could not recall what time of day they returned to the roadblock at "kilomètre 19" because "it happened a long time ago."<sup>200</sup>

T. 21 January 2010, p. 30. When first questioned, the witness stated that only the Accused entered the military camp. T. 21 January 2010, p. 18. See also T. 21 January 2010, p. 37. Later, Witness Ndaberetse testified that he let Kanyarukiga enter the camp alone, and he remained next to members of the family in the car. T. 21 January 2010, p. 42. The witness also stated that he did not remember whether they entered the camp together "because it was a long time ago," but he remembered they went to the camp. T. 21 January 2010, p. 31.

100. Witness Ndaberetse advised Kanyarukiga, who was driving, to take another route back to Gitarama because they had encountered many roadblocks during their journey to Ndera.<sup>201</sup> They took the road going through Bugesera and stopped at a commercial centre known as Ruhuha for one hour.<sup>202</sup> After having their meal, they discovered that the vehicle had a flat tyre.<sup>203</sup> From Ruhuha, they crossed the Rwabusoro Bridge.<sup>204</sup> Witness Ndaberetse testified that it was “a rainy period”, and there was a lot of mud on the road.<sup>205</sup> He recalled that they were obliged to show the feuille de route at several roadblocks including roadblocks at the Rwabusoro bridge, another following that bridge and at Ruhango and Gahogo before Gitarama Military Camp.<sup>206</sup> Witness Ndaberetse testified that a feuille de route was supposed to be shown at all checkpoints, and he also had to show his military identity card at times.<sup>207</sup> The party arrived in Gitarama at nightfall, and Kanyarukiga dropped the witness off at Gitarama Military Camp.<sup>208</sup>

Defence Witness KG55

101. Witness KG55 is related to Kanyarukiga.<sup>209</sup> Witness KG55 testified that she saw Kanyarukiga on 15 April 1994 at her home.<sup>210</sup> Kanyarukiga talked to the witness inside her home for about 30 minutes between 10.00 and 11.00 a.m.<sup>211</sup> The witness recalled that Kanyarukiga told her that he had come from Gitarama and was going to Ndera to evacuate his wife and his family living there.<sup>212</sup> She testified that she remembered the date because it was the day she was separated from her children.<sup>213</sup>

102. The witness was concerned for her safety and in comforting her and her children Kanyarukiga said, “[d]on’t worry everything will be fine” and gave her 5,000 Rwandan francs.<sup>214</sup>

Defence Witness Célestin Hitimana

103. Witness Hitimana, a Hutu, has been friends with Kanyarukiga since primary school.<sup>215</sup> Witness Hitimana recalled that the President died on 6 April 1994 and that he saw Kanyarukiga approximately a week later at the witness’s shop in Kigali.<sup>216</sup> The witness stated that this occurred between 10.00 a.m. and 12.00 p.m. and lasted for no more than five minutes.<sup>217</sup> When Kanyarukiga

Defence Witness KG44

104. Witness KG44 manned a roadblock in Ndera in April 1994 and knew Kanyarukiga from that region.<sup>219</sup> The witness alluded to taking part in "activities, which can be linked to the genocide" at this roadblock.<sup>220</sup>

105. Kanyarukiga passed through the roadblock that the witness manned on 15 April 1994, however the witness did not talk to him.<sup>221</sup> The witness saw Kanyarukiga during the day, but it was impossible to give a precise time.<sup>222</sup> The Accused was driving a red Pajero and another person was in the car.<sup>223</sup> The vehicle had come from "kilomètre 15" and was going towards Kanyarukiga's house.<sup>224</sup>

106. Witness KG44 also saw Kanyarukiga at the same roadblock on the morning of 16 April 1994 coming from the direction of Kanyarukiga's house with a soldier and many people in the car.<sup>225</sup> He could not remember what time he saw Kanyarukiga on 16 April 1994, only that it was during the day.<sup>226</sup> When Kanyarukiga was at the roadblock on 16 April 1994, the witness noted that there were some problems with those manning the roadblock and their view of Kanyarukiga.<sup>227</sup>

Defence Witness KG46

107. Witness KG46 manned a roadblock near Kanyarukiga's house in April 1994.<sup>228</sup> He knew Kanyarukiga in April 1994 and lived close to him in Ndera.<sup>229</sup> While manning the roadblock on 15 April 1994, the witness saw Kanyarukiga at approximately 3.00 p.m., when Kanyarukiga passed through the roadblock after coming from kilomètre 15.<sup>230</sup>

108. Witness KG46 saw Kanyarukiga again before midday on 16 April 1994, as he passed through the roadblock the witness was manning.<sup>231</sup> Kanyarukiga was in a vehicle coming from the direction of Ndera.<sup>232</sup> There were many people in the vehicle, but the witness did not know their names.<sup>233</sup>

Defence Witness Xavérina Muhayimana

109. Witness Xavérina Muhayimana has known Kanyarukiga since the 1980s, and in April 1994, she lived about 200 meters from Kanyarukiga in Ndera.<sup>234</sup>

110. The witness saw Kanyarukiga outside her house between 4.00 and 5.00 p.m. on 15 April 1994.<sup>235</sup> She “heard the engine running and we came out to see who was driving the vehicle.”<sup>236</sup> Kanyarukiga arrived in Ndera in a red Pajero and was accompanied by a soldier carrying a weapon.<sup>237</sup> The witness talked to Kanyarukiga within the compound of his house where Kanyarukiga told the witness that he had come to evacuate his family members.<sup>238</sup> The witness asked Kanyarukiga to take the witness and her children, Henriette Mutonweshwa, who was aged ten, and Raphaël Banderere, who was eight years old, with him.<sup>239</sup> Kanyarukiga could not take her but agreed to take her children because they were young and did not need to have individual seats to fit in the vehicle.<sup>240</sup>

111. On 16 April 1994, Witness Muhayimana took her children to Kanyarukiga’s house around 7.00 or 8.00 a.m.<sup>241</sup> The witness recalled that they left on 16 April 1994 because she was a Seventh Day Adventist and 16 April “was a Saturday morning, and according to the Adventist tradition, it was the Sabbath day.”<sup>242</sup> The vehicle used to evacuate Kanyarukiga’s family was full with people, including the witness’s children, Kanyarukiga’s mother, his wife and children.<sup>243</sup> Witness Muhayimana recalled that Kanyarukiga told her they were going to Nyange in Kivumu commune.<sup>244</sup>

Defence Witness Henriette Mutonweshwa Isaro

112. In 1994, Witness Mutonweshwa, a Hutu, was a 10-year-old student living in Ndera with her parents.<sup>245</sup> She knew Kanyarukiga well because he was a friend of the witness’s family, they were neighbours in Ndera and she liked going to his house.<sup>246</sup> Witness Mutonweshwa was also friends with Kanyarukiga’s daughters.<sup>247</sup>

113. Witness Mutonweshwa testified that the Accused took the witness and her younger brother from Ndera to Nyange about a week to ten days after the President was killed in April 1994.<sup>248</sup> Due to the insecurity in Ndera, the witness’s mother sent her and her brother with Kanyarukiga so they could be taken to Kibuye.<sup>249</sup> Witness Mutonweshwa testified that they took a very long route that started very early in the morning.<sup>250</sup> According to the witness, the party encountered roadblocks along their route.<sup>251</sup> Witness Mutonweshwa testified that they stopped at a house in Gitarama.<sup>252</sup> She

Defence Witness Aaron Ephrem Sebitabo Sebisukiro

114. Witness Sebisukiro has known Kanyarukiga since 1984; he met Kanyarukiga through a mutual acquaintance.<sup>256</sup> Witness Sebisukiro often met Kanyarukiga in “town” in 1994.<sup>257</sup>

115. Witness Sebisukiro saw Kanyarukiga just outside the witness’s residence in Rusororo secteur, Runyombya cellule, Rubungo commune, Kigali-Rural préfecture between 11.00 a.m. and 12.00 p.m. for no more than five minutes on 16 April 1994.<sup>258</sup> The witness’s house was located about 50 metres away from the road where Kanyarukiga was passing on 16 April 1994.<sup>259</sup> Kanyarukiga was travelling in a “Land Cruiser type Jeep” with other persons and coming from Kigali.<sup>260</sup> According to the witness, Kanyarukiga left in the direction of Kibungo.<sup>261</sup>

Defence Witness KG24

116. Witness KG24 has known Kanyarukiga through business dealings since October 1993.<sup>262</sup> He testified that he saw Kanyarukiga almost every Saturday between October 1993 and April 1994.<sup>263</sup> In April 1994, the witness worked in a shop in Ruhuha.<sup>264</sup>

117. On 16 April 1994, Witness KG24 saw Kanyarukiga around 4.00 or 5.00 p.m. in the Ruhuha Trading Centre when Kanyarukiga stopped by the shop where the witness worked.<sup>265</sup> The witness testified that the other roads appeared to be no longer serviceable, so the traffic was centred around Ruhuha.<sup>266</sup> Kanyarukiga and his party stayed at the the Ruhuha Trading Centre for about an hour at the bar and left around sunset.<sup>267</sup> Nine or ten people accompanied Kanyarukiga in a full vehicle, including adults, children and a soldier; the witness did not know any of the people in the vehicle.<sup>268</sup>

118. When leaving, Kanyarukiga attempted to start the car, but it would not start.<sup>269</sup> Kanyarukiga asked the witness to help him start the car, and then he noticed that one of the tyres had a puncture.<sup>270</sup> The witness helped Kanyarukiga change the tyre.<sup>271</sup> Kanyarukiga told Witness KG24 that he was going to the village where he was born due to security concerns.<sup>272</sup>

1.3. Deliberations

120. In Zigiranyirazo, the Appeals Chamber recalled the applicable standard regarding a defence of alibi:

An alibi does not constitute a defence in its proper sense. By raising an alibi, an accused is simply denying that he was in a position to commit the crime with which he was charged. An accused does not bear the burden of proving his alibi beyond reasonable doubt. Rather he must simply produce the evidence tending to show that he was not present at the time of the alleged crime or, otherwise stated, present evidence likely to raise a reasonable doubt in the Prosecution case. If the alibi is reasonably possibly true, it must be accepted.

Where an alibi is properly raised, the Prosecution must establish beyond reasonable doubt that, despite the alibi, the facts alleged are nevertheless true. The Prosecution may do so, for instance, by demonstrating that the alibi does not in fact reasonably account for the period when the accused is alleged to have committed the crime. Where the alibi evidence does prima facie account for the accused's activities at the relevant time of the commission of the crime, the Prosecution must "eliminate the reasonable possibility that the alibi is true," for example, by demonstrating that the alibi evidence is not credible.<sup>275</sup>

General Observations

121. There are a number of factors that ultimately contribute to the Chamber's view of the alibi. The first of these factors is that the Defence filed its short notice of alibi after the Prosecution case, and then filed its final list of alibi witnesses only a month prior to the beginning of the Defence case. Secondly, of the Defence witnesses who were brought, all but three had a close familial, close personal or business relationship with the Accused which leads the Chamber to place little to no weight on their evidence. The Chamber does not find these three remaining witnesses to be credible. Finally, the Chamber undertook a site visit in Rwanda, which confirmed to the Chamber that the Defence witness testimony with regard to 15 April 1994 was unreliable and that the route described by the Defence witnesses was too long and precarious to be taken at all on 16 April 1994. Therefore, as discussed further below, these three factors lead the Chamber to conclude that the alibi is a contrived story, provided by Defence witnesses, who each gave evidence that fits too neatly in favour of the Accused and the alibi. The alibi is therefore not reasonably possibly true.

122. The Chamber will now discuss its particular concerns with regard to its general observations.

Late filing of notice of alibi and witness particulars

123. The Chamber recalls that it has discretion to consider whether the late filing of a notice of alibi undermined the credibility of the alibi itself.<sup>276</sup> The Chamber will consider here what effect the late filing of the notice of alibi and more poignantly, the identities of the Defence witnesses, have on the Chamber's view of the alibi.

124. The Defence filed its notice of alibi after the conclusion of the Prosecution case.<sup>277</sup> The Chamber recalls that it has accepted the filing of this instrument in a procedural sense (notwithstanding it did not fully comply with the terms of Rule 67(A)(ii)(a)) and notes that the Chamber's decision regarding the alleged disappearance of laissez-passers was rendered after the close of the Prosecution case.<sup>278</sup> However, the Chamber notes that, not only was the notice of alibi filed after the close of the Prosecution case, but the Defence referred to only eight alibi witnesses in its Provisional Notice of Alibi.<sup>279</sup> It then followed this with a list of witness particulars on 6 November 2009, which removed three witnesses from those it had mentioned a week before and added thirteen additional witnesses.<sup>280</sup> The Defence proceeded to file a further list of alibi witnesses on 1 December 2009, which removed one witness from the enlarged list and added two more.<sup>281</sup> It was only in this document that the Defence provided detail as to what kind of evidence each witness would attest to; this document, in the words of the Defence, "harmoni[s]ed" the list of alibi witnesses.<sup>282</sup> Nevertheless, in its Pre-Defence Brief, filed on 18 December 2009, the Defence added another four alibi witnesses, one of which was, according to the Defence, a key witness in support of Kanyarukiga's journey to and from Ndera on 15 and 16 April 1994.<sup>283</sup> The Defence therefore did not file a fulsome and complete list of witnesses and evidence in support of the Accused's alibi until 18 December 2009,<sup>284</sup> a month prior to the start of the Defence case.<sup>285</sup> This leads the Chamber to believe that the Defence witnesses, having had time after the Prosecution witnesses were heard, moulded their evidence to fit the Prosecution case. Further, by initially presenting the story of where Kanyarukiga was but not providing a list of witnesses until later, it appears to the Chamber that Kanyarukiga actually sought out witnesses to accord with his story of the alibi.

125. Given the late filing of the Notice of Alibi and the even later filing of the Defence witness list, this contributes to the Chamber's suspicion that the alibi has been constructed over a period of time to respond to the Prosecution evidence and to meet the particular needs of the Accused.

Defence alibi witnesses and quality of their evidence

126. The Chamber is further comforted in its belief that Kanyarukiga's alibi cannot be reasonably possibly true given that the evidence provided by Defence witnesses has no gaps and is too neatly tailored to match the specific days on which the criminal conduct is alleged to have taken place at Nyange Parish. According to witnesses presented by the Defence, Kanyarukiga left Kivumu commune on 12 April 1994 – the day before the Tutsi at Nyange Parish were attacked for the first time, the day of one of the alleged meetings in the Amended Indictment and the date from which assailants are alleged to have surrounded the parish – and returned on the evening of 16 April 1994,

Further, a detailed Will-Say Statement for Witness Ndaberetse was not filed until two days prior to the witness giving his testimony (sent to the Chamber and Prosecution on 19 January 2010 at 17.30 via email).

only a few hours after the church had been destroyed and after the killings had ended.<sup>286</sup> In other words, Kanyarukiga was absent, according to the Defence evidence, exactly during the time the events in the Amended Indictment are alleged to have taken place.

127. The Chamber notes that for each part of his trip and each location Kanyarukiga visited, the Defence presented one or two witnesses who remember having seen him. There is no gap in the evidence, which the Chamber expects would occur naturally 16 years after the event. Similarly, the Chamber does not believe that, as the Defence alibi witnesses attest, Kanyarukiga would spend five days attempting to rescue his family in the circumstances that existed in April 1994. In particular, the Chamber does not accept that Kanyarukiga spent five days, including three days being stationary in Gitarama, on a journey that could have been completed in one or two,<sup>287</sup> when according to the evidence of the Defence witnesses, urgency was required to “evacuate” Kanyarukiga’s family from Ndera.<sup>288</sup>

128. The profile of the alibi witnesses further supports the Chamber’s view that the alibi cannot reasonably be true. Ten of the thirteen Defence witnesses who testified as to the whereabouts of Kanyarukiga during the relevant period were either related to the Accused, had business or other relationships with the Accused or depended financially on the Accused.<sup>289</sup> All these witnesses have an interest in a positive outcome for the Accused in this trial. For example, Witness Nshogozabahizi, who is the Accused’s son, stated that he believes Kanyarukiga is unjustly accused and believes he should be freed.<sup>290</sup> Further, Witness KG45 testified that, she has always been grateful to Kanyarukiga and she responded affirmatively to questioning that suggested that she would willingly help Kanyarukiga if she could.<sup>291</sup> With regard to the three remaining Defence witnesses, the Chamber does not believe they are credible given their evidence, which fits extraordinarily neatly into the alibi “story”.<sup>292</sup> The first of these is Witness Ndaberetse, who gave three different explanations as to why he and Kanyarukiga took a different route back to Gitarama

<sup>288</sup> Witness Nshogozabahizi testified that, when Kanyarukiga left Nyange, he had sworn that he would do everything possible to go and evacuate the family members who were in Ndera. T. 3 February 2010, p. 28. Witness KG45 testified that Kanyarukiga told her he was going to evacuate his family from Ndera. T. 21 January 2010, pp. 61, 70, 77 (CS). See Kalimanzira, Judgement (AC), para. 68 (finding no error in the Trial Chamber’s rejection of Kalimanzira’s claim that he remained overnight in Kibungo due to security reasons).

Each witness admitted to having a personal, business or other close relationship with the Accused. See also Kalimanzira, Judgement (AC), para. 70 (“Even if the Trial Chamber incorrectly characterized Witness Siniyobewe as a friend rather than a former subordinate, the Appeals Chamber considers that a degree of caution would still apply to Witness Siniyobewe’s testimony.”).

<sup>290</sup> Witness Nshogozabahizi testified that he loves Kanyarukiga and said that all children love their fathers. He testified that he knows very well that Kanyarukiga is unjustly being accused. The witness testified that he would like to see Kanyarukiga free, because if he is freed and released then justice will have been served and because he knows that Kanyarukiga is innocent before God and before the law. T. 3 February 2010, pp. 51-52.

on 16 April 1994 than the route they took on 15 April 1994.<sup>293</sup> Further, notification of this witness was only provided by Defence one month before the Defence case commenced.

129. The other witnesses that the Chamber does not believe to be credible are Witnesses KG44 and KG46. These two witnesses manned the roadblocks that Kanyarukiga supposedly passed through in Ndera. However, they could only remember that Kanyarukiga and those with him passed through their roadblock and could not recall the name of any other person who did.<sup>294</sup> This leads the Chamber to treat these witnesses with caution. Secondly, Witnesses KG44 and KG46 gave evidence with regard to Kanyarukiga's whereabouts on 15 and 16 April 1994, and based on its observations during the site visit, as discussed below, the Chamber disbelieves this evidence in its totality. The Chamber does not believe the accounts of any of the Defence witnesses for these reasons and believes their accounts, in combination with the other issues discussed, support the Chamber's view that the alibi is a fabricated story, contrived in favour of the Accused.

Site Visit

130. The Chamber recalls that it undertook a site visit in Rwanda from 19 to 21 April 2010. During this visit, measurements were taken as to the distance and time taken to travel between Gitarama and Ndera, making stops in the locations where the Defence witnesses say Kanyarukiga stopped. After the site visit, the Registry issued a report containing the measurements taken during the site visit as well as a transcript and audio and visual recordings.<sup>295</sup>

131. Having undertaken the site visit in Rwanda, the Chamber finds that, in addition to the reasons given above, the alibi for 15 and 16 April 1994 cannot be reasonably possibly true in light of the timings recorded and the routes that were observed.<sup>296</sup> The Chamber notes that neither Party has disputed the records provided by the Registry from this visit. Further, the Chamber notes that the site visit routes were based on the Defence witnesses accounts as well as some information provided solely by Defence Investigator Dick Prudence Munyeshuri about stops allegedly made during the 16 April journey.<sup>297</sup>

<sup>293</sup> The first time the witness answered that question on direct examination, Witness Ndaberetse testified that as a soldier, he had learnt that on a return journey he should avoid taking the same route. When asked again during the same course of questioning, the witness said that he had suggested to Kanyarukiga that they should change the route because there were too many roadblocks. T. 21 January 2010, p. 14. During cross-examination, the witness was asked about this point and testified that in the course of his military training, he was taught that he had to avoid using the same road that he had used the first time. T. 21 January 2010, p. 39. When the Bench sought to clarify the discrepancy between the answers by asking the same question again, the witness said that as he had previously testified (during direct examination) during military training he was told that he had to avoid using the same itinerary going to and from any given place. T. 21 January 2010, p. 39. Witness Ndaberetse also added that the camp commander had authorised him to take a different road. T. 21 January 2010, p. 40.

<sup>296</sup> The Chamber has considered the documents provided by Defence Investigator Dick Prudence Munyeshuri and the testimony of this investigator in its deliberations. See Defence Exhibit D52 (Black and White Photograph of Kanyarukiga's Residence in Ndera); Defence Exhibit D53 (Black and White Photograph of Ruins of Kanyarukiga's Residence in Kivumu); Defence Exhibit D54 (Map of Rwanda as Marked by Witness Prudence Munyeshuri); T. 19 January 2010, pp. 2-33.

<sup>297</sup> Investigator Munyeshuri gave a number of places that he passed through when he travelled from Ndera to Gitarama via Ruhuha. T. 19 January 2010, p. 14. However, Witness Ndaberetse only gave evidence that they went through Ruhuha on their way from Ndera to Gitarama (this witness was the only witness who gave details about the stops and route taken). T. 21 January 2010, p. 18. Witness Mutoneshwa gave evidence that she travelled this route with

132. With regard to the route taken on 15 April 1994, the Chamber observed during the site visit that the total time taken to drive the distance from Gitarama to the Accused's residence in Ndera, via Witness KG55's house and Celestin Hitimana's shop in Kigali, is approximately one hour and fifty minutes.<sup>298</sup> If the Chamber adds another one hour to this time for the stops that the evidence suggests Kanyarukiga made on the journey from Gitarama to Ndera on 15 April 1994, the journey should have taken him around three hours. On the evidence provided by the Defence witnesses for this day, with particular reference to Witness Ndaberetse's evidence that they left Gitarama at 9.00 a.m. and arrived in Ndera at around 3.00 p.m., the journey the Accused made on 15 April 1994 took around six hours; more if the Chamber considers Witness Muhayimana's evidence that they arrived between 4.00 and 5.00 p.m.<sup>299</sup>

133. The Chamber notes that, according to the Defence witnesses, the journey on 15 April 1994 took just under double the time that was measured on the site visit. Given the discrepancy in times recorded by the Chamber and the evidence given by the Defence, this solidifies the Chamber's view that the Defence witnesses have contrived the alibi in view of the charges against the Accused. This leads the Chamber to conclude that it can place no weight on the Defence witnesses providing evidence for this date. Thus, in combination with the Chamber's discussion above, and based on the above analysis of the time the evidence suggests was taken by Kanyarukiga to undertake the journey from Gitarama to Ndera, the alibi for 15 April 1994 is not reasonably possibly true.

134. The Chamber also has misgivings about the route taken on 16 April 1994. The site visit confirmed to the Chamber that this route, particularly given the insecurity in Rwanda in April 1994, would be precarious, long and difficult with many people in the vehicle. The route, as described, causes the Chamber to have serious concerns as to whether this route was taken at all on 16 April 1994.<sup>300</sup> The Chamber does not accept that the Accused would have taken this precarious, fourteen-hour journey with his family including, Kanyarukiga claims, his sick mother and many children, the day after he had travelled the Gitarama highway, which purportedly took far less time. Further, there is no evidence on the record that any major difficulties were encountered on that highway, which would then lead Kanyarukiga to take this long and precarious journey instead. Given the Chamber does not believe, having undertaken the specific route the Defence witnesses described, that the route through Ruhuha would have reasonably been taken at all on 16 April 1994, this leads the Chamber to disbelieve the Defence witnesses that attest to the alibi on this day.

Kanyarukiga but could not recall details of the route taken, other than that it was "a very long route" on bad roads with roadblocks. T. 21 January 2010, pp. 50-51.

<sup>298</sup> Registry Exhibit R4 (Kanyarukiga Mission Report), p. 2. From where Kanyarukiga stayed overnight to Witness KG55's house was recorded as taking 33 minutes; Witness KG55's former residence to Celestin Hitimana's shop was recorded as taking 42 minutes; Celestin Hitimana's shop to the Accused's residence in Ndera was recorded as taking 35 minutes.

<sup>299</sup> On 15 April 1994, evidence was provided by the Defence that Kanyarukiga left the house where he was staying in Gitarama in the morning, between approximately 7.00 and 9.00 a.m. (Witness Nshogozabahizi, T. 3 February 2010, p. 29; Witness KG18, T. 10 February 2010, p. 15 (CS)), proceeded to stop at Gitarama Military Camp to pick up his soldier escort and left there at 9.00 a.m. (Witness Ndaberetse, T. 21 January 2010, pp. 10, 11, 13). Defence evidence suggests that Kanyarukiga spent about 30-60 minutes at the house of Witness KG55 near Gitarama between 10.00 and 11.00 a.m. (Witness KG55, T. 19 January 2010, p. 39 (CS); Witness Ndaberetse, T. 21 January 2010, p. 1) and five minutes at Witness Hitimana's shop in Kigali between 10.00 a.m. and 12.00 p.m. (Witness Hitimana, T. 1 February 2010, pp. 7, 8, 20-21). Evidence provided by Witnesses KG44 and KG46 place Kanyarukiga at a roadblock in Ndera during the day or in the afternoon of 15 April 1994 (Witness KG44, T. 26 January 2010, pp. 5, 27 (CS); Witness KG46, T. 26 January 2010, p. 33 (CS)), and both Witness Muhayimana and Witness Ndaberetse provide evidence that Kanyarukiga arrived in Ndera in the afternoon or evening. However, Witness Muhayimana testified that the Accused arrived at his Ndera residence between 4.00 and 5.00 p.m. in the evening (T. 20 January 2010, pp. 3, 17), whereas Witness Ndaberetse testified that he and Kanyarukiga arrived at this residence between 2.00 p.m. and 3.00 p.m. (T. 21 January 2010, p. 13).

135. The Chamber notes that, based on the evidence adduced by the Defence, the Accused's journey from Ndera to Kanyarukiga's residence in Kivumu commune on 16 April 1994 took approximately 14 hours.<sup>301</sup> In total, the site visit report provides that the time taken from Ndera to Gaseke was just over six hours without stops.<sup>302</sup> If the Chamber was to include two hours to account for the problems that occurred at the "kilomètre 19" roadblock, another hour and a half for the time the Accused and his party spent at Ruhuha Centre and an hour and a half for the time spent in Gitarama, the total time would be eleven hours. The Chamber finds that the alignment between the site visit results and the evidence provided by Defence witnesses is consistent with a fabricated story.

1.4. Conclusion

136. After having carefully considered the totality of the evidence, the Chamber finds that, in combination, the following factors lead it to believe that the alibi cannot be reasonably possibly true: the late filing of the notice of alibi and in particular, the Defence alibi witness particulars; the quality of evidence, which is too "neat" given the events took place almost 16 years prior to the witnesses' testimony; the credibility of the Defence witnesses themselves, in particular the fact that ten out of thirteen witnesses are closely associated to the Accused and the Chamber's finding that the remaining three witnesses are unreliable; and the Chamber's conclusion concerning the parameters of the trip from Nyange via Gitarama to Ndera and back based on the site visit. The Chamber therefore rejects the alibi in its totality.

137. Having reached this conclusion, the Chamber recalls that the burden of proof remains on the Prosecution to establish the events alleged in the Amended Indictment beyond reasonable doubt.

<sup>301</sup> Witness Ndaberetse purported that Kanyarukiga left his Ndera residence between 8.00 and 9.00 a.m. on 16 April 1994 (T. 21 January 2010, pp. 14, 15), after Witness Muhayimana took her children to Kanyarukiga's residence, between 7.00 and 8.00 a.m., for them to be transported out of the Ndera area (T. 20 January 2010, p. 5). Witnesses KG44 and KG46 place Kanyarukiga at a roadblock in Ndera either "during the day" or prior to midday on 16 April 1994 (Witness KG44, T. 26 January 2010, pp. 6-7 (CS); Witness KG46, T. 26 January 2010, p. 35 (CS)). Witness Ndaberetse then testified that he and Kanyarukiga arrived at a roadblock called "kilomètre 19" where they encountered significant problems because of their travel documents and that they spent between 40 and 60 minutes there (T. 21 January 2010, pp. 15-16, 28). As a result, Witness Ndaberetse stated that they had to turn around and went to Kanombe Military Camp to organise alternative travel documents and then returned to the same roadblock. (T. 21 January 2010, pp. 17-18, 30-31, 37, 42. The group, Witness Ndaberetse recounted, returned back to the roadblock and were allowed through, but he could not recall what time this occurred. T. 21 January 2010, p. 18. Witness Sebisukiro then places Kanyarukiga in Rubungu, between Ndera and Kigali, between 11.00 a.m. and 12.00 p.m. for five minutes on 16 April 1994. T. 25 January 2010, pp. 34-35. Witness KG24 places Kanyarukiga in Ruhuha Centre later on the day of 16 April 1994, between 4.00 and 5.00 p.m. The witness stated that Kanyarukiga's party stayed there for approximately one hour and then left "that place" around sunset after changing a flat tyre. T. 2 February 2010, pp. 8, 10 (CS). Witness Ndaberetse also testified that the party stopped in Ruhuha for about one hour. T. 21 January 2010, p. 18. Witnesses Nshogozabahizi and KG18 then testified to seeing Kanyarukiga at the house they were staying at in Gitarama for between 30 minutes and two hours after 8.00 p.m. on the evening of 16 April 1994. Witness Nshogozabahizi, T. 3 February 2010, pp. 30, 31, 41; Witness KG18, T. 10 February 2010, pp. 16-18 (CS). Witness KG59 then places Kanyarukiga in Gaseke late in the evening of 16 April 1994, when he asserts that Kanyarukiga came to his house to retrieve the keys to Kanyarukiga's Gaseke residence that he had left with the witness. ## 2. Killings of Tutsi Civilians in Kivumu commune after 6 April 1994

2.1. Introduction

138. Paragraphs 9 and 10 of the Amended Indictment read as follows:

9. Following the death of the Rwandan President on 6 April 1994[,] Tutsi civilians were attacked in their homes in Kivumu Commune[,] resulting in the death of some of them[,] including Grégoire NDAKUBANA, Martin KAREKEZI and Thomas MWENDEZI.

10. As a result of the said attacks[,] Tutsi civilians sought refuge in public buildings such as the [c]ommunal office and the Nyange Parish Church.

2.2. Evidence

Prosecution Witness CDL

139. Witness CDL, a Hutu, participated in the killings at the Nyange Parish Church in April 1994.<sup>303</sup> He was arrested in 1997, tried by the Gacaca courts and sentenced to 20 years of imprisonment for his involvement in the crimes committed in Nyange.<sup>304</sup>

140. Witness CDL testified that on 7 April 1994, he met Ndungutse, the vice-chair of the MRND party in Kivumu, who told him that everything had to be done to avenge the death of the President, “who had been shot down by the [i]nyenzi [i]nkotanyi.”<sup>305</sup> Witness CDL further testified that Ndungutse had asked young people from his locality to attack members of the Tutsi population, but they refused because they were afraid of being punished.<sup>306</sup> Ndungutse told Witness CDL that he had just been to the communal office, where he had requested authorisation to attack the Tutsi.<sup>307</sup> The witness testified that Ndungutse received authorisation for the attacks from the inspector of the judicial police and the canton court president.<sup>308</sup> “[Ndungutse] wanted to make the assailants in this locality understand that they would not be prosecuted for any attacks they launched against their neighbours.”<sup>309</sup>

141. On the night of 7 April 1994, Ndungutse led attacks at the home of Grégoire Ndakubana, during which some children in Ndakubana’s family were killed.<sup>310</sup> On 8 April 1994, the IPJ, the president of the canton court and the brigadier of the commune went to the home of Grégoire Ndakubana, who had asked for assistance.<sup>311</sup> These officials did not prepare a report but rather

142. Witness CDL testified that on the night of 7 to 8 April 1994, assailants led by someone named Callixte went and looted cattle from a Tutsi in Ngobagoba cellule.<sup>313</sup>

143. On 9 April 1994, assailants led by someone named Gasigwa killed a Tutsi named Thomas.<sup>314</sup> A Tutsi agricultural trainer called Martin Karekezi was also killed during an attack on 9 April 1994.<sup>315</sup> Witness CDL testified that some people were arrested in connection with the murder of Martin Karekezi, but the IPJ released the suspects and ordered that the bodies of the victims be buried without investigation.<sup>316</sup>

144. On the same day, assailants killed a Tutsi called Muhigirwa, who was called by his neighbours to the Statue of the Virgin Mary.<sup>317</sup> Witness CDL testified that, after these events, the IPJ went to the Statue of the Virgin Mary and ordered that the people be buried without any investigations.<sup>318</sup>

Prosecution Witness CBR

146. Prosecution Witness CBR, a Hutu, was 29 years old in April 1994.<sup>320</sup> He surrendered to soldiers in August 1994 and was detained until 1995, when he was released.<sup>321</sup> He was arrested again in 1996 and confessed to the public prosecutor’s office in 1998.<sup>322</sup> Witness CBR has received multiple prison sentences, the heaviest of which was 20 years imprisonment.<sup>323</sup>

147. Witness CBR testified that Téléphore Ndungutse, a teacher and the chairperson of the MRND political party, informed him of President Habyarimana’s death on 7 April 1994.<sup>324</sup> Ndungutse told the witness “that the president had been killed by [i]nyenzis and that we had to avenge the death of the father of the nation.”<sup>325</sup> The witness testified that, beginning on <sup>324</sup> T. 9 September 2009, pp. 3, 4 (“[T]he president had died the day before in the night of the 6th to the 7th.”). The witness testified that Ndungutse was also the head of the Banque Populaire at the Kivumu level. T. 9 September 2009, p. 4.

<sup>325</sup> T. 9 September 2009, p. 3. Witness CBR testified that, “[u]sually people will explain to us that the [i]nyenzis were people that had attacked the country, and it was obvious that they were asking us to kill the Tutsi, and that is what was done. And they were killed because it was said that they were the ones who had killed the head of state.” T. 9 September 2009, p. 4.

7 April 1994, he and other Hutu were “constantly armed” because they were told that the Tutsi were in the vicinity.<sup>326</sup>

148. On 7 April 1994, Ndungutse asked Witness CBR and others to attack the home of a Tutsi named Grégoire Ndakubana.<sup>327</sup> That night, Witness CBR and others went to Ndakubana’s house and killed two of his grandchildren, who were also Tutsi.<sup>328</sup> “[O]ther people were wounded[.]”<sup>329</sup> The witness testified that Grégoire Ndakubana and his wife had died before the war.<sup>330</sup> He also testified that Ndakubana’s sons escaped the attack.<sup>331</sup> Following the attack, communal officials, including IPJ Kayishema, came to the house and buried the bodies of those who had been killed.<sup>332</sup>

[T]he next morning, the police—the IPJ, Kayishema, came to take down a report of what had happened[,] and he realised that two people had died. Some persons were arrested, but there was no follow up. They were somewhat trying to dissuade the people who were responsible for these acts. Subsequently, Tutsis were still being killed, but as far as I know, no one was prosecuted for those killings.<sup>341</sup>

151. People of Hutu ethnicity were called upon to kill the Tutsi, “who were considered as the enemies of the country.”<sup>342</sup> Witness CNJ testified that these calls could be heard over Radio

The witness testified that he started killing people on 9 April 1994.<sup>345</sup> According to the witness, “[n]o one among the killers was detained or punished in any other manner whatsoever.”<sup>346</sup> He testified that, “[i]f the authorities had not agreed with us, they would have punished us. Yet, they did not do anything against us.”<sup>347</sup>

153. Witness CNJ explained that, “[m]any Tutsis had sought refuge in Nyange and there were almost no Tutsis left on the neighbouring hills and everyone knew that those Tutsis had assembled in Nyange because that is where the authorities had channelled the flow of Tutsi refugees.”<sup>348</sup> Witness CNJ testified that his paternal uncle, who was a conseiller, attended a security meeting at the communal office on the evening of 11 April 1994.<sup>349</sup> That same evening, Witness CNJ’s uncle told the witness that it had been noted that many people had already taken refuge at the communal office.<sup>350</sup> According to Witness CNJ, “when it was realised that the space at the communal office was not enough, the refugees were sent to the parish and gendarmes were also supposed to be made available to ensure the security of the refugees who had assembled at the parish.”<sup>351</sup>

<sup>344</sup> T. 7 September 2009, p. 10. 160. Witness CBS arrived at the Nyange Church at around 6.00 a.m. on Tuesday, 12 April 1994.<sup>366</sup> He testified that there were already slightly more than 1000 people in the church and that those in the church “were virtually standing on one another”.<sup>367</sup> “[I]n the days that followed, refugees continued coming in large numbers.”<sup>368</sup> When asked why Tutsi had sought refuge there, Witness CBS testified that, “[i]t was obvious ... [t]he reason was simply that people had been attacked or were attacked in our homes, so we sought refuge at that place. They killed people, looted cattle, cows, and killed them.”<sup>369</sup>

Prosecution Witness YAU

161. Prosecution Witness YAU, a Tutsi, was 22 years old in April 1994.<sup>370</sup> She sought refuge at the Nyange Parish Church after the death of President Habyarimana.<sup>371</sup>

Prosecution Witness CBY

164. Prosecution Witness CBY, a Hutu, was at the Nyange Parish in April 1994.<sup>379</sup> Witness CBY recalled that, “[a]fter President Habyarimana’s death, there was tension amongst the people. Hutus tried to kill Tutsis, and Tutsis tried to find refuge at the parish.”<sup>380</sup> The first Tutsi sought refuge at the parish on 7 April 1994.<sup>381</sup> Witness CBY testified that Father Seromba asked the Tutsi to spend the night in a building used for prayers, which was located approximately eight metres from the church.<sup>382</sup> According to the witness, Tutsi continued to arrive at the parish on 8 April 1994; “they said that they were being threatened in their home areas.”<sup>383</sup> More Tutsi arrived on 9 and 10 April 1994.<sup>384</sup> The Tutsi who took refuge at the parish during this period were received in the building that was used for prayers, which had four rooms.<sup>385</sup>

165. Tutsi continued to arrive at the parish in large numbers on 11 and 12 April 1994, but the prayer rooms were already full.<sup>386</sup> Witness CBY testified that the Tutsi were allowed into the church.<sup>387</sup> The witness estimated that as many as 2500 to 3000 people sought refuge in the church.<sup>388</sup> The witness testified that he did not know whether Tutsi came to the church after 13 April 1994, but there were many Tutsi at the parish by this date.<sup>389</sup>

166. Witness CBY testified that “a certain Muhigirwa ... was killed at the roadblock located not far away from the war front. He was coming from where he went to look for food.”<sup>390</sup>

“Q: How long did the attack of 14th April last?

A: About two hours.

Q: Were there many victims as a result of that attack?

A: No. There was only one victim, a certain Muhigirwa who was killed at the roadblock located not far away from the war front. He was coming from where he went to look for food.”

Prosecution Witness CBK

167. Prosecution Witness CBK, a Hutu, was a teenager in April 1994.<sup>391</sup> The witness was at the Nyange Parish during the relevant events in April 1994.<sup>392</sup>

168. Witness CBK testified that, on 7 April 1994, Tutsi civilians began streaming into the Nyange Parish.<sup>393</sup> “Those people were coming from the same locality, and when they arrived at the parish, they told us that Hutus were trying to kill them and that was why they were seeking refuge at the parish[.]”<sup>394</sup> The Tutsi who sought refuge at the parish included women, men, old people, children, intellectuals and uneducated people.<sup>395</sup> The witness testified that he saw these Tutsi with his own eyes.<sup>396</sup>

169. According to the witness, the Tutsi “[i]nitially ... stayed in a room, and others sought refuge at the presbytery. They did not directly go inside the church.”<sup>397</sup> “Every day refugees were arriving to seek refuge in the Nyange [P]arish. When the numbers increased, they were moved from the presbytery and the house ... to the inside of the church.”<sup>398</sup> The witness testified that the Tutsi moved into the church between 11 and 13 April 1994.<sup>399</sup> Witness CBK said that, on 13 April 1994, the church capacity was 3000 people, and the church was full of people.<sup>400</sup>

170. Witness KG15, a Hutu of mixed parentage, was at the Nyange Parish during the period from 10 April to 16 April 1994.<sup>401</sup>

171. Witness KG15 stated that he arrived at the Nyange Parish at around 11.00 a.m. on 10 April 1994 and was received by Father Seromba.<sup>402</sup> Witness KG15 did not provide any direct evidence regarding the arrival of the Tutsi at the Nyange Parish or the date on which those who had sought refuge at the parish were allowed into the church. However, when asked how many people were in the church when it was destroyed on 16 April 1994, Witness KG15 responded by saying, “[t]hat is difficult, because the last time I entered the church was Tuesday [12 April 1994]. 172. Witness Tugirumukiza is from Gishiru cellule, Kibanda secteur, Kivumu commune.<sup>404</sup> In 1994, the witness was a 21-year-old student at the National University of Rwanda, Butare campus.<sup>405</sup> Witness Tugirumukiza testified that he attended mass at the Nyange Parish on Easter, 3 April 1994, and then again on 10 April 1994.<sup>406</sup> The witness testified during cross-examination that there were displaced Tutsi in the church on 10 April 1994.<sup>407</sup> The witness did not hear Father Seromba say anything about the displaced Tutsi who were at mass that day.<sup>408</sup>

Defence Witness KG19

173. Defence Witness KG59

174. Witness KG59 was 33 years old in April 1994.<sup>414</sup> He testified that he remembered that Kanyarukiga left Kivumu on 12 April 1994 because that was the first day that there was a killing in Ngobagoba secteur.<sup>415</sup> Witness KG59 testified that he was told by a Tutsi woman on 12 April 1994 that people from Kibilira had attacked his region.<sup>416</sup> According to the witness, a Tutsi named Nyandara, Jean-Bosco was killed that same day.<sup>417</sup>

2.3. Deliberations

175. The Prosecution alleges in its closing brief that, “[i]n the days after President Habyarimana’s plane was shot down ... Tutsis throughout Kivumu commune were threatened and victimised in reprisal attacks, including by the communal authorities.”<sup>418</sup> The Prosecution submits that, during these attacks, Thomas, Martin Karekezi, Muhigirwa and two persons at Grégoire Ndakubana’s house were killed.<sup>419</sup> The Prosecution submits that these attacks were sanctioned and ordered by persons named in paragraph 4 of the Amended Indictment and that the Accused endorsed the sentiments of these assailants.<sup>420</sup>

176. As a result of these attacks, Tutsi civilians sought refuge at the Nyange Parish Church.<sup>421</sup> According to the Prosecution, the evidence “establishes that members of the JCE concentrated Tutsis in one area so that it was easier to kill them.”<sup>422</sup>

177. The Defence does not dispute that Tutsi civilians were attacked after 6 April 1994 or that they sought refuge at the Nyange Parish Church, but it maintains that the Prosecution has not adduced any evidence to link these attacks to the Accused.<sup>423</sup>

Attacks on Tutsi Civilians in Kivumu Commune

178. It is undisputed that Tutsi civilians were attacked by persons of Hutu ethnicity after the death of President Habyarimana on 6 April 1994.<sup>424</sup> Thus, the only questions for the Chamber are whether the persons named in the Indictment were among the victims of these attacks and whether the attacks can be attributed to the Accused or other members of the joint criminal enterprise pled in paragraph 4 of the Amended Indictment.

179. The Prosecution alleges in the Amended Indictment that Grégoire Ndakubana, Martin Karekezi and Thomas Mwendezi were killed in attacks after the death of the president.<sup>425</sup> Prosecution Witnesses CBR, CDL and CNJ all testified that Ndakubana’s house was attacked on the night of 7 April 1994.<sup>426</sup> Witness CBR testified that he was one of the perpetrators of the attack on Grégoire Ndakubana’s home and that, during this attack, two of Ndakubana’s grandchildren were killed and other persons were wounded.<sup>427</sup> Witness CNJ corroborated Witness CBR’s testimony that two people were killed during the attack.<sup>428</sup> Witness CDL, for his part, corroborated Witness CBR’s testimony that those who were killed were members of Grégoire Ndakubana’s family and that other people were wounded.<sup>429</sup> All three witnesses testified that the Inspector of Judicial Police (IPJ) Kayishema went to Ndakubana’s house the following morning.<sup>430</sup> Witnesses CBR and CDL testified that Kayishema was involved in burying the bodies of those who had been killed.<sup>431</sup> None of the witnesses testified that Grégoire Ndakubana was killed during this attack.

180. At this point, the witnesses’ accounts diverge. While Witness CBR testified that Grégoire Ndakubana had died before the war, Witness CDL testified that, after his family members were killed, Ndakubana asked the IPJ and the president of the canton court to assist him.<sup>432</sup> Moreover, while Witness CDL testified that the IPJ and the canton court president did not prepare a report on the attack, Witness CNJ testified that IPJ Kayishema did make a report and that some persons were arrested.<sup>433</sup> Witness CBR, one of the perpetrators of the attack, did not mention any investigation or arrests.

181. As discussed further in paragraphs 452 to 453, Witnesses CBR, CDL and CNJ were all accomplices to the attacks at the Nyange Parish. The Chamber therefore has treated their evidence with necessary caution. However, the Chamber finds that as an acknowledged participant in the attack on Ndakubana's home, Witness CBR provided a first-hand account of the events he personally experienced. As discussed further in paragraphs 591 to 595, the Chamber has found that Witness CBR, although an accomplice, is generally credible. Moreover, in crediting his testimony on this particular attack, the Chamber notes that Witness CBR's evidence is incriminating to the witness but not to the Accused, suggesting a lack of motivation for fabrication or exaggeration.

182. In contrast, neither Witness CNJ nor Witness CDL said how he learned about this attack. Thus, the Chamber finds that, without further information regarding their bases for knowledge, it cannot rely on the testimony of Witnesses CDL and CNJ to determine what happened at Grégoire Ndakubana's house. Indeed, the Chamber notes that, because Witnesses CDL and CNJ were detained and participated in Gacaca sessions with Witness CBR,<sup>434</sup> they could have obtained this information while in prison rather than at the time of the events.<sup>435</sup> The Chamber therefore has disregarded their evidence on this point.

183. The Chamber finds that Witness CBR's first-hand account is sufficient to establish that, on the night of 7 April 1994, an attack was launched against the family of Grégoire Ndakubana and that the attack was instigated by Ndakubana's neighbour, Télesphore Ndungutse. During the attack, two of Ndakubana's grandchildren were killed and other persons were injured. Contrary to the allegation in paragraph 9 of the Amended Indictment, Grégoire Ndakubana was not killed during this attack. Moreover, given Witness CBR's testimony that Ndakubana died prior to 7 April 1994, the Chamber does not accept Witness CDL's evidence that Ndakubana asked IPJ Kayishema to investigate the attack. The Chamber is satisfied, however, that on the morning of 8 April 1994, IPJ Kayishema came to Ndakubana's residence and buried the bodies of those who had been killed. There is no evidence that anyone was prosecuted for these killings during April 1994.

184. In Paragraph 9 of the Amended Indictment, the Prosecution also alleges that Martin Karekezi and Thomas Mwendezi were killed after the death of President Habyarimana.<sup>436</sup> The Prosecution relies on the testimony of Witness CDL to support this allegation. Witness CDL testified that a group of assailants, led by Gasigwa, attacked the family of a Tutsi named "Thomas"

<sup>435</sup> The Chamber notes that certain witnesses testified that the purpose of the Gacaca sessions was to refresh each other's memories of the events that happened in 1994. According to Witness CDL, "Gacaca sessions are organised in order to enable members of the population to be able to refresh one another's memory regarding the events of 1994. That was the main objective of the information collection phase." T. 10 September 2009, p. 73. Witness CNJ likewise testified that, "[a]s was the case in other secteurs, it was necessary for us to refresh our memories regarding what had happened." T. 8 September 2009, p. 10.

on 9 April 1994 and killed Thomas.<sup>437</sup> The witness testified that he did not know Thomas's second name.<sup>438</sup> The same group of attackers killed Martin Karekezi on the night of 9 April 1994.<sup>439</sup>

185. The Chamber recalls that a finding of fact may be based on the evidence of a single accomplice witness where the Chamber finds that the evidence is relevant and credible.<sup>440</sup> In this case, however, the Chamber finds that it cannot rely on Witness CDL's testimony to establish that Martin Karekezi and Thomas Mwendezi were killed on 9 April 1994. The Chamber notes that Witness CDL did not say how he learned that Martin Karekezi and Thomas were killed on 9 April 1994. Moreover, the Chamber finds that, without further identifying information, the Prosecution has failed to establish that the "Thomas" referred to by Witness CDL is in fact Thomas Mwendezi. Hence, the Chamber finds that the Prosecution has not proven beyond reasonable doubt that Martin Karekezi and Thomas Mwendezi were killed following the death of President Habyarimana.

186. In addition to the victims named in the Indictment, the Prosecution alleges in its closing brief that Muhigirwa was attacked and killed on 9 April 1994.<sup>441</sup> The Chamber recalls that, on 15 January 2010, it denied a Defence request to exclude Prosecution Witness CDL's testimony that Muhigirwa was killed by assailants on 9 April 1994.<sup>442</sup>

187. Three Prosecution witnesses, CBN, CDL and CBY, testified about the death of someone called Muhigirwa. Witness CBN testified that he saw Muhigirwa's corpse as he was fleeing towards the Nyange Parish on 12 April 1994.<sup>443</sup> Witness CDL corroborated Witness CBN's testimony regarding the killing of Muhigirwa but testified that Muhigirwa was killed on 9 April 1994, after being called by his neighbours to the Statue of the Virgin Mary.<sup>444</sup> Both witnesses testified that Muhigirwa was a Tutsi.<sup>445</sup> Finally, Witness CBY testified that Muhigirwa was killed at a roadblock while coming back to the Nyange Church after going to look for food on 14 April 1994.<sup>446</sup>

188. Witness CDL did not provide any basis for his knowledge that Muhigirwa was killed on 9 April 1994, nor did Witness CBY explain how he knew that Muhigirwa was killed at a roadblock on 14 April 1994. Indeed, it is not clear from the evidence that the Muhigirwa referred to by Witness CBY is the same person described by Witnesses CBN and CDL. However, because the Chamber has found that Witness CBN, who testified that he saw Muhigirwa's corpse, is generally credible, the Chamber is satisfied that a Tutsi civilian by this name was killed in the vicinity of the Nyange Trading Centre after President Habyarimana's death. The Chamber further notes that, while there is no direct evidence regarding the specific perpetrators of this attack, it may be inferred from the surrounding circumstances that Muhigirwa was killed by Hutu assailants. The Chamber finds, however, that the evidence is inconclusive with respect to the exact date on which Muhigirwa was killed.

<sup>442</sup> Decision on Defence Motion for a Stay of Proceedings or Exclusion of Evidence outside the Indictment (TC), 15 January 2010. The Chamber found that, as a Tutsi civilian killed after the death of President Habyarimana, Muhigirwa's killing fell squarely within the scope of paragraph 9 of the Amended Indictment. <sup>446</sup> T. 8 September 2009, p. 45.

189. Finally, based on Witness CBS's uncontradicted testimony, the Chamber finds that members of the witness's family, including his father, were killed on or about 11 April 1994 and that the witness sought refuge at the parish on 12 April 1994. The Chamber finds no evidence on the record regarding the perpetrators of these attacks but is again satisfied that the victims were killed by Hutu assailants.

190. According to the Prosecution, "[f]rom the very outset, the killing of Tutsis in Kivumu commune was not arbitrary or random, but was sanctioned and ordered by the persons of power, influence or authority in Kivumu commune."<sup>447</sup> The Prosecution relies on the evidence of Witnesses CNJ, CBR and CDL to support this allegation.

191. Witness CNJ testified that Hutus were publicly called upon to kill the Tutsi.<sup>448</sup> These calls were broadcast on Radio Rwanda and other radio stations.<sup>449</sup> He testified that, at the local level, Grégoire Ndahimana, IPJ Kayishema and other authorities asked Hutus to go to Nyange to attack the Tutsi who had taken refuge there.<sup>450</sup> Witnesses CBR and CDL both testified that Télesphore Ndungutse, a teacher and local vice-chair of the MRND Party, instigated the Hutu in his locality to launch attacks against Tutsi civilians.<sup>451</sup> Witness CDL testified that Ndungutse received permission for these attacks from IPJ Fulgence Kayishema and Canton Court President Joseph Habiyaambere.<sup>452</sup> Finally, Witnesses CDL, CBR and CNJ suggested between them that, after Tutsi were attacked, IPJ Kayishema ordered that the bodies be buried without investigation.<sup>453</sup>

192. Based on this testimony, the Chamber is satisfied that Télesphore Ndungutse instigated attacks against Tutsi in his locality and, particularly, against the home of his neighbour Grégoire Ndakubana. Indeed, the Chamber recalls that Witness CBR was one of those instigated by Ndungutse to launch attacks against Tutsi civilians, including Ndakubana's family. The Chamber is further satisfied that, by declining to investigate the crimes committed at Ndakubana's house and elsewhere, IPJ Kayishema acquiesced to and encouraged the continuation of the attacks.

193. On the other hand, the Chamber attaches little weight to Witness CDL's testimony that Ndungutse received authorisation for these attacks from the IPJ and canton court president because it is both uncorroborated and double hearsay. Similarly, the Chamber notes that, while Witness CNJ testified that Ndahimana, Kayishema and other authorities "asked us to go to Nyange where thousands of Tutsis had sought refuge,"<sup>454</sup> he did not provide any information regarding his basis for knowledge. Moreover, when considered in context, this testimony appears to refer to the attacks on the Nyange Church between 13 and 16 April 1994 and not to the attacks against Tutsi homes in the days immediately following the death of the president.<sup>455</sup> For these reasons, the Chamber is not convinced that Ndahimana or Kayishema ordered attacks against Tutsi civilians prior to their arrival at the Nyange Parish.

Tutsi Civilians Seek Refuge at the Nyange Parish and Kivumu Commune Office

194. It is undisputed that, following the attacks in their neighbourhoods, Tutsi civilians sought refuge in the Nyange Parish Church.<sup>456</sup> The Prosecution, however, goes further in its closing brief, alleging that persons who were members of the joint criminal enterprise with the Accused channelled Tutsi towards the Nyange Parish and “lured” those who had sought refuge at the parish into the church.<sup>457</sup>

195. The Chamber recalls that, on 2 September 2009, it sustained a Defence objection to Witness CBK’s evidence that “officials,” including Kanyarukiga, Ndahimana, Kayishema, Mbakirirehe and Rushema, decided to move the Tutsi at the Nyange Parish from the presbytery into the church.<sup>458</sup> The Chamber therefore has not considered this evidence in its deliberations.

196. Prosecution Witnesses CNJ and YAU also testified that local “authorities” played a role in channelling the Tutsi towards the parish.<sup>459</sup> Witness CNJ testified that he was told by his paternal uncle that on 11 April 1994, local officials and community leaders decided to relocate the Tutsi who had sought refuge at the communal office to the Nyange Parish and to provide gendarmes to “ensure the security of the refugees.”<sup>460</sup>

197. While the Defence did not object to Witness CNJ’s evidence about this meeting, the Chamber has exercised caution and considered whether the Accused was given adequate notice of the meeting at the communal office. The Chamber recalls that neither the communal office nor 11 April 1994 is mentioned in the Amended Indictment. Nevertheless, because Witness CNJ did not testify that Kanyarukiga attended this meeting or that any decisions taken at that meeting could be imputed to the Accused, the Chamber does not consider this evidence to constitute a material fact that should have been pleaded in the Amended Indictment. As such, the Chamber will consider Witness CNJ’s evidence on this point.

198. The Chamber recalls that Witness CNJ was an accomplice to the massacres at the Nyange Parish and that his testimony about this particular incident is based on hearsay.<sup>461</sup> The Chamber therefore has treated his evidence with extreme caution. For these reasons, the Chamber finds that Witness CNJ’s evidence is insufficient to support a finding that Tutsi civilians sought refuge at the Kivumu commune office or that they were moved from the commune office to the Nyange Parish after a meeting of officials and community leaders on 11 April 1994. At the same time, the witness’s testimony was partially corroborated by Witnesses CBN, CBS and YAU, who testified that there were gendarmes at the parish when they arrived.<sup>462</sup> Witnesses YAU, CBN, CBR and CBS also indicated that the gendarmes were meant to ensure the security of the Tutsi at the parish.<sup>463</sup>

Based on this evidence, the Chamber is satisfied that gendarmes were posted at the Nyange Parish to “ensure the security” of the Tutsi at the parish.

199. Witness YAU testified that, on the day she arrived at the parish, she saw Fulgence Kayishema and Gaspard Kanyarukiga transporting Tutsi civilians to the parish in Kanyarukiga’s red vehicle.<sup>464</sup> As discussed further in paragraph 317, the Chamber finds that, in light of the inconsistencies and irregularities in Witness YAU’s testimony, it cannot rely on her testimony unless corroborated by credible evidence. Because no other witness testified that Kanyarukiga and Kayishema brought Tutsi to the Nyange Parish in Kanyarukiga’s vehicle, the Chamber has disregarded Witness YAU’s testimony on this point.

2.4. Conclusion

200. For the foregoing reasons, the Chamber finds that the Prosecution has proven beyond reasonable doubt that in Kivumu commune, Tutsi civilians were attacked in their homes after the death of President Habyarimana, that at least some of these attacks were instigated by Téléphone Ndungutse and that IPJ Kayishema declined to investigate or prosecute such attacks. However, the Prosecution has failed to establish that Grégoire Ndakubana, Martin Karekezi and Thomas Mwendezi were among the victims of these attacks, as alleged in paragraph 9 of the Amended Indictment.

201. Second, the Chamber finds that the Prosecution has proven beyond reasonable doubt that Tutsi civilians sought refuge from attacks in Kivumu commune at the Nyange Parish and that gendarmes were posted to the parish, ostensibly to ensure the security of the Tutsi.<sup>465</sup> However, it has not been established; that Tutsi civilians sought refuge at the Kivumu commune office; that they were relocated to the parish after a meeting at the commune office; that Kanyarukiga and Kayishema transported Tutsi to the parish or that Tutsi were “channelled” to the parish by communal authorities.

<sup>465</sup> The Chamber notes that this finding overlaps with the findings with regard to paragraph 13 to Amended Indictment and is equally relevant to the allegation in that paragraph.

3. Meetings at Nyange Parish, “on or about 10 April 1994” and “on or about 12 April 1994”

3.1. Introduction

202. Paragraphs 11 and 12 of the Amended Indictment read as follows:

11. On or about 10 April 1994, Gaspard KANYARUKIGA, Father Athanase SEROMBA, Fulgence KAYISHEMA, Grégoire NDAHIMANA and others attended a meeting in the presbytery at Nyange Parish at which the state of insecurity and killings were discussed. At this meeting Father Seromba blamed the inkotanyi for killing President Habyarimana.

12. On or about 12 April 1994, Gaspard KANYARUKIGA, Father Athanase SEROMBA, Fulgence KAYISHEMA, Grégoire NDAHIMANA, Téléphore NDUNGUTSE and others attended another meeting on Seromba’s balcony at Nyange Parish.

203. Prosecution Witnesses CBY, CDL, CBK, CBR, YAU, CBS and CBN all gave evidence that Kanyarukiga attended meetings with Kayishema, Ndahimana, Seromba and others prior to 15 April 1994. The Defence challenges the reliability of these Prosecution witnesses and points to the evidence of Defence Witnesses KG15 and Damien Nayituriki, who denied witnessing any meetings at the alleged times and places.<sup>466</sup>

3.2. Evidence

Prosecution Witness CBY

204. Witness CBY testified that, on the afternoon of 8 April 1994, “officials” arrived at the Nyange Parish.<sup>467</sup> Among these “officials” were the IPJ Kayishema, a person called Ndungutse, Grégoire Ndahimana and Kanyarukiga.<sup>468</sup> “On that day[,] when they arrived at the parish, Father Seromba also came there and spoke to them in the inner courtyard of the presbytery.”<sup>469</sup> The witness testified that these people were at the presbytery for approximately 30 minutes to one hour.<sup>470</sup>

205. These same “authorities” returned on 9 April 1994, before 5.00 p.m., and spoke to Father Seromba in the inner courtyard of the presbytery for less than an hour.<sup>471</sup> Witness CBY was not far from the courtyard when he saw these men arrive.<sup>472</sup>

206. On 10 April 1994, Félicien, a young man who worked with Witness CBY, arrived at the parish with some of the people who were seeking refuge there.<sup>473</sup> Félicien told the witness that

<sup>468</sup> T. 8 September 2009, p. 34; T. 14 September 2009, p. 9 (CS). The witness only mentioned the first three initially, but when asked again, the witness testified that Kanyarukiga accompanied these other men.

Father Seromba had gone to the communal office to attend a meeting regarding the possible extermination of the Tutsi.<sup>474</sup> Witness CBY did not say how Félicien had obtained this information.

207. Witness CBY testified that Kayishema, Ndungutse, Grégoire Ndahimana and Kanyarukiga visited the Nyange Parish again on 10 April 1994.<sup>475</sup> They met Father Seromba in the inner courtyard of the presbytery for approximately 40 minutes.<sup>476</sup>

208. On 11 April 1994, Kayishema, Ndungutse, Grégoire Ndahimana and Kanyarukiga came back to the presbytery and met with Father Seromba for between 30 minutes and one hour.<sup>477</sup> There were no other visitors to the parish on that day.<sup>478</sup>

209. Witness CBY testified that Kayishema, Ndungutse, Grégoire Ndahimana and Kanyarukiga returned to the presbytery on 12 April 1994 and met with Father Seromba.<sup>479</sup> After the meeting, Father Seromba left the presbytery and did not return for two hours.<sup>480</sup> The witness testified that, upon Father Seromba's return, the church door was opened to allow the Tutsi to enter.<sup>481</sup> Witness CBY said he was in the presbytery courtyard during each of these meetings.<sup>482</sup>

210. On 13 April 1994, a group of Hutu assailants attacked the Tutsi at the parish.<sup>483</sup> After the attackers left, Kayishema, Ndungutse, Grégoire Ndahimana, Kanyarukiga and another businessman named Théodomir, known as Kiragi, came to the parish.<sup>484</sup> They arrived in the afternoon between 3.00 and 4.00 p.m.<sup>485</sup> Upon arrival, these men entered the presbytery and went upstairs to meet with Father Seromba.<sup>486</sup> "Shortly afterwards they left Seromba's room to move into another room that was used by the bishop."<sup>487</sup> The witness testified that the meeting went for about an hour.<sup>488</sup> Afterwards, Father Seromba went out to accompany the visitors and remained outside for approximately two hours.<sup>489</sup> When he returned, Father Seromba asked the witness to accompany him to the church to remove material that was used during mass.<sup>490</sup>

Prosecution Witness CDL

211. Witness CDL testified that, on 13 April 1994, a meeting was held at the communal office in order to discuss preparing the "assailants" to attack the church, as well as the nature of the weapons possessed by the Tutsi who had taken refuge in the church.<sup>491</sup> The meeting was attended by Bourgmestre Grégoire Ndahimana, Father Seromba, Deputy Bourgmestre Gilbert Kanani Rugwizangoga, Fulgence Kayishema, Gaspard Kanyarukiga, Télésphore Ndungutse and Joseph

Habiyambere.<sup>492</sup> At the end of the meeting, Seromba and Gilbert Kanani Rugwizangoga, the Deputy Bourgmestre, went to the church to determine whether the Tutsi were armed.<sup>493</sup> Witness CDL did not attend the meeting but was informed about it by Kanani.<sup>494</sup>

212. Witness CDL also testified that he attended a meeting at Mutanoga Centre on 14 April 1994.<sup>495</sup> Witness CDL testified that he arrived at the Mutanoga Centre around 2.30 p.m.<sup>496</sup> According to the witness, the gathering “looked like a public rally.”<sup>497</sup> Witness CDL estimated that there were hundreds of people, but he could not give a number.<sup>498</sup> He testified that the meeting was attended by Bourgmestre Ndahimana, IPJ Fulgence Kayishema, Canton Court President Joseph Habiyambere, Brigadier Bakiwiri,<sup>499</sup> MRND Chairman Jean Baptiste Kagenza, Assistant Bourgmestre Gilbert Rugwizangoga Kanani, MRND Vice-Chairman Télésphore Ndungutse and the businessman Gaspard Kanyarukiga.<sup>500</sup>

213. Witness CDL testified that he saw Kanyarukiga arrive at the Mutanoga Centre in a Toyota Corolla and park in front of the first house at the marketplace.<sup>501</sup> According to the witness, Kanyarukiga had a pistol in his belt and asked those present whether all the Tutsi at the Nyange Church had been killed.<sup>502</sup> Kanyarukiga was told that the Tutsi at the church had resisted the attacks.<sup>503</sup> According to the witness, Kanyarukiga “advised the assailants that they had to proceed quickly and exterminate the refugees at the parish, because their kinsmen were already at Mushubati” and were coming to “liberate” the Tutsi in Nyange.<sup>504</sup> Witness CDL testified that, through his words, “Kanyarukiga meant to say that the [i]nkotanyis were related to the Tutsis, that they were, therefore, their kinsmen.”<sup>505</sup>

Prosecution Witness CBK

214. Witness CBK testified that, in the afternoon of 13 April 1994, the former bourgmestre of Kivumu commune, IPJ Kayishema, Mbakirirehe, Rushema and Kanyarukiga held a meeting at the Nyange Parish to discuss “disarming the refugees.”<sup>506</sup> Witness CBK testified that Kanyarukiga and Father Seromba were among those who decided to disarm the Tutsi.<sup>507</sup> According to the witness, all of the meetings were held in a room known as the “bishop’s room,” which was one of the rooms in the parish.<sup>508</sup> Witness CBK testified that each time these men met at the parish, he saw them come and go from the bishop’s room.<sup>509</sup> He acknowledged, however, that he did not attend any of these meetings.<sup>510</sup>

215. During cross-examination, Witness CBK testified that “the meeting during which it was decided to disarm refugees was held at the parish.”<sup>511</sup> He then testified that, “on the 13th of April, Father Seromba went to the communal office where a meeting had been held. But when they returned from the communal office, they held another meeting at the parish.”<sup>512</sup>

216. Witness CBK confirmed that Defence Witness KG15 was at the Nyange Parish during April 1994.<sup>513</sup>

Prosecution Witness CBR

217. Witness CBR testified that, on 13 April 1994, Ndungutse attended a meeting at the communal office along with Assistant Bourgmestre Gilbert Kanani and Presiding Judge Joseph Habiyaambere.<sup>514</sup> Ndungutse later informed the witness and others that those at the meeting had talked about attacking the Nyange Parish.<sup>515</sup> After the meeting, Kanani and Habiyaambere went to the parish with Father Seromba to assess whether those who had taken refuge at the parish were armed and capable of defending themselves.<sup>516</sup>

Prosecution Witness YAU

218. Witness YAU testified that Father Seromba, Gaspard Kanyarukiga, Fulgence Kayishema, Grégoire Ndahimana, Nyange Conseiller Habarugira and Jean-Marie Vianney were at the Nyange Parish when she arrived.<sup>517</sup> Witness YAU testified that these persons were standing in front of the office of the secretariat in the parish compound.<sup>518</sup> “They seemed to be talking, to be discussing.”<sup>519</sup> The witness was not close enough to hear their conversation, but she testified that the distance between them was “not significant.”<sup>520</sup>

Prosecution Witness CBS

219. Witness CBS testified that around 1.00 p.m. on Thursday, 14 April 1994, “the Hutus who were leading the commune” came to see Seromba at the Nyange Parish.<sup>521</sup> According to the witness, these people were Bourgmestre Grégoire Ndahimana, IPJ Kayishema, Brigadier Mbakirirehe, Assistant Bourgmestre Rushema and communal policemen.<sup>522</sup> The witness also saw Gaspard Kanyarukiga and Télésphore Ndungutse “at the priest’s.”<sup>523</sup>

220. Witness CBS was outside the church in the courtyard,<sup>524</sup> and saw these men on the balcony “of the house where Father Seromba had his apartment.”<sup>525</sup> Witness CBS did not see the men arrive at the parish.<sup>526</sup> According to the witness, the visitors “spent a lot of time with that priest as if they were holding a meeting”.<sup>527</sup> The men remained on the balcony for approximately one hour.<sup>528</sup> Witness CBS attested that, “they were discussing amongst themselves and they left subsequently”<sup>529</sup> in the direction of the Statue of the Virgin Mary, with only Seromba and “other priests who were linked with Seromba” remaining behind.<sup>530</sup> According to the witness, this was the first meeting at the parish.<sup>531</sup>

Prosecution Witness CBN

221. Witness CBN testified that at approximately 1.00 p.m. on the afternoon of Thursday, 14 April 1994, Bourgmestre Grégoire Ndahimana came to Nyange Parish with the brigadier, Christophe Mbakirirehe, IPJ Kayishema, Court President Gaca Butelezi and Kanyarukiga.<sup>532</sup> The witness testified that he saw these men come to the church.<sup>533</sup> “They continued and went right up to Seromba’s room, which was located on the upper floor[.]”<sup>534</sup> Witness CBN was in the courtyard in front of the church and could see the Statue of the Virgin Mary from where he was standing.<sup>535</sup> Ndahimana, Mbakirirehe, Kayishema, Kanyarukiga and Gaca Butelezi “passed in front of us and entered through the small gate by which one passed in order to go to the rear courtyard.”<sup>536</sup> The witness saw the men standing on the balcony of the presbytery.<sup>537</sup>

222. Witness CBN testified that he could not hear the men’s conversation, but he had the impression they were holding a meeting “because as they talked they pointed at us, and that is why I concluded that they were holding a meeting with regards to the people who were at the church.”<sup>538</sup> The witness estimated that the meeting did not last for more than an hour.<sup>539</sup>

223. As the “authorities” left the presbytery, the Tutsi approached them and told the bourgmestre that they had been attacked.<sup>540</sup> They asked the bourgmestre what he had done to arrest the assailants.<sup>541</sup>

The bourgmestre said there was nothing he could do to help the refugees because the inyenzis had attacked the country and had shot down the plane of President Habyarimana. He said that the Tutsis who were in the country had to be exterminated.<sup>542</sup>

Witness CBN testified that Kanyarukiga was with the bourgmestre when he said these words.<sup>543</sup>

<sup>526</sup> T. 16 September 2009, pp. 60, 61. He testified, however, that there was only one entrance into the presbytery.

Defence Witness KG15

225. Witness KG15 arrived at the Nyange Parish at around 11.00 a.m. on 10 April 1994 and was received by Father Seromba.<sup>546</sup> He testified that he spent the night of 10 April 1994 at the Nyange Parish.<sup>547</sup>

226. Witness KG15 testified that on Monday, 11 April 1994, he spent no more than ten minutes outside the presbytery.<sup>548</sup> Witness KG15 testified that he remained inside the presbytery for the rest of the day, either in his room or in the inner courtyard between the priests’ quarters and the secretariat.<sup>549</sup> He subsequently asserted that he went to church with Father Seromba on this day.<sup>550</sup>

227. The witness testified that he saw only two people come to the presbytery on 11 April 1994: the bourgmestre and the IPJ.<sup>551</sup> According to Witness KG15, the bourgmestre and IPJ met Seromba in the inner courtyard in front of the priests’ living quarters for a few minutes.<sup>552</sup> Witness KG15 testified that, during this time, he and Father Seromba were in the inner courtyard.<sup>553</sup> Father Seromba introduced the witness to the bourgmestre and the IPJ, after which the two men asked Witness KG15 and Father Seromba security-related questions.<sup>554</sup> Witness KG15 testified that the bourgmestre and IPJ remained in the courtyard for around ten minutes but did not enter any of the rooms in the presbytery.<sup>555</sup>

228. Witness KG15 spent the duration of Tuesday, 12 April 1994, inside the presbytery.<sup>556</sup> Witness KG15 did not see the bourgmestre, IPJ, local authorities or other persons enter the presbytery on this day, nor did he hear about a meeting in the presbytery from anyone else.<sup>557</sup>

229. Witness KG15 testified that he did not leave the presbytery on Wednesday, 13 April 1994, owing to the “tense” situation.<sup>558</sup> He testified that there was no meeting inside the presbytery at any time this day.<sup>559</sup>

230. Witness KG15 testified that he did not leave the presbytery on Thursday, 14 April 1994.<sup>560</sup> When asked whether he witnessed anything around 1.00 p.m., or had otherwise learnt that a

Defence Witness Damien Nayituriki

231. Defence Witness Damien Nayituriki, a Hutu, was in his fourth year at the Butare Groupe Scolaire in 1994.<sup>562</sup>

232. Witness Nayituriki testified that, on 14 April 1994, he went to buy drinks near the Statue of the Virgin Mary with his brother and a man from Kigali who had taken refuge at the witness's house.<sup>563</sup> They could not buy the drinks at the Statue of Virgin Mary, so they left around 3.30 or 4.00 p.m. and headed towards Mutanoga, where they spent two hours drinking.<sup>564</sup> Witness Nayituriki testified that he did not see Kanyarukiga or Kanyarukiga's vehicle while he was at the Mutanoga Centre.<sup>565</sup> Witness Nayituriki also denied seeing the bourgmestre of Kivumu commune, or IPJ Kayishema at the Mutanoga Centre.<sup>566</sup> Witness Nayituriki did not witness any meeting or gathering at Mutanoga Centre for the entire period he was there, nor did he hear that Kanyarukiga or Grégoire attended a meeting at that location on 14 April 1994.<sup>567</sup>

3.3. Deliberations

233. Paragraphs 11 and 12 of the Amended Indictment allege that the Accused attended "a" meeting at the Nyange Parish "on or about 10 April 1994" and "another meeting" "on or about 12 April 1994." The Prosecution submits in its closing brief that Kanyarukiga attended a number of meetings at various locations in Kivumu commune, including the communal office, the presbytery, the courtyard of the Nyange Parish, CODEKOKI and near the Accused's pharmacy.<sup>568</sup> According to the Prosecution, "[e]vidence adduced demonstrates that the purpose of these pre-killing meetings was to plan the killings."<sup>569</sup>

234. The Defence, for its part, submits that several of the meetings about which the Prosecution has led evidence are outside the scope of the Amended Indictment. The Defence maintains that the Prosecution has transformed "a single specifically described occurrence [in the Amended Indictment] into multiple similar occurrences."<sup>570</sup> The Defence further contends that the Prosecution evidence is either "patently unreliable" or does not prove any criminal activity on the part of the Accused.<sup>571</sup>

235. The Chamber notes that it has found, in paragraphs 121 to 137, that the alibi for 12 to 14 April 1994 is not reasonably possibly true, for the reasons outlined in that section. The Chamber recalls, however, that its finding that the alibi is not reasonably possibly true does not

Notice

236. The Chamber recalls that in its 15 January 2010 decision on the Defence motion for exclusion of evidence, the Trial Chamber reserved until the judgement its decision on whether to exclude Prosecution evidence of certain meetings allegedly attended by the Accused.<sup>572</sup> Before assessing the evidence on its merits, the Chamber therefore shall consider the Defence request, as reiterated in its closing brief, that the Trial Chamber exclude the following Prosecution evidence for lack of notice:

- 1) Prosecution Witness CBK's testimony that Kanyarukiga attended a meeting in the "bishop's room" on 13 April 1994;
- 2) Prosecution Witness CBR's testimony that Kanyarukiga attended a meeting on 13 April 1994 at the communal office;
- 3) Prosecution Witness CDL's testimony that Kanyarukiga attended a meeting at the communal office on 13 April 1994 to verify weapons of "refugees";<sup>573</sup>
- 4) Prosecution Witness CBN's testimony that Kanyarukiga attended a meeting on 14 April 1994;
- 5) Prosecution Witness CDL's testimony that Kanyarukiga attended a meeting at Mutanoga Centre on 14 April 1994; and
- 6) Prosecution Witness CBS's testimony that Kanyarukiga attended a meeting on 14 April 1994.<sup>574</sup>

237. The Defence submits that the Prosecution adduced evidence of material facts that were included in the original indictment but withdrawn from the Amended Indictment in 2007.<sup>575</sup> The Prosecution does not address this argument in its closing brief but asserted in its closing argument that, "the Defence has suffered no prejudice because timely, clear and consistent disclosure ... has been effected."<sup>576</sup> The Prosecution contends that defects in the Amended Indictment were cured through witness statements, the witnesses' testimony in the Seromba trial, disclosed confession statements and paragraph 36 of the Prosecutor's Pre-Trial Brief, which states that the Accused attended meetings at "Seromba's home" and elsewhere from 10 April through 16 April 1994.<sup>577</sup>

238. The Chamber recalls that, in exceptional circumstances, a vague or ambiguous provision in an indictment may be cured through timely, clear and consistent information detailing the factual basis underpinning the charge.<sup>578</sup> The Appeals Chamber has found that defects in an indictment may be cured through post-indictment submissions, such as the prosecution's pre-trial brief, annexed witness summaries or the opening statement.<sup>579</sup> However, a clear distinction must be drawn between vagueness in an indictment and an indictment omitting certain charges altogether.<sup>580</sup>

239. The Chamber notes that paragraphs 11 and 12 of the Amended Indictment charge the Accused with participation in two particular meetings at the Nyange Parish prior to 15 April 1994. Because the Amended Indictment is unambiguous with respect to the number of meetings that the Accused is alleged to have attended, the Prosecution cannot “cure” the Indictment by including additional meetings in its subsequent submissions. Hence, the Chamber will not rely on any Prosecution evidence that does not relate to one of the two meetings specifically charged in the Amended Indictment. The Chamber acknowledges, however, that certain Prosecution evidence, while possibly at variance with the specific pleading in the Amended Indictment, could relate to one of the meetings charged in paragraphs 11 and 12 thereof. Thus, the Chamber shall consider the Prosecution evidence on a case-by-case basis to determine whether it relates to these two particular meetings.

(a) Meeting at the Presbytery on 10 April 1994

240. Prosecution Witness CBY testified that Kayishema, Ndungutse, Ndahimana and Kanyarukiga met Father Seromba at the inner courtyard of the Nyange Parish Presbytery on 10 April 1994.<sup>581</sup> The Chamber finds that the date, venue and participants given by the witness closely track those alleged in paragraph 11 of the Amended Indictment. Thus, the Chamber is satisfied that this evidence relates to the meeting charged in paragraph 11 of the Amended Indictment and shall consider it in its deliberations below.

(b) Meetings on 8, 9 and 11 April 1994

241. Prosecution Witness CBY also testified that the Accused attended meetings in the courtyard of the Nyange Parish Presbytery on 8, 9 and 11 April 1994.<sup>582</sup> The Amended Indictment does not mention any meetings on 8, 9 or 11 April 1994. While the Chamber acknowledges that each of these meetings could fall within the timeframe alleged in paragraph 11 of the Amended Indictment, the Accused is only charged with attending one meeting “on or about 10 April 1994.” Considering Witness CBY’s testimony about the meeting on 10 April 1994 more closely matches the allegation in the Amended Indictment, the Chamber has disregarded the evidence of meetings on 8, 9 and 11 April 1994.

See also Muhimana, Judgement (AC), para. 82. Accord Karera, Judgement (AC), para. 297; Muvunyi, Judgement (AC), para. 97. The Chamber notes that many of the “disclosures” upon which the Prosecution relies to “cure” the indictment, including witness statements, confession statements and the witnesses’ testimony in the Seromba trial, pre-date the Amended Indictment.

<sup>580</sup> Karera, Judgement (AC), para. 293. In Karera, the Appeals Chamber found that, where the amended indictment contained allegations of two particular incidents of weapons distribution in locations other than Rushashi, the inclusion of a third incident in Rushashi in the Prosecution’s pre-trial brief, annexed witness summaries and opening statement did not cure a vague paragraph in the indictment. Rather, it expanded the charges specifically pleaded in the indictment by charging an additional incident of weapons distribution in Rushashi. The Appeals Chamber found that this was “an impermissible de facto amendment of the Amended Indictment.” Karera, Judgement (AC), paras. 295-296.

(c) Meeting at the Communal Office on 10 April 1994

242. Prosecution Witness CBY testified that on 10 April 1994 he was informed by a young man who worked with him that Father Seromba had gone to the communal office to attend a meeting regarding the possible extermination of the Tutsi.<sup>583</sup> The Chamber recalls that paragraph 8 of the original indictment alleged that several important meetings were held at the Nyange Parish and the communal office on or about 10 April 1994.<sup>584</sup> The Prosecution deleted the reference to meetings at the communal office when it amended the indictment in 2007. The Chamber finds that, by removing this allegation, the Prosecution clearly indicated that it would not rely on this evidence at trial.<sup>585</sup> Therefore, the Chamber has disregarded Witness CBY's testimony on this point.

(e) Meeting on Father Seromba's Balcony on or about 12 April 1994

243. Paragraph 12 of the Amended Indictment alleges that Kanyarukiga attended "another" meeting on Father Seromba's balcony on or about 12 April 1994.<sup>586</sup> The Prosecution has not adduced any evidence of a meeting on Seromba's balcony on 12 April 1994. However, Witness CBY testified that Kanyarukiga, Kayishema, Ndungutse and Ndahimana met with Father Seromba at the presbytery on 12 April 1994,<sup>587</sup> and Witnesses CBN and CBS testified that Kanyarukiga, Ndahimana, Kayishema, Mbakirirehe and others attended a meeting on Seromba's balcony on 14 April 1994.<sup>588</sup>

244. The Chamber has considered the possibility that Witnesses CBY, CBN and CBS gave evidence about the same meeting but placed it on different dates. However, given the context in which each of these meetings is alleged to have occurred, the Chamber finds this proposition untenable. The Chamber recalls that, while Witness CBY testified that the Tutsi were not allowed into the church until after the alleged meeting on 12 April 1994, Witnesses CBN and CBS testified that Tutsi were already inside the church when the Accused met at the presbytery on 14 April 1994.<sup>589</sup> Furthermore, while Witness CBN testified that assailants attacked the Tutsi at the parish shortly after the meeting on the balcony on 14 April 1994, the first attack mentioned by Witness CBY occurred on 13 April 1994, the day after the alleged meeting on 12 April 1994.<sup>590</sup> Thus, the Chamber finds that the witnesses were in fact describing two different meetings.

245. The Chamber recalls that a date preceded by "on or about" may be sufficiently specific to put an accused on notice of the crimes with which he or she is charged.<sup>591</sup> The Chamber finds in this case that "on or about 12 April 1994" is an approximate timeframe, which encompasses dates on either side of 12 April 1994. Thus, the Chamber is satisfied that either the alleged meeting on 12 April 1994 or the meeting on 14 April 1994 could be that charged in paragraph 12 of the Amended Indictment.

246. Having considered the locations of the alleged meetings, the number of witnesses who testified about each event and the information available to the Prosecution when the indictment was amended,<sup>592</sup> the Chamber finds that the alleged meeting on the presbytery balcony on 14 April 1994 is that charged in paragraph 12 of the Amended Indictment. Thus, because the Amended Indictment is clear with respect to the number of meetings that the Accused is alleged to have attended, the Chamber has disregarded Witness CBY's evidence of a meeting on 12 April 1994 and only considered the evidence of the meeting on 14 April 1994.

247. The Chamber has also considered the Defence argument that the Prosecution withdrew references to 14 April 1994 when it amended the indictment in 2007. While the Chamber acknowledges that paragraph 12 of the original indictment charged Kanyarukiga with a meeting at the parish "on or about 14 April 1994," the Chamber finds that the meeting charged in paragraph 12 of the original indictment is the same as that charged in paragraph 12 of the Amended Indictment. In reaching this conclusion, the Chamber has considered that both meetings are alleged to have occurred at the Nyange Parish and been attended by virtually the same people.<sup>593</sup> Moreover, in both indictments, the meeting in question is the first meeting charged after the alleged meeting(s) "on or about 10 April 1994." Thus, notwithstanding the revision to the date, the Chamber finds that the Accused had sufficient notice that he was charged with attending a meeting on Father Seromba's balcony prior to the events of 15 and 16 April 1994 and will therefore consider the evidence of Witnesses CBN and CBS in its deliberations below.

248. The Chamber further notes that the summary of Witness CBN's anticipated testimony in the Prosecutor's Pre-Trial Brief clarified that Witness CBN would testify about a meeting on Seromba's balcony on 14 April 1994.<sup>594</sup> Accordingly, the Chamber is satisfied that paragraph 12 of the Amended Indictment and the Prosecutor's Pre-Trial Brief put the Accused on notice of the alleged meeting on the balcony on 14 April 1994.

249. Finally, the Chamber recalls that the Prosecution alleged in paragraph 12 of the original indictment that, following the meeting at the Nyange Parish on 14 April 1994, Bourgmestre Ndahimana replied to a request for help from the displaced Tutsi by stating that the "war was caused by the [inyenzi] who killed the President."<sup>595</sup> The Chamber finds that, by deleting this paragraph from the Amended Indictment, the Prosecution unambiguously indicated that it would not rely on this evidence at trial. Thus, the Chamber has not considered Witness CBN's testimony that, following the meeting on Seromba's balcony on 14 April 1994, Bourgmestre Ndahimana told those who had sought refuge at the parish that he could not help them because the inyenzi had attacked the country and the Tutsi had to be exterminated.

<sup>593</sup> Compare Amended Indictment, para. 12 (listing Kanyarukiga, Seromba, Kayishema, Ndahimana, Ndungutse and others) to [Original] Indictment, filed on 21 February 2002, para. 12 (listing Seromba, Kanyarukiga, Kayishema, Ndahimana and others). The Chamber further notes that, while the original indictment did not specify that the meeting on or about 14 April 1994 was held on the presbytery balcony, the pre-trial statements of Witnesses CBN and CBS, upon which both indictments were based, place the meeting on the balcony or "upstairs." <sup>595</sup> [Original] Indictment, para. 12.

(f) Meetings at Nyange Parish on 13 April 1994

250. Witnesses CBK, CBY and YAU all testified about meetings at the Nyange Parish on 13 April 1994.<sup>596</sup> While it is possible that one or more of these testimonies relates to the meeting described in paragraph 12 of the Amended Indictment, none of these witnesses placed the meeting explicitly on Seromba's balcony. In view of the evidence of a meeting on 12 April 1994 and on Seromba's balcony on 14 April 1994, the Chamber is not convinced that Witnesses CBY, CBK and YAU were testifying about the meeting described in paragraph 12 of the Amended Indictment. Rather, the witnesses appear to describe one or more additional meetings that were not pled in the Indictment. Because the Amended Indictment is neither vague nor ambiguous with regard to the number of meetings that the Accused is alleged to have attended, the Chamber has disregarded the testimony of Witnesses CBY, CBK and YAU about a meeting(s) at the Nyange Parish on 13 April 1994.

(g) Meeting at the Communal Office on 13 April 1994

251. Prosecution Witnesses CDL and CBR both testified about a meeting at the Kivumu commune office on 13 April 1994.<sup>597</sup> Witness CDL placed Kanyarukiga at this meeting while Witness CBR did not. The Chamber notes that neither the commune office nor 13 April 1994 appears in the Amended Indictment. For these reasons, the Chamber finds that the meeting at the communal office constitutes a new allegation that was not pleaded in the Amended Indictment. The Chamber further notes that the Prosecution deleted a reference to meetings at the communal office when it amended the indictment in 2007,<sup>598</sup> thereby suggesting that it would not pursue this allegation at trial.<sup>599</sup> The Chamber therefore has disregarded the testimony of Witnesses CBR and CDL regarding a meeting at the communal office on 13 April 1994.

(h) Meeting at Mutanoga Centre on 14 April 1994

252. Prosecution Witness CDL testified that, on 14 April 1994, Kanyarukiga attended a meeting at the Mutanoga Centre, where he incited members of the population to attack the Tutsi at the church.<sup>600</sup> The Amended Indictment does not mention either 14 April 1994 or the Mutanoga Centre. Because the Indictment is neither vague nor ambiguous with regard to the meetings the Accused is alleged to have attended, the Prosecution's omission of this meeting cannot be cured through subsequent submissions. Rather, this meeting should have been added through an amendment to the indictment.<sup>601</sup> As this information was in the possession of the Prosecution long before the indictment was amended in 2007,<sup>602</sup> the Prosecution could have included the meeting at the Mutanoga Centre in the Amended Indictment.<sup>603</sup> As it did not, the Chamber has disregarded Witness CDL's testimony on this point.

(i) Conclusion

253. For the foregoing reasons, the Chamber finds that the only pieces of evidence for which sufficient notice was provided are Witness CBY's testimony regarding a meeting at the Nyange Parish on 10 April 1994 and the testimony of Witnesses CBN and CBS about a meeting "upstairs" or on the balcony of the presbytery on 14 April 1994. The Chamber therefore has disregarded all other evidence of meetings prior to 15 April 1994.

On the Merits

254. The Trial Chamber shall now consider the merits of the Prosecution evidence regarding the alleged meeting at the Nyange Parish Presbytery on 10 April 1994 and the alleged meeting on the presbytery balcony on 14 April 1994.

(a) Meeting at Nyange Parish Presbytery "on or about 10 April 1994"

255. Paragraph 11 of the Amended Indictment alleges that, on or about 10 April 1994, the Accused attended a meeting at the Nyange Parish Presbytery, at which the state of insecurity and killings were discussed. The Prosecution relies on the evidence of Witness CBY to support this allegation.<sup>604</sup> The Defence responds that there is nothing in the Prosecution evidence of meetings between 6 and 11 April 1994 that indicates or proves any criminal activity on the part of the Accused.<sup>605</sup>

256. Prosecution Witness CBY testified that, on 10 April 1994, Kayishema, Ndungutse, Ndahimana and Kanyarukiga came to the Nyange Parish and met with Father Seromba in the inner courtyard of the presbytery for approximately 40 minutes.<sup>606</sup> The witness did not say when the meeting occurred or provide any evidence regarding its alleged content. Nor is there any evidence that, during this meeting, Father Seromba blamed the "inkotanyi" for the death of the President as alleged in the Amended Indictment. Defence Witness KG15, who testified that he arrived at the Nyange Parish around 11.00 a.m. on 10 April 1994, did not mention a meeting at the presbytery on that day.<sup>607</sup>

257. As discussed further below, the Chamber has found that Witness CBY is generally credible but has trouble recalling dates.<sup>608</sup> With respect to this particular event, however, the Chamber finds that, without corroboration, it cannot rely on Witness CBY's testimony to establish that Kanyarukiga attended a meeting in the presbytery of the Nyange Parish on 10 April 1994. The Chamber notes that Witness CBY did not mention any meetings at the Nyange Parish in his statement to ICTR investigators on 2 February 1996.<sup>609</sup> Rather, he told investigators that Bourgmestre Ndahimana was the only "authority" he saw at the parish prior to the attacks.<sup>610</sup> When asked about this omission at trial, the witness insisted that he had reported these meetings to ICTR investigators.<sup>611</sup> The Chamber does not find this explanation persuasive. Furthermore, while

Witness CBY mentioned a number of meetings in his statement of 4 October 2000, he did not say anything about a meeting at the parish on 10 April 1994.<sup>612</sup>

258. Thus, the Chamber finds that the Prosecution has failed to establish beyond reasonable doubt that, on or about 10 April 1994, Kanyarukiga attended a meeting in the presbytery of the Nyange Parish at which the state of insecurity and killings were discussed.

(b) Meeting on Seromba's Balcony "on or about 12 April 1994"

259. Paragraph 12 of the Amended Indictment alleges that Gaspard Kanyarukiga, Fulgence Kayishema, Grégoire Ndahimana, Téléphore Ndungutse, Father Athanase Seromba and others attended "another" meeting on Father Seromba's balcony on or about 12 April 1994.<sup>613</sup> The Prosecution relies on the evidence of Witnesses CBN and CBS to support this allegation.

260. Witnesses CBN and CBS both testified that Kanyarukiga met with Father Seromba at the Nyange Parish on 14 April 1994. According to Witness CBN, Ndahimana, Brigadier Mbakirirehe, Kayishema, and Court President Gaca Butelezi all came to the parish at around 1.00 p.m. on that day and went to Seromba's room, which was located on the upper floor of the presbytery.<sup>614</sup> The witness testified that he saw these men arrive at the parish and then saw them on Seromba's balcony, pointing at the Tutsi in front of the church.<sup>615</sup> Witness CBS similarly testified that Kanyarukiga, Ndahimana, Kayishema, Mbakirirehe, Ndungutse, Rushema and communal policemen attended a meeting with Father Seromba on the balcony at around 1.00 p.m.<sup>616</sup> Witness CBS did not see the men arrive but testified that he saw them on the balcony and then saw them depart.<sup>617</sup> Both witnesses testified that the meeting lasted about an hour.<sup>618</sup>

261. The Defence submits that the Prosecution witnesses are unreliable and that the Defence evidence has called into question both the very existence of these alleged meetings and the participation of the Accused.<sup>619</sup> The Defence points to the evidence of Witness KG15, who testified that he was at the parish on 14 April 1994 and did not see a meeting at the presbytery, particularly around 1.00 p.m.<sup>620</sup>

262. The Chamber accepts that Witness KG15 was at the Nyange Parish on 14 April 1994.<sup>621</sup> However, the Chamber has serious concerns about the witness's overall credibility.<sup>622</sup> Witness

<sup>622</sup> The Chamber also notes that, despite Father Seromba's conviction for genocide, Witness KG15 maintained during trial that Seromba was not responsible for the destruction of the Nyange Church or the killing of Tutsis at the parish. T. 11 February 2010, pp. 23-24 (CS). Given the evidence against Father Seromba in this case alone, the Chamber considers that this position is untenable and therefore casts doubt on the witness's overall credibility.

KG15's testimony was evasive, internally inconsistent and inconsistent with his testimony during the Seromba trial.<sup>623</sup> The Chamber recalls, for example, that Witness KG15 testified in this case that it would have been impossible for people to enter the presbytery without his knowledge,<sup>624</sup> whereas he admitted that, he said largely the opposite during the Seromba trial.<sup>625</sup> Further, while Witness KG15 suggested in this case that he was present during every conversation that Father Seromba had with visitors to the presbytery, he said during the Seromba trial that he was "not an umbilical cord and [that he] could not be with Seromba at all times".<sup>626</sup> In light of these irregularities, the Chamber finds that Witness KG15's testimony does not cast doubt on the Prosecution evidence.

263. The Chamber has also considered the Defence submission that Witnesses CBN and CBS could not have seen a meeting on the presbytery balcony from the courtyard in front of the church, where both witnesses said they were standing.<sup>627</sup> The Chamber is aware that, from the courtyard where Witnesses CBN and CBS said they were standing, the view of the presbytery balcony is largely obstructed by the secretariat.<sup>628</sup> The Chamber has no further evidence before it as to how these witnesses could see the balcony from where they were standing. Thus, while the Chamber is satisfied that Witnesses CBN and CBS provided a truthful narration of the events as they remember them, it is reticent to make a finding beyond reasonable doubt that these men specifically met Father Seromba on the presbytery balcony.<sup>629</sup>

264. As discussed further in paragraphs 456 to 458, the Chamber has found that Witnesses CBN and CBS are both generally credible and reliable. The witnesses identified Kanyarukiga in court, and Witness CBS testified that he owned property near the Accused's and lived near a member of Kanyarukiga's family in Kivumu commune.<sup>630</sup> Accordingly, the Chamber accepts that Witnesses CBN and CBS could recognise the Accused on 14 April 1994 and saw Kanyarukiga and others arrive at the presbytery around 1.00 p.m. on that day and/or depart from there. Furthermore, notwithstanding certain minor inconsistencies between their accounts of the persons who visited the parish on 14 April 1994, the Chamber is satisfied that at least Kanyarukiga, Kayishema, Ndahimana

<sup>623</sup> In addition to the inconsistencies mentioned below, the Chamber notes that Witness KG15 testified in this trial that he was stopped at a roadblock near the Nyange Parish on 10 April 1994 and that his identity card was checked. T. 11 February 2010, pp. 7-8, 38-40 (CS). However, in the Seromba trial, Witness KG15 denied that his identity card was checked at the roadblock. T. 11 February 2010, pp. 40, 42 (CS), citing Prosecutor v. Seromba, Case No. ICTR-01-66-I, T. 20 April 2006, p. 68 (CS).

When asked about this discrepancy at trial, the witness said he would not have known if someone arrived at the presbytery after midnight or came to the door of the presbytery without coming inside. The Chamber notes that, when asked to indicate the presbytery on this photograph, Witness CBK remarked that, "[t]he presbytery is not quite visible on this photograph." T. 3 September 2009, p. 15. Accord Registry Exhibit R3(II) (T. 20 April 2010, pp. 25-30 (CS)) (discussing whether the front of the church could be seen by someone on the balcony of the presbytery).

<sup>629</sup> Given the events in question were extremely traumatic and occurred almost 16 years prior to the witnesses' testimony, the Chamber acknowledges that Witnesses CBN and CBS's recollection of the events is likely to be imperfect. The Chamber does not believe, however, that the irregularities in their testimony are a product of deliberate fabrication.

<sup>630</sup> Witness CBN, T. 1 September 2009, pp. 65-66; Witness CBS, T. 16 September 2009, p. 58; T. 16 September 2009, pp. 65, 66 (CS). Witness CBN estimated that he had seen Kanyarukiga three times prior to April 1994. T. 1 September 2009, p. 65.

and Mbakirirehe visited the presbytery on that day and remained for approximately one hour.<sup>631</sup> Given the duration of their visit, the Chamber finds that the only reasonable inference to be drawn from the evidence is that the men were holding a meeting.

265. For these reasons, the Chamber finds that the Prosecution has established beyond reasonable doubt that at least Kanyarukiga, Kayishema, Ndahimana and Mbakirirehe visited the Nyange Parish Presbytery around 1.00 p.m. on 14 April 1994. The Prosecution, however, has not established that they met with Father Seromba on the presbytery balcony.

3.4. Conclusion

266. The Chamber finds that the Prosecution has failed to prove beyond reasonable doubt that, on or about 10 April 1994, Gaspard Kanyarukiga, Father Athanase Seromba, Fulgence Kayishema, Grégoire Ndahimana and others attended a meeting in the presbytery at Nyange Parish at which the state of insecurity and killings were discussed.

267. On the other hand, the Chamber is satisfied that the Prosecution has established beyond reasonable doubt that at least Gaspard Kanyarukiga, Fulgence Kayishema, Grégoire Ndahimana and Brigadier Mbakirirehe held a meeting at the Nyange Parish Presbytery for approximately one hour on 14 April 1994. The Prosecution, however, has failed to establish that these men met on Seromba's balcony, as alleged in paragraph 12 of the Amended Indictment, or that Ndungutse, Seromba and others were in attendance.

4. Armed Attackers Surround Nyange Church from 12 April 1994

4.1. Introduction

268. Paragraph 13 of the Amended Indictment reads as follows:

12. From 12 April 1994 armed attackers comprising interahamwe militiamen and gendarmes surrounded Nyange [C]hurch where the Tutsi civilian refugees were confined.

269. The Prosecution alleges in its closing brief that the Tutsi who took refuge at the Nyange Parish were surrounded by interahamwe and other assailants who prevented them from escaping.<sup>632</sup> Other than this, the Prosecution does not appear to have addressed the allegation in paragraph 13 directly. Rather, it has adduced evidence of various events between 12 and 15 April 1994 that indirectly support the broad allegation in paragraph 13. The Chamber shall consider this evidence in the context of this indictment paragraph.

4.2. Evidence

Prosecution Witness CBN

270. Prosecution Witness CBN testified that, on 13 April 1994, assailants launched an attack against the Tutsi at the Nyange Parish.<sup>633</sup> “Those assailants had grouped themselves at the place where you had the statue and they attacked between 9[.00] and 10[.00] a.m.”<sup>634</sup> The attackers threw stones at the Tutsi, and the Tutsi threw stones back.<sup>635</sup> The Tutsi succeeded in repulsing the attack “because the attackers were ... not many.”<sup>636</sup> The attackers retreated to the Statue of the Virgin Mary, where they “joined the other group.”<sup>637</sup> According to the witness “the attacks, strictly speaking, stopped at about 4 o’clock ... but they would come and return.”<sup>638</sup> No one was killed on 13 April 1994.<sup>639</sup>

271. Witness CBN testified that some of the Tutsi arrived at the parish with machetes.<sup>640</sup> “[O]n the 13th, communal policemen ... took away the weapons and they assured us that our security would be guaranteed[.]”<sup>641</sup> The policemen arrived on foot and were accompanied by one gendarme, who provided security to the Tutsi.<sup>642</sup> Witness CBN testified that the following police officers disarmed the Tutsi at the parish: Brigadier Christophe Mbakirirehe, Abayisenga, Rangira

<sup>635</sup> T. 1 September 2009, p. 54. Witness CBN testified that “when [the assailants] attacked us on that date, when I saw them, they were carrying clubs, but subsequently they also had grenades. Those grenades were later used against us.” It is not clear from the witness’s testimony whether grenades were used during the attack on 13 April 1994 or whether he is referring to the attacks on subsequent days. T. 1 September 2009, p. 54. Witness CBN also testified that, at some point during these attacks, the gendarmes who were guarding the church fired into the air to discourage the attackers. T. 2 September 2009, p. 19. However, when asked about this comment, the witness stated that, “when the gendarmes fired into the air, they actually wanted to signal to the attackers to return to where they had been in order to rest and then come back later.” T. 2 September 2009, p. 51.

Maharamou, someone nicknamed Bite me and Uzabakiriho.<sup>643</sup> Witness CBN testified that his machete was taken away.<sup>644</sup> He testified that the disarmament occurred around 4.00 p.m.<sup>645</sup> The witness denied that Tutsi were disarmed on 14 April 1994,<sup>646</sup> explaining that, “[o]n the 14th we did not have weapons because our arms had been confiscated on the 13th.”<sup>647</sup>

272. Witness CBN testified there were over 2000 Tutsi at the Nyange Parish on 14 April 1994.<sup>648</sup> On that day, the Tutsi “wanted to go find bananas in a banana farm”,<sup>649</sup> but “Father Seromba told the gendarmes to shoot at refugees if they came back to look for bananas in his banana farm.”<sup>650</sup> According to the witness, on Thursday, 14 April 1994, Father Kayiranga and another priest asked the Tutsi at the parish for money so that the priests could buy food for them.<sup>651</sup>

273. Witness CBN stated that assailants attacked the Tutsi at the church again between 9.00 and 10.00 a.m. on 14 April 1994.<sup>652</sup> The assailants “threw stones at the refugees,” but the Tutsi were able to repel the attacks because the assailants were “not very many” and were outnumbered by the Tutsi at the parish.<sup>653</sup> The assailants used whistles to call for reinforcements.<sup>654</sup> The witness testified that, “[t]here were Hutus who were in the villages. Around evening, whistles were blown and members of the population were called to come and attack the inyenzis who were at the church.”<sup>655</sup> The attack continued until about 4.00 p.m., when “the attackers took a rest.”<sup>656</sup>

Prosecution Witness CBK

274. Prosecution Witness CBK testified that, on 13 April 1994, the Nyange Church was full of people.<sup>657</sup> On that day, Hutu assailants attacked the Tutsi at the church with stones and the Tutsi civilians threw stones in self-defence.<sup>658</sup> The witness suggested that the assailants were outnumbered by the Tutsi.<sup>659</sup>

275. Witness CBK testified that Father Seromba went to the communal office on 13 April 1994.<sup>660</sup> In the afternoon, “the authorities of Kivumu commune ... disarmed the Tutsis who were inside the church so that their plan could be executed.”<sup>661</sup> According to the witness, these authorities included the bourgmestre of Kivumu commune, IPJ Kayishema, Mbakirirehe,

And we gave the money in question to the priest on the morning of the 14th in the presence of Father Kayiranga.” T. 2 September 2009, p. 16.

Kanyarukiga and Rushema.<sup>662</sup> The witness testified that he personally saw Kanyarukiga and the others enter and leave the church.<sup>663</sup> When they left the church, “they were carrying machetes, worn out hoes, spears, bamboos.”<sup>664</sup> Witness CBK denied suggestions that he was involved in confiscating these weapons from the Tutsi at the church.<sup>665</sup>

276. Witness CBK testified that Hutu assailants continued to throw stones at the Tutsi on 14 April 1994.<sup>666</sup> The Tutsi tried to defend themselves by throwing stones back at the assailants.<sup>667</sup> According to the witness, “[t]he assailants who attacked the church on the 14th were more than those who had attacked the church ... on the 13th.”<sup>668</sup>

Prosecution Witness CBR

277. Prosecution Witness CBR testified that, on 13 April 1994, Assistant Bourgmestre Gilbert Kanani and Presiding Judge Joseph Habiyaambere went to the Nyange Parish with Father Seromba in order to “verify whether the Tutsis who had taken refuge in the church were armed and whether ... the Tutsi could defend themselves with whatever weapons they had.”<sup>669</sup> Witness CBR received this information from Télesphore Ndungutse.<sup>670</sup>

278. Witness CBR testified that he went to the Nyange Parish on 14 April 1994.<sup>671</sup> IPJ Kayishema came to his cellule in a white Toyota vehicle<sup>672</sup> and asked the population “to go and defend Nyange because the inyenzis had attacked the Nyange [P]arish.”<sup>673</sup> When the witness arrived at the Nyange Parish, the Tutsi were in the courtyard and were guarded by gendarmes.<sup>674</sup> The gendarmes told Kayishema and Ndungutse that there were not enough attackers and that they would not be able to overpower the Tutsi, who were many in number.<sup>675</sup> “But the leaders made the gendarmes understand that they had to allow us to try to attack the refugees.”<sup>676</sup> The gendarmes conceded, and the assailants attacked the Tutsi with stones.<sup>677</sup> The witness testified that the Tutsi were able to repel the attackers because they were greater in number.<sup>678</sup> Witness CBR testified that the assailants left the church between 3.00 and 4.00 p.m.<sup>679</sup>

279. According to the witness, all 800 to 1000 assailants left the Nyange Parish together and took the main road towards Gitarama.<sup>680</sup> The attackers met a car in Cyambogo cellule.<sup>681</sup> The car was coming from Gitarama and heading towards Nyange.<sup>682</sup> Witness CBR testified that the vehicle was red and could not carry more than five people.<sup>683</sup> The vehicle pulled over to the side of the road, and someone in the vehicle spoke to Ndungutse.<sup>684</sup> Many of the assailants surrounded the vehicle, but Witness CBR stayed approximately 10 metres away.<sup>685</sup> The witness could neither follow Ndungutse's conversation with the passengers nor see how many people were in the vehicle.<sup>686</sup> Ndungutse later told Witness CBR and other assailants that he had been speaking to Gaspard Kanyarukiga, who told Ndungutse that the [i]nyenzi were at Mushubati and planned to cross the river.<sup>687</sup> "Kanyarukiga was ... asking Ndungutse to look for reinforcement because the [i]nyenzis, who were in Mushubati, had the intention of coming to do to us what we had tried to do to the Tutsis in Nyange."<sup>688</sup> Kanyarukiga told Ndungutse that he would also try to find reinforcements.<sup>689</sup>

Prosecution Witness CBY

280. Witness CBY testified that, on 13 April 1994, "some people formed a group to attack the Tutsis who were inside the church. The Tutsis were able to defend themselves, and the Hutus who had launched the attack, returned to their homes."<sup>690</sup> The attack did not last long because the Hutu were fewer in number than the Tutsi.<sup>691</sup>

281. On 14 April 1994, the assailants "came [to the Nyange Parish] in big numbers," and the Hutu and Tutsi threw stones at one another.<sup>692</sup> The witness testified that the attack lasted about two hours; he estimated that the fighting ended between 12.00 and 2.00 p.m.<sup>693</sup> Witness CBY testified that the only person killed on 14 April 1994 was Muhigirwa, who was killed at a roadblock not far from the "war front."<sup>694</sup>

282. Witness CBY testified that the "officials" were present during the attack on 14 April 1994.<sup>695</sup> He identified these "officials" as Kayishema, Ndahimana, Ndungutse, Kanyarukiga and Kiragi and testified that they were accompanied by communal police.<sup>696</sup> Witness CBY testified that the "authorities" were in front of the church and were "looking at the fighting taking place between Hutus and Tutsis."<sup>697</sup>

Prosecution Witness YAU

283. Witness YAU testified that she saw Kanyarukiga every day that she was at the parish.<sup>698</sup> She testified that it was “Kanyarukiga’s group that led the attacks which took place at the church.”<sup>699</sup>

284. Witness YAU testified that, the day after she arrived at the Nyange Parish,<sup>700</sup> Fulgence Kayishema and Gaspard Kanyarukiga asked the displaced Tutsi to give them money so that Kayishema and Kanyarukiga could buy food for those hiding at the church.<sup>701</sup> The two men walked around the compound and took money from the Tutsi.<sup>702</sup> Witness YAU personally heard Kayishema and Kanyarukiga ask people for money.<sup>703</sup> She testified that she gave Kayishema 100 francs and that her father also gave the men some money.<sup>704</sup> “It was in our own interest [to give them money] because we were hungry.”<sup>705</sup> According to the witness, Kayishema and Kanyarukiga were the only people to collect money from the Tutsi at the church.<sup>706</sup> Father Seromba was present, but he never took any money.<sup>707</sup> Witness YAU and the other displaced persons did not receive any food from Kayishema or Kanyarukiga.<sup>708</sup> The witness denied that the Tutsi were asked for money on more than one occasion.<sup>709</sup>

285. On another occasion, a nun named Sister Jean, also known as Mama Yohani, tried to give some rice and beans to those who had sought refuge at the church.<sup>710</sup> Mama Yohani brought the food out to the Tutsi, but Kayishema and Kanyarukiga threw it on the ground.<sup>711</sup> The witness could not remember the day on which this occurred.<sup>712</sup>

286. Witness YAU testified that, the day after she arrived, the Nyange Parish was attacked.<sup>713</sup> The assailants were covered in banana leaves and armed with traditional weapons.<sup>714</sup> She testified that these Hutu assailants intended to kill the Tutsi who were hiding at the church.<sup>715</sup> The witness testified that the Tutsi threw stones at the attackers to repel them.<sup>716</sup> The assailants advanced towards the church, but Father Seromba intervened and stopped them from attacking the Tutsi.<sup>717</sup>

<sup>700</sup> Based on her account of the time she spent at the Nyange Parish, the Chamber has inferred that Witness YAU is referring to 14 April 1994.

<sup>701</sup> T. 15 September 2009, pp. 12, 40. Witness YAU testified that, the same day, she and others who had sought refuge at the parish asked Father Seromba to give them water to drink. According to the witness, Father Seromba told them that there was no need to look for water because they “had to die in any case.” T. 15 September 2009, p. 12.

According to the witness, Seromba told the attackers that they were too few or that their numbers were not sufficient.<sup>718</sup>

287. Witness YAU testified that several of those who sought refuge at the Nyange Parish brought sticks with them to the church.<sup>719</sup> “[S]ome days” after Witness YAU’s arrival, “Father Seromba, accompanied by two gendarmes, came and ... collected those sticks so that the gendarmes could ensure our safety.”<sup>720</sup> She saw the gendarmes take the sticks away but could not recall the day on which this occurred.<sup>721</sup>

Prosecution Witness CBS

288. Witness CBS testified that,

All refugees arriving at the parish were not carrying any weapons. They were not carrying traditional weapon [sic]. They were not carrying firearms. There were gendarmes who were at the parish. So when a refugee would arrive there with a tradition[al] weapon, the gendarmes would ask the refugee to put the weapon on the ground ... before entering into the church square or before going to the presbytery.<sup>722</sup>

289. Witness CBS denied that the Tutsi who had taken refuge in the church were disarmed.<sup>723</sup>

290. Witness CBS testified that, after the Tutsi sought refuge at the Nyange Church, they could not leave the church compound.<sup>724</sup> According to the witness, “the gendarmes who were protecting us were not even allowing us to go buy bread or any other food from the store that was nearby.”<sup>725</sup> The gendarmes were already at the parish when the witness arrived.<sup>726</sup>

291. Witness CBS testified that there were small-scale attacks on the Nyange Church on 12, 13 and 14 April 1994, but the Tutsi were able to push back the attackers.<sup>727</sup>

292. Witness CBS testified that those who sought refuge in the church asked Father Seromba for food because they were hungry.<sup>728</sup> When Father Seromba refused, some Tutsi tried to collect bananas from the parish banana plantation.<sup>729</sup> According to the witness, Father Seromba asked the gendarmes who were posted at the parish to “shoot at any Tutsi who would venture or dare go into

293. When asked whether nuns ever brought rice and beans to the Tutsi at the church or if such food was thrown on the ground, Witness CBS stated, “that never took place. In any case, I didn’t see it. ... No one told me about such a thing. And, personally, I did not witness such a thing.”<sup>732</sup>

294. Witness CBS testified that, in the evening of 14 April 1994, IPJ Kayishema and Mbakirirehe came to the church and took Hutu women who were married to Tutsi men out of the church “so that those women should not die together with the Tutsis.”<sup>733</sup> Witness CBS testified that, when these women were removed, he was in the church courtyard, at the entrance to the church.<sup>734</sup> Kayishema called out names, and when the women were found, they were taken away.<sup>735</sup> Witness CBS heard Kayishema calling out the women’s names in a loud voice.<sup>736</sup> Witness CBS testified that he recognised one of the women, Nyirantama, who was Mbakirirehe’s neighbour.<sup>737</sup> The husbands of the women who were removed were later killed.<sup>738</sup>

Prosecution Witness CDL

295. Witness CDL testified that, on 13 April 1994, “there was some kind of a commission ... to identify the weapons that the refugees had. And the commission observed that there were no dangerous weapons because all the refugees had were sticks.”<sup>739</sup> The witness testified that this “commission” was carried out by Father Seromba and Deputy Bourgmestre Gilbert Kanani Rugwizangoga, nicknamed Kanani.<sup>740</sup> Witness CDL was not present during these events but testified that he received this information from Deputy Bourgmestre Kanani.<sup>741</sup>

296. Witness CDL testified that he went to the Mutanoga Centre around 2.30 p.m. on 14 April 1994.<sup>742</sup> Among those who came to the centre on that day “were people who were coming from the church where an attack had taken place.”<sup>743</sup> Witness CDL testified that those who had come from the parish said that “the Tutsis at the church had resisted the attacks launched by their assailants”.<sup>744</sup>

297. Witness KG19 testified that he was near the Statue of the Virgin Mary from 9.00 a.m. to 5.00 p.m. on 13 April 1994.<sup>745</sup> He saw Tutsi going towards the church on 13 April 1994 but did not see any attackers.<sup>746</sup> He said that people were “going on about their business. They were not there in order to launch an attack.”<sup>747</sup> During re-examination, the witness testified that, on 13 April 1994, he was inside a shop in the Nyange Trading Centre.<sup>748</sup> From inside the shop, the witness could see what was happening in the vicinity of the Statue of the Virgin Mary.<sup>749</sup>

298. Witness KG19 testified that he was at the trading centre at around 2.00 p.m. on 14 April 1994, when a group of assailants, armed with traditional weapons, arrived.<sup>750</sup> The assailants went “up passing by the statue and went to the church where some refugees had sought refuge.”<sup>751</sup> Witness KG19 testified that the assailants were shouting and whistling and started looting the shops as they went by.<sup>752</sup> Consequently, all of the shops in the trading centre, including Kanyarukiga’s pharmacy and the drinking spots, closed down.<sup>753</sup> The witness left the trading centre and went home about 4.00 p.m. on 14 April 1994.<sup>754</sup> People were still fighting when the witness left.<sup>755</sup>

Defence Witness KG45

299. Witness KG45 testified that Kanyarukiga’s pharmacy closed its doors around 12.00 or 1.00 p.m. on 14 April 1994 due to insecurity.<sup>756</sup> Witness KG45 testified that assailants attacked the Tutsi at the church, and because Kanyarukiga’s pharmacy was located at the centre near the church, “the attackers could break down the doors of the pharmacy and steal drugs.”<sup>757</sup>

Defence Witness Damien Nayituriki

300. Witness Damien Nayituriki testified that he went to the Statue of the Virgin Mary on 14 April 1994 to buy drinks with his older brother and a man from Kigali, who had sought refuge with the witness’s family.<sup>758</sup> When Witness Nayituriki arrived at the Statue of the Virgin Mary around 3.00 p.m., he noticed that all the shops and stores, including Kanyarukiga’s pharmacy, were closed.<sup>759</sup>

<sup>758</sup> T. 8 February 2010, pp. 7, 8.

301. Witness Nayituriki could not buy drinks at the Statue of the Virgin Mary, so he left and headed towards Mutanoga.<sup>760</sup> While en route, the witness encountered a group of people who were shouting, talking about attacks and moving slowly.<sup>761</sup> Witness Nayituriki testified that he met the group of people between 3.30 and 4.00 p.m.<sup>762</sup> The witness recognised some persons in the group, including Ndungutse, who was a teacher and a colleague of his older brother.<sup>763</sup> Witness Nayituriki testified that Ndungutse accompanied the witness and his companions to the Mutanoga Centre.<sup>764</sup> While they were drinking at the Mutanoga Centre, Ndungutse told the witness and his companions that “they” had attacked the persons taking refuge in the church, and those in the church had retaliated by throwing stones at the attackers.<sup>765</sup> Witness Nayituriki testified that he did not see Kanyarukiga or Kanyarukiga’s vehicle during the two hours he spent drinking at the Mutanoga Centre.<sup>766</sup>

Defence Witness KG15

302. Witness KG15 testified that he did not leave the presbytery on those days, due to insecurity.<sup>767</sup> According to the witness, he went to the church for the last time on Tuesday, 12 April 1994.<sup>768</sup> Witness KG15 testified there were no killings at the parish on 14 April 1994.<sup>769</sup>

4.3. Deliberations

303. The Prosecution submits that, in the days leading up to the attacks on 15 April 1994, Hutu assailants, including those named in the Amended Indictment, took steps to weaken the Tutsi who had taken refuge at the parish and to reduce their capacity to defend themselves.<sup>770</sup> The Prosecution implies that the actions undertaken at the parish prior to 15 April 1994 were all part of a larger plan to exterminate the Tutsi at the Nyange Parish.<sup>771</sup> The Prosecution has presented evidence that assailants, including the Accused, incited violence, confiscated weapons and withheld food from the Tutsi, launched small-scale attacks and separated Hutu women who had taken refuge at the parish from their Tutsi husbands. Given the alleged timing and nature of these events, the Chamber has considered them in relation to paragraph 13 of the Amended Indictment. The Defence does not respond to the allegation in paragraph 13 directly but, as discussed further below, argues that the Prosecution evidence for this period is unreliable and that any evidence of criminal activity on 13 and 14 April 1994 should be excluded for lack of notice.<sup>772</sup>

Disarmament of Tutsi at the Nyange Parish

304. The Prosecution alleges that, on 13 April 1994, Kanyarukiga participated in a campaign to disarm the Tutsi at the Nyange Parish.<sup>773</sup> The Prosecution relies on the testimony of Witnesses

<sup>773</sup> Prosecutor’s Final Trial Brief, paras. 116-118, 120-121. According to the Prosecution, “the authorities, including Gaspard Kanyarukiga, decided at a meeting [on 13 April 1994] that it was necessary to ascertain whether the refugees in the church were armed”. Prosecutor’s Final Trial Brief, para. 116. As discussed in paragraphs 250 to 251, the Chamber has disregarded this evidence on the basis that it is outside the scope of the Amended Indictment.

CBK, CDL, CBN, CBR and YAU to support this allegation.<sup>774</sup> The Defence responds that, “[t]he evidence regarding the alleged disarming is inconsistent to the point of incoherence.”<sup>775</sup>

305. Prosecution Witnesses CBK, CBN, CDL, YAU and CBS all testified that Tutsi civilians arrived at the Nyange Parish with traditional weapons.<sup>776</sup> While the witnesses disagreed about the types of weapons that were brought to the parish,<sup>777</sup> the Chamber is satisfied that those who took refuge at the parish had at least sticks and machetes.

306. Prosecution Witnesses CDL and CBR both testified that, on 13 April 1994, Father Seromba and Deputy Bourgmestre<sup>778</sup> Gilbert Kanani Rugwizangoga went to the Nyange Parish to identify the types of weapons that the Tutsi had with them.<sup>779</sup> Witness CBR testified that Judge Joseph Habiyaambere also participated in this inquiry.<sup>780</sup> Witnesses CDL and CBR were both accomplices to the attacks at the Nyange Parish and were subsequently detained together at Kibuye Prison.<sup>781</sup> The Chamber therefore has treated their evidence with caution.<sup>782</sup> The Chamber further recalls that Witnesses CDL and CBR were not eye-witnesses to the event in question and that their evidence was based on hearsay.<sup>783</sup> While the fact that this evidence is hearsay does not suffice to render it not <sup>777</sup> Witness CBK attested that the Tutsi had a wide range of traditional weapons, including machetes, sticks, spears, arrows, hoes and “bamboos”. T. 3 September 2009, p. 3; T. 4 September 2009, p. 9. Witness CBN denied that the Tutsi had spears but testified that many of the Tutsi had machetes and sticks and that he personally arrived at the parish with a machete. T. 2 September 2009, pp. 16-19, 52. Witnesses CDL and YAU stated that the Tutsi only had sticks. T. 10 September 2009, p. 45; T. 15 September 2009, pp. 14, 39. Witness YAU specifically denied that the Tutsi had machetes, spears, bows and arrows. T. 15 September 2009, p. 39. When discussing the disarmament, however, Witness YAU testified that the Tutsi gave the gendarmes their sticks and “other weapons,” suggesting that the Tutsi may have had instruments other than sticks. T. 15 September 2009, p. 14. Finally, Witness CBS acknowledged that some Tutsi arrived with “traditional weapons” but testified that they were not permitted to bring these weapons into the church square or the presbytery. T. 17 September 2009, p. 11.

<sup>778</sup> The Chamber notes that there were multiple “deputy” or “assistant” bourgmestres identified by the Prosecution witnesses in this case. Witnesses CNJ and CBS identified Anastase Rushema as the deputy or assistant bourgmestre. Witness CNJ, T. 7 September 2009, p. 22; Witness CBS, T. 16 September 2009, p. 48; T. 17 September 2009, p. 12. Witness CBK similarly testified that Rushema worked for the commune. T. 2 September 2009, p. 66; T. 3 September 2009, p. 9. Witnesses CBT and CBY both testified that Anastase Rushema was a former assistant bourgmestre. Witness CBY, T. 14 September 2009, p. 27 (CS); T. 14 September 2009, pp. 41, 66. Witnesses CBR and CDL both identified Gilbert Kanani as a deputy or assistant bourgmestre. Witness CBR, T. 9 September 2009, p. 10; Witness CDL, T. 10 September 2009, pp. 27, 43, 46-47. Finally, Witnesses CNJ, CBR and CDL all mentioned a deputy or assistant bourgmestre named Védaste Murangwabugabo. <sup>783</sup> The Chamber recalls that Witness CDL said that Kanani told him about the meeting and the inquiry and that Witness CBR testified that he received this information from Ndungutse. credible or unreliable,<sup>784</sup> the Chamber is reticent to make a finding of fact based entirely on hearsay evidence from accomplice witnesses. Thus, the Chamber has only relied on this testimony where it is corroborated by other credible evidence.

307. Witness CBK provided some corroboration for this evidence, testifying that Father Seromba returned from the communal office on 13 April 1994 and that the Tutsi were disarmed the same day.<sup>785</sup> However, as discussed further below, the Chamber has serious concerns about Witness CBK's overall credibility. Thus, the Chamber finds that, even combined, the testimony of these three witnesses is insufficient to establish beyond reasonable doubt that Father Seromba, Gilbert Kanani and Judge Habiyaambere went to the Nyange Church on 13 April 1994 to determine whether the Tutsi were armed.

308. Witnesses CBN and CBK, however, both testified that the Tutsi were in fact disarmed on 13 April 1994.<sup>786</sup> As discussed further in paragraphs 456 to 457, the Chamber has found that Witness CBN provided a credible and reliable account of the events he witnessed at the Nyange Parish. With respect to this particular event, moreover, the Chamber recalls that Witness CBN testified that he personally had his machete confiscated.<sup>787</sup> Thus, based on the combined testimony of Witnesses CBN and CBK, the Chamber is satisfied that the Tutsi at the parish were disarmed on 13 April 1994.

309. In reaching this finding, the Chamber has also considered the evidence of Witnesses YAU and CBS. The Chamber recalls that Witness YAU testified that the Tutsi were disarmed "some days" after her arrival.<sup>788</sup> However, because Witness YAU could not recall any important dates in April 1994, including the date on which President Habyarimana was killed,<sup>789</sup> the Chamber has attached little weight to her timing of this event. Furthermore, while the Chamber accepts Witness CBS's testimony that Tutsi who took refuge at the parish were asked to leave their weapons outside the parish grounds, it is not convinced that the witness's testimony discredits the evidence of Witnesses CBN, CDL, YAU and CBK, who all testified that Tutsi had weapons in the church.

310. Finally, the Chamber recalls that Witness CBK testified that the Accused was among those who physically disarmed the Tutsi at the parish.<sup>790</sup> The Defence submits that this allegation should <sup>785</sup> T. 2 September 2009, p. 70; T. 3 September 2009, p. 3; T. 4 September 2009, pp. 4-6. The Chamber notes that Witness CBK was somewhat inconsistent regarding the date on which the Tutsi were disarmed. When questioned about a prior statement in which he indicated that the meeting regarding the disarmament of the Tutsi occurred on 13 April 1994, but the disarmament itself occurred the next day, Witness CBK responded that "the Tutsis were disarmed on the 14th, and that on the 14th Father Seromba was there and that the attackers carried machetes and spears, but the meeting to disarm the refugees had taken place on the 13th." When confronted with the inconsistency between this statement and his earlier testimony, the witness stated that the Tutsi were disarmed on 13 April 1994. T. 4 September 2009, pp. 8, 9.

<sup>786</sup> Witness CBN, T. 2 September 2009, p. 19; Witness CBK, T. 2 September 2009, p. 70; T. 3 September 2009, p. 3. The Chamber recalls that Witness CBN rejected suggestions that weapons were confiscated on 14 April 1994, noting that, "[o]n the 14th we did not have weapons because our arms had been confiscated on the 13th." be excluded for lack of notice.<sup>791</sup> The Trial Chamber, however, has already denied the Defence request for exclusion of Witness CBK's testimony<sup>792</sup> and will not revisit its decision.

311. Nevertheless, having considered Witness CBK's evidence on its merits, the Chamber finds that, without corroboration, it cannot rely on Witness CBK's evidence to establish that Kanyarukiga helped to disarm the Tutsi at the parish. As discussed further in paragraph 491, the Chamber has concerns about Witness CBK's overall credibility. Moreover, with respect to this particular event, the Chamber recalls that there were a number of inconsistencies between Witness CBK's testimony at trial and his prior statements. The witness did not mention the alleged disarmament in either his 2000 or 2001 statement, even though the 2001 statement dealt specifically with the Accused.<sup>793</sup> Moreover, Witness CBK omitted the Accused when discussing the decision to disarm the Tutsi in his statement to ICTR investigators on 24 October and 19 and 20 November 2002.<sup>794</sup> When asked to explain this omission, Witness CBK responded that, "I gave the investigators the names of all the people who attended the meeting. So if the investigators did not include some names in the statement, then that is their mistake."<sup>795</sup> The Chamber does not accept this explanation.

312. Further, the Chamber recalls that Witness CBK was asked whether he ever took the confiscated weapons anywhere.<sup>796</sup> The witness responded by saying, "I did not touch any weapon amongst the weapons that had been confiscated."<sup>797</sup> When confronted with an interview in which he said he was one of those who transported the confiscated weapons from the church to the presbytery, Witness CBK stated that the human rights organisation that took the interview "collects testimonies and ... works with them in order to be able to sell its support to its clients."<sup>798</sup> The Chamber finds that, even if the human rights organisation in question were in the habit of altering interview responses, which, in any event, has not been established, the revision in this case would not have assisted the organisation in "selling its support to its clients." Thus, the Chamber does not accept the witness's suggestion that his statements to the organisation were changed following his interview.

313. Finally, the Chamber recalls that Witness CBK's testimony is at odds with that of Witnesses CBN, YAU and CBS, who all attributed the disarmament to other people.<sup>799</sup>

314. Accordingly, while the Chamber finds it established that the Tutsi who took refuge at the Nyange Parish were disarmed on 13 April 1994, the Chamber finds that the Prosecution has failed to prove beyond reasonable doubt that Kanyarukiga was involved in this disarmament.<sup>800</sup>

<sup>791</sup> Defence Final Brief, para. 152. The Defence contends that Kanyarukiga's alleged participation in the disarmament is an allegation of criminal acts physically committed by the Accused, which must appear in the Indictment. Defence Final Brief, filed on 11 May 2010, para. 166. Not only did the Chamber already decide this issue in its decision on the Defence motion for exclusion of evidence, but it also is not convinced that the alleged disarmament is a "criminal act physically committed by the Accused" that must be pled in the indictment.

Withholding of Food from the Tutsi

315. The Prosecution alleges that the Tutsi who sought refuge at the Nyange Parish were denied food and water prior to the demolition of the church.<sup>801</sup> The Prosecution relies on the testimony of Witnesses YAU and CBS to support this allegation.<sup>802</sup>

316. Witness YAU was the only Prosecution witness to implicate the Accused in events related to the denial of food at the Nyange Parish. Witness YAU testified that, the day after she arrived at the Nyange Parish, Gaspard Kanyarukiga and Fulgence Kayishema asked the Tutsi to give them money so that they could buy food for those who had sought refuge at the parish.<sup>803</sup> According to the witness, the Tutsi never received any food from Kayishema or Kanyarukiga.<sup>804</sup>

317. The Chamber is mindful that Witness YAU is a survivor of the massacres at the Nyange Parish and presumably an eye-witness to the events that transpired at that location. At the same time, the witness's testimony lacks detail and is called into question by her inability to recall dates or the chronology of particular events.<sup>805</sup> The Chamber notes that the witness appeared confused throughout her testimony and failed to recognise or recall several of her prior statements.<sup>806</sup> According to her September 1996 pro-justitia statement, for example, Witness YAU told IPJ Siméon Muragizi that, on 14 April 1994, Father Kayiranga asked the Tutsi for money so that he could buy them food and flour for porridge.<sup>807</sup> Witness YAU denied having made this statement during cross-examination and,<sup>808</sup> when confronted with a copy of the document, responded, "[f]or me, this is like a dream ... I'm telling you what I know about those events, but I really don't know what you're talking about here."<sup>809</sup> Having considered her evidence as a whole, the Chamber is concerned that Witness YAU may still be traumatised by the events that she experienced in April 1994 and that her testimony is therefore insufficiently reliable to support a finding of fact without corroboration.

318. In this instance, Witness YAU's evidence was not only uncorroborated but also inconsistent with that of Witness CBN, who attested that it was Father Kayiranga and another priest who collected money from the Tutsi at the parish.<sup>810</sup> In view of these irregularities, the Chamber finds that it cannot rely on Witness YAU's uncorroborated testimony to establish that Kanyarukiga was involved in collecting money from the Tutsi at the parish.<sup>811</sup>

319. Witness YAU also testified that, at some point, a nun named Sister Jean or Mama Yohani tried to give rice and beans to the Tutsi civilians who had gathered at the parish.<sup>812</sup> According to Witness YAU, Mama Yohani brought the food out, but Kayishema and Kanyarukiga poured it on the ground.<sup>813</sup> Witness YAU was the only witness to testify about this event. Indeed, Witness CBS, also a Tutsi survivor of the events at the parish, categorically denied that this incident occurred.<sup>814</sup> Given the lack of corroboration for Witness YAU's evidence, the Chamber finds that the Prosecution has not established that Kanyarukiga and Kayishema poured food intended for the Tutsi onto the ground.

320. Finally, Witness CBS testified that Father Seromba instructed the gendarmes at the parish to shoot anyone who ventured into the parish banana plantation.<sup>815</sup> Witness CBN corroborated Witness CBS's account, testifying that, on 14 April 1994, Father Seromba instructed gendarmes to shoot any Tutsi who tried to collect bananas from the parish plantation.<sup>816</sup> Witnesses CBS and CBN are both Tutsi survivors of the events at the Nyange Parish. The Chamber finds that these witnesses provided detailed, consistent and corroborative testimony regarding the Tutsi civilians' attempts to obtain food prior to the massacres on 15 and 16 April 1994. As discussed further in paragraphs 456 to 458, the Chamber has found both witnesses credible. Thus, based on their evidence, the Chamber accepts that there were gendarmes at the Nyange Parish after 12 April 1994 and that Father Seromba instructed them to shoot any Tutsi who tried to take bananas from the parish banana plantation.

Attacks on 13 and 14 April 1994

321. The Prosecution alleges that Hutu assailants attacked the Tutsi at the Nyange Parish on 13 and 14 April 1994.<sup>817</sup> The Defence submits that, by removing references to events on these dates

<sup>811</sup> While the Chamber accepts that money may have been collected from the Tutsi for the alleged purpose of purchasing food, it finds that the evidence is inconclusive with respect to the date and persons involved. Indeed, the Chamber notes that, while Witness CBN testified that Father Kayiranga was involved in collecting money from the Tutsi on 14 April 1994, other evidence suggests that Father Kayiranga did not arrive at the parish until 15 April 1994. See, e.g., Witness YAU, T. 15 September 2009, p. 18; Witness KG15, T. 11 February 2010, pp. 16, 28, 37 (CS). See also Witness CBS, T. 17 September 2009, p. 37.

<sup>812</sup> T. 15 September 2009, pp. 14, 42. The Chamber recalls that, on 15 January 2010, it denied a Defence request to exclude Witness YAU's testimony that Kanyarukiga poured food intended for the Tutsi at the parish onto the ground. Decision on Defence Motion for a Stay of the Proceedings or Exclusion of Evidence Outside the Scope of the Indictment (TC), 15 January 2010, para. 40. The Chamber recalls that Witness YAU testified in the Seromba trial that Sister Jean brought the Tutsi food, but she did not say that Kayishema and Kanyarukiga threw it on the ground. However, based on her narration of the events, the Chamber is of the opinion that she most likely arrived at the Nyange Parish on 13 April 1994 and departed on 15 April 1994).

from the Amended Indictment, the Prosecution gave clear notice that 13 and 14 April would not form part of the Prosecution's case.<sup>818</sup>

322. The Trial Chamber acknowledges that 13 and 14 April 1994 do not appear in the Amended Indictment and that references to these dates were withdrawn from the original indictment when it was amended.<sup>819</sup> The Chamber notes, however, that none of the paragraphs that were removed from the indictment described the attacks on 13 and 14 April 1994 as recounted by Prosecution witnesses. Accordingly, the Chamber is not convinced that the effect of removing of these paragraphs was necessarily prejudicial. Moreover, the Chamber is satisfied that 13 and 14 April 1994 fall within the timeframe set forth in paragraph 13 of the Amended Indictment, which alleges that armed attackers surrounded the Tutsi at the parish "from 12 April 1994."

323. Notwithstanding that 13 and 14 April 1994 fall within the temporal scope of paragraph 13 of the Amended Indictment, the Chamber is not convinced that this paragraph put the Accused on notice that he was charged with attacks on these days. Thus, because an accused can only be convicted of crimes that are charged in the Indictment,<sup>820</sup> the Chamber has disregarded the evidence of Witnesses CBY and YAU that Kanyarukiga was present during an attack on 14 April 1994. Moreover, the Chamber has only considered the evidence of the attacks themselves to the extent to which such evidence supports the general allegation that assailants surrounded the Tutsi at the parish from 12 April 1994.

324. The Chamber recalls that Prosecution Witnesses CBS, CBN, CBY and CBK all agreed that Hutu assailants attacked the Tutsi at the Nyange Parish on 13 April 1994 and that the Tutsi defended themselves by throwing stones at the attackers.<sup>821</sup> This evidence is consistent with the evidence given by Defence Witness KG15, who testified that he did not leave the presbytery on 13 April 1994 "because the situation was tense."<sup>822</sup>

325. The Chamber has also considered the evidence of Defence Witness KG19, who denied that the parish was attacked on 13 April 1994.<sup>823</sup> Witness KG19 testified that, from his vantage point at the Nyange Trading Centre, he could observe everything that happened at the Statue of the Virgin Mary and did not see any attackers in the vicinity of the statue on that day.<sup>824</sup> The Chamber recalls that Witness KG19 did not go to the church on 13 April 1994.<sup>825</sup> Although the witness testified that he could see everything that happened in the vicinity of the Statue of the Virgin Mary, he did not say that he could see the parish. The Chamber recalls from its site visit that the Nyange Parish could not be seen from either inside or immediately outside the shop where the witness said he was.<sup>826</sup> The Chamber therefore does not consider Witness KG19's testimony sufficient to cast doubt on the eye-witness testimony provided by Witnesses CBN, CBY, CBK and CBS.

The Chamber notes that these observations were made from in front of Kanyarukiga's pharmacy. However, the Chamber finds that its observations also apply to the shop where the witness says that he was. Depicted in Prosecution Exhibit P46 (Colour Photocopy of Photo (K027-1743) as marked by Witness CNJ). Compare Registry Exhibit R1 (DVD Site Visit Day 1, 2, & 3), at Day 2, 1:00:10-1:01:23 (illustrating that the Nyange Parish can be seen by someone standing in the road in front of the Nyange Trading Centre and the Statue of the Virgin Mary).

326. Accordingly, the Chamber finds it established beyond reasonable doubt that Hutu assailants surrounded and attacked the Tutsi at the Nyange Parish on 13 April 1994.

327. The Chamber further recalls that it is undisputed that Hutu assailants attacked the Tutsi at the Nyange Parish on 14 April 1994 and that the Tutsi repelled the attacks by throwing stones at the assailants.<sup>827</sup> Thus, based on the combined testimony of Prosecution and Defence witnesses, the Chamber finds it established beyond reasonable doubt that Hutu assailants surrounded and attacked the Tutsi at the Nyange Parish on 14 April 1994.

Warning Assailants that the “inyenzi” were at Mushubati

328. Prosecution Witness CBR testified that, after the attacks on 14 April 1994, assailants met a red car in Cyambogo cellule, which was coming from the direction of Gitarama.<sup>828</sup> The car pulled over to the side of the road and someone inside spoke to Ndungutse.<sup>829</sup> Witness CBR was subsequently informed that the person in the car was Kanyarukiga and that Kanyarukiga had said that the inyenzi were at Mushubati and were coming to attack the Hutu and asked Ndungutse to look for reinforcements.<sup>830</sup>

329. The Chamber notes that Witness CBR was the only witness to testify that Kanyarukiga spoke to assailants on the side of the road on 14 April 1994. Even though Witness CBR is an accomplice to the massacres at the Nyange Parish,<sup>831</sup> the Chamber has generally attached greater weight to Witness CBR’s evidence than to that of other accomplice witnesses. The Chamber, however, recalls that Witness CBR’s testimony about this particular event was based largely on uncorroborated hearsay. Therefore, the Chamber finds that, in this particular instance, Witness CBR’s evidence is insufficient to establish beyond reasonable doubt that the Accused met assailants on the side of the road on 14 April 1994 and asked Ndungutse to look for reinforcements because the inyenzi were at Mushubati.

Removal of Hutu Women from the Nyange Church

330. Finally, the Prosecution alleges that participants in the joint criminal enterprise removed Hutu women from the church on 14 April 1994, demonstrating that they “had formed an intention that only Tutsis should be killed.”<sup>832</sup> Prosecution Witness CBS testified that, on the night of 14 April 1994, IPJ Kayishema and Brigadier Mbakirirehe came to the parish and removed Hutu women who had taken refuge with their Tutsi husbands.<sup>833</sup>

<sup>827</sup> Witness CBR, T. 9 September 2009, pp. 11-12, 16, 54; Witness CBY, T. 8 September 2009, pp. 41, 43-45; Witness CBN, T. 1 September 2009, pp. 58-59; Witness YAU, T. 15 September 2009, pp. 15-17 (The Chamber recalls that Witness YAU did not provide dates, but based on her narration of the chronology of events, the Chamber believes that she is describing the attack on 14 April 1994.); Witness CBK, T. 3 September 2009, pp. 6-7; Witness KG45, T. 21 January 2010, p. 60 (CS); Witness KG19, T. 26 January 2010, p. 65 (CS); Witness Nayituriki, T. 8 February 2010, pp. 11, 15-17. The Chamber notes that, while Witness KG15 denied that there were killings on 14 April 1994, he did not deny that the parish was attacked. Witness KG15, T. 11 February 2010, p. 26 (CS).

<sup>830</sup> T. 9 September 2009, pp. 12, 15. The Chamber recalls that, in its decision of 15 January 2010, the Chamber found that Witness CBR’s evidence that Kanyarukiga stopped by the roadside and informed those present about the whereabouts of the inyenzi did not constitute a new allegation or material fact, of which prior notice should have been given. Decision on Defence Motion for a Stay of Proceedings or Exclusion of Evidence Outside the Scope of the Indictment (TC), 15 January 2010, para. 26.

331. The Chamber recalls that it has the discretion to decide, in the circumstances of each case, whether to require corroboration or to rely on the evidence of a single, credible witness for the proof of a material fact.<sup>834</sup> The Chamber has generally found Witness CBS credible. However, with respect to this particular event the Chamber is concerned that Witness CBS's testimony may have been influenced by information obtained from sources other than his own recollection. In his statement of 2 February 1996, Witness CBS said that Bourgmestre Ndahimana and Aloys Nishyirimbere were with Kayishema and Mbakirirehe when the latter came to remove the Hutu women from the church.<sup>835</sup> The witness revised this statement in March 2003 to say that Nishyirimbere never came to the church.<sup>836</sup> When asked about the 1996 statement at trial, Witness CBS denied ever having mentioned Nishyirimbere to investigators.<sup>837</sup> Moreover, when asked why he did not remove the reference to Nishyirimbere until 2003, the witness stated that Nishyirimbere confessed to having committed offences at the communal office and that Witness CBS revised his statement based on information he obtained from Nishyirimbere's confession.<sup>838</sup>

332. While the Chamber does not consider these irregularities to affect the witness's overall credibility, it finds that, without corroboration, Witness CBS's testimony is insufficient to establish beyond reasonable doubt that Kayishema and Mbakirirehe separated Hutu women from the Tutsi at the parish on the night of 14 April 1994.

4.4. Conclusion

333. For the foregoing reasons, the Chamber is satisfied that the Prosecution has proven beyond reasonable doubt that, from 12 April 1994, armed attackers, including interahamwe militiamen and gendarmes,<sup>839</sup> surrounded the Nyange Parish Church, where Tutsi civilians were confined.

334. The Chamber finds that it has been established beyond reasonable doubt that, on 13 April 1994, Hutu assailants attacked the Tutsi civilians who had taken refuge at the Nyange Church and that sticks and machetes were also confiscated from the Tutsi on that day. The Chamber finds that it has been established that, on 14 April 1994, Hutu assailants surrounded and attacked the Tutsi at the Nyange Parish, but the Tutsi were able to repel the attacks. Finally, it has been established beyond reasonable doubt that after 12 April 1994, gendarmes were posted at the Nyange Parish, and Father Seromba instructed them to shoot any Tutsi who tried to take bananas from the parish banana plantation.

335. The Prosecution, however, has failed to establish beyond reasonable doubt that Kanyarukiga was involved in disarming the Tutsi at the Nyange Parish; that the Accused and Kayishema took money from the Tutsi for the alleged purpose of buying them food; that Kayishema and the Accused poured food intended for the Tutsi onto the ground or that the Accused met assailants on the side of the road on 14 April 1994 and asked Ndungutse to look for reinforcements because the inyenzi were at Mushubati. The Prosecution has also failed to establish that IPJ Kayishema and Brigadier Mbakirirehe removed Hutu women from the Nyange Church on the night of 14 April 1994.

<sup>839</sup> The Chamber notes that, while it has been established beyond reasonable doubt that gendarmes were posted at the parish and prevented the Tutsi from taking bananas from the parish banana plantation, it has not been established on the basis of the evidence presented here that the gendarmes were among the assailants who attacked the Tutsi on 13 and 14 April 1994.

5. Attacks at Nyange Parish on 15 April 1994

5.1. Introduction

336. Paragraphs 14 and 15 of the Amended Indictment read as follows:

14. On the morning of 15 April 1994 at Nyange Parish Gaspard KANYARUKIGA, Fulgence KAYISHEMA, Télesphore NDUNGUTSE and Grégoire NDAHIMANA ordered and instigated the attackers to attack the Tutsi civilian refugees. The assailants attacked the Tutsi refugees with stones and traditional weapons but were initially repulsed by the refugees. An army reservist named Théophile Rukara then lobbed grenades at the Tutsi refugees, killing and wounding many.

15. The attackers were then joined by gendarmes and communal policemen who continued the assault on the Tutsi refugees with gunfire and dynamite, killing and wounding many more. During the attack[,] Gaspard KANYARUKIGA, Fulgence KAYISHEMA, Télesphore NDUNGUTSE and Grégoire NDAHIMANA were present, ordering, instigating and supervising the attackers, and aided and abetted the attackers by providing them with weapons and gasoline that was used in an attempt to burn the Tutsi refugees in the church.<sup>840</sup>

337. The Prosecution refers to Witnesses CBN, CBK, CNJ, CBY, CBR, CDL, CBT, YAU, CDK and CBS in support of these allegations.<sup>841</sup>

338. The Defence disputes the credibility of these Prosecution witnesses and points to Defence Witnesses KG45, KG19, Mutume, Sibomana, Tugirumukiza and KG15.<sup>842</sup> The Defence also reiterates its alibi for events alleged to have occurred on 15 April 1994.

5.2. Evidence

Prosecution Witness CBN

339. Witness CBN saw Kayishema, Christophe Mbakirirehe and the Accused outside the Accused's pharmacy on 15 April 1994.<sup>843</sup> The witness understood "these people were assembling to hold meetings," and "at some point", they sent members of the population to attack those taking refuge in the church.<sup>844</sup>

340. According to Witness CBN, the Hutu assailants launched many attacks against those taking refuge in the Nyange Church on 15 April 1994.<sup>845</sup> The witness had the impression that all Hutu people had left their villages to attack those who had taken refuge at the church.<sup>846</sup> Initially, between 9.00 a.m. and 10.00 a.m., a large number of Hutu assailants surrounded the Nyange Church and started throwing stones at those inside the church.<sup>847</sup> The Tutsi in the church and the surrounding area repulsed this attack by throwing stones back at the assailants.<sup>848</sup> Witness CBN recalled that as the assailants attacked them, they said "let us exterminate them" and "sang different slogans.”<sup>849</sup> Witness CBN recalled that the assailants were armed with stones, clubs, machetes, spears and arrows.<sup>850</sup> When a group of assailants grew tired, other assailants replaced them.<sup>851</sup> At some point, the attackers overpowered the Tutsi by throwing grenades at them.<sup>852</sup> Witness CBN said that the “authorities” standing in front of the Statue of the Virgin Mary at that moment were Brigadier Mbakirirehe, Kayishema, a person named Abayisenga and Kanyarukiga.<sup>853</sup>

341. Witness CBN left the church on 15 April 1994 between 1.00 p.m. and 2.00 p.m.<sup>854</sup> He was able to leave the church when grenades were thrown.<sup>855</sup> Witness CBN testified that one of the grenades thrown by the assailants did not explode, and Witness CBN and those with him picked it up.<sup>856</sup> A second grenade exploded and killed many refugees.<sup>857</sup> The witness’s “colleagues” took the dead bodies from the grenade attack to the church.<sup>858</sup> Witness CBN saw corpses of men, women, old people and children lying about in the courtyard and within the church, though he did not know the exact number of bodies.<sup>859</sup> At this point, Tutsi were fleeing towards the banana plantation, and the witness was able to leave the church premises.<sup>860</sup> It was Witness CBN’s testimony that he covered himself with banana leaves to look like the assailants who were also wearing banana leaves.<sup>861</sup> Witness CBN left his family at Nyange Parish and has not seen his wife, children or his extended family again.<sup>862</sup>

342. Witness CBN saw Kanyarukiga’s vehicle on 15 April 1994, not far from the communal office as he fled.<sup>863</sup> Witness CBN said that the vehicle was transporting members of the population who were calling out to members of the population to arrest the inyenzi.<sup>864</sup>

Prosecution Witness CBK

343. Witness CBK testified that, on 15 April 1994, Hutu assailants from all regions and secteurs in Kivumu commune attacked the Tutsi inside the Nyange Church.<sup>865</sup> According to Witness CBK, the Hutu assailants proceeded to shoot at the Tutsi in the church and thereafter attempted to burn the church.<sup>866</sup>

344. According to Witness CBK, the leaders of the assailants on this day were the bourgmestre, Ndahimana, Father Seromba, Kayishema, Brigadier Christophe Mbakirirehe, Gaspard Kanyarukiga and other officials and businessmen from the region.<sup>867</sup> Witness CBK said that Kanyarukiga and these authorities supervised the activities of the assailants.<sup>868</sup>

345. Witness CBK recalled that on 15 April 1994, the leaders of the attacks, including Gaspard Kanyarukiga, Christophe Mbakirire, Grégoire Ndahimana, IPJ Kayishema, Anastase Rushema and others, arrived at the parish before midday and held a meeting.<sup>869</sup> According to Witness CBK, this meeting was held in a room at the presbytery for approximately one and a half to two hours.<sup>870</sup> Witness CBK stated that after this meeting, these authorities left the presbytery and went opposite the office of the secretariat of the parish where they talked to the Hutu assailants.<sup>871</sup> After these “authorities” conferred with the assailants, the assailants launched grenades at the Tutsi in the church and shot at the church.<sup>872</sup> Witness CBK saw Théophile Rukara on top of the Caritas building, throwing a grenade at the Tutsi.<sup>873</sup> According to Witness CBK, some Tutsi died as a result of this attack.<sup>874</sup> Among the assailants who fired shots at the church were policemen from Kivumu commune.<sup>875</sup> The witness added further that Kanyarukiga had been carrying a firearm at that time.<sup>876</sup>

346. Witness CBK stated that the assailants attempted to set the Nyange Church ablaze using petrol.<sup>877</sup> According to Witness CBK, the assailants spilled petrol on the windows and the doors of the church.<sup>878</sup> The witness that the authorities were present during this attempt,<sup>879</sup> and he saw this event from where he had been standing at the entrance to the presbytery.<sup>880</sup> Witness CBK testified that the church was burnt but did not collapse, and this was the reason why the “authorities” sought a machine or an engine to destroy the church.<sup>881</sup>

347. Witness CBK testified that, prior to the attempted burning of the Nyange Church, Kanyarukiga had gone to search for petrol at his pharmacy while Kayishema had gone to Kivumu for this same reason.<sup>882</sup> Witness CBK said that Kanyarukiga left with the assailants, handed the fuel to them and directed them as to where they had to throw fuel in order to burn the church.<sup>883</sup>

348. Later on 15 April 1994, after the attempted burning of the Nyange Church, the authorities went back into the meeting room at the presbytery between 2.30 p.m. and 3.00 p.m.<sup>884</sup> After this meeting, at 4.00 p.m., a “machine for grading roads” arrived at Nyange Church.<sup>885</sup>

Prosecution Witness CNJ

349. Witness CNJ said that on 15 April 1994, he went to Nyange Parish with a group of seven people from his village, and on their way they met other persons heading for Nyange Parish.<sup>886</sup> The group was transported by a communal truck, which dropped them at the Nyange Trading Centre, opposite Kanyarukiga’s pharmacy.<sup>887</sup> Witness CNJ was armed with a club and a sword and said that all the other assailants were armed.<sup>888</sup> Witness CNJ estimated that the number of assailants was approximately 4000 on 15 April 1994.<sup>889</sup>

350. Witness CNJ said that they arrived between 11.00 a.m. and 1.00 p.m. and were received by Ndahimana, Kayishema, Ndungutse, Kiragi and Habiyaambere. These men congratulated them for coming as reinforcement.<sup>890</sup> Ndahimana welcomed the assailants and requested that they cover their bodies with banana leaves so as to distinguish themselves from the Tutsi taking refuge in the church.<sup>891</sup> Witness CNJ further mentioned that Ndahimana assured him and the other assailants that if they were wounded, Kanyarukiga had given the assurance that they would be treated at his pharmacy free of charge.<sup>892</sup> When Ndahimana said this, Kanyarukiga was present and did not contradict what Ndahimana said.<sup>893</sup> The witness took this silence to be support for Ndahimana's statement.<sup>894</sup> Witness CNJ said that a person called Gatake and another called Sebera were treated at Kanyarukiga's pharmacy.<sup>895</sup>

351. Following this, Witness CNJ recalled that Kayishema led the assailants to where they would attack the Tutsi at Nyange Parish and reinforce the attackers who were already present.<sup>896</sup> The witness testified that the Tutsi were defending themselves with stones.<sup>897</sup> The attackers were also supplied with stones.<sup>898</sup> According to Witness CNJ, Kanyarukiga was among the attackers.<sup>899</sup> Witness CNJ said that during the attacks, the assailants would chase Tutsi up to the Nyange Parish while those Tutsi taking refuge in the Nyange Church would repel the assailants to the main Gitarama – Kigali road.<sup>900</sup> The witness recalled that he and other assailants tried to reinforce the attackers who were already engaged with the Tutsi, but were overpowered because the Tutsi were in a better position and, at this point, were stronger than the Hutu.<sup>901</sup> Kayishema then adopted the strategy of sending some people to throw grenades at the Tutsi.<sup>902</sup> At about 2.00 p.m., Théophile Rukara threw grenades from the rooftop of a building opposite the Caritas restaurant and close to the pharmacy.<sup>903</sup>

352. Witness CNJ recalled that some Tutsi were killed as a result of this attack; the rest withdrew to the Nyange Parish, where they took refuge in the church and the presbytery, and the Hutu assailants followed.<sup>904</sup> He recounted that those Tutsi who could not enter the church or presbytery were killed in the yard in front of the church.<sup>905</sup> Witness CNJ said that Father Seromba prevented the assailants from forcibly entering the presbytery.<sup>906</sup> After the attack, Habiyaambere, Kayishema, Ndungutse and Kanyarukiga were at the parish, but the bourgmestre had left because a member of his family had died.<sup>907</sup> Witness CNJ said that after the Tutsi barricaded themselves in the church, policemen fired at the church, and the assailants tried to break down the doors of the church using a caterpillar and other equipment.<sup>908</sup> He testified that the assailants were able to kill some people in the presbytery, but it was difficult to access those inside the church.<sup>909</sup> The witness said that around 250 to 300 people were killed on 15 April 1994.<sup>910</sup>

353. Witness CNJ said that he and others were asked to remove bodies from the secretariat building.<sup>911</sup> He said that Kanyarukiga and Kayishema left the church to look for Rushema at the trading centre.<sup>912</sup> Witness CNJ knew Rushema as the deputy bourgmestre.<sup>913</sup> The bulldozer was first used to bury the bodies and was subsequently used to try and break down the doors of the Nyange Church.<sup>914</sup> The witness went on to note that the bodies were buried in the woods behind Caritas restaurant where the bulldozer was used to widen a pit latrine.<sup>915</sup>

354. After the grenade attacks, Witness CNJ said that an axe had been sought from Kimaramzara's place and was used to try and break the doors of the church.<sup>916</sup> The assailants also tried to use three pieces of dynamite to force open the main door, but these attempts were not successful.<sup>917</sup>

355. Witness CNJ stated that after that, Kiragi, Théodomir, Kayishema and Arnold Nibarere brought fuel, and the assailants subsequently doused the church with fuel.<sup>918</sup> Witness CNJ further stated that the assailants destroyed the louvers of a window of the church and spilled petrol.<sup>919</sup> According to the witness, the flames went right up to the roof of the bell tower, and the Tutsi inside the church tried to put out the fire to defend themselves.<sup>920</sup>

356. The fire petered out, and it was decided that "operations" would resume the following day.<sup>921</sup> Witness CNJ said that Kanyarukiga, Kayishema, Ndungutse, Habiyaambere and a veterinarian known as Mudondore went and contacted Seromba.<sup>922</sup> He said that on this occasion it was decided that some people would guard the area to prevent the Tutsi who had not been killed from fleeing.<sup>923</sup> According to the witness the objective of the assailants was to totally exterminate the Tutsi, and it was necessary to mount guard to ensure that none of the Tutsi escaped.<sup>924</sup> Witness CNJ stated that Kayishema and Habiyaambere convinced some assailants to remain behind while others left.<sup>925</sup> Witness CNJ said that when he was leaving, Kanyarukiga, who was armed with a pistol, Nishyirimbere and Rukara stopped the witness and others and asked them to go back to the church.<sup>926</sup>

Finally, Witness CNJ testified that, “[t]he person who could have prevented that action was the judicial police inspector, Kayishema, but these were the same people who were leading the operations.”<sup>927</sup> Other influential people like Kanyarukiga did nothing to stop the assailants.<sup>928</sup>

358. Witness CBY testified that, on the morning of 15 April 1994, the “authorities” arrived and met with “the priest” for 60 minutes “upstairs”.<sup>929</sup> These authorities were Kayishema, Ndungutse, Grégoire Ndahimana, Théodomir and Kanyarukiga.<sup>930</sup> According to the witness, about two hours after their departure, a sizeable group of Hutu assailants came and had a major confrontation with the Tutsi at the parish.<sup>931</sup>

359. Witness CBY recalled that the attack on the Tutsi on 15 April 1994 started at about 11.00 a.m. and ended at about 2.00 p.m.<sup>932</sup> The Hutu threw stones at the Tutsi, but the Tutsi were able to push the Hutu attackers back towards the Nyange marketplace by throwing stones in self-defence.<sup>933</sup> The witness testified that before 12.00 p.m., a former reservist soldier, who was named Théophile (nickname Rukara), climbed onto a building and threw a grenade at the Tutsi.<sup>934</sup> According to the witness, Rukara threw the grenade from the roof of a building of the lower side of the parish, not far from the Caritas building, near the house of someone called Vincent.<sup>935</sup> Witness CBY was outside the presbytery in the courtyard of the Nyange Church when the grenade was thrown.<sup>936</sup> The witness recalled that some of the Tutsi died on the spot, others lost their limbs and those who were not killed were subsequently killed by the Hutu assailants using clubs and machetes.<sup>937</sup> The Tutsi turned back and sought refuge in the church.<sup>938</sup> Those Tutsi who could not enter the church were killed by the Hutu who were pursuing them.<sup>939</sup>

360. When the Tutsi had entered the church, the Hutu assailants attempted to set the church on fire but were not successful.<sup>940</sup> They then placed a ladder near a window of the church and sprayed the church with fuel, but they were unable to set the church on fire.<sup>941</sup> After attempting to set the church on fire, Kayishema and Kimaranza went to look for a bulldozer to demolish the church.<sup>942</sup> According to the witness, Kanyarukiga did not go with them and remained “there”.<sup>943</sup> Once the bulldozer arrived at the church, it attempted to demolish the church but was not able to do so in one evening.<sup>944</sup> The witness did not know who ordered the demolition of the church.<sup>945</sup> However, he

Prosecution Witness CBR

361. Witness CBR stated that IPJ Kayishema returned to the witness’s cellule on Friday, 15 April 1994.<sup>948</sup> Again, Kayishema drove through the streets in a vehicle outfitted with megaphones and called on the population to defend Nyange from the inyenzi.<sup>949</sup> The witness recalled that Ndungutse assembled “us” as he had done in the days prior to 15 April 1994.<sup>950</sup> Witness CBR and the other assailants were collected in three pick-up trucks, two of which belonged to a company called Astaldi, and were transported to the Nyange Parish.<sup>951</sup> Witness CBR estimated that they arrived at the Nyange Parish between 9.00 and 10.00 a.m.<sup>952</sup> The witness was armed with a club and noted that other assailants were armed with traditional weapons and were covered in banana leaves.<sup>953</sup>

362. Witness CBR estimated that there were approximately ten times as many Hutu assailants in Nyange on 15 April 1994 as those who participated in the attack on the previous day.<sup>954</sup> According to the witness, the assailants stretched from the parish compound to the marketplace and down the road to Kibuye.<sup>955</sup> He testified that attackers had come from all secteurs in Kivumu commune as well as from neighbouring communes.<sup>956</sup>

363. Witness CBR recalled that a number of “authorities,” including Bourgmestre Ndahimana, IPJ Kayishema, Gaspard Kanyarukiga, Assistant Bourgmestre Védaste Murangwabugabo, the Court President Habiyaambere, the teacher Ndungutse and Staff Sergeant Habarugira, were gathered at the Statue of the Virgin Mary on 15 April 1994.<sup>957</sup> Shortly after the witness arrived, these men headed towards the parish presbytery to see Father Seromba.<sup>958</sup> The witness did not know what the men discussed at the presbytery.<sup>959</sup> The “authorities” remained at the presbytery for approximately 45 minutes.<sup>960</sup> From there, they walked to the local cooperative society building, which was also known as CODEKOKI.<sup>961</sup> Father Seromba did not attend the meeting at the cooperative.<sup>962</sup>

364. Witness CBR testified that the “authorities” spent approximately 30 minutes in the cooperative before returning to the Statue of the Virgin Mary at approximately 12.00 p.m.<sup>963</sup>

365. According to Witness CBR, there were no attacks before midday.<sup>964</sup> The Hutu assailants attacked the Tutsi at the parish around midday, when Ndahimana instructed them to “begin work”.<sup>965</sup> The assailants threw stones at the Tutsi at Nyange Parish, and the Tutsi also threw stones back.<sup>966</sup> The witness recalled that they were forced to withdraw because the Tutsi were too strong.<sup>967</sup>

366. The assailants withdrew to the Statue of the Virgin Mary, where a reservist named Rukara, climbed onto the roof of a store in the Nyange Centre at around 1.00 p.m. and threw grenades.<sup>968</sup> The grenades killed Tutsi in great numbers, and the rest of them retreated.<sup>969</sup> Rukara continued to throw grenades at the Tutsi until they reached the church.<sup>970</sup> Once the Tutsi reached the church, some entered and locked the church door behind them.<sup>971</sup> Others took refuge in the presbytery or fled to the nearby woods.<sup>972</sup> Witness CBR testified that he went towards the presbytery with a group of assailants led by Ndungutse and Kayishema.<sup>973</sup> Father Seromba prevented them from entering the presbytery and asked them to clean the place from the dead bodies.<sup>974</sup>

367. Witness CBR recalled that the road from the Statue of the Virgin Mary to the church was littered with corpses.<sup>975</sup> The witness testified that Ndungutse and Kayishema went to find equipment to remove the bodies, which they referred to as “dirt,” from the church grounds.<sup>976</sup> Witness CBR testified that two pieces of equipment and two lorries were brought to the parish from the Astaldi company at around 2.00 or 3.00 p.m.<sup>977</sup> One bulldozer was used to dig a pit for the bodies while the other was used to load bodies onto the lorries.<sup>978</sup>

368. Later in the day, after the bodies were removed by the bulldozers from the road leading to the Nyange Church, Witness CBR and other assailants headed towards the church.<sup>979</sup> Communal police had arrived with firearms, and they began shooting at the Tutsi through the windows and doors of the church.<sup>980</sup> As the police ran out of ammunition, IPJ Kayishema arrived in a vehicle driven by someone named Kiragi with a jerry can of petrol.<sup>981</sup>

369. Witness CBR recalled that the assailants sprayed fuel onto the windows and doors of the church and tried to light it on fire, but the Tutsi, who were inside the church, put the fire out with their blankets and dust.<sup>982</sup> Some of the assailants used a ladder to reach the higher windows on the church.<sup>983</sup> The assailants also tried to demolish the church with dynamite.<sup>984</sup> None of these attempts were successful.<sup>985</sup> According to Witness CBR, during these attempts, the assailants' purpose was to kill all the Tutsis at that location.<sup>986</sup>

370. In the meantime, other assailants arrived from Kibilira commune.<sup>987</sup> These assailants were asked to guard the church while the witness and others returned home.<sup>988</sup> Witness CBR testified that he returned to his house that evening.<sup>989</sup> When he left the parish around 5.00 or 6.00 p.m., the bulldozers that had been brought to bury the bodies were already gone.<sup>990</sup> According to the witness, the bulldozers were returned to the Astaldi Company without being used to demolish the church.<sup>991</sup>

Prosecution Witness CDL

371. Witness CDL arrived at the Statue of the Virgin Mary around 10.00 a.m. on 15 April 1994.<sup>992</sup> It was difficult for him to go to the church premises because the Tutsi taking refuge there were outside the church and throwing stones and pieces of bricks at their attackers.<sup>993</sup> The attackers were also throwing stones and pieces of bricks at the Tutsi.<sup>994</sup> The assailants were on the side of the road leading to Kibuye, in the woods and in a banana plantation.<sup>995</sup> The Tutsi were able to overpower the attackers and push the attackers back to the Statue of the Virgin Mary.<sup>996</sup> According to Witness CDL, the distance between the church and the Statue of the Virgin Mary was about 200 metres.<sup>997</sup>

372. Later, the attackers threw grenades at the Tutsi and "a good number" of Tutsi were killed.<sup>998</sup> Some Tutsi sought refuge in the church and others sought refuge in the presbytery.<sup>999</sup> The grenades were thrown by communal policemen, gendarmes and later on by Théophile Mbhoneza, a reservist nicknamed Rukara.<sup>1000</sup> These grenades "weakened or overpowered" the Tutsi.<sup>1001</sup> Rukara threw the grenades from the roof of a building where business activities were carried out at the centre.<sup>1002</sup> Witness CDL estimated that he saw about 30 bodies where Rukara threw the grenades.<sup>1003</sup> The attackers also used "sharp weapons" against the Tutsi.<sup>1004</sup> The witness recalled that about 200 people were killed.<sup>1005</sup>

373. The bodies of the Tutsi who were killed were buried in a mass grave.<sup>1006</sup> There were two bulldozers; one “picked up bodies and threw them” and another “collected the bodies that were thrown into the mass grave.”<sup>1007</sup> The bulldozers were driven by Mitima and Maurice who were both Zairean.<sup>1008</sup> A lorry was used to move the corpses and this was driven by Albert who was also Zairean.<sup>1009</sup> The bulldozers did not remain at the parish overnight, instead one was returned to where it had come from and the other was left at the commune office.<sup>1010</sup> They had not been used to attack or destroy the church.<sup>1011</sup>

374. On the afternoon of 15 April 1994, Witness CDL saw Kanyarukiga at the Nyange Parish Church talking to the other “officials” present at the church “including the parish priests”.<sup>1012</sup> The “officials” who were present were “the parish priest”, Kayishema, Ndungutse, “some gendarmes”, Habiyaambere and Deputy Bourgmestre Kanani.<sup>1013</sup> They talked about the killings that were going on in the commune.<sup>1014</sup> According to the witness, the bourgmestre opened fire on the Tutsi on Friday, 15 April 1994.<sup>1015</sup>

Prosecution Witness CBT

375. Prosecution Witness CBT, a Hutu, was 26 years old in 1994.<sup>1016</sup> Witness CBT participated in attacks at the Nyange Church on 15 April 1994 but said he did not kill anybody on that day.<sup>1017</sup> Witness CBT served a sentence in the Kibuye Prison for crimes committed during the genocide.<sup>1018</sup>

376. Witness CBT responded to a call from IPJ Kayishema, who used a “public address system” to ask all members of the population to go to the parish.<sup>1019</sup> He passed the Statue of the Virgin Mary at around midday, where according to him, there were thousands of attackers.<sup>1020</sup> Witness CBT testified that if an authority wanted to address the members of the public, people would be quiet because they respected the authorities.<sup>1021</sup> Witness CBT saw a red car parked outside the pharmacy, which he later heard belonged to Kanyarukiga.<sup>1022</sup> He did not see any meetings being held at the Statue of the Virgin Mary or the CODEKOKI.<sup>1023</sup>

377. Upon arriving at the Nyange Church at approximately midday “with other people”, Witness CBT saw corpses of people who had been killed all over the courtyard in front of the Nyange

Church.<sup>1024</sup> Witness CBT described these bodies as belonging to Tutsi who had taken refuge in the church, those referred to as inyenzi.<sup>1025</sup> The witness had been told that those Tutsi who had been killed by interahamwe who Kayishema had called earlier that day.<sup>1026</sup> Shortly after he arrived, Witness CBT saw Kanyarukiga at the church grounds where the killings took place.<sup>1027</sup>

378. Witness CBT observed the use of traditional weapons like machetes, clubs and spears and other weapons like rifles, grenades and dynamite.<sup>1028</sup> Grenades were used by a former soldier, Théophile Rukara.<sup>1029</sup> Just after midday on 15 April 1994, the witness saw Rukara throw a grenade from the roof of a house at the Statue of the Virgin Mary belonging to Iyamuremyi.<sup>1030</sup> The grenade was thrown as the Hutu were retreating and killed some of the Tutsi.<sup>1031</sup> Rukara continued throwing grenades as the Tutsi retreated to the church.<sup>1032</sup> Witness CBT did not see Kanyarukiga near where the grenade was thrown at the time.<sup>1033</sup> He saw Kanyarukiga later as the Tutsi returned to the church.<sup>1034</sup>

379. Prior to the attempted burning of the Nyange Church on 15 April 1994, Witness CBT saw a number of “authorities” at the church including Kanyarukiga.<sup>1035</sup> Witness CBT saw Kanyarukiga on 15 April 1994 in a group of “officials” and testified he was saying that all inyenzi who had sought refuge at the Nyange Church had to be killed.<sup>1036</sup> The witness heard Kanyarukiga say “that we should not be concerned about the destruction of the Nyange [C]hurch because a new church was going to be constructed and this would create jobs for the youths in Nyange who were going to manufacture the bricks that were going to be used for the construction of the new church.”<sup>1037</sup> At the time that Kanyarukiga was speaking, Witness CBT was approximately two metres from him.<sup>1038</sup>

380. After the young Hutu people heard that there was an intention to provide jobs for them, they started surrounding the church and policemen started firing.<sup>1039</sup> Witness CBT stated that there were people around the church with petrol, and they started “spilling” it over the church; the witness was

Witness CBT also mentioned Habiyambere (a presiding judge); IPJ Kayishema; Télesphore Ndungutse; conseillers of various secteurs; veterinary officers; communal police officers; Adrien Niyitegeka, a communal policeman; Appolinaire Rangira, a communal policeman; Kabaliza, a soldier; Arnold Nibarere, the secretary of the commune; Anastase Rushema, the assistant to the bourgmestre; Kubwumukiza, who was a veterinary officer; Habarugira, he was the conseiller of Nyange; Gaspard Gatwaza, who was the Kivumu conseiller; Gatwaza, Nzabirinda who was a teacher at Rukoko; Alphonse Simpunga, who was a teacher at Rukoko; Nkaka Callixte who was a teacher in Kivumu and Conseiller Mathias Kazungu. near some of these people at the time they were putting petrol on the church.<sup>1040</sup> At this time, some of the Tutsi had died, but the majority were alive and still in the church.<sup>1041</sup> Witness CBT recalled that the secretary of the commune, Arnold Nibarere used the petrol on the church, in an attempt to burn down the church.<sup>1042</sup> He was assisted by Faustin Uworinaniye.<sup>1043</sup> Witness CBT saw only one bucket of petrol, which he was right next to, but he did not know where the petrol came from.<sup>1044</sup> However, the attempt was unsuccessful because those in the church were throwing dust on the flames.<sup>1045</sup> Kayishema asked people to cut grass and to construct a ladder to enable people to throw the fuel through the windows of the church.<sup>1046</sup>

381. Some Tutsi in the church attempted to flee at this time, but they were intercepted and killed with machetes, clubs or spears.<sup>1047</sup> Witness CBT noted that there were more Hutu assailants than Tutsi inside the church.<sup>1048</sup> Witness CBT cannot recall exactly at what time the burning of the church was attempted, but he said that there had been several attempts and one had taken place at around 3.00 p.m.<sup>1049</sup>

382. The bodies of those killed were buried in a “common grave” behind a house that was used as Caritas offices.<sup>1050</sup> A “Caterpillar” from Astaldi was used to pick up the bodies.<sup>1051</sup> After this, fighting continued and anyone who attempted to leave the church was killed.<sup>1052</sup>

383. Witness CBT left the church between 4.00 and 5.00 p.m. on the evening of 15 April 1994.<sup>1053</sup> He testified that Kayishema and Ndungutse asked some of the assailants to spend the night at the parish to ensure that no Tutsi escaped from the church, but the witness did everything possible to leave.<sup>1054</sup> As Witness CBT left the church square, he came across Kanyarukiga who was “going around the church to make sure that the people were doing their work efficiently.”<sup>1055</sup>

Prosecution Witness YAU

384. Witness YAU testified that assailants attacked the church on her third day there.<sup>1056</sup> Those who had sought refuge at the church responded to the attack by throwing stones at the assailants and repelled the attackers.<sup>1057</sup>

385. According to the witness, the Hutu assailants outnumbered the Tutsi civilians at the parish.<sup>1058</sup> “Father Seromba instructed them to start with the intellectuals, and that is how the assailants called Gatare, who was a teacher in Nyange, and they killed him. Killings started thus. They even threw tear gas as well as other grenades at the refugees.”<sup>1059</sup> When the attacks began, the witness was outside the church.<sup>1060</sup>

386. Witness YAU testified that a bus arrived from the direction of Kibuye with soldiers, interahamwe and Father Kayiranga who, on arrival spoke to Kanyarukiga, Kayishema and Seromba.<sup>1061</sup> The witness could not recall when the bus arrived at the parish but estimated that it was between 11.00 a.m. and midday.<sup>1062</sup> She testified that Father Kayiranga met with Father Seromba, Fulgence Kayishema, Kanyarukiga, Grégoire Ndahimana and a conseiller whose first name was Vianney.<sup>1063</sup> She testified that Kanyarukiga, Kayishema, Seromba, Ndahimana and others were always together, and this group was leading the attacks.<sup>1064</sup>

387. When the attackers started throwing grenades, the witness fled towards the presbytery, which was where Father Seromba lived.<sup>1065</sup> The witness sought refuge on the ground floor of a storage building.<sup>1066</sup> She testified that the room was not locked, and she opened the door herself.<sup>1067</sup> The witness was not alone in the room.<sup>1068</sup>

388. Witness YAU testified that, after she entered the room, a seminarian locked it with a key.<sup>1069</sup> The witness testified that she heard Father Seromba ask the seminarian to open the room, but the seminarian refused, saying that if Father Seromba tried to open the door, he would be killed.<sup>1070</sup> The witness clarified that, “[t]he person who would try to open the door would be killed by the seminarian.”<sup>1071</sup> She testified that she could not see Father Seromba and the seminarian, but she could hear them and could clearly identify their respective voices.<sup>1072</sup>

389. Witness YAU stayed in the room for one day and left that night.<sup>1073</sup> According to the witness, Father Kayiranga came to the room where she was hiding and told those inside that he was going to bless them before sending them out.<sup>1074</sup> Father Kayiranga advised the witness and the

The witness testified, however, that, “[w]hen he climbed back into the bus, we saw interahamwe and soldiers come out of the bus, and they were armed. #### Prosecution Witness CDK

391. Witness CDK, a Hutu, was 31 years old in 1994.<sup>1080</sup> The witness was detained in Kibuye and Gitarama Prisons for crimes he participated in during the genocide.<sup>1081</sup> Witness CDK took part in the killings at Nyange Parish in April 1994.<sup>1082</sup>

392. Witness CDK went to the Nyange Parish church on 15 April 1994 for one day only because he had been asked to go there by Fulgence Kayishema, the IPJ.<sup>1083</sup> Kayishema had mounted a loudspeaker on a vehicle and drove around calling on members of the public to defend Nyange because it was being attacked by inyenzi.<sup>1084</sup> Between 11.00 and 11.30 a.m., Witness CDK arrived at the Nyange Parish with a machete and a small stick.<sup>1085</sup> When he arrived at the church, some people were wearing their ordinary clothes, others were wearing banana leaves and everyone had traditional weapons.<sup>1086</sup>

393. When Witness CDK arrived at the Nyange Church, there was a confrontation between Hutu and Tutsi.<sup>1087</sup> He observed that there were more Hutu than Tutsi.<sup>1088</sup> Whilst Witness CDK was at the church, he saw Kayishema again, who was in the vehicle the witness had seen him in previously.<sup>1089</sup> Kayishema came to and from the church during that day.<sup>1090</sup> Witness CDK saw Grégoire Ndahimana, Kayishema, Télesphore Ndungutse and Kanyarukiga going towards the CODEKOKI office "where they held a meeting before the killings perpetrated against the Tutsis started at the church."<sup>1091</sup>

394. Witness CDK saw the same people come out of the CODEKOKI after the meeting on 15 April 1994.<sup>1092</sup> After this meeting had ended, Kanyarukiga met with those people who had gathered in the square at the Statue of the Virgin Mary and talked with them.<sup>1093</sup> Kanyarukiga then approached Witness CDK and those he was with (the witness used the word “us”) and asked them to prepare themselves and collect stones so they would be able to fight the Tutsi who had stones for the attack.<sup>1094</sup> In the meantime, Seromba, Ndahimana and the gendarmes went to the presbytery.<sup>1095</sup>

395. Witness CDK recounted that, during the time when stones were being thrown, he saw Kanyarukiga talking with Théophile Rukara.<sup>1096</sup> After that “encounter”, someone was sent to look for a ladder from Kanyarukiga’s pharmacy.<sup>1097</sup> A ladder was brought, and Rukara climbed up on the roof of a house and threw grenades.<sup>1098</sup> Witness CDK testified that the grenades were thrown at the group of Tutsi, and this was the point where killing of Tutsi began.<sup>1099</sup>

396. Witness CDK estimated that there were more than 800 attackers in the courtyard of the church at around 2.00 p.m.<sup>1100</sup> The witness saw Kanyarukiga moving amongst the members of the population “giving them instructions” and in the company of Kayishema and Ndahimana.<sup>1101</sup> Kanyarukiga said that the witness and those he was with, had to fight the inyenzi and show that they were brave young people.<sup>1102</sup> Witness CDK testified that injured Hutu assailants were treated at Kanyarukiga’s pharmacy.<sup>1103</sup>

397. Prior to the attempt to burn the Nyange Church, Witness CDK testified that he again saw Kanyarukiga in front of the secretariat of the Nyange Parish where Kanyarukiga was talking to Father Seromba.<sup>1104</sup> At the time, Witness CDK recounted that he was two metres away from Kanyarukiga when he heard Kanyarukiga telling Father Seromba that the church had to be demolished to kill the inyenzi.<sup>1105</sup> Shortly after this, Kayishema arrived and agreed with Kanyarukiga’s suggestion that the church be demolished.<sup>1106</sup> After this exchange, the attacks continued and the communal policemen shot at those taking refuge in the Nyange Church.<sup>1107</sup> Some attackers poured petrol on the church and others were throwing projectiles at those in the church.<sup>1108</sup> The witness recalled that a certain “Arnold” used a “spray” to put petrol on the church.<sup>1109</sup> According to Witness CDK, Arnold and another person, who had a matchbox, tried to destroy the church by setting it on fire.<sup>1110</sup> Witness CDK saw this attempt to destroy the church from about ten metres away.<sup>1111</sup>

398. Witness CDK testified that he saw Kanyarukiga board a vehicle with Kayishema and head towards Myungu.<sup>1112</sup> Upon their return, 45 to 50 minutes later, they were accompanied by a bulldozer (or Caterpillar as the witness also referred to it), which was used to pick up the bodies of the Tutsi who had been killed.<sup>1113</sup> These bodies were buried below the building that contained the Caritas office.<sup>1114</sup>

399. Witness CDK testified that more than 200 attackers from Kibilira arrived at the church at around 4.00 p.m.<sup>1115</sup> The witness left immediately after these assailants arrived.<sup>1116</sup>

Prosecution Witness CBS

400. On the morning of 15 April 1994, Witness CBS recalled a large-scale attack that was launched on the Nyange Church by Hutu assailants.<sup>1117</sup> Before 9.00 a.m., there was panic at the church because the Tutsi saw people arriving from “everywhere”, including the neighbouring hills, and these people were armed with machetes, clubs and other weapons.<sup>1118</sup> A group of assailants came from Kivumu and was led by Gaspard Gatwaza.<sup>1119</sup> Others came from Rukuko and other places; some assailants arrived at the church in vehicles that belonged to the Astaldi Company.<sup>1120</sup> The witness asserted that the “officials” ordered the vehicles to transport the assailants to the church.<sup>1121</sup> The attack started around 9.00 a.m., and the attackers covered themselves in banana leaves.<sup>1122</sup> The communal policemen and gendarmes were wearing their usual uniforms.<sup>1123</sup> Witness CBS testified that the gendarmes said that the Tutsi would have to defend themselves.<sup>1124</sup> Witness CBS stated that the attackers were armed with machetes and clubs.<sup>1125</sup> The Tutsi did not have traditional weapons, so they fought back by throwing stones at the Hutu.<sup>1126</sup> The assailants were shouting loudly, “[e]xterminate them all. Let no one escape.”<sup>1127</sup>

401. The witness recalled that Grégoire Ndahimana, Kanyarukiga and IPJ Kayishema led the attackers.<sup>1128</sup> In particular, Witness CBS saw IPJ Kayishema, Bourgmestre Ndahimana, Rushema and Kanyarukiga near the Statue of the Virgin Mary having a meeting in the morning.<sup>1129</sup> Witness CBS testified that he believed Kanyarukiga was leading the attacks because Kanyarukiga was at the church with the “other officials” and was watching the events unfold but did nothing to stop the killings.<sup>1130</sup> The witness said, “the bourgmestre in his commune had full powers to stop any reprehensible act.”<sup>1131</sup>

402. Witness CBS testified that because the church was located at a high level, those taking refuge in the church were able to throw stones in order to resist the attackers.<sup>1132</sup> The attackers were able to overpower those in the church using grenades.<sup>1133</sup> Witness CBS recounted that many people died during this event, and he “could not even count them.”<sup>1134</sup> After the Tutsi were overpowered, they went back into the church.<sup>1135</sup> Witness CBS, however, scaled a wall at about 12.30 p.m., went to the presbytery and then climbed onto the roof of the “poultry house” so that he could follow what happened.<sup>1136</sup> Witness CBS stayed on the roof of this structure until around 9.00 p.m., when he headed to the river and then on to Gitarama and Kabgayi.<sup>1137</sup>

403. On the evening of 15 April 1994, Witness CBS testified that Kanyarukiga was still at the Nyange Centre like the other “officials”.<sup>1138</sup>

404. Apart from the vehicles that were transporting assailants to Nyange, Witness CBS saw two vehicles on 15 April 1994; a vehicle that Kayishema had “appropriated” from a Tutsi and a red vehicle belonging to Kanyarukiga.<sup>1139</sup>

Defence Witness KG19

405. Witness KG19 arrived at the Nyange Trading Centre around 9.00 a.m. on 15 April 1994 and stayed for four or five hours.<sup>1140</sup>

406. During the time the witness stood by the Statue of the Virgin Mary, he did not see Kanyarukiga, nor did he see the red-coloured vehicle that he believed belonged to Kanyarukiga.<sup>1141</sup> Witness KG19 testified that there were no cars parked in front of Kanyarukiga’s pharmacy or in the immediate vicinity of the pharmacy.<sup>1142</sup>

407. Witness KG19 testified there was an attack in the afternoon on 15 April 1994 that ended around 4.00 p.m.<sup>1143</sup> He testified that there were many attackers who headed towards the Nyange Church and carried traditional weapons such as machetes, clubs and spears.<sup>1144</sup> According to the witness, there was a lot of noise at the centre and people on the street were throwing stones.<sup>1145</sup> The witness testified that he did not see any person throw a grenade on 15 April 1994.<sup>1146</sup>

408. Witness KG19 stated that he did not see any authority on 15 April 1994 as he stood at or near the Statue of the Virgin Mary.<sup>1147</sup> He testified that on 15 April 1994, he thought he saw buses transporting people to the Nyange Church.<sup>1148</sup>

Defence Witness Roger Mutume

409. Witness Roger Mutume, a Hutu, was 20 years old in April 1994 and was in the fourth year of secondary school at the Groupe Scolaire in Save.<sup>1149</sup> He testified that Kanyarukiga was his neighbour in his native cellule.<sup>1150</sup>

410. Witness Mutume was present at the Statue of the Virgin Mary from around 9.00 a.m. to 2.30 p.m. on 15 April 1994.<sup>1151</sup> During the time the witness was at the Statue of the Virgin Mary, he did not see Kanyarukiga or Kanyarukiga's car.<sup>1152</sup> Witness Mutume believed that Kanyarukiga was at home on 15 April 1994 because he did not see Kanyarukiga outside.<sup>1153</sup> He recalled that Kanyarukiga's pharmacy was closed on this day.<sup>1154</sup> According to the witness, the doors of the CODEKOKI building were also closed.<sup>1155</sup> The witness testified that the only people he saw on 15 and 16 April 1994 who he would regard as figures of authority were the communal inspector of judicial police and a teacher.<sup>1156</sup>

411. Witness Mutume testified that he saw a man nicknamed Rukara throw a grenade towards the Tutsi and heard the grenade explode.<sup>1157</sup> Rukara climbed on the wall of one of the houses and threw the grenade towards a crowd of people coming down from the church.<sup>1158</sup> The crowd of people ran away, and the interahamwe and other attackers pursued the Tutsi, hacking them with machetes while they went back to the church.<sup>1159</sup>

Defence Witness François Sibomana

412. In April 1994, Witness Sibomana lived in Giko cellule, Ngobagoba secteur in Kivumu commune. He was a student at the Rwanda National University and was at his parents' house for the Easter holidays.<sup>1160</sup>

413. Witness Sibomana was present at the Statue of the Virgin Mary on 15 April 1994.<sup>1161</sup> He testified that he arrived at the Nyange Centre around 2.00. or 2.30 p.m.<sup>1162</sup> He stayed there for about one hour.<sup>1163</sup>

415. According to the witness, from where he stood, he observed women and children watching what was happening.<sup>1167</sup> The witness testified that, after he arrived at the centre he heard shouts, and some men went up to the church carrying spears and other traditional weapons.<sup>1168</sup> Witness Sibomana testified that he saw hundreds of assailants on the road.<sup>1169</sup> “[I]t was clear they were attacking the church.”<sup>1170</sup> Stones were thrown from the bamboo plantation in front of the church and were falling on the road.<sup>1171</sup> The witness did not notice if there were any grenades being thrown but testified that the “situation was pure chaos.”<sup>1172</sup>

416. The witness testified that people from Kibilira, especially intellectuals like the witness, understood the danger and decided to go back home.<sup>1173</sup>

417. Witness Sibomana estimated that 90 percent of the people who took refuge at the church were Tutsi.<sup>1174</sup>

418. The witness testified that there was a large crowd of people at the Ishusho Centre, but there was nothing in front of Kanyarukiga’s pharmacy.<sup>1175</sup> The witness did not see any vehicle in front of Kanyarukiga’s pharmacy or in front of the shops at the centre since a large crowd of assailants carrying traditional weapons had assembled in front of the shops.<sup>1176</sup> While the witness was in front of the Statue of the Virgin Mary, he did not see Kanyarukiga and stated that Kanyarukiga was not present.<sup>1177</sup> The witness testified that Kanyarukiga’s pharmacy was closed, just like most of the shops at the centre that day.<sup>1178</sup>

419. The witness he did not hear anyone say that Kanyarukiga was present on that day or the following days.<sup>1179</sup>

420. Witness Sibomana then testified that, in light of the prevailing security situation, each person minded their own business, that the witness had no relationship with Kanyarukiga or the bourgmestre and that the bourgmestre was not the witness’s neighbour.<sup>1180</sup> The witness testified that he did not see any of the local authorities he knew at the Statue of the Virgin Mary.<sup>1181</sup>

Defence Witness Fulgence Tugirumukiza

421. Witness Tugirumukiza went to Kanyarukiga's pharmacy to buy medicine on 15 April 1994.<sup>1182</sup> He arrived at the pharmacy around 10.00 a.m.<sup>1183</sup> The witness saw a "huge crowd" at the Statue of the Virgin Mary when he arrived.<sup>1184</sup> The witness recalled that some people were moving towards the church, but the witness went towards the pharmacy, which was closed.<sup>1185</sup> There was nothing in front of the pharmacy, "save for passersby."<sup>1186</sup> The witness did not see any vehicles in front of the pharmacy.<sup>1187</sup>

422. Witness Tugirumukiza stayed at the Statue of the Virgin Mary for about an hour and then went home.<sup>1188</sup> The witness did not see Kanyarukiga while he was at that location on 15 April 1994.<sup>1189</sup> Witness Tugirumukiza said that, "[n]o one told [the witness] that he had seen him, and I heard no one say that he had seen him."<sup>1190</sup> According to the witness, everybody knew when Kanyarukiga was present in the commune.<sup>1191</sup>

423. Witness Tugirumukiza saw a friend opposite the pharmacy, not far from the Statue of the Virgin Mary.<sup>1192</sup> The witness asked his friend, Habarurema, if the pharmacy assistant was around to open the pharmacy to serve him.<sup>1193</sup> Habarurema told the witness that ever since he had arrived to the area, he had not seen the pharmacy open or the pharmacy assistant.<sup>1194</sup>

424. Witness Tugirumukiza recalled that some of the attackers were covered with banana leaves.<sup>1195</sup> There was fighting at the church, but the witness did not go there on 15 April 1994.<sup>1196</sup> The witness could hear the moaning and shouting coming from the church.<sup>1197</sup>

Defence Witness KG15

425. Witness KG15 did not leave the presbytery on Friday 15 April 1994 on account of the insecurity prevailing around the church.<sup>1198</sup> According to the witness, the initial killings began on that day.<sup>1199</sup>

426. Witness KG15 did not know Kanyarukiga in April 1994, nor had he ever heard anyone mention the name Kanyarukiga between 10 and 16 April 1994.<sup>1200</sup>

427. The witness testified that in the evening, whilst he and Fathers Seromba and others were in the courtyard of the presbytery, the bourgmestre and IPJ arrived.<sup>1201</sup> The men conducted a 10 to 15 minute meeting in the inner courtyard of the presbytery, under a tree in front of the living quarters, during which they discussed how to bury those who had been killed.<sup>1202</sup> According to the witness, there was no discussion about the perpetrators of the killings.<sup>1203</sup> Witness KG15 did not see the bourgmestre or the IPJ go up to the bishop's room during this time, and there was no-one else around.<sup>1204</sup> According to Witness KG15, the bourgmestre and the IPJ left together soon after the "small conversation".<sup>1205</sup>

428. Witness KG15 did not witness any other meeting of authorities on 15 April 1994,<sup>1206</sup> nor was he aware of anyone conducting a meeting.

Defence Witness KG45

429. Witness KG45 testified that the Nyange Church was demolished on 16 April 1994.<sup>1207</sup> From this, she deduced that the pharmacy was closed on 14 April 1994 between 12.00 and 1.00 p.m.<sup>1208</sup> The witness did not go to the pharmacy on 15 April 1994 or 16 April 1994 because the security situation had deteriorated.<sup>1209</sup> Witness KG45 recalled that the pharmacy opened again four or five days after the Nyange Church was demolished, around 21 or 22 April 1994.<sup>1210</sup>

5.3. Deliberations

430. Paragraphs 14 and 15 of the Amended Indictment place Kanyarukiga around Nyange Parish for the duration of the attacks on Nyange Church on 15 April 1994. The Defence "categorically denies" that the Accused was present at Nyange Parish on 15 April 1994.<sup>1211</sup>

431. The Chamber notes that it has found, in paragraphs 121 to 137, that the alibi for 15 April 1994 is not reasonably possibly true, for the reasons outlined in that section.

432. Notwithstanding that the alibi for 15 April 1994 is not reasonably possibly true, the Prosecution is still left with the burden to prove beyond reasonable doubt that the Accused was in Nyange on 15 April 1994 and that he was responsible for the attacks as outlined in paragraphs 14 and 15 of the Indictment.

Attacks on Tutsi at Nyange Parish on the morning of 15 April 1994

433. Paragraph 14 of the Indictment alleges that there was an attack on Tutsi civilians at Nyange Parish on the morning of 15 April 1994, which was ordered and instigated by Kanyarukiga, Kayishema, Ndungutse and Ndahimana.

434. It is not disputed that an attack occurred on the morning of 15 April 1994. Prosecution Witnesses CBY, CBN, CBR, CNJ, CBT, CBK, CDK, CDL, YAU and CBS each gave evidence to witnessing an attack at the Nyange Church on the morning of 15 April 1994.<sup>1212</sup> Defence Witness Tugirumukiza also gave evidence as to an attack on the morning of 15 April 1994.<sup>1213</sup> In addition, a number of Defence witnesses attested to witnessing some part of the attack in or around Nyange Parish on 15 April 1994.<sup>1214</sup> Given these accounts largely corroborate each other concerning the attack itself and the time it took place and many of these witnesses were participants in the attacks or eyewitnesses to the attacks, the Chamber finds it established that an attack occurred on the morning of 15 April 1994 at Nyange Parish.

435. Paragraph 14 of the Amended Indictment goes on to allege that the assailants attacked the Tutsi with stones and traditional weapons, but the Tutsi repelled this attack. There does not appear to be any dispute that an attack, involving the use of stones and traditional weapons, occurred against the Tutsi taking refuge in the Nyange Church during the day of 15 April 1994.<sup>1215</sup> Further, Prosecution Witnesses CBY, CBN, CBR, CNJ and CDL each gave evidence that the Tutsi repelled the assailants at this time.<sup>1216</sup>

436. Paragraph 14 alleges that a reservist named Rukara threw grenades, which killed and wounded many. The Chamber notes that all Prosecution witnesses provide evidence as to at least one grenade being thrown at the Tutsi, and a number of these witnesses attest to a person nicknamed Rukara,<sup>1217</sup> throwing a grenade in the early afternoon.<sup>1218</sup> A number of Prosecution

<sup>1212</sup> Witness CBN stated that the throwing of stones began around 9.00 or 10.00 a.m. T. 1 September 2009, p. 60; T. 2 September 2009, p. 23. Witness CBK testified that after a meeting of the authorities at the parish around midday, grenades were thrown at the Tutsi. T. 3 September 2009, pp. 8-9, 18. Witness CNJ arrived at the church between 11.00 a.m. and 1.00 p.m., and the attacks were in motion. T. 7 September 2009, pp. 11-13. Witness CBY stated that the attacks began around 11.00 a.m. T. 8 September 2009, p. 46. Witness CBR testified that he arrived at the Statue of the Virgin Mary between 9.00 and 10.00 a.m. and recalled that the attacks began around midday. T. 9 September 2009, pp. 25, 58, 59. Witness CDL stated that he arrived in the area of Nyange Church at 11.00 a.m., and the attacks had already begun. T. 10 September 2009, p. 32; T. 11 September 2009, pp. 13, 17. Witness CBT arrived at the Nyange Church around midday and people had already been killed at that time. T. 14 September 2009, p. 39. Witness YAU stated that a bus arrived around 11.00 a.m. or 12.00 p.m. which she believed brought attackers to the church. T. 15 September 2009, pp. 18, 43. Witness CDK arrived at the church between 11.00 and 11.30 a.m., and a confrontation was occurring at that time. T. 16 September 2009, p. 3. Witness CBS estimated that the attack began at 9.00 or 9.30 a.m. T. 16 September 2009, pp. 54, 57; T. 17 September 2009, p. 13.

<sup>1213</sup> Witness Tugirumukiza was at the Statue of the Virgin Mary at 10.00 a.m. for an hour, and at that time there was a huge crowd. T. 1 February 2010, pp. 55, 57, 58.

<sup>1214</sup> Witness Mutume, T. 27 January 2010, pp. 31, 44, 47-48; Witness Sibomana, T. 1 February 2010, p. 29 (“[I]t was clear that they were attacking the church.”). Witness KG19 testified that he believed the attack was in the afternoon. T. 27 January 2010, p. 5 (CS). He later said that the attack began in the afternoon and ended around 4.00 p.m. T. 27 January 2010, p. 23. Witness Tugirumukiza described fighting at the church, but he did not go to the church itself. T. 1 February 2010, p. 64.

<sup>1215</sup> The Defence notes in its Final Brief that, “[t]he underlying events in the Prosecution’s case may or may not have unfolded generally as one or other of the Prosecution witnesses have described.” Defence Final Brief, para. 4. Prosecution witnesses testified as follows: Witness CBN, T. 1 September 2009, pp. 60-61; T. 2 September 2009, p. 23; Witness CNJ, T. 7 September 2009, pp. 56-57, 66; Witness CBY, T. 8 September 2009, p. 46; Witness CBR, T. 9 September 2009, p. 25; Witness CDK, T. 16 September 2009, pp. 3, 6; Witness CBS, T. 16 September 2009, pp. 54, 56-57; T. 17 September 2009, pp. 13, 15-16. Defence Witness KG19 corroborates evidence regarding the throwing of stones but did not indicate who threw the stones. He also corroborates the evidence that traditional weapons were used. T. 27 January 2010, pp. 5-6, 15 (CS). Witness Sibomana stated that attackers were carrying traditional weapons. T. 1 February 2010, pp. 29, 30, 31.

<sup>1216</sup> Witness CBR, T. 9 September 2009, p. 25; Witness CNJ, T. 7 September 2009, p. 56; Witness CBY, T. 8 September 2009, p. 46; Witness CBN, T. 1 September 2009, pp. 60, 61; Witness CDL, T. 10 September 2009, p. 32.

<sup>1217</sup> Prosecution Witnesses CBY, CBR, CNJ, CDL, CBT, CDK and CBK recalled that Rukara threw the grenade. Witness CBK, T. 3 September 2009, p. 18; Witness CNJ, T. 7 September 2009, pp. 16, 33, 74-75; Witness CDK, T. 16 September 2009, p. 6; Witness CBY, T. 8 September 2009, p. 46; T. 14 September 2009, pp. 17-19; Witness CBR, T. 9 September 2009, pp. 25, 66; Witness CDL said that communal police, gendarmes and a reservist named Rukara were all throwing grenades. T. 10 September 2009, pp. 32-33; Witness CBT, T. 14 September 2009, p. 48. Defence Witness Mutume personally witnessed the throwing of a grenade by Rukara on 15 April 1994. T. 27 January 2010, pp. 47-48.

witnesses provided evidence that some Tutsi were killed as a result of these attacks.<sup>1219</sup> The Chamber further finds that the Tutsi taking refuge in the Nyange Church were targeted by Hutu assailants who threw stones and attacked them with traditional weapons. The Tutsi then repelled the Hutu attackers, which led to the throwing of at least one grenade by Rukara at the group of Tutsi later in the afternoon and the death of many Tutsi civilians.

437. Along with several other Prosecution witnesses, Witness CBS testified that the assailants were shouting loudly “[e]xterminate them all. Let no one escape.”<sup>1220</sup> In addition, Witness CBN corroborates this fact as he testified that on 15 April, as the attacks began, the assailants said “[I]et us exterminate them.”<sup>1221</sup> The witness recounted that others were shouting and that “[t]hey sang different slogans.”<sup>1222</sup> As discussed below, the Chamber finds both Witnesses CBN and CBS credible.<sup>1223</sup> Further, given that Witnesses CBS and CBN were present at the church on this date and are survivors of the attacks, this gives further weight to their account of what was being said at the church by attackers on 15 April 1994. Thus, the Chamber finds it established beyond reasonable doubt, that the attackers were shouting loudly “[e]xterminate them all. Let no one escape.”

438. Evidence is provided by Prosecution Witnesses CBY, CBS (this witness took refuge in the presbytery), CBR and CNJ that those Tutsi who survived this attack took refuge in the Nyange Church and locked themselves inside.<sup>1224</sup> Again, because there is corroboration amongst the Prosecution witnesses on this fact, the Chamber finds it established that the Tutsi at Nyange Parish took refuge in the Nyange Church after being overpowered by the Hutu assailants.

439. The Chamber will now consider evidence relating to Fulgence Kayishema, Téléphore Ngundutse and Grégoire Ndahimana.

<sup>1218</sup> The following witnesses gave evidence regarding the time the grenade were thrown. Witness CBN states that he left between 1.00 and 2.00 p.m., after grenades had begun to be thrown. T. 1 September 2009, p. 61. Witness CNJ, T. 7 September 2009, p. 56. Witness CBY said that Rukara threw the grenade before noon. T. 14 September 2009, p. 19. Witness CBR recalled the grenade was thrown around 1.00 p.m. T. 9 September 2009, pp. 25, 66. Witness CBS stated that the grenade was thrown during the course of the attacks. T. 16 September 2009, pp. 56-57; T. 17 September 2009, p. 16. Defence Witness KG19 testified that the attack finished around 4.00 p.m. T. 27 January 2010, p. 23. Witness YAU stated that grenades were thrown but not say by whom or when. T. 15 September 2009, p. 19.

<sup>1219</sup> Witness CDK, T. 16 September 2009, pp. 6, 28-29; Witness CDL, T. 10 September 2009, pp. 33-34; Witness CBS, T. 16 September 2009, p. 57. Prosecution Witnesses CBY, CBS, CBN, CBR, CNJ, CDL, CBT and CDK all either witnessed the deaths of Tutsi at the Nyange Church or testified that they saw bodies at the Nyange Church in the afternoon of 15 April 1994. Witness CBT, T. 14 September 2009, pp. 39, 72; Witness CBN, T. 1 September 2009, pp. 61, 64; Witness CNJ, T. 7 September 2009, p. 19; Witness CBR, T. 9 September 2009, pp. 25-26; Witness CDL, T. 10 September 2009, p. 33. Witness CDK did not testify to seeing bodies directly but said bulldozers were used to move the bodies of Tutsi on 15 April 1994. T. 16 September 2009, pp. 8-9; Witness CBY, T. 8 September 2009, p. 46; Witness CBS, T. 16 September 2009, p. 57.

<sup>1220</sup> T. 16 September 2009, p. 57. In addition, witnesses who took part in the attacks at Nyange Parish recounted the following. Witness CNJ testified that, “we could not exterminate all the Tutsi” at the Nyange Church on 15 April 1994. T. 7 September 2009, p. 20. Witness CNJ further testified that, “[o]ur objective was to exterminate the Tutsis totally.” T. 7 September 2009, p. 23. Witness CBR testified in the context of the attacks on 16 April 1994 that, “[t]he objective at the level of the entire commune was the extermination of the Tutsis who resided there.” T. 9 September 2009, p. 32. Witness CDK also testified that, in relation to the attempted destruction of the church, “[t]hose people were trying to destroy the church. So that the inyenzis who were inside the church should die”. T. 16 September 2009, p. 8.

<sup>1222</sup> T. 1 September 2009, p. 60. Witness YAU stated that the assailants’ intention was to kill the Tutsi refugees (but she did not say how she knew this). T. 15 September 2009, p. 16. Witness CNJ said simply, “we wanted to exterminate the Tutsis”. T. 8 September 2009, p. 4.

440. Almost all Prosecution witnesses testify that they saw Fulgence Kayishema, Grégoire Ndahimana, Téléphore Ndungutse or Athanase Seromba (or all of them) prior to or during the attacks on the morning of 15 April. Witnesses CBS, CBR, CBT, CBK, CDL, YAU and CDK place at least one of Kayishema, Ndungutse or Ndahimana at Nyange Church prior to the attacks on the morning of 15 April.<sup>1225</sup> Each of Witnesses CBK, CBT, CDK and YAU are regarded with caution by the Chamber, particularly without corroboration. In that regard, the Chamber notes that Witnesses CBY, CBS and CBR consistently place all three of these people at the Nyange Church at some point prior to the attacks. These three witnesses, as discussed elsewhere in these deliberations, are regarded as credible by the Chamber.<sup>1226</sup> Further, Witnesses CNJ and CBR place at least one of Rushema, Kayishema, Ndahimana or Ndungutse around the Statue of the Virgin Mary prior to or during the attacks on the morning of 15 April.<sup>1227</sup> Accordingly, the Chamber finds it established that Fulgence Kayishema, Grégoire Ndahimana and Téléphore Ndungutse were at the Nyange Church and surrounds (including the Statue of the Virgin Mary) prior to the attacks on the morning of 15 April.

441. The Chamber notes that Witnesses CBT, CDK and CBR attest to being called to Nyange Church on 15 April 1994 by IPJ Kayishema, who was using a public address system or loudspeaker to call the members of the public to defend the Nyange Parish compound because it was being attacked by inyenzi.<sup>1228</sup> Witness CBS provides circumstantial evidence when he testified that a vehicle was being used to transport assailants.<sup>1229</sup> The Defence does not address this evidence. The Chamber recalls that both Witnesses CBT and CDK were accomplices to the attacks on Nyange Parish and therefore treats them with appropriate caution. The Chamber regards Witness CBR's evidence as generally credible. Similarly, the Chamber regards the circumstantial support provided by Witness CBS as also credible. The Chamber therefore regards Witness CBR's corroboration of Witnesses CBT and CDK, in addition to Witness CBS's evidence, as sufficient to establish that Kayishema encouraged the Hutu population to attend the Nyange Church on 15 April 1994.

442. Witness CNJ stated that Ndahimana, Kayishema, Ndungutse, Habiyaambere and Kiragi welcomed the assailants when the witness arrived at the Nyange Trading Centre, and Ndahimana requested that they cover their bodies with banana leaves so as to distinguish themselves from the Tutsi taking refuge in the church.<sup>1230</sup> Witness CNJ is a single accomplice witness who the Chamber <sup>1225</sup> Witness CBK placed Ndahimana, Kayishema, Rushema, Mbakirirehe and Kanyarukiga at a meeting at the presbytery around midday on 15 April, which was followed by grenades being thrown. T. 3 September 2009, pp. 8-9, 18. Witness CBS placed Kayishema, Ndahimana and Kanyarukiga at the Nyange Parish and/or the Nyange Trading Centre during the attacks. T. 16 September 2009, pp. 56, 57. Witness CBR recounted that Ndahimana, Kayishema, Habiyaambere, Ndungutse, Kanyarukiga and others moved from the Statue of the Virgin Mary to the Nyange Parish Presbytery on the morning of 15 April 1994. T. 9 September 2009, pp. 17-18. Witness CDL saw Seromba at the Nyange Parish on the morning of 15 April. T. 10 September 2009, p. 33. Witness YAU saw Seromba, Kayishema, Ndahimana and Kanyarukiga at the church prior to the morning attack with grenades. T. 15 September 2009, pp. 18, 19. Witness CBT lists Kayishema, Ndungutse, Habiyaambere and Kanyarukiga as authorities who were present during the killings. T. 14 September 2009, pp. 39-40.

<sup>1227</sup> Witness CNJ testified that when he arrived outside Kanyarukiga's pharmacy (between 11.00 a.m. and 1.00 p.m.) Ndahimana, Kayishema, Ndungutse and Habiyaambere were also around that area. T. 7 September 2009, pp. 12, 13. This witness also noted that Kanyarukiga was standing with Ndahimana before the morning attacks and that Kayishema was present throughout the attacks. T. 7 September 2009, pp. 13, 16-17. Witness CBR testified that when he arrived at the Statue of the Virgin Mary between 9.00 and 10.00 a.m. he saw Ndahimana, Kayishema, Habiyaambere and Ndungutse around that area. T. 9 September 2009, p. 16.

<sup>1228</sup> Witness CBT, T. 14 September 2009, pp. 38-39. regards as unreliable without corroboration. Therefore, the Chamber does not find it established, based on Witness CNJ's evidence, that Ndahimana, Kayishema, Ndungutse and Habiyaambere welcomed assailants and that Ndahimana requested that they cover themselves with banana leaves. Similarly, although CNJ gave evidence that Kayishema ordered the grenade attack against the Tutsi,<sup>1231</sup> the Chamber does not accord any weight to this evidence for the reasons discussed above.

443. Witness CBT also stated that Kayishema asked "people to go cut grass, to construct a ladder that would enable or help people climb up and throw the fuel through the windows."<sup>1232</sup> The Chamber has not found Witness CBT to be reliable without corroboration, and as such, does not accord weight to Witness CBT's evidence. Therefore, the Chamber does not find it established that Kayishema asked the attackers to cut grass and construct a ladder in order to throw fuel through the windows of the church.

Kanyarukiga's Role

444. The Chamber will now turn to the question of what role, if any, Kanyarukiga had in the attack on the morning of 15 April 1994.

445. The Prosecution has led evidence implicating the Accused in meetings at the Nyange Parish on 15 April 1994. The Chamber notes that the Amended Indictment does not include any express charge that the Accused took part in meetings on 15 April 1994. The Chamber further notes that the original indictment included a paragraph that mentioned a meeting on 15 April 1994 at Nyange Parish with Kanyarukiga, Seromba, Kayiranga and Kayishema among others.<sup>1233</sup> The Prosecution removed this paragraph from the Amended Indictment, which suggests that it did not intend to lead evidence regarding a meeting on 15 April 1994. Ordinarily, the Chamber should disregard such evidence.<sup>1234</sup> The Chamber notes, however, that the evidence provided by Prosecution witnesses regarding meetings on 15 April 1994 is not factually similar, in any way, to the allegation removed from the original indictment.

446. Prosecution Witness CBK testified to a meeting occurring on 15 April 1994 at the Nyange Parish before midday and to a subsequent meeting in the presbytery between 2.30 p.m. and 3.30 p.m.<sup>1235</sup> Witness CBK's evidence regarding the first meeting is outlined in the witness summary annexed to the Prosecution's Pre-Trial Brief, however, the afternoon meeting is not mentioned in this summary. Evidence regarding both meetings was discussed by the witness in a pre-trial statement.<sup>1236</sup> The Defence objected to this evidence on the basis that there was no notice.<sup>1237</sup> The

<sup>1233</sup> [Original] Indictment, para. 13. The paragraph reads: "On or about 15 April 1994, a bus arrived at Nyange Parish, from KIBUYE préfecture, transporting armed [i]nterahamwe and a priest named KAYIRANGWA. Soon after, a meeting held among Gaspard KANYARUKIGA[,] [F]ather SEROMBA, priest [sic] KAYIRANGWA[,] Fulgence KAYISHEMA, and others unknown to the Prosecution."

<sup>1235</sup> T. 3 September 2009, pp. 8-9, 21. Witness CBK testified that both meetings were attended by Gaspard Kanyarukiga, Christophe Mbakirirehe, Grégoire Ndahimana, Fulgence Kayishema, Anastase Rushema and others.

<sup>1236</sup> Both meetings, morning and afternoon, were mentioned by the witness in his statement of 2002 (Defence Exhibit D14(A) (Statement of Witness CBK dated 24 October and 19 & 20 November 2002)). This statement is not consistent with his oral testimony and the testimony of others about the progression of the destruction of the church. Witness CBK's 2000 statement mentions the afternoon meeting also. Defence Exhibit D16(A) (Statement of Witness CBK dated 15 August 2000).

<sup>1237</sup> Defence Final Brief, paras. 207-208; T. 3 September 2009, p. 10. The Chamber has noted that the Defence objected to a leading question during the presentation of this evidence, however, aside from this did not object to the introduction of this evidence, either at trial or in its motion for exclusion of evidence. In the Defence's closing brief it raises an objection to this evidence and cites a transcript reference. However, upon review of the transcript, the objection was not directly about the meeting.

Chamber notes, however, that the location of the meetings and the attendees of the meetings reflect the people and location outlined in paragraphs 14 and 15 of the Amended Indictment, and the evidence of these meetings relates to events at the Nyange Parish. In this way, the meetings and the attacks at Nyange Parish form one event as outlined in the relevant paragraphs of the Amended Indictment. This piece of evidence relates to whether Kanyarukiga was present at the Nyange Parish on 15 April 1994, and the Chamber will treat it as such. Therefore, the Chamber will consider this evidence.

447. Similarly, Witness CBY provided evidence regarding a meeting on 15 April 1994 in the presbytery of the Nyange Church, the attendees being Kayishema, Ndungutse, Ndahimana, “Théodomir” and the Accused.<sup>1238</sup> For the reasons stated with regard to Witness CBK’s testimony above, the Chamber will consider this evidence in its deliberations.

448. The Chamber notes that Witness CBN testified to seeing Kanyarukiga opposite his pharmacy in the “company of several other members of the population” during the attacks on 15 April 1994.<sup>1239</sup> The witness alluded to a meeting that occurred during this time, which Kanyarukiga attended. Although the Chamber has considered that this evidence relates to Kanyarukiga being near the Statue of the Virgin Mary, not at the Nyange Parish, the area in which the attacks and events outlined in paragraphs 14 and 15 occurred, includes the area around the Statue of the Virgin Mary. Therefore, for the same reasons discussed above, the Chamber will consider this evidence in its deliberations.

449. The Chamber recalls that in its 15 January 2010 decision on the Defence motion for exclusion of evidence, the Trial Chamber reserved until the judgement its decision on whether to exclude Prosecution evidence of certain meetings allegedly attended by the Accused. In particular, the Chamber reserved its decision with regard to the evidence of Witnesses CBR and CDK regarding Kanyarukiga attending a meeting at the CODEKOKI on 15 April 1994.<sup>1240</sup>

450. Prosecution Witnesses CBR<sup>1241</sup> and CDK’s<sup>1242</sup> testimony regarding meetings on 15 April 1994 can be distinguished from the meetings discussed above in that they do not relate at all to paragraphs 14 and 15 of the Indictment. These witnesses testified about a meeting at the CODEKOKI building, which is a more distinct geographical location to that location pleaded in the relevant Indictment paragraphs.<sup>1243</sup> Further, the evidence given by these witnesses describes a purposeful meeting where the participants go inside the CODEKOKI building to have a meeting. This can be distinguished from the evidence of Witnesses CBN, CBK and CBY above, which relate to gatherings of people around the Nyange Parish, presbytery and Statue of the Virgin Mary. The

<sup>1240</sup> Decision on Defence Motion for a Stay of the Proceedings or Exclusion of Evidence Outside the Scope of the Indictment (TC), 15 January 2010, para. 17.

<sup>1241</sup> There is no mention of this meeting in the summary of Witness CBR’s anticipated testimony in The Prosecutor’s Pre-Trial Brief. Witness CBR mentions a meeting in a building on 15 April 1994 in the statement he provided on 9 October 2001; however it is unclear what building the witness is referring to. Defence Exhibit D27(B) (Statement of Witness CBR dated 9 October 2001), p. 3. The Defence objected to the introduction of this evidence at trial (T. 9 September 2009, p. 19), in its motion for exclusion of evidence (Motion for Stay of Proceedings, or Exclusion of Evidence Outside the Indictment, filed on 18 December 2009, p. 28) and in its closing brief (Defence Final Brief, paras. 204-206). The Chamber reserved its decision with regard to the Defence request to exclude this evidence in its decision of 15 January 2010. Decision on Defence Motion for a Stay of the Proceedings or Exclusion of Evidence Outside the Scope of the Indictment (TC), 15 January 2010, para. 17.

<sup>1242</sup> The Defence objected to the introduction of this evidence at trial (T. 16 September 2009, p. 4), in its motion for exclusion of evidence (Motion for Stay of Proceedings, or Exclusion of Evidence Outside the Indictment, filed on 18 December 2009, p. 28) and in its closing brief (Defence Final Brief, paras. 204-206).

Prosecution mentioned a meeting at the CODEKOKI building briefly in its Pre-Trial Brief.<sup>1244</sup> However, this meeting was not mentioned in either Witness CBR or Witness CDK's summary annexed to the Prosecutor's Pre-Trial Brief. The Chamber notes that the Defence objected to the introduction of this evidence on a number of occasions. The Chamber recalls that an accused may only be convicted of criminal conduct correctly pleaded in the indictment.<sup>1245</sup> The Chamber therefore will not consider this evidence in its deliberations on the basis that this is a new allegation of which the Accused has not been given sufficient notice.

451. Turning now to the evidence on its merits, Prosecution Witnesses CBR,<sup>1246</sup> CNJ,<sup>1247</sup> CBT<sup>1248</sup> and CDK<sup>1249</sup> each place the Accused at the Nyange Church on 15 April 1994 in the company of the local authorities. They each testify to seeing at least one of Kanyarukiga, Kayishema, Ndungutse and Ndahimana at the parish or the Statue of the Virgin Mary on 15 April 1994.

452. The Defence submits, both in cross-examination and in its closing brief, that not only were these four witnesses (in addition to Witness CDL) found guilty of perpetrating crimes at Nyange Parish by the Gacaca courts, but they were also incarcerated together in the Kibuye Prison and therefore should be treated with "maximum" caution.<sup>1250</sup> It has also been submitted by the Defence that Witnesses CBR, CNJ, CBT, CDK and CDL all took part in Gacaca sessions regarding the destruction of the Nyange Church in Kibuye Prison, which suggests collusion, and as a result, these witnesses should be treated with further caution.<sup>1251</sup> It is noted that a number of these witnesses admitted to taking part in Gacaca sessions regarding the events at Nyange Parish.<sup>1252</sup> Further, these five witnesses took part in a sensitisation program whilst in Kibuye Prison, which encouraged <sup>1246</sup> Witness CBR testified to seeing a number of "authorities," including Bourgmestre Ndahimana, IPJ Kayishema, businessman Gaspard Kanyarukiga, the President of the Court Habiyaambere and the teacher Ndungutse. T. 9 September 2009, p. 23. He also testified to seeing Kanyarukiga at the Statue of the Virgin Mary early on the morning of 15 April 1994 and again around midday at the same place. T. 9 September 2009, pp. 16, 58. This witness identified the Accused in court. T. 9 September 2009, p. 31.

<sup>1247</sup> Witness CNJ said that he arrived at Nyange Parish between 11.00 a.m. and 1.00 p.m. and was received by Ndahimana, Kayishema, Ndungutse, Kiragi and Habiyaambere and these men congratulated them for coming as reinforcement. T. 7 September 2009, pp. 13, 56. He also stated that after the grenade attack, Habiyaambere, Kayishema, Ndungutse and the Accused were present at the Statue of the Virgin Mary. T. 7 September 2009, pp. 16-17. This witness identified the Accused in court. T. 7 September 2009, p. 35.

<sup>1248</sup> Witness CBT saw a number of "authorities" at the Nyange Parish, including Kanyarukiga, Habiyaambere, Gaca Butelezi (a presiding judge), IPJ Kayishema and Télesphore Ndungutse. T. 14 September 2009, p. 40. Witness CBT saw the Accused on 15 April 1994 in a group of "officials" saying to these people that all inyenzi who were seeking refuge at the Nyange Church had to be killed. T. 14 September 2009, pp. 46, 49. This witness identified the Accused in court. T. 14 September 2009, pp. 49-50.

<sup>1249</sup> Witness CDK saw the Accused, Kayishema, and Ndahimana together with those people that were gathered in the square at the Statue of the Virgin Mary. Kanyarukiga met with the people who were at the square and he talked with them, prior to the attacks on the morning of 15 April 1994. Witness CDK also saw Kanyarukiga around the time that the grenade was thrown. T. 16 September 2009, pp. 6-7. This witness identified the Accused in court. T. 16 September 2009, p. 13.

prisoners to confess their crimes and provide details of others who took part in those crimes in order to reduce their sentences.<sup>1253</sup>

453. The Chamber recalls its discussion of the jurisprudence regarding accomplice evidence.<sup>1254</sup> The Chamber has concerns about the effect that the Gacaca sessions and sensitisation program may have on the testimony of these witnesses. Specifically, the Chamber regards Witnesses CBT, CDL and CNJ with greater caution than Witnesses CBR and CDK. There is evidence that Witness CDL was more involved in the attacks than he testified to, which the Chamber believes may influence the extent to which he implicates the Accused in the attacks on 15 April 1994.<sup>1255</sup> The Chamber has discussed its concerns with regard to Witness CNJ and CBT in paragraphs 468 and 496, which are serious in the Chamber's view. With these concerns in mind, the Chamber is extremely cautious with regard to these two witnesses. However, while the Chamber is mindful of the witnesses' incarceration together and treats their evidence with caution, it does not believe that this fact alone invalidates their testimony.

454. Witness YAU corroborates that Kanyarukiga was at the church on the morning of 15 April 1994.<sup>1256</sup> Although this witness identified the Accused in court,<sup>1257</sup> the Chamber has serious reservations with regard to this witness and believes that she lends only corroborative value to the evidence that Kanyarukiga was present at Nyange Church on the morning of 15 April. The Chamber will look to more credible witnesses for corroboration of Kanyarukiga's presence.

455. The Chamber notes that Witnesses CBK, CBN, CBS, and CBY, who are not accomplices to the attacks in Nyange, also place Kanyarukiga at Nyange Parish on the morning of 15 April 1994. Witness CBK placed the Accused at the Nyange Parish on 15 April 1994<sup>1258</sup> along with Bourgmestre Ndahimana, IPJ Kayishema, Brigadier Christophe Mbakirirehe and Father Seromba who were all "heading" the assailants.<sup>1259</sup> In addition, Witness CBK provides evidence that Kanyarukiga, along with Grégoire Ndahimana, IPJ Kayishema, Brigadier Christophe Mbakirirehe and Anastase Rushema, met with the Hutu assailants prior to the attacks on 15 April 1994 in the Nyange Parish grounds and subsequent to this, the assailants launched grenades and shot at the church.<sup>1260</sup> Witness CBN gave evidence that Kanyarukiga was with the assailants opposite Kanyarukiga's pharmacy between 9.00 and 10.00 a.m. on 15 April 1994.<sup>1261</sup> Witness CBS also saw the Accused at the Statue of the Virgin Mary in the company of Ndahimana and Rushema during <sup>1256</sup> T. 15 September 2009, pp. 18-19. The witness refers to Kanyarukiga being at the church on the morning of the "third day" as this witness does not give dates during her testimony. The Chamber has inferred that Witness YAU's account of the "third day" relates to 15 April 1994.

<sup>1261</sup> T. 1 September 2009, pp. 61, 64. The Chamber notes that in his statement dated 2 February 1996, Witness CBN said that he saw Kanyarukiga every day the witness was at the Nyange Church. Defence Exhibit D4 (Statement of Witness CBN dated 2 February 1996), p. 4. Witness CBN also testified that he saw the Accused with Kayishema and Mbakirirehe opposite Kanyarukiga's pharmacy during the attacks on the morning of 15 April 1994, however, this witness then went on to say that he saw Kanyarukiga only once on 15 April. T. 1 September 2009, pp. 61, 64. The Chamber has considered this.

the attack on the morning of 15 April 1994.<sup>1262</sup> Witness CBY testified that on the morning of 15 April 1994, Kanyarukiga arrived at the parish along with Kayishema, Ndungutse, Grégoire Ndahimana and Théodomir (nicknamed Kiragi), and they met with “the Priest” for one hour.<sup>1263</sup>

456. The Defence submits that Witnesses CBK, CBN and CBS each have a motivation to falsely accuse Kanyarukiga given their connections with persons in Kivumu commune who have or have had interests in property that Kanyarukiga owned in 1994.<sup>1264</sup> The Defence submits that Witnesses CBK, CBS and CBN have business interests with these persons in Kivumu commune and were involved in appropriating or destroying certain pieces of Kanyarukiga’s property.<sup>1265</sup> Aside from Witnesses CBS and CBN admitting that they knew one of the people the Defence has made allegations about,<sup>1266</sup> these witnesses denied all allegations raised by the Defence.<sup>1267</sup> The Defence has not presented any evidence to rebut the denial of these witnesses. As such, the Chamber does not consider the allegations made by the Defence to cast doubt on the evidence of these witnesses.

457. Witness CBN is a Tutsi survivor of the attacks on 15 April and provides consistent evidence with regard to the Accused’s presence at Nyange Parish. The Chamber has considered the fact that Witness CBN participated in a class action for damages against Athanase Seromba, Grégoire Ndahimana and Fulgence Kayishema (among others), which applied for compensation for loss of Tutsi family members.<sup>1268</sup> The Defence pointed out that Kanyarukiga was not included in this civil action and questioned the witness as to why the Accused was excluded.<sup>1269</sup> The witness explained that the Accused was omitted because this action did not include business people.<sup>1270</sup> The Chamber accepts this explanation. Again, the Defence provided no further evidence to support their allegation. The Chamber therefore finds Witness CBN’s account to be credible.

458. Witness CBS, for his part, denied participating in this civil action for damages.<sup>1271</sup> The Defence noted that, notwithstanding this denial, the witness’s name appeared on a document regarding this civil claim.<sup>1272</sup> The Chamber has been provided with this document listing Witness CBS as one of those people bringing this claim, however, this document bears no physical signature of the witness.<sup>1273</sup> The Chamber does not find this to be sufficient to cast doubt on this witness’s testimony. Further, the Defence noted that Witness CBS denied giving oral evidence in front of the Specialized Chamber of the Kibuye Court of First Instance regarding proceedings against a number of “leaders” of the attacks at Nyange Parish.<sup>1274</sup> The Chamber notes that Witness CBS stated that he only gave a written statement to the Kibuye Court of First Instance,<sup>1275</sup> which is confirmed by the <sup>1262</sup> T. 17 September 2009, p. 12. Defence exhibits that state that some witnesses were not heard before the Court or did not appear.<sup>1276</sup> The Defence has provided no evidence that Witness CBS was a witness that orally testified in this case, aside from the use of the word in the judgement stating that the witness “testified”, which is inconclusive.<sup>1277</sup> The Chamber does not find the Defence suggestion that Witness CBS testified orally to be sufficient to cast doubt on this witness’s testimony.

459. The Defence further submits that Kanyarukiga was not mentioned in these proceedings, notwithstanding that it concerned leaders of the attacks at Nyange Parish.<sup>1278</sup> The Chamber notes, however, that these proceedings were not brought against Grégoire Ndahimana or Télesphore Ndungutse either.<sup>1279</sup> Given that some Defence witnesses agree with Prosecution witnesses discussed above that Ndahimana and Ndungutse were at the Nyange Church during the attacks between 14 and 16 April 1994,<sup>1280</sup> the fact that Kanyarukiga was not mentioned in this proceeding, is inconclusive as to his presence at the church.<sup>1281</sup>

460. The Chamber has considered that Witness CBS placed the Accused at Nyange Church on 15 April 1994 in his 1995 and 1996 statements, however, in his subsequent 2003 statement, he does not mention the Accused.<sup>1282</sup> The Chamber notes that in his earlier statements, Witness CBS stated that the Accused was present during the attacks on Nyange Church. These statements were provided a year or two after the destruction of Nyange Church, and as such, the Chamber regards the earlier statements as the more reliable account, given the attacks would have been fresher in the witness’s mind. Further, the Chamber notes that Witness CBS is a Tutsi survivor and is familiar with the Accused’s family because he was the neighbour to some of Kanyarukiga’s family. On balance, the Chamber finds that Witness CBS is a credible witness and his testimony regarding the presence of the Accused at Nyange Parish and surrounds on 15 April 1994 is reliable.

461. The Chamber therefore accepts the account of Witness CBK, as discussed above, given the credible corroboration by Witnesses CBN and CBS.

Defence Exhibit D11(A) (Appeals Judgement, Ruhengeri Court of Appeal), p. 4. This undermines the Defence argument. Defence Final Brief, para. 418.

<sup>1280</sup> Witness KG15 said that on 15 April 1994, the priests asked the bourgmestre to arrange for the burial of those persons who had been killed at the parish. T. 11 February 2010, pp. 16-17, 18, 37 (CS). Witness KG15 refers to the bourgmestre being present on 16 April and sending the bulldozer that was eventually used to demolish the church to the parish. T. 11 February 2010, pp. 18-19, 37 (CS). Witness Sibomana testified that it was well known that Télesphore Ndungutse was involved in the killings at the Nyange Parish because Ndungutse was in charge of the interahamwe in Kivumu commune. T. 1 February 2010, p. 44. With regard to the attacks on 14 April 1994, Witness Nayituriki recognised some persons in the group, including Ndungutse, who was a teacher and a colleague of his older brother. T. 8 February 2010, pp. 10, 11. Witness Nayituriki testified that Ndungutse accompanied the witness and his companions to the Mutanoga Centre. T. 8 February 2010, p. 23. While they were drinking at the Mutanoga Centre, Ndungutse told the witness and his companions that “they” had attacked the persons taking refuge in the church, and those in the church had retaliated by throwing stones at the attackers. T. 8 February 2010, pp. 10-11, 23.

<sup>1281</sup> The Chamber notes that the Defence has submitted this argument with respect to Witnesses YAU, CBN, CBY, CBS and CDL. Defence Final Brief, paras. 416-429.

<sup>1282</sup> Witness CBS’s statement dated 2 February 1996 lists Kanyarukiga as one of the leaders of those who attacked the church on 15 April 1994, places Kanyarukiga at the church on 15 April 1994 and notes that the Accused brought the grenades. Defence Exhibit D48(B) (Statement of Witness CBS dated 2 February 1996), pp. 3, 4. The witness’s 2003 statement does not mention Kanyarukiga. Defence Exhibit D49(B) (Statement of Witness CBS dated 12 March 2003).

462. Witness CBY testified that the Accused was present at the Nyange Parish on 15 April 1994 prior to 11.00 a.m. because the witness saw Kanyarukiga having a meeting with Kayishema, Ndungutse, Grégoire Ndahimana, “the priest” and Théodomir.<sup>1283</sup> Witness CBR similarly noted that he saw various “authorities”, including Kanyarukiga, going to the presbytery on the morning of 15 April.<sup>1284</sup> The evidence of Witnesses CBY and CBR specifically corroborates Witness CBK’s testimony regarding a meeting prior to the attacks, in addition to generally corroborating Prosecution Witnesses CNJ and CBK, who state that Kanyarukiga was at the parish prior to the attacks. The Chamber notes that the Accused attending a specific meeting in the morning 15 April 1994 was not pled in the Indictment and as such, the Chamber finds that Witnesses CBK and CBY’s evidence only establishes that the Accused was at the Nyange Church around 11.00 a.m. in the company of Kayishema and Ndahimana. When considering the totality of evidence presented regarding Kanyarukiga’s presence, the Chamber is satisfied that all the Prosecution witnesses discussed here support Kanyarukiga’s presence around Nyange Parish and Nyange Trading Centre (Statue of Virgin Mary) during the morning of 15 April.

463. The Chamber recalls the testimony of Defence Witnesses KG19, Mutume and Tugirumukiza, who were all present on the morning of 15 April 1994 at the Statue of the Virgin Mary and each did not see the Accused.<sup>1285</sup> Defence Witness KG15 was at the Nyange Parish Presbytery on the morning of 15 April 1994 and did not see Kanyarukiga at that time.<sup>1286</sup> Witnesses KG19 and KG15 noted that there was chaos at the Statue of the Virgin Mary and surrounds on the morning of 15 April 1994. This indicates that it is likely that there were people who did not see the Accused at the Statue of the Virgin Mary on that morning.<sup>1287</sup> Further, none of these witnesses gave evidence that they did not see Kanyarukiga at the Nyange Church. Therefore these witnesses do not cast doubt on the Prosecution evidence that Kanyarukiga was present in the areas of the Statue of the Virgin Mary and Nyange Church on the morning of 15 April.

464. The Chamber finds it therefore established, beyond reasonable doubt that Kanyarukiga was present at Nyange Parish prior to 11.00 a.m. on 15 April with Kayishema and Ndahimana. It is also established that Kanyarukiga was around the areas of the Statue of the Virgin Mary and Nyange Church on the morning of 15 April, prior to and during the attacks outlined in paragraph 14 of the Indictment.

465. The Chamber will now turn its attention to evidence that is specific to Kanyarukiga’s role in the morning attack on 15 April.

466. Witness CBN provided evidence that Kanyarukiga’s car was used to transport attackers to the church. Although the witness did not provide a clear date, it was discussed in the context of 15 April 1994.<sup>1288</sup> This allegation is not pled in either paragraph 14 or 15 of the Amended Indictment.

<sup>1285</sup> Witness KG19 arrived at the Statue of the Virgin Mary at 9.00 a.m. on 15 April 1994 and remained there for about four or five hours. T. 27 January 2010, pp. 4, 5 (CS); T. 27 January 2010, p. 7. Witness Mutume arrived at the Statue of the Virgin Mary at around 9.00 a.m. on 15 April 1994 and left at around 2.30 p.m. T. 27 January 2010, pp. 32, 33. Witness Tugirumukiza arrived at the Statue of the Virgin Mary around 10.00 a.m. and stayed there for about one hour. T. 1 February 2010, pp. 55, 58, 59.

<sup>1288</sup> T. 1 September 2009, p. 67. The witness’s testimony was as follows: “Kanyarukiga came on board that vehicle and parked it in front of the pharmacy. I saw that vehicle again on the 15th, as I fled. That vehicle was transporting members of the population who were shouting and calling out to members of the population to arrest the inyenzi who were all over. I saw that vehicle not far away from the communal office, as I fled.”

According to the jurisprudence, a vague paragraph in the indictment can be cured through timely, clear and consistent information in, for example, the Prosecutor's pre-trial brief or opening statement. Given this evidence is mentioned in the summary of Witness CBN's anticipated testimony in the Pre-Trial Brief, the Chamber finds that the Defence had sufficient notice of this evidence.<sup>1289</sup> Therefore, the Chamber will consider this evidence on its merits.

467. The Chamber treats this piece of evidence with caution as Witness CBN has identified the Accused's car to be a red pick-up, which is inconsistent with much of the other Prosecution witness testimony (and some Defence testimony), which suggests the Accused drove a red saloon car.<sup>1290</sup> Further, Witnesses CBR and CNJ appear to contradict Witness CBN's evidence given they testified that the only vehicle that they saw at the Statue of the Virgin Mary was Rwamasirabo's vehicle which Kayishema was said to be driving.<sup>1291</sup> Given aspects of this witness's testimony are inconsistent with other Prosecution witnesses, the Chamber does not find it established, beyond reasonable doubt, that Kanyarukiga's car was used to transport attackers to the church.

468. Witness CNJ testified that Ndahimana told the witness and a group of assailants that Kanyarukiga had assured the attackers would be given free treatment at Kanyarukiga's pharmacy.<sup>1292</sup> Witness CDK similarly testified that wounded Hutu attackers were treated at Kanyarukiga's pharmacy.<sup>1293</sup> There is no further evidence provided by the Prosecution as to the manner in which the pharmacy was accessed or, indeed, what time the attackers were treated. The Chamber recalls its discussion regarding the Prosecution witnesses who were incarcerated together at Kibuye Prison. The Chamber also recalls that it should be particularly mindful of any motives an accomplice witness may have to implicate an accused.<sup>1294</sup> Witness CNJ admitted to taking $5,000 from a person in detention with him in order to change his testimony in the Seromba case.<sup>1295</sup> Although the witness admitted that he eventually changed his mind regarding the $5,000,<sup>1296</sup> the Chamber has concerns about the veracity of Witness CNJ's evidence. Further, Witness CDK is still incarcerated in Gitarama Prison, which may make this witness more likely to implicate the Accused in order to reduce his sentence.<sup>1297</sup>

<sup>1296</sup> This witness testified that he decided not to take this money during the Seromba case because, in his words: "I realised that would not help me. That is why I decided to violate the contract that I had entered into with him." T. 8 September 2009, p. 8. Another reason why he decided to incriminate Seromba was that the witness had not yet been placed in one of the criminal categories for his crimes during the genocide. Witness CNJ testified that the prosecutor for his case file in Rwanda told him that if he did not speak the truth, he ran the risk of being placed in the first (and most serious) category of perpetrators. T. 8 September 2009, p. 7. Witness CNJ admitted during the Seromba trial that he had lied because he feared that he would lose the money he had been promised. T. 8 September 2009, p. 9.

469. Defence Witnesses Mutume, Sibomana, KG45 and Tugirumukiza testified that they saw that Kanyarukiga's pharmacy was closed on 15 April 1994.<sup>1298</sup> Each of these witnesses testified that they knew who Kanyarukiga was.<sup>1299</sup> The Chamber notes that two of these witnesses were young and lived close to Kanyarukiga in April 1994, but aside from this fact, the Chamber sees no reason to discount the evidence of Witnesses Mutume, Sibomana, and Tugirumukiza with regard to the closure of Kanyarukiga's pharmacy. The Chamber note, however, it has found that Witness KG45 not credible in its discussion of alibi.<sup>1300</sup>

470. Thus, given Witnesses CDK and CNJ's evidence is uncorroborated and also partially contradicted by the Defence evidence, the Chamber finds that it has not been established beyond reasonable doubt that wounded assailants were treated at Kanyarukiga's pharmacy.

471. Witness CDK provided evidence that he heard the Accused say to the attackers at Nyange Church on 15 April 1994 that they had to fight the inyenzi, which the witness testified was a reference to the Tutsi in the church.<sup>1301</sup> Witness CDK also gave evidence that Kanyarukiga approached the witness and those he was with and asked them to prepare and collect stones so they would be able to fight the Tutsi who had also gathered stones to attack.<sup>1302</sup> The Chamber notes that Witness CDK also testified that during the day of 15 April 1994, he saw the Accused moving amongst the members of the population "giving them instructions" and in the company of Kayishema and Ndahimana.<sup>1303</sup> These pieces of evidence are not corroborated by any other witness. The Chamber recalls that Witness CDK is one of the five Prosecution witnesses who were incarcerated together, the credibility of whom the Chamber has considered earlier in its deliberations. Given the Chamber has found that it cannot rely on this witness without corroboration from other credible evidence, the Chamber does not find it established, beyond reasonable doubt that Kanyarukiga said to the attackers that they had to fight the inyenzi or that Kanyarukiga was giving instructions to the attackers.

472. Witness CBR testified that Kanyarukiga was with Ndahimana when Ndahimana stated that the attackers were to "start working" and "begin work", which was understood to mean "kill the Tutsi".<sup>1304</sup> The Chamber notes its discussion of this witness and his credibility in paragraphs 591 to 595. Given the Chamber's view that Witness CBR is generally credible, it finds it established that Kanyarukiga was with Ndahimana when he asked the attackers to "start working" or "begin work".

473. Witness CDK recounted that he saw Kanyarukiga speaking to Rukara prior to the grenade being thrown. After this discussion, a ladder was found and Rukara used this ladder to climb on top of Kanyarukiga's pharmacy and subsequently Rukara threw a grenade, which resulted in Tutsi "losses".<sup>1305</sup> The Chamber recalls that Witness CDK was an accomplice to the attacks on 15 April 1994 and has therefore treated his evidence with caution. The Chamber further notes that there is no direct corroboration of Witness CDK's testimony. While Witness CNJ provided some support for Witness CDK's evidence when he testified that he saw Kanyarukiga at the Statue of the Virgin Mary when the grenade attacks occurred, the Chamber regards Witness CNJ with extreme caution.<sup>1306</sup>

474. While the Chamber recalls that Witness CBN, who the Chamber regards as credible, testified that he saw Kanyarukiga at the Statue of the Virgin Mary when the grenade was thrown,<sup>1307</sup> the Chamber has doubts with regard to this witness's testimony in this particular instance. Firstly, the site visit illustrated to the Chamber that the distance from the Nyange Parish to the Statue of the Virgin Mary was not insignificant.<sup>1308</sup> Secondly, given the evidence provided by both Prosecution and Defence witnesses that there was chaos during the attacks on the morning of 15 April,<sup>1309</sup> as well as the evidence suggesting that the grenade was thrown between the parish and the statue,<sup>1310</sup> the Chamber has doubts as to whether Witness CBN would have seen Kanyarukiga standing at the statue from the witness's vantage point at the parish. Further, Witness CBT testified that he did not see Kanyarukiga at all when the grenade was thrown.<sup>1311</sup> Although the Chamber does not regard Witness CBT favourably, given Witness CBT took part in the attacks on 15 April, this testimony adds to the Chamber's overall doubts. Therefore, while the Chamber accepts that it is possible, based on Witness CBN's evidence, that Kanyarukiga was present when the grenade was thrown, the Chamber is not satisfied that the Prosecution has proven beyond reasonable doubt that Kanyarukiga was present or that he was speaking to Rukara prior to the throwing of the grenade.

Attacks on and attempted burning of Nyange Church later on 15 April

475. Paragraph 15 of the Indictment alleges that there was an attack on the church itself on 15 April, including an attempt to burn the Tutsi taking refuge in the church. This paragraph alleges that this attack was ordered, instigated, supervised and aided and abetted by Kanyarukiga, Kayishema, Ndungutse and Ndahimana. Prosecution Witnesses CBY, CBK, CBR, CNJ, CDK and CBT provide evidence that the Nyange Church was attacked again on 15 April 1994, when assailants unsuccessfully attempted to destroy the church by setting it alight with Tutsi having locked themselves inside.<sup>1312</sup> The Defence does not appear to dispute the occurrence of the further attacks on 15 April 1994; however the Defence does dispute the credibility of the Prosecution witnesses. Therefore, the Chamber finds that an attempt was made by assailants at the Nyange Church to destroy the Church by trying to set it alight.

476. Witnesses CBR and CDK attest to communal policemen shooting at the church after the Tutsi had locked themselves inside.<sup>1313</sup> Witnesses CBT, CBR and CNJ provide evidence as to the use of dynamite as a means of attacking the Nyange Church itself, while the Tutsi were taking refuge inside.<sup>1314</sup> This fact does not appear to be disputed by the Defence. As a result, the Chamber finds it established that communal policemen shot at the church and that dynamite was used as part of the attack on the Nyange Church.

477. With regard to gendarmes, a number of Prosecution witnesses recall seeing gendarmes at the Nyange Church, but none of them give evidence that the gendarmes were assaulting the Tutsi taking refuge in the church with gunfire or dynamite.<sup>1315</sup> As a result, the Chamber finds that gendarmes were present at the church, but that it is not established, beyond reasonable doubt, that gendarmes shot at the church or used dynamite.

478. Witness CBN testified to seeing corpses of some people and that “very few” of the Tutsi who were at the church survived, but he could not estimate the number of people killed during 15 April.<sup>1316</sup> Witness CBR recounted that the entire road to the Nyange Parish was littered with corpses,<sup>1317</sup> while Witness CBS stated that “many people died” and he “could not even count them”.<sup>1318</sup> Further, evidence provided by Witnesses CNJ, CBR, CDL and CDK shows that the bodies of those killed in this attack had to be moved by a bulldozer.<sup>1319</sup> Witness KG15 recounted that there were killings on 15 April 1994 and that the priests discussed burying the bodies with the bourgmestre and the IPJ.<sup>1320</sup> This raft of evidence suggests that there were, at least, some Tutsi killed during this attack and that the number was large enough that a large piece of machinery, such as a bulldozer, was required to move them. The Chamber therefore finds it established, beyond reasonable doubt, that an attack on the Tutsi at the Nyange Church on 15 April 1994 resulted in the deaths of many Tutsi civilians.

479. With regard to the Hutu attackers themselves, a number of Prosecution witnesses indicate that there were many attackers present at both the Nyange Church and around the parish. Witness CNJ indicated that there were about 4000 attackers; Witness CBR stated that there were ten times more assailants around Nyange Parish on 15 April 1994 than on 14 April 1994; Witness CDK indicated that reinforcements arrived throughout the day.<sup>1321</sup> Witness CBN noted that there were many assailants, and their number increased gradually.<sup>1322</sup> Defence Witness KG19 also agreed that there were many attackers.<sup>1323</sup> Further, Witnesses CBR, CNJ, CBK, CDK and CBS provide evidence that a number of attackers arrived during the day from surrounding communes, and a number of Defence witnesses support this evidence.<sup>1324</sup> This evidence is therefore undisputed. Furthermore, although there is no corroborated evidence of a particular number, the Chamber has no doubt that there were, at least, thousands of Hutu attackers present at the Nyange Church and surrounds on 15 April 1994 and a number of these attackers arrived from surrounding communes.

480. Finally, with regard to the assailants, many of the Prosecution witnesses testified to either wearing banana leaves on 15 April themselves, either because they were assailants or because they wanted to blend into the crowd of assailants, or observing the attackers wearing banana leaves on that day.<sup>1325</sup> Given the raft of evidence with regard to this fact, and that Witnesses CBY and CBN, who the Chamber largely regard as credible, are amongst the Prosecution witnesses who attest to this fact, the Chamber finds it established that the assailants wore banana leaves on their bodies on 15 April 1994.

481. The Chamber will now turn its attention to Kayishema, Ndungutse and Ndahimana.

482. Witness CNJ testified that Kayishema was at the Nyange Parish prior to and during the attempted burning of the church.<sup>1326</sup> This witness also stated that Kayishema was present prior to and during the attempted burning of the church and that after the attempt was unsuccessful the following people were at Nyange Parish: Kayishema, Ndungutse, Habiyaambere and Seromba.<sup>1327</sup> Witness CBK testified that the “whole group” of authorities was at Nyange Church prior to and during its attempted burning.<sup>1328</sup> Witness CBY implied that Kayishema was at Nyange Parish prior to the attempted burning of the church.<sup>1329</sup> Witness CBR recalled that, prior to the attempted burning of the church, Kayishema and Ndungutse left the parish and returned not long after.<sup>1330</sup> This witness noted, however, that Ndahimana had left the parish prior to these attacks, “for another place”,<sup>1331</sup> which is supported by Witness CNJ.<sup>1332</sup> Witness CBT also placed Kayishema and Ndungutse at “the church” but only after the attacks on 15 April had ceased.<sup>1333</sup> Witness YAU places Seromba in the Nyange Parish Presbytery after the attacks had finished.<sup>1334</sup>

<sup>1324</sup> Witness CBS notes that a group of attackers arrived from Rukuko and another group arrived from Kivumu. T. 16 September 2009, pp. 54, 55. Witness CDK recalled that 200 attackers from Kibilira arrived at the church at around 4.00 p.m. T. 16 September 2009, p. 36. This witness also testified to a meeting between 2.30 and 3.00 p.m. on 15 April 1994. However, the witness did not list exactly who was there. T. 3 September 2009, p. 21.

<sup>1329</sup> T. 8 September 2009, p. 47. Witness CBY also saw Kayishema and Kanyarukiga together at Nyange Parish on 15 April, but it is unclear when he saw them. T. 8 September 2009, p. 47.

<sup>1333</sup> T. 14 September 2009, p. 49. The witness recounted that he saw these people when he left the church which was between 4.00 and 5.00 p.m. on 15 April. T. 14 September 2009, p. 49; T. 15 September 2009, p. 2. Witness CBT also saw Habiyaambere, Kayishema, Ndungutse and Ndahimana at Nyange Church but was not clear as to when he saw them on 15 April. T. 14 September 2009, pp. 40-41.

483. The Chamber notes that, amongst the Prosecution witnesses who give evidence about the presence of those people outlined in paragraph 15 of the Indictment, the Chamber regards Witnesses CBY and CBR as more credible than Witnesses CNJ, CBK and YAU. Witnesses CNJ and CBK both place Kayishema and Ndungutse at the parish prior to and during the attempted burning of the church. This account is corroborated by Witnesses CBY and CBR, who placed Kayishema at the Nyange Parish prior to the attempted burning of the church. In addition, Witness CBR also places Kayishema and Ndungutse at the parish before and during the attacks (aside from a brief time where Kayishema had left and subsequently returned to the parish). The Chamber therefore finds it established that Kayishema and Ndungutse were present at the Nyange Parish prior to and during the attacks outlined in paragraph 15 of the Amended Indictment.

484. The Chamber notes Witness CNJ's testimony that the attackers were following Kayishema on 15 April 1994 and that Kayishema led the assailants to the place where the attacks were to be carried out.<sup>1335</sup> This evidence was provided by a witness who the Chamber has previously found to be largely unreliable and whose account is uncorroborated. As such, the Chamber does not find that this fact is established beyond reasonable doubt.

485. Finally, Witness CBR testified that Ndungutse and Kayishema went to find equipment to remove the bodies from the church grounds.<sup>1336</sup> He further testified that two "pieces of equipment" and two lorries were brought to the parish.<sup>1337</sup> Given that the Chamber has found Witness CBR to be generally credible, the Chamber therefore has no doubt that Kayishema and Ndungutse went to look for equipment and subsequently, this equipment was brought and used to move bodies.<sup>1338</sup>

Kanyarukiga's Role

486. The Chamber will now turn to Kanyarukiga's role, if any, in the later attacks on 15 April and the attempted burning of Nyange Church.

487. Prosecution Witnesses CBK, CBT, CDK and CDL provided evidence that they saw Kanyarukiga at the Nyange Church prior to or during the later attacks on and attempted burning of Nyange Church.<sup>1339</sup> The Chamber treats each of these pieces of evidence with caution. In particular, the Chamber regards evidence given by Witness CBK with regard to the Accused as credible only if corroborated by a credible witness. In addition, the Chamber recalls its discussion regarding accomplice Witnesses CDL and CBT and that the Chamber is extremely cautious with regard to the testimony of these witnesses when uncorroborated by a credible witness. The Chamber, therefore, does not regard these witnesses as sufficiently credible to establish this fact beyond reasonable doubt. Thus, the Chamber does not find it proven, beyond reasonable doubt, that Kanyarukiga was present at Nyange Church or Parish prior to and during the events described in paragraph 15 of the Amended Indictment.

<sup>1338</sup> The Chamber notes that it has considered other Prosecution evidence on this point, however has not explicitly discussed it here for witness protection reasons.

<sup>1339</sup> Prosecution Witness CBK testified that the "authorities", including Kanyarukiga, went to presbytery between 2.30 and 3.00 p.m. on 15 April 1994 and were present throughout the attempted burning of the church. T. 3 September 2009, pp. 19, 20, 21. Witness CBT also saw Kanyarukiga at Nyange Church prior to and during the attempted burning of the church. T. 14 September 2009, pp. 46-47. Witness CBT saw Kanyarukiga as he was leaving the church on the evening of 15 April. T. 14 September 2009, p. 49. Witness CDK saw Kanyarukiga in front of the secretariat of the parish prior to the attempted burning of the church. T. 16 September 2009, p. 8. Witness CDL noted that he saw Kanyarukiga at the church on the afternoon of 15 April 1994, in addition to seeing Kayishema and Ndungutse and Habiyaambere. T. 10 September 2009, p. 31.

488. Both Witnesses CNJ and CBT saw Kanyarukiga at Nyange Parish on the evening of 15 April 1994, after the attacks.<sup>1340</sup> The Chamber notes that these witnesses were accomplices to the attacks on 15 April, and the Chamber has a number of further concerns about both witnesses.<sup>1341</sup> However, Witness CBY (who the Chamber regards as credible) corroborates Witness CNJ's account. Witness CBY testified that he saw Kanyarukiga with Kayishema on the night of 15 April in the vicinity of the presbytery.<sup>1342</sup> Both witnesses place Kanyarukiga within the area of Nyange Church and Presbytery on the evening of 15 April. These accounts are bolstered by Witness CBS, who testified that Kanyarukiga was still at Nyange Parish on the evening of 15 April 1994 "like the other officials".<sup>1343</sup> The Chamber also regards Witness CBS as credible.<sup>1344</sup> Given Witness CNJ's testimony is corroborated by Witnesses CBY and CBS, the Chamber therefore finds it established, beyond reasonable doubt, that Kanyarukiga was present at Nyange Church, in the company of Kayishema, after the attacks outlined in paragraph 15 of the Indictment.

489. The Chamber recalls that Defence Witnesses Sibomana and KG15 each testify that they did not see the Accused at the Statue of the Virgin Mary or the Nyange Parish Presbytery in the latter part of 15 April 1994.<sup>1345</sup> Given that Witness Sibomana noted that there was chaos at the Statue of the Virgin Mary on 15 April 1994 and that these witnesses simply did not see Kanyarukiga at this time, in the Chamber's view, this does not cast doubt on the Prosecution evidence.<sup>1346</sup> Further, given that the Prosecution evidence shows that Kanyarukiga was around the Nyange Church during the latter part of 15 April 1994, the evidence provided by these Defence witnesses does not cast doubt on the Prosecution evidence.

490. The Chamber recalls that in January 2010, it excluded Witness CNJ's evidence regarding the accused accompanying an interahamwe to get a Caterpillar on 15 April 1994.<sup>1347</sup>

491. Witness CBK stated that prior to the attempted burning of Nyange Church, Kanyarukiga had gone to search for petrol at his pharmacy and then directed the assailants as to where to put the fuel on the church.<sup>1348</sup> The Chamber has misgivings about Witness CBK's evidence. The Chamber suspects that Witness CBK, a Hutu who was around the same age as many of the assailants, may have participated in the killings committed at the Nyange Parish in April 1994.<sup>1349</sup> Indeed, the Chamber recalls that Witness CBK admitted to wearing banana leaves like the Hutu assailants on 15 and 16 April 1994.<sup>1350</sup> Furthermore, due to his youth in April 1994 and having made multiple public statements in a variety of fora related to the events at the Nyange Church,<sup>1351</sup> the Chamber is

<sup>1342</sup> T. 8 September 2009, p. 47. This piece of evidence is discussed in more detail in paragraph 498.

<sup>1343</sup> T. 16 September 2009, p. 57. By the evening of 15 April 1994, Witness CBS was lying on top of a poultry shed near the presbytery, which makes it unclear the extent to which this witness may have been able to see the Accused.

<sup>1345</sup> Witness Sibomana arrived at the Statue of the Virgin Mary at around 2.00 or 2.30 p.m., and he spent about an hour there. T. 1 February 2010, pp. 29, 31. Witness KG15 was at the presbytery on 15 April 1994. T. 11 February 2010, pp. 20, 21, 22 (CS). This witness noted that he did not know Kanyarukiga. T. 11 February 2010, p. 20 (CS).

<sup>1346</sup> Witness KG15 testified that he did not leave the presbytery all day on 15 April 1994. T. 11 February 2010, p. 16 (CS). Witness Sibomana, T. 1 February 2010, p. 41.

<sup>1351</sup> T. 3 September 2009, pp. 49-50; T. 3 September 2009, p. i (extract); T. 3 September 2009, pp. 69-73 (CS).

concerned that Witness CBK may be prone to embellishing the truth.<sup>1352</sup> The Chamber has therefore treated his evidence with extreme caution.

492. Further, this witness's account is inconsistent with Witness CBR, who stated that it was Kayishema who provided the fuel that was used in the attempt to burn down the church.<sup>1353</sup> There is also no corroboration with regard to Witness CBK's evidence of Kanyarukiga directing where the fuel should be used. This causes the Chamber to have further reservations about the accuracy of this witness's testimony, and thus, the Chamber cannot accept Witness CBK's testimony. The Chamber therefore finds that it has not been established that the Accused went to search for petrol at his pharmacy in order to assist the destruction of the church on 15 April 1994.

493. The Chamber notes that a number of Prosecution witnesses gave evidence that fuel was brought to Nyange Church and this was then used in an attempt to burn down the church.<sup>1354</sup> This fact is not disputed, and therefore, the Chamber finds it established beyond reasonable doubt that fuel was brought and used at Nyange Church in an attempt to burn it down. Witnesses CBR, CNJ and CBK gave evidence that Kayishema brought fuel to Nyange Church. Given the Chamber's view that Witness CBR is generally credible, the Chamber finds this witness sufficient to corroborate the accounts of Witnesses CNJ and CBK. Therefore, the Chamber finds it established, beyond reasonable doubt, that Fulgence Kayishema brought fuel to Nyange Church, however, does not find that Kanyarukiga brought fuel.

494. Witness CNJ testified that when he was leaving, Kanyarukiga armed with a pistol and in the company of Nishyirimbere and Rukara, stopped him and asked him to go back to the church.<sup>1355</sup> Again, Witness CNJ is an accomplice, so the Chamber is mindful of this and treats his evidence with caution. Witness CBK, who the Chamber has previously found not to be credible on his own, also noted in his evidence that he saw the Accused carrying a firearm on 15 April 1994. As these witnesses are not corroborated by credible evidence, the Chamber finds that the Prosecution has failed to establish that the Accused was carrying a pistol and used it to threaten assailants into staying at the Nyange Church.

<sup>1352</sup> See following for examples of Witness CBK's tendency to exaggerate during his testimony: T. 3 September 2009, p. 68 (CS) (saying that he saw much of what happened on that day and that "I moved about everywhere and I could see what was happening. I was always present. I think you cannot have another witness who can testify to these events better than I am doing."); T. 3 September 2009, pp. 21-22; T. 4 September 2009, pp. 23-24 (CS) (giving details about the weapons used, methods of killing and Kanyarukiga's statements calling for the Tutsis to be killed with traditional weapons); T. 3 September 2009, p. 29 (alleging that Seromba, Kayishema, Ndahimana, Kanyarukiga and others celebrated after the demolition of the church by drinking beer and wine); T. 3 September 2009, pp. 65-66, 68 (CS) (testifying that he saw Kanyarukiga and others hold seven meetings in the bishop's room at the Nyange Parish between 11 and 16 April 1994 and that he saw them every time they came for a meeting); T. 3 September 2009, p. 71 (CS) (claiming that an organisation to which the witness made a statement "collects testimonies and re-works them all - works with them in order to be able to sell its support to its clients.").

<sup>1354</sup> As mentioned, Witness CBR provided evidence that Kayishema arrived at the parish with a jerry can of fuel which was used in an attempt to burn the Nyange Church and those inside it. T. 9 September 2009, p. 27. Witness CNJ stated that Kiragi, Théodomir, Kayishema and Arnold Nibarere brought fuel, and the assailants subsequently doused the church with fuel. T. 7 September 2009, p. 20. Witness CNJ further stated that the assailants destroyed the louvers of a window of the church and spilled petrol. T. 7 September 2009, p. 31. Witness CBT recalled that the secretary of the commune, Arnold Nibarere used the petrol on the church, in an attempt to burn down the church. T. 14 September 2009, p. 47. Witness CBT saw only one bucket of petrol and he was right next to it. T. 14 September 2009, pp. 73-74. Witness CDK stated that Arnold had a spray, which he was using to put petrol on the church, and there was another person who had a matchbox and they were trying to destroy the church so that those inside the church would be killed. T. 16 September 2009, p. 8.

495. Witness CBT testified that Kanyarukiga, in a group of “officials”, stated that all the Tutsi taking refuge in the church had to be killed and that the attackers should not worry about the destruction of the church because a new church would be constructed.<sup>1356</sup> The witness went on to testify that Kanyarukiga said this would “create jobs for the youths in Nyange who were going to manufacture the bricks that were going to be used for the construction of the new church.”<sup>1357</sup> Witness CBT was an accomplice to the attacks at Nyange Parish, whose testimony the Chamber has treated with caution.

496. The Chamber has further concerns about this witness. In particular, the Chamber is concerned the witness did not mention the Accused in a letter he sent to the Public Prosecutor in Kibuye in 2000 regarding those who were involved in the attacks at Nyange Church. This letter, however, mentioned that others such as Kayishema, Ndungutse, Ndahimana and Seromba were at Nyange Church.<sup>1358</sup> The Defence pointed that Witness CBT also wrote a second letter dated 18 January 2001 to the Prosecutor of the Republic in Kibuye regarding the events at Nyange Church and did not mention Kanyarukiga, which the witness explained was also for safety reasons.<sup>1359</sup> The Chamber is not convinced that the witness did not mention Kanyarukiga for safety reasons. This is particularly the case given Witness CBT did mention Kanyarukiga in statements he gave to ICTR investigators in 2000 and 2001.<sup>1360</sup> The Chamber notes that these statements were given around the time the witness became involved in the sensitisation process. Thus, the Chamber does not find it established, beyond reasonable doubt, that Kanyarukiga made the following statements: that the Tutsi in the Nyange Church had to be killed in the company of officials and that the Nyange Church would be rebuilt to create jobs.

497. Witness CDK testified that he saw Kanyarukiga again in front of the secretariat of the Nyange Parish where Kanyarukiga was talking to Father Seromba.<sup>1361</sup> At the time, Witness CDK recounted that he was two metres away from Kanyarukiga and heard Kanyarukiga telling Father Seromba that in order to kill all the Inyenzi, the church had to be demolished.<sup>1362</sup> Shortly after this, Kayishema arrived and agreed with Kanyarukiga’s suggestion that the church be demolished.<sup>1363</sup> Witness CDK places this conversation prior to the attempted burning of the church.<sup>1364</sup> This witness is one of the five accomplices to these attacks who the Chamber has discussed previously. The Chamber recalls its discussion regarding this witness and his involvement in both a sensitisation program and Gacaca sessions. This causes the Chamber to treat this witness with caution.<sup>1365</sup>

498. Finally, Witness CBY gave evidence that, towards the end of the day on 15 April 1994, he heard Kayishema and Kanyarukiga saying that the assailants had to demolish the Nyange Church. The witness said that he was two or three metres from these men when he heard this discussion.<sup>1366</sup>

“Q. Did the attack of the 15th of April continue in the evening?

A. When the refugees entered the church, the assailants tried to set the church on fire. They did not succeed. Subsequently, they brought a ladder, which they placed near a window. And they sprayed the church with

The Chamber finds that, as a Hutu who was at the Nyange Parish on 15 April 1994, Witness CBY was in a position to observe certain events that the Tutsi civilians at the parish or assailants outside the presbytery could not. The Chamber further notes that Witness CBY was tried in Rwanda in connection with the events at the Nyange Parish and was acquitted of any wrongdoing in November 2007.<sup>1367</sup> Having already been acquitted of the charges against him, the Chamber is of the opinion that Witness CBY lacks certain personal motivations, such as a desire for leniency, which could inspire other witnesses to testify against the Accused. Witness CBY also identified Kanyarukiga in court and testified that he had known the Accused for eight years prior to “the war.”<sup>1368</sup> Finally, while the Chamber is aware that there were certain minor inconsistencies between Witness CBY’s testimony and his prior statements, particularly with regard to dates, the Chamber does not consider these discrepancies to affect the witness’s overall credibility.<sup>1369</sup> Further, Witness CBY said in his 1996 statement, that Kanyarukiga indicated that the Nyange Church was to be destroyed on the day that the attackers failed in its destruction.<sup>1370</sup> To this end, this witness has provided largely consistent evidence. Thus, the Chamber finds that Witness CBY provided a generally credible and reliable account of the events he witnessed at the Nyange Parish. Given Witness CDK’s testimony is corroborated by Witness CBY, the Chamber finds it established, beyond reasonable doubt, that Kanyarukiga conversed with Kayishema that the Nyange Church was to be demolished.

5.4. Conclusion

499. In conclusion, the Chamber finds it established, beyond reasonable doubt, that an attack occurred on the morning of 15 April 1994 at Nyange Church. The Chamber further finds that the Tutsi taking refuge in the Nyange Church were targeted by Hutu assailants who threw stones and attacked them with traditional weapons. The Tutsi then repelled the Hutu attackers, which led to the throwing of at least one grenade by Rukara. The Chamber has no doubt that Fulgence Kayishema, Téléphone Ndungutse and Grégoire Ndahimana were present at Nyange Parish, on the morning of 15 April 1994, prior to these attacks. Further, the Chamber finds it established, beyond reasonable fuel. Later on they tried to set the church on fire, but they did not succeed. That is how Kayishema went to look for a bulldozer so as to be able to demolish the church.

Q. And once the bulldozer arrived at the location of the church, what did it do?

A. The bulldozer demolished the church.

Q. Who gave the order for the church to be destroyed?

A. I do not know the name of the person who ordered that the church be destroyed. But I met Kayishema and Kanyarukiga who were saying that the assailants had to destroy or demolish the church.

Q. Whilst they were saying that, where were you?

A. ... I was coming out of the presbytery.

Q. What was the distance between you and them?

A. 2 to 3 metres.”

<sup>1368</sup> T. 8 September 2009, pp. 49, 54. The witness did not specify whether “the war” referred to 1994 or the start of the civil war.

<sup>1369</sup> For example, while Witness CBY testified that the large-scale attacks began on 15 April 1994 and the church was destroyed on 16 April 1994, he gave two different dates for the start of the large-scale attacks and the demolition of the church in his prior statements. Defence Exhibit D33(B) (Statement of Witness CBY dated 2 February 1996) (saying that the large-scale attacks began on 14 April 1994 and that the church was destroyed on 15 April 1994); Defence Exhibit D34(B) (Statement of Witness CBY dated 4 October 2000) (saying that the major attacks, including the use of grenades, began on 13 April 1994 and that the church was destroyed on 14 April 1994). The Chamber notes that, while it does not consider the inconsistencies between the witness’s testimony and prior statements to affect his overall credibility, it has considered specific inconsistencies on a case-by-case basis to determine whether they affect the reliability of particular pieces of evidence.

<sup>1370</sup> Defence Exhibit D33(B) (Statement of Witness CBY dated 2 February 1996), p. 2. The witness recounted in this statement that Kanyarukiga and Ndungutse ordered the church be demolished. It is noted that while the witness noted a discussion with Kayishema in his oral testimony, the witness was consistent as to Kanyarukiga. Further, this witness has implicated Kanyarukiga less in his oral testimony than in his written statement, which suggests to the Chamber that this witness’s account is credible.

doubt that Kanyarukiga was present at Nyange Parish prior to 11.00 a.m. on 15 April with Kayishema and Ndahimana. In addition, the Chamber has no doubt that Kanyarukiga was around the areas of the Statue of the Virgin Mary and Nyange Church on the morning of 15 April, prior to and during the attacks outlined in paragraph 14 of the Indictment.

500. With regard to Paragraph 15 of the Indictment, the Chamber finds it established that the Tutsi took refuge in the Nyange Church after being overpowered by the Hutu assailants and that communal policemen joined the attacks and shot at the church. The Prosecution failed to establish that gendarmes joined the attacks at this point, if at all, and that dynamite was used by communal policemen or gendarmes. It is established, however, that fuel was brought by Kayishema and was used in an attempt to burn down the Nyange Church, during which Kayishema and Ndungutse were present. The Prosecution has failed to establish that Ndahimana was present during the attempted burning of the Nyange Church. Conversely, the Chamber has no doubt that Kayishema, Ndungutse went to find a bulldozer to move bodies. The Chamber finds it established that there were many Hutu assailants present at Nyange Parish and surrounds on 15 April, and that many Tutsi civilians were killed as a result of the attacks on that day. Finally, the Chamber finds it established beyond reasonable doubt, that on 15 April the attackers at Nyange Church were shouting loudly, “[e]xterminate them all. Let no one escape.”

501. With regard to the Accused, the Prosecution has failed to establish that Kanyarukiga was present during the attacks outlined in paragraph 15. However, the Chamber finds it established, beyond reasonable doubt, that Kanyarukiga was present at Nyange Church, in the company of Kayishema, after the attacks outlined in paragraph 15 of the Indictment. In addition, the Chamber has no doubt that Kanyarukiga conversed with Kayishema on the evening of 15 April and that the conversation affirmed that the Nyange Church was to be demolished.

502. The Chamber will discuss whether Gaspard Kanyarukiga ordered, instigated or aided and abetted the attacks on the 15 April 1994 in the section of the judgement discussing the Chamber’s legal findings.

6. Destruction of Nyange Parish Church on 16 April 1994

6.1. Introduction

503. Paragraphs 16, 17 and 18 of the Amended Indictment read as follows:

16. On the morning of 16 April 1994[,] Gaspard KANYARUKIGA, Fulgence KAYISHEMA, Téléphore NDUNGUTSE, Judge HABYAMBERE, Francois GASHUGU, Védaste MUPENDE, Grégoire NDAHIMANA and others held a meeting at [the] CODEKOKI[,] at which they mutually agreed and planned to kill all the Tutsi refugees in the church by destroying it.

17. Subsequent to this meeting, Gaspard KANYARUKIGA[,] with the others[,] met Father Anastase SEROMBA at Nyange Parish and informed him of their decision to demolish the church in order to kill all the Tutsi refugees. Gaspard KANYARUKIGA instigated the demolition of the church[,] suggesting that another one would be built.

18. On 16 April 1994[,] at the instigation of Gaspard KANYARUKIGA, Fulgence KAYISHEMA, Védaste MUPENDE, Grégoire NDAHIMANA and Anastase SEROMBA[,] Nyange Church was destroyed using a bulldozer, killing about 2000 Tutsi refugees who had barricaded themselves inside the church. Gaspard KANYARUKIGA was present during the demolition of the church and was instigating the attackers to kill all the Tutsi refugees. By reason of the facts alleged in paragraphs 14 through 18 herein[,] Gaspard KANYARUKIGA is individually responsible for planning, ordering, instigating, committing or otherwise aiding and abetting the killing of Tutsi civilians at Nyange Parish on 15 and 16 April 1994 in furtherance of the joint criminal enterprise.

504. The Prosecution relies on the evidence of Witnesses CBR, CDL, CNJ, CBY and CBK to support these allegations. The Defence argues that the Prosecution witnesses are not credible and points both to the evidence of the Accused's alibi, as well as the testimony of Defence Witnesses Mutume, Seminega, Twagirashema and KG15.<sup>1371</sup> The Chamber notes that Witness Sibomana also testified about the events of 16 April 1994.

6.2. Evidence

Prosecution Witness CBR

505. Witness CBR arrived at the Nyange Parish around 6.00 or 7.00 a.m. on 16 April 1994.<sup>1372</sup> A number of assailants were already at the parish when the witness arrived.<sup>1373</sup> The attackers carried traditional weapons and were covered in various types of leaves, depending upon their place of origin.<sup>1374</sup> Witness CBR denied that there were any bulldozers at the parish when he arrived on 16 April 1994.<sup>1375</sup>

<sup>1372</sup> T. 9 September 2009, p. 29; T. 10 September 2009, p. 8. Witness CBR testified that Kayishema returned to the witness's locality on 16 April 1994 and asked for reinforcements to come to Nyange. Witness CBR, however, was already in Nyange. He testified that he walked to the parish, but others from his cellule were transported in an Astaldi truck. According to the witness, the distance between his cellule and the Nyange Parish was approximately three kilometres and could be covered on foot in approximately 40 to 45 minutes. T. 9 September 2009, p. 29.

<sup>1374</sup> T. 10 September 2009, p. 8. The witness testified that he personally was covered in eucalyptus leaves, but others wore banana leaves. The "authorities" did not have to wear leaves because they were well-known.

506. Witness CBR saw Grégoire Ndahimana, IPJ Kayishema, Gaspard Kanyarukiga, Téléphone Ndungutse, Judge Joseph Habiyambere, Deputy Bourgmestre Védaste Murangwabugabo, Warrant Officer Habarugira and Father Athanase Seromba standing in front of Father Seromba's office.<sup>1376</sup> The witness was approximately ten metres from the men at the time and did not hear their conversation.<sup>1377</sup>

507. After the discussion with Father Seromba, the authorities approached the church.<sup>1378</sup> "On that day those people did not give us any message. To the contrary, they approached the church and we started firing towards the church."<sup>1379</sup> According to the witness, Bourgmestre Ndahimana fired shots into the church at approximately 8.00 a.m. while Kayishema, Kanyarukiga, Ndungutse, Habiyambere, Védaste Murangwabugabo and Habarugira stood nearby.<sup>1380</sup> Witness CBR testified that Ndahimana's "objective" was not attained.<sup>1381</sup> According to the witness, Ndahimana's objective was well-known: it was to exterminate the Tutsi.<sup>1382</sup>

508. "[W]hen they realised that the objective had not been attained," these men returned to where Father Seromba was standing in front of his office.<sup>1383</sup> Once again, Ndahimana, Kayishema, Kanyarukiga, Ndungutse, Habiyambere, Védaste Murangwabugabo and Habarugira spoke with Father Seromba.<sup>1384</sup> The witness "did not know what they talked about at that time", but they decided to demolish the church.<sup>1385</sup>

509. "Later on," between 9.00 and 10.00 a.m., the witness overheard Kanyarukiga tell his fellow officials that, "[t]his church has to be demolished. I would reconstruct it. I would make it my responsibility to reconstruct it in three days."<sup>1386</sup> After those words, Kayishema and Ndungutse went to look for a bulldozer.<sup>1387</sup>

510. Witness CBR testified that a bulldozer and a truck were brought to the parish around 10.00 or 11.00 a.m. and started demolishing the church almost immediately.<sup>1388</sup> The witness saw the equipment arrive and saw it demolishing the church but denied seeing any sort of meeting or talks around the equipment.<sup>1389</sup> "[W]hen the equipment was brought, we were ready for action, the action desired. Even those who were ... operating the equipment knew why they had come."<sup>1390</sup>

511. The bulldozers were driven by three Zairean nationals called Albert, Mitima and Maurice, and a Rwandan named Anasthase Nkinamubanzi.<sup>1391</sup> The other assailants surrounded the church and prevented the Tutsi from escaping.<sup>1392</sup> Witness CBR did not see Kanyarukiga after the equipment was brought to demolish the church.<sup>1393</sup> The witness left the parish grounds at approximately 6.00 p.m., after the church was demolished.<sup>1394</sup>

Prosecution Witness CNJ

512. Witness CNJ testified that most of the assailants who were at the parish on 15 April 1994 spent the night there, “but some, including myself, left the place and came back the next day.”<sup>1395</sup> Witness CNJ estimated that he arrived at the Nyange Church between 8.00 and 9.00 a.m. on 16 April 1994.<sup>1396</sup> Upon arriving, the witness “saw the same assailants, and the number of assailants was the same as the number I had seen the day before.”<sup>1397</sup>

513. Witness CNJ also saw a bulldozer on the left side of the church near one of the doors, not far from the altar.<sup>1398</sup> The bulldozer was parked, but the driver was onboard ready to demolish the church.<sup>1399</sup> Kanyarukiga, Rushema, Théodomir Kiragi, IPJ Kayishema, Ndungutse and Habiyaambere were having a conversation around the bulldozer.<sup>1400</sup> Witness CNJ testified that he was not far from where these officials were standing.<sup>1401</sup> “Most of the assailants were standing around the church[,] and it appeared that instructions had been given for them to do that.”<sup>1402</sup>

514. According to Witness CNJ, Védaste Murangwabugabo suggested that a hole be bored through the wall of the church in order to give the assailants access to the Tutsi inside and to minimise any losses on the side of the assailants.<sup>1403</sup> The bourgmestre said that, “if some people could go inside, they could be killed by the Tutsis and our objective would not be obtained.”<sup>1404</sup>

515. Witness CNJ testified that, at some point, IPJ Kayishema went to see Father Seromba.<sup>1405</sup> Five minutes later, Kayishema returned with Seromba, who greeted the officials.<sup>1406</sup> Shortly thereafter, the bourgmestre said, “[n]ow we can start”, and Kayishema instructed the driver to start the demolition.<sup>1407</sup> The driver was known as “Two Thousand,” but his real name was Anastase Nkinamubanzi.<sup>1408</sup>

516. Witness CNJ estimated that the demolition began approximately 30 minutes after his arrival at the parish.<sup>1409</sup> Witness CNJ testified that the destruction began around 9.00 or 10.00 a.m., with a door on the left side of the church, which was not far from the altar. The destruction ended at around 4.00 p.m. with the destruction of the bell tower.<sup>1410</sup> The Tutsi were inside the church when the demolition began, and the last Tutsi were killed when the tower fell.<sup>1411</sup> Witness CNJ testified that he “was amongst the assailants who were killing the Tutsis. Later on, we had to make sure that the Tutsis did not escape. That was our objective.”<sup>1412</sup> He further testified that, while the assailants were “finishing off” the wounded, another bulldozer was digging tombs below the church.<sup>1413</sup> Kanyarukiga and the other authorities were present during the demolition of the church.<sup>1414</sup>

517. Finally, Witness CNJ testified that, when the destruction was complete, the authorities remained on the scene while the assailants were transported in trucks belonging to the Astaldi Company.<sup>1415</sup> Witness CNJ estimated that around 2000 Tutsi were killed on 16 April 1994.<sup>1416</sup>

Prosecution Witness CDL

518. Witness CDL testified that he arrived at the Nyange Church with Bourgmestre Ndahimana at 7.00 or 8.00 a.m. on 16 April 1994.<sup>1417</sup> There were already a number of people at the parish when Witness CDL arrived, including those who had spent the night at the church to ensure that the Tutsi did not escape.<sup>1418</sup> The bourgmestre, Father Seromba, police officers, gendarmes and reservists were also present.<sup>1419</sup> Witness CDL testified that he spoke to these various people.<sup>1420</sup> There were no bulldozers at the parish when the witness arrived.<sup>1421</sup>

519. The attacks were initiated by Bourgmestre Ndahimana, who shot at the “people who were above the church”.<sup>1422</sup> Following this, policemen and other people who had firearms also started shooting into the church.<sup>1423</sup> According to Witness CDL, the following people were leading or supervising the attacks on 16 April 1994: Kanyarukiga, the bourgmestre, Father Seromba, Téléphore Ndungutse, Fulgence Kayishema, Habiyambere, gendarmes and “the rest of us all, the Hutus.”<sup>1424</sup> Witness CDL could not “confirm or deny the presence of Kanyarukiga” during the gathering in the morning or when Ndahimana shot at the church but testified that the first time he saw Kanyarukiga at the church was at 10.00 a.m.<sup>1425</sup>

520. Witness CDL testified that before the bulldozers arrived, some small meetings were held to “agree on the resources to be used.”<sup>1426</sup> The witness explained that, “[t]he various authorities I have mentioned met in front of Kanyarukiga’s pharmacy, and they had discussions in the presence of Kanyarukiga.”<sup>1427</sup> The witness attended the meeting in front of the pharmacy along with Kanyarukiga, Ndahimana, Kayishema, Habiyambere, gendarmes, Ndungutse, Kanani and others who were in the vicinity.<sup>1428</sup> Kanyarukiga, Habiyambere, Kayishema, Kanani and Emmanuel Segayo, an official from the Astaldi Company, were already at the pharmacy when Witness CDL arrived with the bourgmestre.<sup>1429</sup> They asked the bourgmestre whether he had enough ammunition or bullets, and the bourgmestre said no.<sup>1430</sup> Kanyarukiga and Habiya mbere then told those assembled that the only way to kill the Tutsi in the church was to destroy it.<sup>1431</sup> Emmanuel Segayo promised to provide bulldozers from the Astaldi Company to destroy the church but said there was no fuel for the bulldozers.<sup>1432</sup> Kanyarukiga said that he would purchase the fuel for the bulldozers.<sup>1433</sup> According to Witness CDL, Kanyarukiga also said that demolishing the church would not be a problem because “there were enough people in Kivumu who would rebuild the church.”<sup>1434</sup>

521. Witness CDL further testified that it was agreed that the only means of exterminating the Tutsi was to destroy the church itself.<sup>1435</sup> The witness testified that the decision to destroy the church was taken collectively, but it was the brainchild of Kanyarukiga, Habiya mbere and the official from the Astaldi Company.<sup>1436</sup>

522. Ndahimana, Kayishema, Habiya mbere, Kanyarukiga, Ndungutse, Kanani and gendarmes met with Father Seromba next to the secretariat at around 10.00 a.m.<sup>1437</sup> and informed him of the decision to destroy the church.<sup>1438</sup> According to the witness, Father Seromba agreed to the demolition, “since there were no other means whereby they could destroy the Tutsi”.<sup>1439</sup>

523. Witness CDL estimated that the two bulldozers used to destroy the church arrived on the parish grounds between 10.00 and 11.00 a.m. and immediately began to demolish the church.<sup>1440</sup> The bulldozers were driven by two men named Mitima and Maurice.<sup>1441</sup> They were assisted by Anastase Nkinamubanzi, whose nickname was “Two Thousand.”<sup>1442</sup> They first attempted to destroy the bell tower of the church, but when that failed, Father Seromba suggested they go to the side where the sacristy was.<sup>1443</sup> One bulldozer started at one side of the sacristy and the other started from the other side; they continued until the entire church was destroyed.<sup>1444</sup> Witness CDL testified that the Tutsi were inside the church when it was destroyed.<sup>1445</sup>

524. Witness CDL testified that, other than Father Seromba, those who were present during the destruction of the church included Grégoire Ndahimana; Fulgence Kayishema; Joseph Habiya mbere; Gaspard Kanyarukiga; Télesphore Ndungutse; Védaste Murangwabugabo, an assistant of the bourgmestre; Gilbert Kanani, another assistant to the bourgmestre; François Munyaneza, the secretary of the commune; Arnold Mugarere, a census staff of the commune; gendarmes; warrant officers; police officers; a conseiller; the witness and other members of the population.<sup>1446</sup> Witness CDL claimed that he personally was merely a spectator on

16 April 1994.<sup>1447</sup> As the church was being destroyed, Kanyarukiga and others tried to show the drivers of the bulldozers how to avoid being hit by the stones that the Tutsi were throwing from inside the church.<sup>1448</sup>

525. Witness CDL testified that “sometimes” he left the site.<sup>1449</sup> He testified that he left the church around midday to go to school “to see what was happening there” and to tell some people that their child had been abandoned at the parish.<sup>1450</sup> The witness returned to the church at around 2.00 p.m. and stayed until 4.00 p.m.<sup>1451</sup> At that time, only the bell tower remained.<sup>1452</sup> The witness insisted that Kanyarukiga spent the entire day at the site, closely following what was happening.<sup>1453</sup> However, the witness conceded Kanyarukiga might have left during the day to go to his pharmacy.<sup>1454</sup>

Prosecution Witness CBK

526. Witness CBK testified that the Nyange Church was destroyed on 16 April 1994.<sup>1455</sup> According to the witness, there were more than 5000 assailants at the parish on that day.<sup>1456</sup> The assailants were wearing banana leaves on their heads, and “they could be easily distinguished from the refugees who were inside the church because the people in the church did not wear banana leaves.”<sup>1457</sup>

527. Witness CBK testified that he saw “Kanyarukiga, Kayishema and others” on the morning of 16 April 1994.<sup>1458</sup> They were in the inner courtyard of the presbytery, and the witness could see them talking.<sup>1459</sup> “[A]t some point they went upstairs into the room where they were holding the meeting. In any case, I felt they were not discussing anything good because afterwards the church was demolished.”<sup>1460</sup>

528. Witness CBK testified that Kanyarukiga was one of the leaders of the attacks on the Nyange Parish.<sup>1461</sup> He said he reached this conclusion because “when Kanyarukiga arrived, he would meet with Father Seromba, along with Fulgence Kayishema. And after their meeting something would happen.”<sup>1462</sup>

There were also businessmen[,] including Gaspard[,] who were influential. There were also communal policemen. All these people whom I have mentioned were authorities.”).

529. According to the witness, Father Seromba gave the order to destroy the church.<sup>1463</sup> Seromba said, “[d]estroy the church. We are many. We can build another one.”<sup>1464</sup> Witness CBK testified that, when these words were uttered, he was standing with Seromba and Kanyarukiga at the entrance of the presbytery, next to the secretariat of the parish.<sup>1465</sup> In the meantime, Kanyarukiga instructed the assailants to intercept any Tutsi who tried to escape.<sup>1466</sup>

530. Witness CBK testified that the bell tower remained intact after the rest of the church had been demolished, and several Tutsi crowded into the upper part of the tower.<sup>1467</sup> Kanyarukiga asked Father Seromba if certain Tutsi, including Aloys Rwamasirabo, Théoneste Nsanzabaganwa, Mr. Bonera and a certain Kayiranga, had taken refuge at the parish.<sup>1468</sup> When Father Seromba answered in the affirmative, the assailants said that, “[i]f the Tutsis have arrived at the church, then they must be in the church tower and that tower should, therefore, be demolished.”<sup>1469</sup> The assailants said that, “if these Tutsis, educated Tutsis, were not killed, their efforts would have been in vain. Therefore, it was necessary to also kill the educated Tutsis.”<sup>1470</sup> He testified that he saw “assailants,” including Seromba and Kanyarukiga, standing on the veranda at the entrance to the presbytery when the bell tower was demolished.<sup>1471</sup>

531. After the church was demolished, the assailants went to rest.<sup>1472</sup> “They celebrated. They shared beer and wine.”<sup>1473</sup> Witness CBK testified that those who took part in the celebration, which was held in the bishop’s room in the presbytery, included Father Seromba, Fulgence Kayishema, Grégoire Ndahimana, Kanyarukiga and others.<sup>1474</sup>

532. Witness CBK estimated the number of deaths at the Nyange Parish to be around 3000 Tutsi.<sup>1475</sup> He testified that, on 16 April 1994, “[t]he Tutsis who were inside the church were killed atrociously.”<sup>1476</sup> Some of the victims were struck, others were chopped into pieces with machetes, others were killed under the collapsing walls, while others were beaten to death by clubs studded with nails.<sup>1477</sup>

Prosecution Witness CBY

533. Witness CBY testified that 2500 to 3000 people had taken refuge at the parish as of 12 April 1994.<sup>1478</sup> The demolition of the Nyange Church began on the afternoon of 15 April 1994.<sup>1479</sup> Some assailants spent the night of 15 April 1994 at the site of the church,<sup>1480</sup> while other assailants joined them the next day.<sup>1481</sup> In the morning, the “authorities” had a meeting with “the priest” and then ordered the Hutu who spent the night at the presbytery to continue demolishing the church.<sup>1482</sup>

534. The day after the demolition began, a second Caterpillar was brought to the church.<sup>1483</sup> The witness recalled that there was not enough diesel for the bulldozers, so Kayishema said “he was going to take diesel from Astaldi forcibly.”<sup>1484</sup> When asked about the arrival of the second Caterpillar, Witness CBY testified that, “I left the presbytery’s inner courtyard and went to the church. When I got to the church square, the second Caterpillar was already there and had started removing bricks which were ... near the church.”<sup>1485</sup> Witness CBY denied seeing people holding a meeting around the bulldozer.<sup>1486</sup>

535. Witness CBY testified that, “[o]n the 16th[,] the refugees were at the church tower. They were screaming. They made noise. As for the assailants, they were much lower. And at the time the bulldozer was destroying the church. Of course, as you would imagine, there was noise because a confrontation was going on.”<sup>1487</sup>

536. According to Witness CBY, Kayishema came to the Nyange Parish twice after the demolition of the church.<sup>1488</sup> According to the witness, Kayishema was the only “authority” to visit Father Seromba after the demolition.<sup>1489</sup>

Prosecution Witness CBN

537. Prosecution Witness CBN sought refuge at the Nyange Parish Church on the night of 12 to 13 April 1994 but escaped on 15 April 1994, before the church was destroyed.<sup>1490</sup> Witness CBN returned to his home in Nyange in September 1994 and found that the church had been demolished.<sup>1491</sup> Witness CBN testified that he “found a place where the people who had been killed inside the church had been buried.”<sup>1492</sup> According to the witness, approximately 2000 people took refuge at the parish before the massacres.<sup>1493</sup>

year at Rubengera Groupe Scolaire in April 1994.<sup>1495</sup> Witness Twagirashema testified that Gaspard Kanyarukiga is from his commune and that he has known Kanyarukiga for a long time.<sup>1496</sup>

539. Witness Twagirashema testified that on Saturday, 16 April 1994, the Nyange Church was destroyed, and the people who had sought refuge in the church were killed.<sup>1497</sup> The witness stated that he “was present when the church was being destroyed” and personally witnessed the demolition.<sup>1498</sup>

540. Witness Twagirashema arrived near the church between 9.00 and 10.00 a.m. and left the area between 2.00 and 3.00 p.m.<sup>1499</sup> The witness stopped in front of the Statue of the Virgin Mary, where he could see a crowd of people moving towards the church.<sup>1500</sup> He testified that there were so many people in Nyange that he could not count them.<sup>1501</sup>

541. The witness stated that he could clearly see the entrance to Kanyarukiga’s pharmacy from where he stood, and the pharmacy doors were closed.<sup>1502</sup> Other shops were also closed.<sup>1503</sup> Witness Twagirashema did not see any vehicle, including Kanyarukiga’s red Nissan, in front of the pharmacy.<sup>1504</sup> He further testified that he did not see Kanyarukiga, nor did he hear that Kanyarukiga was at the pharmacy or the Statue of the Virgin Mary.<sup>1505</sup>

542. According to the witness, there was no fighting at the Statue of the Virgin Mary, but he and the others at the statue could see people heading to the church and could hear the sound of the church being demolished.<sup>1506</sup> Witness Twagirashema could not see the church from where he stood, and it was impossible for him to determine the number of displaced persons who were inside the church.<sup>1507</sup>

543. Witness Twagirashema testified that he was not afraid to be at the Statue of the Virgin Mary during the demolition because he was Hutu, and the Hutu “were not wanted”.<sup>1508</sup> He did not see local authorities on 16 April 1994; he only saw a teacher called Ndungutse and a reservist called Ephrem.<sup>1509</sup> According to the witness, Ndungutse was an interahamwe leader.<sup>1510</sup>

Defence Witness Roger Kemena Mutume

544. Witness Mutume testified that the Nyange Church was destroyed on Saturday, 16 April 1994, and he “was an eyewitness to that event.”<sup>1511</sup> Witness Mutume left his parents’ house at around 9.00 a.m. and arrived in Nyange before noon.<sup>1512</sup> The witness stopped at the Nyange Centre and watched what was happening from there.<sup>1513</sup> “There were people who were fighting against Tutsis who had sought refuge inside the church. They were trying to demolish the church because the refugees had barricaded themselves inside the church.”<sup>1514</sup>

545. Witness Mutume and his friends decided to return home around 2.30 p.m.<sup>1515</sup> He testified that he left the church “at the precise moment” when the church was being demolished because the situation was frightening.<sup>1516</sup>

546. The witness further testified that the doors to Kanyarukiga’s pharmacy were closed on 16 April 1994 because “there had been confrontations outside for a number of days, and on that day, the confrontations were continuing.”<sup>1517</sup> The witness did not see Kanyarukiga or Kanyarukiga’s car anywhere on 16 April 1994.<sup>1518</sup>

547. The only people who the witness could describe as figures of authority were a local teacher and a judicial police inspector.<sup>1519</sup>

Defence Witness KG15

548. Witness KG15 testified that, on 16 April 1994, he stayed inside the refectory at the presbytery with Father Seromba until the church collapsed.<sup>1520</sup> The witness said that the church was destroyed around midday.<sup>1521</sup>

549. According to Witness KG15, on 15 April 1994, Father Seromba and others asked the bourgmestre to arrange for the burial of those persons who had been killed at the parish.<sup>1522</sup> The next morning, the bourgmestre sent a bulldozer to dig graves.<sup>1523</sup> The witness heard the sound of the bulldozer and then something that sounded like a bomb.<sup>1524</sup> They went out of the presbytery, but there was nothing they could do because there were approximately ten thousand people around.<sup>1525</sup> The back of the church was destroyed first and at the time, Father Seromba was in the refectory.<sup>1526</sup>

He speculated that Kanyarukiga was at home on 16 April 1994 but could not say which of Kanyarukiga’s homes he would have been at. T. 27 January 2010, pp. 31, 41, 47.

The witness was still in the refectory when the bell tower was destroyed.<sup>1527</sup> According to the witness, Father Seromba remained in the refectory throughout the demolition of the church.<sup>1528</sup>

550. After the church was destroyed, the witness and Father Seromba and others left the refectory.<sup>1529</sup> Witness KG15 testified that the situation at the parish became chaotic.<sup>1530</sup> According to the witness, the assailants were “like drunk” or “like mad,” and the witness did not dare face them.<sup>1531</sup>

551. Witness KG15 testified that only two people, the bourgmestre and the IPJ, visited the presbytery on 16 April 1994.<sup>1532</sup> At first, Witness KG15 said they came in the evening,<sup>1533</sup> but later he stated that they visited “during the day,” some time between 11.00 a.m. or midday and 3.00 p.m.<sup>1534</sup> The witness overheard Father Seromba and others discussing “the situation” with the bourgmestre and the IPJ in the presbytery courtyard for approximately 30 minutes.<sup>1535</sup> While they were at the parish, the bourgmestre and the IPJ remained in the presbytery courtyard.<sup>1536</sup> Witness KG15 did not see them enter any of the rooms in the presbytery, including the bishop’s room, nor did he otherwise learn of such an occurrence.<sup>1537</sup> The witness denied seeing any organised meeting or anyone drinking beer or celebrating in the bishop’s room following the destruction of the church.<sup>1538</sup>

Defence Witness Fulgence Seminega

552. Witness Fulgence Seminega was 17 or 18 years old in April 1994 and lived in Kinga cellule, Ndaro secteur, Kivumu commune, Kibuye préfecture.<sup>1539</sup> He testified that he has known Gaspard Kanyarukiga since he was around 10 years old.<sup>1540</sup>

553. Witness Seminega testified that he was on his hill farming when the Nyange Church was destroyed on 16 April 1994.<sup>1541</sup> From his place of residence, the witness could hear the church bell.<sup>1542</sup> He heard noise, and people said that the church had been destroyed.<sup>1543</sup> Witness Seminega and the people who were with him rushed down to the church to see whether the church had actually been destroyed.<sup>1544</sup> The witness arrived at the church between 3.00 p.m. and 4.00 p.m.<sup>1545</sup>

So we talked about the prevailing situation at the presbytery, around the church, as well.” See also T. 11 February 2010, p. 26 (CS).

554. Witness Seminega testified that, when he reached the Statue of the Virgin Mary, Kanyarukiga's pharmacy was closed and there were no vehicles in front of the pharmacy.<sup>1546</sup> Witness Seminega knew that Kanyarukiga owned a small red vehicle but did not see a red vehicle near the Statue of the Virgin Mary on 16 April 1994.<sup>1547</sup>

555. When the witness arrived at the Nyange Parish on 16 April 1994, he saw people coming and going from the church.<sup>1548</sup> The church had already been demolished.<sup>1549</sup>

556. Witness Seminega did not see Kanyarukiga on 16 April 1994, nor did anyone tell the witness that Kanyarukiga was in Nyange, in the vicinity of the church or elsewhere in the Kivumu commune on that day.<sup>1550</sup>

Defence Witness Francois Sibomana

557. Witness Sibomana testified that the Nyange Parish Church was demolished on Saturday, 16 April 1994.<sup>1551</sup> Although he was not present during the destruction, Witness Sibomana stated that everyone in Nyange or the Kivumu commune knew about that event.<sup>1552</sup>

558. Witness Sibomana testified that it was well known that Télesphore Ndungutse was involved in the killings at the Nyange Parish because Ndungutse was in charge of the interahamwe in Kivumu commune.<sup>1553</sup> He further testified that he heard, after going into exile, that Father Seromba was present during the destruction of the church, but "[p]eople did not state with any precision that [Seromba] killed this or that person or that he was directly involved in the acts."<sup>1554</sup> Witness Sibomana denied having heard anything about the involvement of the bourgmestre.<sup>1555</sup> Finally, Witness Sibomana testified that he did not see Kanyarukiga in Kivumu commune on 16 April 1994; he did not see Kanyarukiga at his house or near his house.<sup>1556</sup>

Defence Witnesses KG19, Damien Nayituriki and KG59

559. Defence Witnesses KG19, Damien Nayituriki and KG59 all testified that the Nyange Church was destroyed on 16 April 1994.<sup>1557</sup> None of these witnesses were in Nyange on 16 April 1994.<sup>1558</sup> Rather, other people told them that the church had been destroyed.<sup>1559</sup>

6.3. Deliberations

560. The Chamber notes that it has found, for the reasons outlined in paragraphs 121 to 137, that the alibi for 16 April 1994 is not reasonably possibly true.

561. It is not disputed that the Nyange Parish Church was destroyed on 16 April 1994 or that the Tutsi civilians who had taken refuge there were killed. Both Parties presented evidence that assailants used bulldozers to destroy the Nyange Church on 16 April 1994, crushing those inside.<sup>1560</sup>

562. Prosecution and Defence witnesses both testified that thousands of Hutu assailants surrounded the Nyange Church on 16 April 1994.<sup>1561</sup> Prosecution Witnesses CNJ, CBY and CDL all testified that many of the assailants who were present on 16 April 1994 had spent the night at the parish.<sup>1562</sup> Witness CBR, moreover, testified that there were already many assailants at the parish when he arrived between 6.00 and 7.00 a.m. and that the number of attackers continued to grow throughout the morning.<sup>1563</sup> Defence Witness Twagirashema testified that there were so many people in Nyange on 16 April 1994 that he could not count them and that he saw a group of people moving towards the church.<sup>1564</sup> Witness CBK estimated that there were more than 5000 assailants at the parish on 16 April 1994, whereas Witness KG15 testified that there were around 10,000.<sup>1565</sup>

563. Prosecution Witnesses CBR, CDL and CBY all testified that at least one bulldozer was brought from the Astaldi Company to the Nyange Parish on the morning of 16 April 1994.<sup>1566</sup> Defence Witness KG15 agreed that a bulldozer arrived at the parish on the morning of 16 April 1994.<sup>1567</sup> Witnesses CBR, CDL and CNJ testified that a Rwandan named Anasthase Nkinamubanzi, also known as “Two Thousand”, drove some of the equipment used to demolish the church on 16 April 1994.<sup>1568</sup> Witnesses CBR and CDL further identified two Zaireans named Mitima and Maurice.<sup>1569</sup> Witness CBR mentioned a third Zairean named Albert.<sup>1570</sup> This evidence is not disputed by the Defence. The Chamber is therefore satisfied that at least one bulldozer was brought to the Nyange Parish on 16 April 1994 and that it was operated by a Rwandan named Anasthase Nkinamubanzi and at least two Zaireans, known as Mitima and Maurice.

Witness CNJ testified that he saw the same number of assailants at the parish on 16 April 1994 as he had seen on 15 April 1994. The Chamber recalls that Witness CNJ testified that there were 4000 Hutu assailants at the parish on 15 April 1994. T. 7 September 2009, pp. 15, 25.

564. It is not disputed that the bell tower was the last part of the church to be destroyed. Witness CDL testified that the bell tower was all that remained of the church when he left the parish at 4.00 p.m.<sup>1571</sup> Defence Witness KG15 testified that the back of the church was destroyed before the bell tower.<sup>1572</sup> Witness Seminega provided circumstantial support for this evidence when he testified that he heard the church bell, followed by a loud noise, on the afternoon of 16 April 1994 and that when he arrived at the church around 3.00 or 4.00 p.m., the church had already been demolished.<sup>1573</sup> According to Witnesses CBK and CNJ, the Tutsi who survived the earlier demolition congregated in the bell tower and were killed when the tower fell.<sup>1574</sup> This evidence is supported by Witness CBY, who testified that “the refugees were at the church tower” and the assailants “were much lower.”<sup>1575</sup> Based on the combined testimony of Prosecution and Defence Witnesses, the Chamber is satisfied that the bell tower was the last part of the church to be destroyed.

565. Finally, the Chamber notes that Prosecution and Defence witnesses agreed that the Tutsi who had taken refuge at the Nyange Parish were still inside the church when it was demolished.<sup>1576</sup> A number of Prosecution witnesses testify that those that took refuge in the church included men, women, children and the elderly.<sup>1577</sup> Those who tried to escape were killed with traditional weapons.<sup>1578</sup> Witness CNJ estimated that the total number of victims on 16 April 1994 was around 2000, whereas Witness CBK put the total number of victims closer to 3000.<sup>1579</sup> The range provided by these two witnesses is consistent with the evidence of Witness CBN, who testified that there were 2000 Tutsi at the parish on the night of 14 April 1994, and Witness CBY, who said that around 2500 to 3000 people took refuge at the parish.<sup>1580</sup> Hence, while the Chamber has treated the evidence of Witnesses CNJ and CBK with extreme caution, the Chamber is satisfied, on the basis of their testimony as corroborated by the circumstantial evidence of Witnesses CBN and CBY, that at least 2000 Tutsi civilians were killed at the Nyange Parish on 15 and 16 April 1994. Of these, the majority were killed when the church was demolished on 16 April 1994.<sup>1581</sup>

While Witness Seminega testified that the church was already a pile of rubble when he arrived around 4.00 p.m., the Chamber does not consider such minor variations in the times provided by different witnesses to be significant. Indeed, the Chamber notes that Witness CNJ also testified that the demolition was complete by 4.00 p.m. T. 7 September 2009, p. 27.

Witness CBN testified that when he returned to Nyange in September 1994, he “found a place where the people who had been killed inside the church had been buried.” T. 1 September 2009, p. 69. Witness KG15 testified that the priests at the Nyange Parish asked the bourgmestre and IPJ for help in burying the bodies that had been left in the church compound. 566. The issue before the Trial Chamber therefore concerns Kanyarukiga's alleged involvement in these established events. The Prosecution submits that,

[T]he Accused was an important and crucial person in the decision that was taken to destroy the [Nyange Church]. The evidence demonstrates that he was one of the leaders involved in planning the logistics of the demolition, and in supervising its execution.<sup>1582</sup>

The Prosecution relies on the evidence of Witnesses CNJ, CBK, CBY, CBR and CDL to support these allegations.<sup>1583</sup>

567. The Defence submits that the Prosecution witnesses "are a group of self-serving, largely criminal, collaborating witnesses who have personal motives for placing the Accused at the scene".<sup>1584</sup> The Defence points to Kanyarukiga's alibi, discussed in Chapter III, Section One, as well as the testimony of Defence Witnesses Jean-Bosco Twagirashema, Fulgence Seminega, Roger Kemena Mutume and KG15, who testified that they neither saw nor heard that Kanyarukiga was in Nyange or involved in the events at Nyange Parish on 16 April 1994.<sup>1585</sup>

Meeting at CODEKOKI on the Morning of 16 April 1994

568. Paragraph 16 of the Amended Indictment alleges that Kanyarukiga attended a meeting at the CODEKOKI building on the morning of 16 April 1994. The Prosecution, however, has not adduced any evidence of a meeting at the CODEKOKI on this day. Rather, when asked during its closing argument to identify evidence on the record in support of this allegation, the Prosecution pointed to Witness CDL's testimony regarding the alleged meeting in front of Kanyarukiga's pharmacy on 16 April 1994.<sup>1586</sup>

569. The Defence submits that Witness CDL's testimony that Kanyarukiga attended a meeting in front of his pharmacy on 16 April 1994 should be excluded for lack of notice.<sup>1587</sup> The Chamber recalls that the Prosecution did not make the link between Witness CDL's testimony and paragraph 16 of the Indictment until its closing argument. Instead, in response to the Defence's initial objection to this evidence, the Prosecution argued that the testimony fell within the scope of paragraph 5(B) of the Indictment and that the Defence had been given notice of this allegation by means of paragraph 36 of the Prosecutor's Pre-Trial Brief.<sup>1588</sup> The Chamber further recalls that, in its response to the Defence motion for a judgement of acquittal, the Prosecution argued that other than the date, there was no material difference between the allegation in the Indictment and the evidence adduced at trial of a meeting at the CODEKOKI on 15 April 1994.<sup>1589</sup>

The Defence also objected to the admission of this evidence at trial; the objection was noted by the Trial Chamber. T. 10 September 2009, pp. 36, 38. In its 15 January 2010 decision on the Defence motion for exclusion of evidence, the Trial Chamber reserved its decision as to whether to exclude evidence of certain meetings allegedly attended by the Accused until the judgement. <sup>1589</sup> Prosecutor's Response to the Motion for Acquittal Pursuant to Rule 98 bis, filed on 28 September 2009, paras. 16, 18.

570. The Chamber further notes that Witness CDL first mentioned the meeting in front of Kanyarukiga's pharmacy in his statement to ICTR investigators in 2001, more than six years prior to the amendment of the indictment.<sup>1590</sup> Despite having this information in its possession, the Prosecution did not include the meeting at the pharmacy in the Amended Indictment. Rather, the Prosecution added the meeting at the CODEKOKI, as set forth in paragraph 16. It now seeks to "cure" this defect in the Indictment through its Pre-Trial Brief.

571. The Chamber is not persuaded. The meeting in front of the pharmacy was not mentioned in the text of the Prosecution's Pre-Trial Brief or the Prosecution's opening statement; it only appears in the summary of Witness CDL's anticipated testimony.<sup>1591</sup> Moreover, the summary of Witness CDL's testimony does not simply add greater detail in a consistent manner to a more general allegation already pleaded in the Indictment.<sup>1592</sup> Rather, it materially alters the allegation in the Indictment by changing both the location of the meeting and the nature of Kanyarukiga's participation.<sup>1593</sup> Accordingly, the Chamber has disregarded Witness CDL's testimony that Kanyarukiga attended a meeting in front of the pharmacy on 16 April 1994.<sup>1594</sup>

Meeting at Nyange Parish on the morning of 16 April 1994

572. Paragraph 17 alleges that, after the meeting at the CODEKOKI, Kanyarukiga and others met with Father Seromba at the Nyange Parish and informed him of their decision to demolish the church and kill the Tutsi who had taken refuge inside. The Prosecution has presented evidence of a gathering at the parish in the early morning on 16 April 1994, as well as a meeting at or near the presbytery around 9.00 or 10.00 a.m.

573. The Chamber recalls that paragraph 17 of the Amended Indictment only alleges that the Accused attended one meeting at the Nyange Parish on the morning of 16 April 1994. Having considered the evidence of both gatherings, the Chamber is satisfied that the later meeting is that described in paragraph 17 of the Indictment. However, because both assemblies appear to have been part of the same course of conduct,<sup>1595</sup> the Chamber has considered the evidence of the earlier gathering to the extent to which it supports the general allegation that the Accused and others were present during the events on 16 April 1994. Given that the Indictment clearly alleges that Gaspard Kanyarukiga and others were at the parish on this day, the Chamber is satisfied that the Accused had sufficient notice of this evidence.

574. Prosecution Witnesses CBR and CDL both testified that they arrived at the Nyange Parish before 8.00 a.m. on the morning of 16 April 1994.<sup>1596</sup> According to these witnesses, "authorities" were present and talking when they arrived.<sup>1597</sup> Witness CBR testified that when he arrived at the parish around 6.00 or 7.00 a.m., he saw Ndahimana, Kayishema, Kanyarukiga, Ndungutse,

<sup>1593</sup> See Muvunyi, Judgement (AC), para. 28. Not only does Witness CDL allege that the decision to destroy the church was taken at the Accused's pharmacy, but he also accuses Kanyarukiga of playing a leading role in that decision. T. 10 September 2009, pp. 36, 38-39; Defence Exhibit D29(A) (Statement of Witness CDL dated 10 October 2001), p. 3.

<sup>1594</sup> The Chamber recalls that it has treated Witness CDL's testimony with extreme caution and has generally only relied on the witness's evidence where corroborated by other credible evidence. Given that Witness CDL's evidence about this meeting is uncorroborated, the Chamber finds that, even if it were to consider the evidence on its merits, it would not be sufficient to establish beyond reasonable doubt that Kanyarukiga attended a meeting in front of the pharmacy on the morning of 16 April 1994 or that the decision to destroy the church was taken during this meeting.

<sup>1596</sup> Witness CBR, T. 9 September 2009, p. 29; T. 10 September 2009, p. 8; Witness CDL, T. 10 September 2009, p. 35.

Habiyambere, Murangwabugabo, Habarugira and Father Seromba talking in front of Seromba's office.<sup>1598</sup> He did not hear what they were saying nor did he see them enter the presbytery.<sup>1599</sup> Witness CDL, who testified that he arrived at the parish with Ndahimana between 7.00 and 8.00 a.m., agreed that other people, including Seromba, police, gendarmes and reservists, were already present.<sup>1600</sup> Witness CDL testified that he spoke to Ndahimana, Seromba and the others who were with them.<sup>1601</sup>

575. Witnesses CBR and CDL both testified that after these discussions, Bourgmestre Ndahimana initiated the day's attacks by firing a gun in the direction of the church.<sup>1602</sup> According to Witness CBR, this occurred around 8.00 a.m. and Kanyarukiga, Kayishema, Ndungutse, Habiyambere, Murangwabugabo and Habarugira were standing near Ndahimana when the shots were fired.<sup>1603</sup> Witness CDL testified that he was at the parish during this time, and after Ndahimana fired the first shots, police and others with firearms followed suit.<sup>1604</sup> Witness CDL did not see Kanyarukiga at this time.<sup>1605</sup>

576. The Chamber recalls that Witnesses CBR and CDL both participated in the attacks on the Nyange Parish and were detained together at the Kibuye Prison, where they participated in the same Gacaca sessions.<sup>1606</sup> Therefore, the Chamber has treated their evidence with appropriate caution. However, the fact that these witnesses are accomplices does not necessarily render their testimony unreliable. Indeed, the Chamber finds that as participants in the attacks, these witnesses were inherently well placed to observe the scene outside the Nyange Church on 16 April 1994. The Chamber has found that Witness CBR's evidence, in particular, was detailed and consistent. Further, while the Chamber has generally treated the evidence of Witness CDL with extreme caution due to concerns that the witness may have an interest in deflecting responsibility onto the Accused, the Chamber notes that, in this instance, the witness incriminated himself by testifying that he was with Ndahimana when Ndahimana fired on the church. Thus, based on their combined testimony, the Chamber is satisfied that certain "authorities," including Father Seromba and Bourgmestre Ndahimana, were present at the Nyange Parish before 8.00 a.m. on 16 April 1994 and were talking in front of Seromba's office. The Chamber is also satisfied that Bourgmestre Ndahimana fired shots in the direction of the Nyange Church around 8.00 a.m., initiating the day's attacks.

577. Only Witness CBR placed Kanyarukiga at the parish during these events. While the Chamber is generally satisfied that Witness CBR provided a detailed and consistent account of the events he experienced on 16 April 1994, it finds that in view of Witness CDL's conflicting testimony, it cannot rely on Witness CBR's uncorroborated evidence to establish that Kanyarukiga was at the Nyange Parish before 9.00 or 10.00 a.m. Rather, given Witness CDL's testimony that he accompanied Ndahimana on the morning of 16 April 1994, the Chamber finds that, had Kanyarukiga also been near the bourgmestre, Witness CDL would have seen him.

See also Personal Identification Sheets of Witnesses CNJ, CDL and CBR.

578. In crediting Witness CDL's evidence on this point, the Chamber has considered that while Witness CDL claimed to be a bystander, other witnesses identified him as a key player in the attacks on 15 and 16 April 1994.<sup>1607</sup> Given that Witness CDL is still serving time in Rwanda for crimes related to the events of 1994,<sup>1608</sup> he could have personal motivations to implicate the Accused while minimising his own role in the attacks.<sup>1609</sup> With respect to these particular events, however, Witness CDL has done exactly the opposite; he has placed himself at the parish with Bourgmestre Ndahimana while acknowledging that he did not see the Accused until later.

579. For these reasons, the Chamber finds that it has not been established beyond reasonable doubt that Kanyarukiga was at the Nyange Parish during the gathering before 8.00 a.m. or when Ndahimana fired at the church.

580. Witnesses CBR, CDL, CBK and CBY testified that Kanyarukiga also attended a meeting at the Nyange Parish later in the morning on 16 April 1994.<sup>1610</sup> According to Witness CBR, Ndahimana, Kanyarukiga, Kayishema, Ndungutse, Habiyaambere, Murangwabugabo and Habarugira returned to Father Seromba's office between 9.00 and 10.00 a.m.<sup>1611</sup> Witness CDL also placed the meeting near the secretariat.<sup>1612</sup> He testified that Ndahimana, Kayishema, Habiyaambere, Kanyarukiga, Ndungutse, Gilbert Kanani and others informed Father Seromba of the decision to destroy the church<sup>1613</sup> and that Seromba accepted the decision because it was the only way to eliminate the Tutsi.<sup>1614</sup> Witness CBK agreed that Kanyarukiga, Kayishema and others met with Father Seromba on the morning of 16 April 1994 but said that they talked in the inner courtyard of the presbytery and then went upstairs to the bishop's room.<sup>1615</sup> Witness CBY confirmed that the "authorities" had a meeting with a priest on the morning of 16 April 1994, but he did not say where.<sup>1616</sup>

581. The Chamber notes that, while the witnesses disagreed somewhat over the exact venue of the meeting and its participants, they corroborated each other by giving evidence that: a meeting was held at the Nyange Parish on the morning of 16 April 1994, as alleged in paragraph 17 of the

<sup>1607</sup> See, e.g., Witness CBK, T. 2 September 2009, p. 70; T. 3 September 2009, p. 9; Witness CDL, T. 11 September 2009, p. 23; Witness CNJ, T. 7 September 2009, p. 25; Witness CBS, T. 16 September 2009, p. 4. The Trial Chamber has omitted other similar references for witness protection reasons. The Chamber recalls that Witness CDL testified that he was a spectator during the events on 16 April 1994 and only pled guilty because he did not do anything to assist the victims of the attacks. T. 11 September 2009, p. 23. Given the narrow parameters of this alleged confession, the Chamber finds that the witness could have an incentive to minimise his involvement in the attacks in order to avoid additional charges.

<sup>1608</sup> Order for Transfer of Detained Witnesses CDL and CDK, 20 August 2009; T. 10 September 2009, pp. 55, 60 (CS).

<sup>1614</sup> T. 10 September 2009, pp. 36, 38-39. The Chamber notes that page 36 of the transcript only refers to meetings at the pharmacy, which have been excluded for notice. However, it also says that Father Seromba agreed to the demolition "since there were no other means whereby they could destroy the Tutsis." T. 10 September 2009, p. 36. Witness CDL testified elsewhere, however, that the decision to destroy the church was communicated to Seromba at the parish. T. 10 September 2009, pp. 51-52. Therefore, the Chamber has used the evidence from page 36 of the transcript to the extent to which it relates to informing Seromba of the decision to destroy the church.

Indictment; and Kanyarukiga was present at that meeting with Father Seromba, IPJ Kayishema and others. The Chamber finds that the slight variations between the witnesses' accounts can be explained by the passage of time and the witnesses' different vantage points on 16 April 1994.

582. The Chamber has also considered the evidence of Defence Witnesses KG15, Jean-Bosco Twagirashema, Roger Mutume, Fulgence Seminega and Francois Sibomana.

583. Witness KG15 testified that Father Seromba did not leave the presbytery until after the church was demolished,<sup>1617</sup> and the only two people who visited the parish presbytery on 16 April 1994 were the bourgmestre and the IPJ, who arrived some time between 11.00 a.m. and 3.00 p.m.<sup>1618</sup> As previously discussed, the Chamber has serious doubts about Witness KG15's overall credibility. Further, with respect to this specific event, the Chamber recalls that Witness KG15 testified that he did not leave the presbytery on 16 April 1994 and did not even look outside until the bulldozer began to demolish the church.<sup>1619</sup> Thus, given the evidence that the meeting was held outside of the presbytery, the Chamber does not consider Witness KG15's testimony sufficient to cast doubt on the Prosecution evidence. Moreover, while Witness KG15 testified in this case that Father Seromba remained inside the refectory until after the church was demolished, he said in the Seromba trial that Father Seromba went out during the demolition.<sup>1620</sup> In view of these irregularities, the Chamber has disregarded Witness KG15's testimony as to Father Seromba's whereabouts.

584. Defence Witnesses Twagirashema, Mutume and Seminega all testified that they went to Nyange on 16 April 1994, but they did not see Kanyarukiga or Kanyarukiga's vehicle, nor did they hear that Kanyarukiga was present.<sup>1621</sup> Considering none of these witnesses went to the church during the demolition and that there were thousands of people in Nyange on 16 April 1994, the Chamber does not consider this testimony sufficient to cast doubt on the Prosecution evidence.

585. Witness Sibomana acknowledged that he was not in Nyange during the destruction of the church but testified that he did not see Kanyarukiga in Kivumu commune, including at the Accused's house, on 16 April 1994.<sup>1622</sup> This is not a sufficient basis of knowledge for the Chamber to make any findings concerning Kanyarukiga's involvement in the alleged meeting at the parish.

586. Finally, Defence Witnesses Twagirashema, Mutume and Seminega also testified that Kanyarukiga's pharmacy was closed on 16 April 1994.<sup>1623</sup> While the Chamber is not convinced that the pharmacy was closed, it observes that, even if it had been closed, the Accused did not work in his pharmacy.<sup>1624</sup> Thus, the Chamber does not consider this evidence relevant to the question of whether Kanyarukiga was at the Nyange Parish on 16 April 1994.

I saw him on few occasions, maybe on four occasions. When he was coming to see what was going on at his pharmacy, that is when I saw him."); Witness CBT, T. 14 September 2009, pp. 42-43 (stating that Kanyarukiga was a prosperous businessman in Kigali and that he also owned a pharmacy in the Nyange Trading Centre); Witness YAU, T. 15 September 2009, p. 30 (stating that she used to see Kanyarukiga when he visited the Nyange pharmacy but that she did not see him often).

587. Accordingly, while the Chamber has been cautious in its assessment of the Prosecution evidence,<sup>1625</sup> it finds that the Prosecution has proven beyond reasonable doubt that in the late morning of 16 April 1994, Kanyarukiga attended a meeting at the Nyange Parish with Father Seromba, Grégoire Ndahimana, Fulgence Kayishema, Télesphore Ndungutse, Judge Joseph Habiyaambere and others. The Chamber, however, is not convinced that Francois Gashugu or Védaste Mupende attended this meeting, as alleged in the Indictment. There is no evidence in the record regarding Francois Gashugu. Moreover, while Witnesses CBR, CNJ and CDL all testified that a certain Védaste Murangwabugabo was among the leaders of the attacks on 16 April 1994, there is no evidence that Védaste Murangwabugabo was Védaste Mupende.<sup>1626</sup>

588. The Prosecution further alleges that during this meeting, Gaspard Kanyarukiga, Grégoire Ndahimana, Fulgence Kayishema, Télesphore Ndungutse, Judge Joseph Habiyaambere and others informed Father Seromba of their decision to destroy the Nyange Church.<sup>1627</sup> Only Witness CDL testified that the decision to destroy the church was communicated to Seromba during this meeting.<sup>1628</sup> Neither Witness CBR nor Witness CBK heard what was discussed during the meeting.<sup>1629</sup> However, because the destruction of the church followed the meeting, they assumed that the meeting had addressed the demolition.<sup>1630</sup> Witness CBY likewise testified that after the meeting, the “authorities” ordered the assailants who had spent the night at the parish to demolish the church.<sup>1631</sup>

589. As discussed above, the Chamber is satisfied that Witness CDL accompanied Bourgmestre Ndahimana to the Nyange Parish on 16 April 1994.<sup>1632</sup> Considering several witnesses identified Witness CDL as one of the leaders of the attacks, the Chamber is satisfied that Witness CDL attended the meeting at the parish and was in close proximity to Ndahimana and the other “officials.” Witness CDL’s testimony was also partially corroborated by the circumstantial evidence of Witnesses CBR, CBK and CBY, who testified that the destruction of the church followed the meeting at the parish. Thus, while the Chamber has generally treated Witness CDL’s evidence with extreme caution, it finds, based on Witness CDL’s first-hand account and the circumstantial evidence provided by Witnesses CBR, CBK and CBY, that the demolition of the church was discussed and agreed to during the meeting at the Nyange Parish on the morning of 16 April 1994.

590. Finally, the Prosecution alleges that after this meeting, Kanyarukiga instigated the demolition of the church by suggesting that another one would be built.<sup>1633</sup> Prosecution Witness CBR was the only witness to testify in support of this allegation. He attested that between 9.00 and 10.00 a.m., he overheard Kanyarukiga tell Ndahimana, Kayishema, Ndungutse, Habiyaambere, Habarugira and Murangwabugabo that, “[t]his church has to be demolished. I would reconstruct it. I would make it my responsibility to reconstruct in three days.”<sup>1634</sup> According to the witness, Kanyarukiga was neither addressing the crowd of assailants nor speaking quietly.<sup>1635</sup>

591. The Chamber recalls that Witness CBR was an accomplice to the events at the Nyange Parish and was incarcerated at the Kibuye Prison with four other witnesses in this case.<sup>1636</sup> The Chamber has therefore approached the witness’s evidence with requisite caution.<sup>1637</sup> The Chamber notes, however, that Witness CBR has already confessed<sup>1638</sup> and been sentenced in Rwanda.<sup>1639</sup> Thus, notwithstanding Rwanda’s confession law,<sup>1640</sup> the Chamber finds no reason to believe that Witness CBR would now receive favourable treatment for testifying against Kanyarukiga.<sup>1641</sup> The Chamber also recalls that Witness CBR is a member of Kanyarukiga’s extended family, who told the court that, because of this relationship, he has “nothing against Gaspard Kanyarukiga.”<sup>1642</sup>

592. The Chamber has considered the Defence submission that “there is direct evidence of collusion” between Witnesses CBR, CDL, CBT, CDK and CNJ.<sup>1643</sup> As discussed above, the Chamber is mindful that these witnesses attended Gacaca sessions together in prison but does not believe that this alone supports an inference of collusion.<sup>1644</sup>

<sup>1638</sup> T. 9 September 2009, pp. 33, 49. The Chamber notes that Witness CBR admitted to killing four of his neighbours with a machete and throwing stones during the attacks at the Nyange Parish. While the witness did not answer directly when asked whether he killed anyone at the parish, the Chamber finds this insufficient to cast doubt on his otherwise consistent and compelling testimony regarding the actions of the Accused. T. 10 September 2009, p. 12.

<sup>1639</sup> T. 9 September 2009, p. 33. The witness noted that the longest sentence he received was 20 years. He testified that he is currently a “free man” but appears to still be serving the “community labour” portion of his sentence.

<sup>1641</sup> The Chamber also notes that the witness was a member of a group in prison that “sensitised” other prisoners to plead guilty. T. 9 September 2009, p. 49. The Chamber, however, does not believe that the witness’s membership in this group necessarily renders his evidence unreliable.

<sup>1644</sup> Although Witness CBR was in Arusha, he was housed with Witnesses CDL and CBT, who also testified that Kanyarukiga said that the Nyange Church could be rebuilt (Witness CBR, T. 9 September 2009, pp. 39-40 (CS); Witness CDL, T. 10 September 2009, p. 39; Witness CBT, T. 14 September 2009, p. 46, T. 15 September 2009, p. 1), all three witnesses mentioned Kanyarukiga’s alleged remarks several years prior to their testimony in this case. Defence Exhibit D27(B) (Statement of Witness CBR dated 9 October 2001), p. 4; Defence Exhibit D29(A) (Statement of Witness CDL dated 10 October 2001), p. 3; Defence Exhibit D42(B) (Statement of Witness CBT dated 14 and 16 August 2000), p. 4. Moreover, while they all attributed similar statements to the Accused, the witnesses placed these statements at different geographical locations and points during the sequence of events on 15 and 16 April 1994, clearly indicating that they were not describing the same incident. Witness CDL, T. 10 September 2009, p. 39; Witness CBT, T. 14 September 2009, p. 46; T. 15 September 2009, p. 1. Therefore, the Chamber does not consider their housing arrangement in Arusha to support an inference of collusion.

593. Moreover, the Chamber finds that Witness CBR's sworn testimony was detailed,<sup>1645</sup> internally consistent and consistent with other credible evidence on a number of points.<sup>1646</sup> The Chamber was impressed by the witness's demeanour in court and found his narration of events compelling.

594. Finally, the Chamber finds circumstantial support for Witness CBR's testimony regarding Kanyarukiga's remark. In particular, the Chamber has found that immediately prior to making this statement to the other "officials", Kanyarukiga attended a meeting at which the demolition of the church was discussed.<sup>1647</sup> As mentioned above, Witness CBY testified that after this meeting, the "authorities" ordered the assailants to complete the demolition of the church.<sup>1648</sup> Witness CBR further testified that after Kanyarukiga's remark, Kayishema and Ndungutse went to fetch a bulldozer, which was brought to the church.<sup>1649</sup> Witnesses CBY, CDL and KG15 all corroborated Witness CBR with respect to the arrival of a bulldozer(s) in the late morning on 16 April 1994.<sup>1650</sup> Finally, as discussed further below, the church was demolished later that day.

595. Accordingly, based on Witness CBR's consistent and compelling eye-witness testimony, as supported by other circumstantial evidence in the record, the Chamber finds it established beyond reasonable doubt that, after the meeting at the parish on the morning of 16 April 1994, the Accused told Bourgmestre Ndahimana, IPJ Kayishema, Judge Habiyambere, Ndungutse and others that the Nyange Church had to be destroyed and that he would make it his responsibility to rebuild it in three days.

Demolition of Nyange Parish Church

596. Paragraph 18 of the Amended Indictment alleges that Kanyarukiga was present during the demolition of the church and that he instigated the attackers to kill the Tutsi who had barricaded themselves inside.<sup>1651</sup>

597. Witness CBR testified that after the meeting near the secretariat, Kayishema and Ndungutse went to find a bulldozer.<sup>1652</sup> According to the witness, a bulldozer and a truck were brought to the parish between 10.00 and 11.00 a.m. and immediately started demolishing the church.<sup>1653</sup> Witness CDL agreed that the bulldozers arrived and began demolishing the church between 10.00 and 11.00 a.m. but testified that there were two of them.<sup>1654</sup> Witness CBY testified that one bulldozer was left

<sup>1645</sup> For example, in narrating the events in which he participated at the Nyange Parish, Witness CBR gave the names of several of his co-perpetrators (T. 9 September 2009, p. 34.), provided the times at which most, if not all, major events occurred (See, e.g., T. 9 September 2009, pp. 15, 16, 18, 29, 52, 57, 58-59, 66; T. 10 September 2009, pp. 9, 10, 11) and gave detailed information regarding the statements he said he heard between 14 and 16 April 1994 (T. 9 September 2009, pp. 3, 15-28, 11, 25, 32, 57-66).

However, given the corroboration in this instance, the Chamber accepts Witness CBY's testimony that a bulldozer was brought to the parish on 16 April 1994.); Witness CDL, T. 10 September 2009, p. 36; T. 11 September 2009, pp. 16, 17; Witness KG15, T. 11 February 2010, pp. 19, 37 (CS).

at the parish overnight from 15 April 1994<sup>1655</sup> and that a second bulldozer was brought on 16 April 1994.<sup>1656</sup> Witness CBY did not say when the bulldozer arrived on 16 April 1994 but testified that when he left the presbytery, the bulldozer had already begun removing bricks from the church.<sup>1657</sup> Finally, Defence Witness KG15 testified that a bulldozer arrived at the parish on the morning of 16 April 1994 and the church was destroyed around midday.<sup>1658</sup>

598. The Chamber recalls that, while it has treated Witness CBR's testimony with requisite caution, it has found the witness to be generally credible. Furthermore, the Chamber recalls that Witness CBR's testimony regarding the arrival of the bulldozer and the demolition of the church was largely corroborated by Witnesses CBY, CDL and KG15. Thus, based on this evidence, the Chamber is satisfied that at least one bulldozer was brought to the parish from the Astaldi Company in the late morning on 16 April 1994. While the evidence is inconclusive as to whether two bulldozers were brought to the parish on that day, the Chamber finds that the number of bulldozers is immaterial to the resolution of the issues in this case. Further, based on Witness CBR's evidence, the Chamber is satisfied that Kayishema and Ndungutse were the ones to fetch the bulldozer(s) on 16 April 1994. There is no evidence that Kanyarukiga was involved in bringing the bulldozers to the parish. Finally, in view of the consistent and corroborative testimony of Witnesses CBR, CDL and KG15, the Chamber finds it established beyond reasonable doubt that the demolition of the church began around midday, shortly after the arrival of the bulldozer(s).

599. Prosecution Witness CNJ provided a somewhat different account, testifying that "the bulldozer" was already at the parish when he arrived between 8.00 and 9.00 a.m. on 16 April 1994.<sup>1659</sup> According to the witness, Kanyarukiga, Rushema, Théodomir Kiragi, Kayishema, Ndungutse, Habiyaambere and Murangwabugabo were standing around the bulldozer talking, while the driver was onboard, ready to demolish the church.<sup>1660</sup> Witness CNJ suggested that the men were discussing strategy and testified that Murangwabugabo's recommendation that holes be bored in the sides of the church was rejected by the bourgmestre.<sup>1661</sup> IPJ Kayishema went to get Father Seromba, who spoke to the men for a few minutes.<sup>1662</sup> After that, Ndahimana said that they could start and Kayishema instructed the bulldozer driver to begin the demolition.<sup>1663</sup> The bulldozer began by demolishing a door on the left side of the church, near the altar.<sup>1664</sup> According to Witness

<sup>1655</sup> T. 14 September 2009, pp. 20-21. The Chamber is mindful that Witness CBY's testimony that one of the bulldozers was left at the parish overnight is inconsistent with that of Witnesses CBR and CDL. Witness CBR, T. 10 September 2009, p. 8; Witness CDL, T. 11 September 2009, p. 16. Therefore, while the Chamber has generally found Witness CBY to be credible, it finds that the witness's testimony on this specific point is insufficient to support a finding beyond reasonable doubt that one of the bulldozers was left at the parish overnight. At the same time, given the passage of time and Witness CBY's general confusion with respect to dates, the Chamber does not consider this discrepancy to be significant.

<sup>1656</sup> T. 14 September 2009, pp. 20-21. Witness CBY testified that, when the second bulldozer arrived on 16 April 1994, it did not have enough fuel, so IPJ Kayishema said that "he was going to take diesel from Astaldi forcibly." T. 14 September 2009, pp. 20-21. The witness did not say how he learned about Kayishema's comment but agreed during cross-examination that he saw people carrying jerry cans of fuel to the parish. T. 14 September 2009, pp. 21-22. Despite Witness CBY's difficulties recalling details such as dates and times, the Chamber has generally regarded him as a credible and reliable witness. With respect to this particular event, however, the Chamber notes that Witness CBY did not provide any information regarding the basis for his knowledge other than his observation that people were bringing fuel to the parish in jerry cans. Consequently, the Chamber finds that the witness's evidence is too tenuous to support a finding of fact beyond reasonable doubt.

CNJ, the demolition began around 9.00 a.m., approximately 30 minutes after the witness arrived at the parish.<sup>1665</sup>

600. The Chamber recalls that it has treated Witness CNJ's evidence with extreme caution and only relied on his testimony when corroborated by other credible evidence. In this case, the Chamber notes that the witness's testimony regarding the arrival of the bulldozer and the commencement of the demolition was not only uncorroborated but also inconsistent with the evidence of Witnesses CBR, CBY, CDL and KG15. The Chamber further notes that Witness CNJ's testimony was inconsistent with his own prior statements, in which he said that he arrived at the parish at the same time as the bulldozer and that the demolition was already underway when he arrived.<sup>1666</sup> Accordingly, the Chamber has disregarded Witness CNJ's testimony regarding the timing of the arrival of the bulldozer and the commencement of the demolition.

601. While Witness CNJ's testimony on this point appears to have been partially corroborated by Witness CDL, who testified that Father Seromba recommended demolishing the side of the church near the sacristy,<sup>1667</sup> Witness CDL is largely regarded by the Chamber as an unreliable witness. In addition, the Chamber recalls that Witnesses CBY and CBR denied seeing anyone holding a meeting or a discussion around the bulldozer before the demolition.<sup>1668</sup> Hence, the Chamber finds that the evidence is insufficient to establish beyond reasonable doubt that Kanyarukiga, Rushema, Théodomir Kiragi, Kayishema, Ndungutse, Habiyaambere and Murangwabugabo had a conversation or a meeting around the bulldozer prior to the demolition. Likewise, the Prosecution has failed to establish that Védaste Murangwabugabo suggested that holes be bored into the sides of the church; that this recommendation was rejected by Bourgmestre Ndahimana; that Father Seromba spoke to the others near the bulldozer; that Ndahimana said that they could start and that Kayishema instructed the bulldozer driver to begin the demolition.

602. In contrast, Witness CNJ's testimony regarding the presence of certain individuals on 16 April 1994 is well corroborated. Witnesses CNJ and CDL both testified that Bourgmestre Ndahimana, IPJ Kayishema, Judge Joseph Habiyaambere, teacher Télesphore Ndungutse and Assistant Bourgmestre Védaste Murangwabugabo were present during the demolition of the church.<sup>1669</sup> Their evidence was corroborated by Witnesses CBK and KG15, who mentioned Kayishema and Ndahimana;<sup>1670</sup> Defence Witnesses Sibomana and Twagirashema, who identified Ndungutse as one of the leaders of the attacks;<sup>1671</sup> and Witnesses Mutume and CBY, who mentioned the IPJ.<sup>1672</sup> The Chamber notes that while he did not specify whether they were still present during the demolition, Witness CBR also testified that Ndahimana, Kayishema, Habiyaambere, Ndungutse and Murangwabugabo were at the parish on the morning of

16 April 1994.<sup>1673</sup> Accordingly, while the evidence is inconclusive as to who was present when, the Chamber is satisfied that at least Ndahimana, Kayishema and Ndungutse were at the Nyange Parish on the day the church was demolished.<sup>1674</sup>

603. Witnesses CBK, CNJ, CDL, CBR and CBY also testified that Father Seromba was at the Nyange Parish on 16 April 1994.<sup>1675</sup> This evidence was partially corroborated by Defence Witnesses KG15 and Sibomana.<sup>1676</sup> Witnesses CBY, CBR, CDL and CNJ all suggested that Father Seromba agreed to the demolition of the church.<sup>1677</sup> Witness CBK went so far as to say that Father Seromba gave the order to demolish the church<sup>1678</sup> and said that they could rebuild it.<sup>1679</sup> In view of this evidence, the Chamber is satisfied that Father Seromba was present on 16 April 1994 and agreed to the demolition of the church.

604. Finally, Witnesses CNJ, CDL and CBK all testified that Kanyarukiga was present during the demolition of the church. Witness CNJ testified that Kanyarukiga was present but did not say what the Accused was doing.<sup>1680</sup> Only Witnesses CBK and CDL testified about the Accused's activities during the demolition. Witness CBK testified that Kanyarukiga instructed the assailants to kill any Tutsi who tried to escape.<sup>1681</sup> Witness CDL testified that the Accused showed the driver of the bulldozer a part of the church he should "tackle" where the stones thrown from inside the church would not reach him.<sup>1682</sup> Witness CBR did not see Kanyarukiga after the bulldozers arrived at the parish.<sup>1683</sup>

605. As discussed elsewhere, the Chamber has treated the evidence of Witnesses CNJ, CDL and CBK with extreme caution. With respect to this particular event, moreover, the Chamber recalls that, while Witness CDL testified that Kanyarukiga was present throughout the demolition, the witness claimed to have left the parish between 12.00 and 2.00 p.m. and again at 4.00 p.m.<sup>1684</sup> Thus, even if his evidence were believed, Witness CDL, by his own admission, was not in a position to know Kanyarukiga's whereabouts for much of the afternoon on 16 April 1994. In addition, Witnesses CBK and CDL gave testimony at trial that was inconsistent with their prior statements. Witness CBK suggested in his 26 April 2001 statement, which dealt specifically with the Accused,

<sup>1675</sup> Witness CBK, T. 3 September 2009, p. 22; Witness CNJ, T. 7 September 2009, p. 26; Witness CDL, T. 10 September 2009, pp. 36, 38-39; Witness CBR, T. 9 September 2009, p. 30; Witness CBY, T. 8 September 2009, p. 47.

<sup>1676</sup> Witness KG15 did not accept that Father Seromba was involved in the destruction of the church but testified that Seromba was at the parish presbytery throughout the demolition. T. 11 February 2010, pp. 24, 37-38 (CS). The Chamber does not accept Witness KG15's testimony that Father Seromba remained inside the refectory until the demolition was complete but credits Witness KG15's testimony that Seromba was at the parish to the extent to which it is corroborated by other evidence. The Chamber recalls that Witness Sibomana was not in Nyange on 16 April 1994 and was only told about Father Seromba's presence after he went into exile. T. 1 February 2010, pp. 44-45, 46.

<sup>1677</sup> T. 8 September 2009, p. 47 (Witness CBY testified that the "authorities" met with the priest and then ordered the Hutu assailants to demolish the church.); T. 9 September 2009, pp. 31-32 (Witness CBR inferred that the decision to demolish the church was made during a meeting with Father Seromba.); T. 10 September 2009, pp. 36, 38-39, 42 (Witness CDL testified that Father Seromba agreed that the church had to be destroyed and provided instructions on where to begin the demolition.); T. 7 September 2009, p. 26 (Witness CNJ testified that Seromba spoke to the authorities near the bulldozer shortly before the demolition began.).

<sup>1679</sup> T. 3 September 2009, pp. 22, 23. The Chamber recalls that other witnesses attributed similar comments to the Accused.

<sup>1684</sup> T. 10 September 2009, p. 43. The witness also suggested that Kanyarukiga may have gone to his pharmacy and then returned to the parish later.

that the last time he saw Kanyarukiga was on the evening of 15 April 1994.<sup>1685</sup> While the witness placed Kanyarukiga at the parish in other statements, he did not say that Kanyarukiga instigated the assailants to kill Tutsi with traditional weapons.<sup>1686</sup> Witness CDL did not say in either of his statements that Kanyarukiga told the driver of the bulldozer how to avoid being hit by stones.<sup>1687</sup>

606. Thus, considering that Witnesses CNJ, CDL and CBK cannot be relied upon unless corroborated by credible evidence and that, in this case, they are only corroborated by each other, the Chamber finds that it cannot rely on their testimony to establish that Kanyarukiga was at the Nyange Parish during the demolition of the church.

607. Witness CBK further testified that, after the rest of the church had been demolished, Kanyarukiga asked Father Seromba if certain educated Tutsi, including Rwamasirabo,<sup>1688</sup> Nsanzabaganwa, Bonera and Kayiranga, had taken refuge at the parish.<sup>1689</sup> Father Seromba answered in the affirmative and the “assailants” said that they must be in the bell tower.<sup>1690</sup> The “assailants” said that if the educated Tutsi were not killed, their efforts would have been in vain.<sup>1691</sup> Witness CBK testified that Kanyarukiga and Seromba both watched the destruction of the bell tower from the presbytery veranda.<sup>1692</sup>

608. As discussed in paragraph 491, the Chamber has serious concerns about Witness CBK’s overall credibility and has therefore only relied on his testimony where corroborated by other credible evidence. Witness CBK’s testimony on this particular point was both uncorroborated and partially contradicted by that of Witnesses CBS and CBR, who denied that Aloys Rwamasirabo and Théoneste Nsanzabaganwa were at the Nyange Church on 15 and 16 April 1994.<sup>1693</sup> Although the Chamber accepts that Kanyarukiga and Seromba could have made the comments attributed to them irrespective of whether Rwamasirabo and Nsanzabaganwa were at the parish, it finds that this evidence casts doubt on Witness CBK’s testimony.

609. The Chamber further notes that there are inconsistencies between Witness CBK’s prior statements and his testimony at trial. Witness CBK did not say anything in his statement of 15 August 2000 about intellectuals hiding in the bell tower or Kanyarukiga’s alleged remarks.<sup>1694</sup> Nor did Witness CBK mention the comments allegedly made by Kanyarukiga in his statement of

<sup>1693</sup> T. 9 September 2009, p. 40 (CS) (When asked whether he had heard from other assailants that Aloys Rwamasirabo was the church, specifically in the bell tower, Witness CBR responded, “[n]o one gave me such information. I did not discuss such a matter with any person.”); T. 17 September 2009, p. 28 (CS) (Witness CBS testified during cross-examination that he did not see Aloys Rwamasirabo or Théoneste Nsanzabaganwa at the parish during April 1994. According to the witness, “[t]hey did [not] seek refuge there.”).

26 April 2001, which dealt specifically with the Accused.<sup>1695</sup> Finally, while the witness referred to this event in his 2002 statement, he did not attribute any specific comments to the Accused.<sup>1696</sup>

610. For these reasons, the Chamber finds that it has not been established that Kanyarukiga was present during the demolition of the bell tower or that he asked Father Seromba if certain Tutsi intellectuals had taken refuge in the church.

611. Finally, Prosecution Witness CBK testified that, after the church was demolished, Father Seromba, Kayishema, Ndahimana, Kanyarukiga and others met in the presbytery, where they celebrated by drinking beer and wine.<sup>1697</sup> Again, the Chamber has treated Witness CBK's testimony with extreme caution due to its concerns about the witness's overall credibility, including his tendency to exaggerate. With respect to this particular incident, the Chamber also finds that there are a number of inconsistencies between Witness CBK's prior statements and his testimony at trial. The witness did not mention any celebrations at the parish presbytery in either his 15 August 2000 or his 26 April 2001 statement.<sup>1698</sup> Further, while Witness CBK said in his 2002 statement that Father Seromba drank beer, wine and other alcoholic beverages after the Nyange Church was demolished, he did not mention the presence of the Accused during these celebrations.<sup>1699</sup> Thus, the Chamber finds that the Prosecution has failed to establish that Kanyarukiga and others celebrated by drinking beer and wine at the presbytery after the church was demolished.

6.4. Conclusion

612. In conclusion, the Chamber finds that the Prosecution has failed to establish beyond reasonable doubt the allegation in paragraph 16 of the Indictment that, on the morning of 16 April 1994, Gaspard Kanyarukiga, Fulgence Kayishema, Télesphore Ndungutse, Judge Habiyaambere, Francois Gashugu, Védaste Mupende, Grégoire Ndahimana and others held a meeting at the CODEKOKI, at which they mutually agreed and planned to kill all the Tutsi in the church by destroying it.

613. The Chamber finds it established beyond reasonable doubt that on the morning of 16 April 1994, Gaspard Kanyarukiga, Fulgence Kayishema, Télesphore Ndungutse, Judge Habiyaambere and Grégoire Ndahimana and others met Father Athanase Seromba at the Nyange Parish and discussed demolishing the church. Furthermore, the Prosecution has established beyond reasonable doubt that following this meeting, Kanyarukiga suggested that another church would be built. The Prosecution, however, has failed to establish beyond reasonable doubt that during the meeting, the attendees "informed [Father Seromba] of their decision to demolish the church in order to kill all the Tutsi refugees," as alleged in paragraph 17 of the Indictment. The Prosecution has also failed to establish that Védaste Mupende or Francois Gashugu attended this meeting.

614. Finally, the Chamber finds that the Prosecution has proven beyond reasonable doubt that on 16 April 1994, the Nyange Church was destroyed using a bulldozer, killing about 2000 Tutsi

<sup>1695</sup> Defence Exhibit D15(A) (Statement of Witness CBK dated 26 April 2001). Witness CBK said that he saw Kanyarukiga twice in April 1994 and that the last time was on the evening of 15 April 1994. When asked about this statement at trial, Witness CBK denied saying that he saw Kanyarukiga only twice. According to the witness, "[i]f the statements only mentioned two occasions, then that is not the truth." The witness insisted that he saw Kanyarukiga several times and that "the investigators did not take down my statement well by saying that I had seen him only twice." T. 4 September 2009, p. 22 (CS). The Chamber does not accept this explanation for the inconsistency between the witness's testimony and his prior statement.

civilians who had barricaded themselves inside the church. It has also been established beyond reasonable doubt that Fulgence Kayishema, Grégoire Ndahimana and Athanase Seromba were at the Nyange Parish during the demolition of the church and agreed to its destruction. In contrast, the Prosecution has failed to establish beyond reasonable doubt that Gaspard Kanyarukiga was present during the demolition of the church or that he instigated the attackers to kill all the Tutsi. Furthermore, it has not been established that Védaste Mupende was at the Nyange Parish during the demolition of the church.

CHAPTER IV: LEGAL FINDINGS

1. Introduction

615. In its factual findings, the Trial Chamber found that on 15 and 16 April 1994, interahamwe, communal police and armed civilians killed approximately 2000, mostly Tutsi, civilians at the Nyange Parish in Kivumu commune, Kibuye préfecture. The Chamber has found that the vast majority of these victims were killed on 16 April 1994 when the Nyange Church was destroyed. The Trial Chamber will discuss below whether Kanyarukiga bears criminal responsibility for these acts.

2. Criminal Responsibility

616. The Amended Indictment charges Gaspard Kanyarukiga with genocide or, in the alternative, complicity in genocide and extermination as a crime against humanity for crimes allegedly committed in Kivumu commune, Kibuye préfecture, between 6 and 30 April 1994. The Accused is charged with individual criminal responsibility, pursuant to Article 6(1) of the Statute, for planning, ordering, instigating, committing or otherwise aiding and abetting in the planning, preparation or execution of these crimes.<sup>1700</sup> The Prosecution alleges that Gaspard Kanyarukiga acted either individually or in concert, as part of a joint criminal enterprise.<sup>1701</sup>

2.1. Applicable Law

617. Under Article 6(1) of the Statute, any person who planned, instigated, ordered, committed or otherwise aided and abetted in the planning, preparation or execution of a crime referred to in Articles 2 to 4 of the Statute shall be individually responsible for the crime.

618. “Planning” requires that one or more persons design the criminal conduct constituting one or more statutory crimes that are later perpetrated.<sup>1702</sup> It is sufficient to demonstrate that the planning was a factor substantially contributing to such criminal conduct.<sup>1703</sup> The mens rea for this mode of responsibility entails the intent to plan the commission of a crime or, at a minimum, the awareness of the substantial likelihood that a crime will be committed in the execution of the acts or omissions planned.<sup>1704</sup>

619. “Instigating” implies prompting another person to commit an offence.<sup>1705</sup> It is not necessary to prove that the crime would not have been perpetrated without the involvement of the accused; it is sufficient to demonstrate that the instigation was a factor substantially contributing to the conduct of another person committing the crime.<sup>1706</sup> The mens rea for this mode of responsibility is intent to instigate another person to commit a crime or at a minimum, awareness of the substantial likelihood that a crime will be committed in the execution of the act or omission instigated.<sup>1707</sup>

<sup>1700</sup> Amended Indictment, paras. 6-8. Although paragraphs 6 and 7 of the Amended Indictment, so-called chapeau paragraphs, do not mention “ordering” as a mode of liability, paragraph 18 of the Indictment states, “[b]y reason of the facts alleged in paragraphs 14 through 18 herein Gaspard Kanyarukiga is individually responsible for planning, ordering, instigating, committing or otherwise aiding and abetting the killing of Tutsi civilians at Nyange Parish on 15 and 16 April 1994 in furtherance of the joint criminal enterprise” (emphasis added). Paragraph 19, which charges the Accused with extermination as a crime against humanity, also lists ordering as a mode of liability. Amended Indictment, paras. 18, 19.

620. A person in a position of authority may incur criminal liability for “ordering” under Article 6(1) where he or she instructs another person to commit an offence.<sup>1708</sup> A superior-subordinate relationship between the accused and the perpetrator is not required.<sup>1709</sup> It is sufficient that there is proof of some position of authority on the part of the accused that would compel another to commit a crime in following the accused’s order.<sup>1710</sup> This authority may be informal or of a purely temporary nature.<sup>1711</sup>

621. An aider or abettor carries out “acts specifically directed to assist, encourage, or lend moral support to the perpetration of a certain specific crime, which have a substantial effect on the perpetration of the crime.”<sup>1712</sup> The act(s) of the aider or abettor need not serve as a condition precedent for the underlying crime and may occur before, during or after the principal crime is committed.<sup>1713</sup> The requisite mental element for aiding and abetting is knowledge that the acts performed assist the commission of the specific crime of the principal perpetrator.<sup>1714</sup> In cases of specific intent crimes, such as persecution or genocide, the aider or abettor must know of the principal perpetrator’s specific intent.<sup>1715</sup>

622. The Appeals Chamber has held that commission covers, primarily, direct and physical perpetration of a crime (with criminal intent) or a culpable omission of an act that is mandated by a rule of criminal law.<sup>1716</sup> According to the Appeals Chamber, “[i]n the context of genocide ... ‘direct and physical perpetration’ need not mean physical killing; other acts can constitute direct participation in the actus reus of the crime” as long as they are as much an integral part of the genocide as the killings they enabled.<sup>1717</sup> Furthermore, while not explicitly delineated in Article 6(1), the Appeals Chamber has held that participation in a joint criminal enterprise (JCE) is also a form of “commission” under Article 6(1).<sup>1718</sup>

623. Three categories of JCE have been found to have the status of customary international law: basic, systemic and extended.<sup>1719</sup> The Prosecution in this case has indicated that it is relying only on the first category of JCE.<sup>1720</sup>

624. All three forms of JCE share the same actus reus, which is comprised of three elements:<sup>1721</sup> a plurality of persons, who do not need to be organised in a military, political or administrative structure;<sup>1722</sup> a common plan, design or purpose, which need not have been previously arranged or formulated and which amounts to or involves the commission of a crime provided for in the Statute<sup>1723</sup> and the participation of the accused in the common purpose.<sup>1724</sup> The accused’s participation need not involve the commission of a specific crime under one of the provisions (for example murder, extermination, torture or rape) but may take the form of assistance in, or contribution to, the execution of the common purpose.<sup>1725</sup> Further, although an accused’s contribution to a JCE need not be necessary or substantial, it should at least be a significant contribution to the crimes for which the accused is found to be responsible.<sup>1726</sup>

625. The three forms of the JCE are distinguished by their requisite mens rea. For the basic form of joint criminal enterprise, all co-perpetrators must share the intent to perpetrate a certain crime.<sup>1727</sup> Where the crime committed by the JCE requires a special intent, all participants in the joint criminal enterprise must share the special intent with the principle perpetrator.<sup>1728</sup>

2.2. Notice

626. The Chamber recalls that the Prosecution is required to plead in the indictment the specific mode or modes of liability under which the accused is charged.<sup>1729</sup> The Appeals Chamber has routinely discouraged the Prosecution from merely restating the language of Article 6(1) unless it intends to rely on all modes of liability contained therein.<sup>1730</sup> If the Prosecution intends to rely on all modes of responsibility contained in Article 6(1), it must plead the material facts for each mode in the Indictment.<sup>1731</sup> The Trial Chamber shall consider here whether certain modes of liability charged by the Prosecution in this case were properly pleaded.

Joint Criminal Enterprise

627. When the accused is charged with “committing” pursuant to Article 6(1) of the Statute, the indictment must specify whether the term is to be understood as physical commission, participation in a joint criminal enterprise or both.<sup>1732</sup> If the Prosecution relies on a theory of JCE, the purpose of the enterprise, the identity of the participants, the nature of the accused’s participation in the enterprise and the period of the enterprise must be pleaded in the indictment.<sup>1733</sup> The indictment should also clearly indicate which form of JCE is being alleged.<sup>1734</sup> Failure to plead these elements will result in a defective indictment. As explained above, a defect can only be cured in exceptional circumstances.<sup>1735</sup>

628. In this case, Paragraphs 4 to 6 of the Amended Indictment make explicit reference to JCE. According to these paragraphs, the purpose of the JCE in this case was the commission of genocide and crimes against humanity targeting the Tutsi racial or ethnic group and the destruction, in whole or in part, of the Tutsi racial or ethnic group in Kivumu commune, Kibuye préfecture, respectively. The alleged timeframe for the joint criminal enterprise is from 6 to 16 April 1994.<sup>1736</sup> It is clear from the concise statement of facts in the Indictment (“Factual Basis for counts 1-3”) and the Prosecutor’s Pre-Trial Brief that the alleged common criminal purpose comprised the killing of Tutsi civilians hiding in the Nyange Parish Church on 15 and 16 April 1994.<sup>1737</sup> Paragraph 4 of the Amended Indictment names nine officials and mentions gendarmes, the interahamwe militia and communal policemen, with whom, according to the Prosecution, Gaspard Kanyarukiga acted in concert as part of a joint criminal enterprise. Paragraphs 11 to 18 identify the alleged contribution of these participants to the JCE. The specific nature of the Accused’s participation in the JCE is also mentioned in paragraphs 11 to 18 of the Indictment. Paragraph 18, in particular, states that the Accused, “is individually responsible for planning, ordering, instigating, committing or otherwise aiding and abetting the killing of Tutsi civilians at Nyange Parish on 15 and 16 April 1994 in furtherance of the joint criminal enterprise.” (Emphasis added)

<sup>1737</sup> Amended Indictment, para. 6 (“The crimes enumerated within this Indictment were within the object of the joint criminal enterprise.”); The Prosecutor’s Pre-Trial Brief, paras. 36-45.

629. While the Indictment fails to plead the specific form of JCE with which the Accused is charged, the Prosecution indicated in its Pre-Trial Brief that it relies only on the first category of JCE in this case.<sup>1738</sup> Paragraph 23 of the Pre-Trial Brief also states that, “[t]he Accused must ... share the intent of the other members of the JCE, to commit a particular crime”, which further suggests that the Prosecution is relying on the first form of JCE.

630. For these reasons, the Chamber finds that the theory of joint criminal enterprise was pleaded with sufficient specificity in the Indictment and that the Accused was provided with adequate notice that he was charged with individual criminal responsibility pursuant to the basic form of JCE.

Planning

631. Chapeau paragraphs 6, 7 and 19 of the Amended Indictment charge the Accused with planning genocide and extermination as a crime against humanity pursuant to Article 6(1) of the Statute. In the concise statement of the facts, however, only paragraphs 16 and 18 explicitly mention planning as a mode of liability. The Prosecution alleges in paragraph 16 that, during a meeting at the CODEKOKI on 16 April 1994, the Accused and others “planned to kill all the Tutsi refugees in the church by destroying it.” The Chamber recalls that the Prosecution did not adduce any evidence of a meeting at the CODEKOKI on 16 April 1994 and that the Chamber has disregarded evidence of a meeting at the pharmacy on that day for lack of notice. The Chamber therefore must consider whether “planning” was adequately pleaded as a mode of liability for the acts charged in the other paragraphs of the Indictment.<sup>1739</sup>

632. The Chamber notes that, even if an individual count in the indictment does not indicate precisely the form of responsibility pleaded, an accused might still have received clear and timely notice of the form of responsibility, for instance in other paragraphs of the indictment.<sup>1740</sup> The Appeals Chamber has held that, in considering whether an accused received clear and timely notice, the indictment must be read as whole.<sup>1741</sup> In this case, the Chamber notes that, in addition to the references to planning in the chapeau paragraphs, paragraph 18 of the Amended Indictment states that, “[b]y reason of the facts alleged in paragraphs 14 through 18 herein Gaspard Kanyarukiga is individually responsible for planning ... the killing of Tutsi civilians at Nyange Parish”; the language suggests that the Accused is charged with planning all of the events pleaded in paragraphs 14 through 18. Moreover, the Chamber notes that the factual allegations in this case all relate to a single course of conduct, which resulted in the demolition of the Nyange Church on 16 April 1994. Finally, the Chamber notes that in paragraph 36 of its Pre-Trial Brief, the Prosecution alleged that Kanyarukiga attended meetings at Seromba’s home and elsewhere between 10 and 16 April 1994 “to plan the killing of Tutsis.”<sup>1742</sup> Through this paragraph, the Prosecution indicated that all of the meetings charged in the Amended Indictment were being charged as “planning”. Thus, in view of the overarching allegation of planning in the chapeau paragraphs, the allegations that Kanyarukiga attended four meetings between 10 and 16 April 1994 and the allegation in paragraph 16 that the Accused participated in planning the demolition of the church, the Chamber is satisfied that the Accused had sufficient notice that he was accused of planning the criminal conduct in question.

The Prosecution will adduce evidence to show that these meetings were held from 10 April 1994 before the killings started at Nyange Church and continued throughout the following days up to and including 16 April 1994 ... the meetings were for the purpose of planning the destruction of the Tutsi ethnic group in whole or in part.”).

Other Modes of Liability

633. Having considered its findings of fact in this case, the Chamber finds that the Prosecution has failed to prove beyond reasonable doubt that the Accused ordered, instigated, aided or abetted or physically committed the crimes charged in the Amended Indictment. Thus, the Chamber need not consider whether these modes of liability were properly pleaded in this case.

3. Genocide

3.1. Applicable Law

634. Count 1 of the Indictment charges Gaspard Kanyarukiga with genocide, pursuant to Article 2(3)(a) and Article 6(1) of the Statute.<sup>1743</sup>

Genocide means any of the following acts committed with intent to destroy, in whole or in part, a national, ethnical, racial or religious group, as such:

(a) Killing members of the group;

(b) Causing serious bodily or mental harm to members of the group; ...<sup>1744</sup>

635. A person commits the crime of genocide under Article 2(3)(a) of the Statute if he or she commits one of the acts enumerated in Article 2(2) with the intent to destroy, in whole or in part, a national, ethnical, racial or religious group as such.<sup>1745</sup> The victims must be targeted because of their membership in the protected group.<sup>1746</sup> The jurisprudence also suggests that an accused must have the intent to destroy at least a reasonably substantial number of members in the protected group relative to the total population of the group.<sup>1747</sup> Where a person is accused of planning,

Krstić*, Case No. IT-98-33-T, Judgement (TC), 2 August 2001, para. 590 (“The Trial Chamber is therefore of the opinion that the intent to destroy a group, even if only in part, means seeking to destroy a distinct part of the group as opposed to an accumulation of isolated individuals within it. Although the perpetrators of genocide need not seek to destroy the entire group protected by the Convention, they must view the part of the group they wish to destroy as a distinct entity which must be eliminated as such.”); Prosecutor v. Jelisić, Case No. IT-95-10-T, Judgement (TC), 14 December 1999, para. 82 (“Genocidal intent may therefore be manifest in two forms. It may consist of desiring the extermination of a very large number of the members of the group, in which case it would constitute an intention to destroy a group en masse. However, it may also consist of the desired destruction of a more limited number of persons selected for the impact that their disappearance would have upon the survival of the group as such.”). The Trial Chamber notes that several recent judgements of this Tribunal have adopted the standard articulated in Semanza. See, e.g., Ntawukuliyayo, Judgement (TC), para. 450; Prosecutor v. Bagosora et al., Case No. ICTR-98-41-T, Judgement and Sentence (TC), 18 December 2008, para. 2115; Prosecutor v. Simba, Case No. ICTR-01-76-T, instigating, ordering or aiding and abetting the commission of genocide by one or more other persons, the Prosecutor must establish that the accused's acts or omissions substantially contributed to the commission of acts of genocide.<sup>1748</sup>

636. In the absence of direct evidence demonstrating the perpetrator's specific intent to commit genocide, such intent may be inferred from his statements or other circumstantial evidence.<sup>1749</sup> Factors that may enable a Trial Chamber to infer the perpetrator's genocidal intent include the general context, the perpetration of other culpable acts systematically directed against the same group, the scale of atrocities committed, the systematic targeting of victims on account of their membership in a particular group or the repetition of destructive and discriminatory acts.<sup>1750</sup> The perpetrator need not be motivated solely by a genocidal intent and having a personal motive will not preclude such a specific intent.<sup>1751</sup>

637. The Amended Indictment charges Kanyarukiga with genocide for killing and/or causing serious bodily or mental harm to members of the Tutsi ethnic group. Trial Chambers have defined "killing members of the group" as requiring a showing that the principal perpetrator intentionally killed one or more members of the group.<sup>1752</sup> "Serious bodily or mental harm" is not defined in the Statute and has not been squarely addressed by the Appeals Chamber.<sup>1753</sup> The Trial Chambers, however, have largely adopted the following definition from Kayishema and Ruzindana: "'causing serious bodily harm' ... could be construed to mean harm that seriously injures the health, causes disfigurement, or causes any serious injury to the external, internal organs or senses."<sup>1754</sup> Typical examples of serious bodily harm include torture and rape.<sup>1755</sup> With respect to "serious mental harm," several Trial Chambers have said that it refers to "more than minor or temporary impairment of mental faculties."<sup>1756</sup> However, there does not appear to be any jurisprudential foundation for this definition.<sup>1757</sup> Rather, the judgement upon which this line of jurisprudence rests states that “causing serious mental harm” should be interpreted on a case-by-case basis.<sup>1758</sup> To support a conviction for genocide, the bodily or mental harm inflicted on members of a protected group must be of such a serious nature as to threaten the destruction of the group in whole or in part.<sup>1759</sup>

3.2. Application

638. The Trial Chamber has taken judicial notice of the facts that, between 6 April and 17 July 1994, Rwandan citizens were ethnically classified as Hutu, Tutsi and Twa and that a genocide was carried out against the Tutsi ethnic group.<sup>1760</sup> It is well established that the Tutsi ethnicity is a protected group under Article 2 of the Statute.<sup>1761</sup>

639. Based on the evidence presented at trial, the Chamber has found that, following the death of President Habyarimana on 6 April 1994, Tutsi civilians were attacked by Hutu assailants in Kivumu commune and sought refuge in the Nyange Parish Church. More than 2000 civilians, of whom at least the vast majority were Tutsi, took refuge at the Nyange Parish prior to 16 April 1994. The Chamber has found that, from approximately 12 April 1994, gendarmes were posted to the Nyange Parish, ostensibly to “ensure the security” of the Tutsi who had taken refuge there. The Tutsi civilians were also surrounded by armed assailants, including interahamwe.

640. Further, the Chamber has found that, between 13 and 16 April 1994, Hutu assailants attacked the Tutsi at the Nyange Parish and demolished the church, killing approximately 2000 Tutsi men, women and children. It is undisputed that these attacks were ethnically motivated. The Chamber has found that members of the Hutu population were asked to go to Nyange to attack the Tutsi who had taken refuge at the parish and that Hutu assailants referred to their victims as “inyenzi” and chanted slogans such as, “let us exterminate them” and “let no-one escape”. In attempting to annihilate the Tutsi civilians who had taken refuge at the parish, the assailants attacked their victims with traditional weapons, stones, firearms and at least one grenade and attempted to destroy the church with dynamite and by using fuel to set it ablaze. When these attempts failed, the assailants took the extreme step of demolishing the Nyange Parish Church with at least one bulldozer, crushing those inside. The Chamber has found that thousands of Hutu assailants armed with traditional weapons surrounded the Nyange Church on 16 April 1994 and attacked anyone who tried to escape the demolition.

641. Given the manner in which the attacks were conducted, the Chamber finds that the assailants intentionally targeted and killed members of a protected group. Having considered the number of

victims and the obvious intent of the assailants to eliminate the Tutsi who had taken refuge at the parish, the Chamber is satisfied that the assailants as a group intended to destroy at least a substantial part of the Tutsi ethnic group. The Chamber therefore finds that the destruction of the Nyange Church and the associated attacks constitute genocide.

642. The Chamber shall now consider whether the Accused bears criminal responsibility for these acts.

Joint Criminal Enterprise

643. Although the first form of JCE was properly pleaded in the Amended Indictment, the Trial Chamber is not convinced that the Prosecution has proven beyond reasonable doubt that the Accused participated in a joint criminal enterprise, as alleged. The Chamber recalls that, in order for an accused to be convicted of “committing” pursuant to a theory of JCE, it must be established that he or she participated in the execution of the common plan or purpose of the enterprise.<sup>1762</sup> While the Trial Chamber has found that Kanyarukiga participated in the planning of the destruction of the Nyange Church (discussed further below), it does not find any credible evidence to suggest that the Accused ordered, instigated, encouraged or provided material assistance to the attackers in this case. Thus, the Chamber finds that the evidence is insufficient to establish that the Accused significantly contributed to the execution or commission of the crimes charged. Moreover, the Trial Chamber recalls that an accused cannot be convicted of planning and committing the same offence.<sup>1763</sup> Having considered both JCE, which is a form of commission, and planning as possible modes of liability, the Chamber finds that, in view of the factual findings in this case, planning more aptly captures the alleged criminal conduct of the accused than JCE.

Planning

644. As stated above, planning requires that one or more persons design the criminal conduct of a statutory crime that is later committed. In this case, the Trial Chamber has found that, after the attacks on the Tutsi at the Nyange Parish on 15 April 1994, the Accused had a conversation with IPJ Kayishema, during which the men said that the church had to be demolished. The following day, the Accused attended a meeting at the Nyange Parish with Father Seromba, Grégoire Ndahimana, Fulgence Kayishema, Télesphore Ndungutse, Judge Joseph Habiyaambere and others, at which the demolition of the Nyange Church was discussed. Immediately following this meeting, the Accused told Ndahimana, Kayishema, Habiyaambere, Ndungutse and others that the church had to

This participation need not involve commission of a specific crime under one of those provisions (for example, murder, extermination, torture, rape, etc.), but may take the form of assistance in, or contribution to, the execution of the common plan or purpose.”). Compare Simba, Judgement (AC), para. 250 (“It is well-established that in a JCE, it is not necessary for a participant to have participated in its planning. All that is required is the participation of an accused in the common design involving the perpetration of one of the crimes provided for in the Statute.”); Kvočka et al., Judgement (AC), para. 99 (“A participant in a joint criminal enterprise need not physically participate in any element of any crime, so long as the requirements of joint criminal enterprise responsibility are met. As the Tadić Appeals Chamber explained, ‘[a]lthough only some members of the group may physically perpetrate the criminal act (murder, extermination, wanton destruction of cities, towns or villages, etc.), the participation and contribution of the other members of the group is often vital in facilitating the commission of the offence in question.’” (internal citations omitted)).

<sup>1763</sup> See, e.g., Prosecutor v. Brđanin, Case No. IT-99-36-T, Judgement (TC), 1 September 2004, para. 268; Prosecutor v. Stakić, Case No. IT-97-24-T, Judgement (TC), 31 July 2003, para. 443; Prosecutor v. Kordić and Čerkez, Case No. IT-95-14/2-T, Judgement (TC), 26 February 2001, para. 386. The Chamber notes that, where the accused is convicted of committing the offence in question, the accused’s role in planning the offence is considered as an aggravating factor during sentencing. See, e.g., Stakić, Judgement (TC), para. 443.

be destroyed and that he would rebuild it. The Chamber recalls that Kanyarukiga was in the presence of several of these same men during the attacks on 15 April 1994 and that at least some of them participated in or directed attacks against the Tutsi on 15 and 16 April 1994.<sup>1764</sup>

645. It has been established that after the meeting on the morning of 16 April, during which the destruction of the church was planned, Fulgence Kayishema and Télesphore Ndungutse, who had participated in the aforementioned meeting, went to get a bulldozer. The bulldozer was subsequently brought to the parish and used to demolish the church, crushing those inside. The Chamber has found beyond reasonable doubt that approximately 2000 Tutsi men, women and children were killed during the demolition on 16 April 1994. In view of these findings, the Chamber is satisfied beyond reasonable doubt that Gaspard Kanyarukiga, Grégoire Ndahimana, Fulgence Kayishema, Télesphore Ndungutse, Joseph Habiyaambere and others planned the destruction of the Nyange Church on 15 and 16 April 1994 and that the church was destroyed on the afternoon of 16 April 1994, killing those inside. For these reasons, the Chamber is satisfied that Kanyarukiga and others planned certain criminal conduct that was later perpetrated.

646. Next, having found that Kanyarukiga participated in the planning of the destruction of the church, the Chamber must consider whether this planning was a factor that substantially contributed to the killing of the Tutsi at the parish. The Trial Chamber recalls that Hutu assailants attacked the Tutsi who had taken refuge at the Nyange Parish on 13 and 14 April 1994 but that the Tutsi were able to repel these attacks. On 15 April 1994, the Hutu assailants redoubled their efforts and sought out reinforcements from various secteurs in Kivumu commune, as well as other communes. The Chamber has found beyond reasonable doubt that the IPJ Kayishema drove around in a pick-up, outfitted with a public address system, and urged members of the Hutu population to come to Nyange to fight the Tutsi at the parish.

647. On 15 April 1994, thousands of Hutu assailants converged on the Nyange Trading Centre and attacked the Tutsi who had taken refuge at the parish with stones and traditional weapons. Nevertheless, the Tutsi were able to push the assailants down the hill from the parish to the Statue of the Virgin Mary by throwing stones. Later in the day, a reservist named Rukara threw at least one grenade towards the Tutsi who were on the road between the Statue of the Virgin Mary and the church. This attack resulted in numerous deaths and drove those who had survived the attack back to the parish. The Trial Chamber has found it established that the Tutsi subsequently sought refuge inside the church building.

648. When the Tutsi barricaded themselves inside the church, the assailants attempted to attack the church itself. Communal police fired on the church. At some point in the afternoon, Kayishema brought fuel to the parish, which was used in an attempt to burn down the church. These attempts were unsuccessful; the church remained standing, and the Tutsi remained barricaded inside. That evening, Kanyarukiga and IPJ Kayishema had a conversation, during which they said that the church needed to be destroyed.

649. As discussed above, the Chamber has inferred from the facts that, on the morning of 16 April 1994, after another failed attempt to kill the Tutsi with firearms, the Accused, Ndahimana, Kayishema, Ndungutse, Habiyaambere and others decided to destroy the Nyange Church. At least one bulldozer brought to the parish and put to work demolishing the church. The demolition began around midday, and within a matter of hours, the church had been demolished. As the church collapsed, approximately 2000 Tutsi civilians who had taken refuge inside were either crushed by falling walls or slaughtered by one of the thousands of Hutu assailants who had surrounded the church. Having decided to destroy the Nyange Church with at one bulldozer, Gaspard Kanyarukiga, Fulgence Kayishema, Grégoire Ndahimana, Téléphore Ndungutse, Joseph Habiyaambere and others achieved in one afternoon what had eluded the assailants for more than three days: the annihilation of a substantial portion of the Tutsi population. For these reasons, the Chamber finds, beyond reasonable doubt, that the plan to destroy the church substantially contributed to the killing of the Tutsi at the Nyange Parish on 16 April 1994.

650. Finally, in order to be criminally responsible for planning the killings at the Nyange Parish, it must be established that Kanyarukiga had the intent to plan the commission of a crime or the awareness of the substantial likelihood that a crime would be committed in execution of the acts planned. In this case, the Chamber has found that, after discussing the destruction of the church with IPJ Kayishema on the evening of 15 April 1994, the Accused attended a meeting on the morning of 16 April 1994, during which the demolition of the church was discussed and accepted. Furthermore, after the meeting on 16 April 1994, Kanyarukiga told others that, “[t]his church has to be demolished. I would reconstruct it. I would make it my responsibility to reconstruct in three days.” Based on his comments and participation in the meeting on 16 April 1994, the Chamber finds it established beyond reasonable doubt that the Accused had the intent to plan the destruction of the Nyange Church.

651. Moreover, the Chamber finds that there is overwhelming circumstantial evidence to show that Kanyarukiga knew that there were people inside the Nyange Church on 16 April 1994 and that those people would be killed if and when the church was destroyed. The Chamber recalls that the Accused attended a meeting at the Nyange Parish Presbytery on 14 April 1994. While it is not established that this meeting had any criminal purpose, the Chamber notes that there were Tutsi civilians at the parish on this day and that many of them were in the courtyard in front of the church when Kanyarukiga arrived and departed. Thus, it is the only reasonable inference that the Accused had knowledge that Tutsi had taken refuge at the parish as early as 14 April 1994. The Prosecution has established that Kanyarukiga was in Nyange, both at the Statue of the Virgin Mary and at the parish, during the confrontations on the morning of 15 April 1994. The Accused was also with Bourgmestre Ndahimana when the latter instructed the assailants to “start working” or “begin work” on 15 April 1994 and with Kayishema at the Nyange Parish on the evening of 15 April 1994, after the attempted burning of the church. Finally, the Accused was at the parish on the morning of 16 April 1994 and in the company of others, such as Ndahimana, Kayishema and Ndungutse, who the Chamber has established were overseeing and directing attacks on 15 and 16 April 1994. In view of this evidence, the Chamber finds that it has been established beyond reasonable doubt that Kanyarukiga was aware that, if the planned demolition went forward, the Tutsi who had taken refuge in the Nyange Church would be killed.

652. For these reasons, the Chamber finds beyond reasonable doubt that the Accused and others planned the destruction of the Nyange Church, which resulted in the killing of approximately 2000 members of the Tutsi ethnic group. The Chamber shall now consider whether, in so doing, the Accused acted with the intent to destroy the Tutsi ethnic group in whole or in part.

Genocidal intent

653. The Chamber recalls that genocidal intent may be inferred from the facts.<sup>1765</sup> In this case the Accused attended a meeting at which the demolition of the Nyange Church was discussed, that he suggested to others that the church should be destroyed and that he was present during the attacks on the Tutsi on the morning of 15 April 1994, including when Ndahimana instructed the assailants to start working, which was understood to mean “kill the Tutsi”. The Accused was also seen repeatedly on 15 and 16 April 1994 in the presence of individuals such as Ndahimana, Kayishema and Ndungutse, who were overseeing and directing the attacks. Having considered the totality of the evidence, the Chamber finds it established beyond reasonable doubt that Kanyarukiga acted with the special intent to destroy the Tutsi ethnic group, either in whole or in part.

3.3. Conclusion

654. Accordingly, the Chamber finds that the Accused is guilty of genocide (Count 1) under Article 6(1) of the Statute for planning the killing of members of the Tutsi ethnic group at the Nyange Church.

4. Complicity in Genocide

655. Count 2 of the Amended Indictment charges Kanyarukiga with complicity in genocide under Article 2(3)(e) of the Statute. The count is pleaded alternatively to Count 1, which charges genocide.<sup>1766</sup> As the Chamber has already entered a conviction for Count 1, it finds Kanyarukiga not guilty on this count.

5. Crimes Against Humanity (Extermination)*5.1. Applicable Law

656. In Count 3 of the Amended Indictment, the Prosecution charges Gaspard Kanyarukiga with extermination as a crime against humanity pursuant to Article 3 of the Statute. According to Article 3, extermination constitutes a crime against humanity when committed as part of a widespread or systematic attack against any civilian population on national, political, ethnic, racial or religious grounds.

657. For any of the enumerated crimes under Article 3 of the Statute to qualify as a crime against humanity, the Prosecution must prove that the act was committed as part of a widespread or systematic attack against a civilian population on national, political, ethnic, racial or religious grounds.<sup>1767</sup> For the purposes of Article 3 of the Statute, an attack against a civilian population means the perpetration against a civilian population of a series of acts of violence or of the kind of mistreatment referred to in sub-paragraphs (a) to (i) of the Article.<sup>1768</sup> Intended to be read disjunctively, “widespread” refers to the large-scale nature of the attack and the number of persons targeted, whereas “systematic” describes the organised nature of the acts of violence and the improbability of their random occurrence.<sup>1769</sup> The requisite mens rea is the intent to commit the underlying offence, knowledge that there is a discriminatory attack on the civilian population and knowledge that the accused's acts formed part of that attack.<sup>1770</sup> The accused, however, need not have shared the purpose or goals behind the broader attack or have possessed a discriminatory intent.<sup>1771</sup>

658. Extermination is the act of killing on a large scale.<sup>1772</sup> The expression “on a large scale,” however, does not require a numerical minimum.<sup>1773</sup> The actus reus underlying extermination consists of any act, omission or combination thereof, which contributes directly or indirectly to the killing of a large number of individuals.<sup>1774</sup> To be found guilty of extermination as a crime against humanity, it must be established that the accused participated in a widespread or systematic killing or subjected a widespread number of people to conditions of living that would inevitably lead to their deaths, and that by his acts or omissions, the accused intended this result.<sup>1775</sup>

5.2. Application

659. The Trial Chamber has taken judicial notice of the facts that, between 6 April and 17 July 1994, there were widespread or systematic attacks throughout Rwanda against a civilian population based on Tutsi ethnic identification, and that, as a result of these attacks, many persons of Tutsi ethnicity were killed.<sup>1776</sup>

660. The evidence in this case also supports the conclusion that there were widespread or systematic attacks against the Tutsi population in Kivumu commune in April 1994. The Chamber has already found that, in Kivumu commune, persons of Tutsi ethnicity were singled out and targeted in their communities following the death of President Habyarimana. As a result of these attacks, more than 2000 Tutsi men, women and children sought refuge at the Nyange Parish, where the vast majority were eventually killed. Thus, the Chamber is satisfied that, in April 1994, there were widespread attacks against members of the Tutsi ethnic group in Kivumu commune.

661. The Chamber has further found that the Tutsi who sought refuge at the Nyange Parish were attacked repeatedly between 13 and 16 April 1994, that many died during attacks on 15 April 1994 and that the vast majority were massacred on 16 April 1994. The Chamber recalls that the Hutu assailants attacked the Tutsi over multiple days with an array of weapons before ultimately demolishing the church with at least one bulldozer on 16 April 1994. The Chamber has found that Gaspard Kanyarukiga, Grégoire Ndahimana, Fulgence Kayishema, Télesphore Ndungutse, Joseph Habiyaambere and others intentionally planned the demolition of the Nyange Church, which resulted in the killing of approximately 2000 Tutsi on 16 April 1994. Based on these findings, the Chamber is satisfied that the attacks on the Tutsi at the Nyange Parish were also systematic.

662. Finally, the Chamber is satisfied that the Tutsi killed in the massacres at the Nyange Parish were civilians.

<sup>1772</sup> Seromba, Judgement (AC), para. 189; Ntakirutimana and Ntakirutimana, Judgement (AC), para. 516; Stakić, Judgement (AC), para. 259. <sup>1776</sup> Decision on the Prosecution Motion for Judicial Notice (TC), 14 May 2009, paras. 12, 14.

663. Thus, based on the evidence presented at trial, the Chamber finds that the Prosecution has established beyond reasonable doubt that in Kivumu commune, there were widespread or systematic attacks against a civilian population on ethnic grounds. The Chamber also finds that, in view of the events leading up to the demolition of the Nyange Church and the presence of Kanyarukiga and the other planners at the parish on 15 and 16 April 1994,<sup>1777</sup> it is inconceivable that Kanyarukiga and the others did not know that their actions formed part of a widespread or systematic attack against the Tutsi civilian population. Similarly, the Chamber is satisfied that the principal perpetrators of the attacks were also aware of the broader context, particularly given the scale of the atrocities and the participation of at least some of them in attacks prior to the massacres at the parish.

664. Thus, the Chamber finds beyond reasonable doubt that the demolition of the Nyange Church was committed as part of a widespread or systematic attack against the Tutsi civilian population on ethnic grounds and that the Accused knew that his acts formed part of this broader attack. The Chamber is therefore satisfied that the destruction of the Nyange Church constitutes a crime against humanity.

665. Given the number of persons who died during the demolition, the Chamber finds that this killing can only be described as large-scale and therefore amounts to extermination. Furthermore, for the reasons stated above, the Chamber finds that the victims of these killings were targeted on the basis of their Tutsi ethnicity. Thus, having found that Kanyarukiga participated in the planning of the demolition that resulted in these deaths, the Chamber finds that the Accused intentionally contributed to a mass killing of Tutsi civilians, amounting to extermination as a crime against humanity.

5.3. Conclusion

666. Accordingly, the Chamber finds that the Accused is guilty of extermination as a crime against humanity (Count 3) under Article 6(1) of the Statute for planning the killing of approximately 2000 Tutsi civilians as part of a widespread or systematic attack on the Tutsi ethnic group.

CHAPTER V: VERDICT

667. For the reasons set out in this judgement, having considered all evidence and arguments, the Trial Chamber finds unanimously as follows in respect of Gaspard Kanyarukiga:

Count 1: GUILTY of Genocide

Count 2: NOT GUILTY of Complicity in Genocide

Count 3: GUILTY of Extermination as a Crime against Humanity

CHAPTER VI: SENTENCING

668. The Trial Chamber has found Gaspard Kanyarukiga guilty of genocide (Count 1 of the Indictment) and extermination as a crime against humanity (Count 3 of the Indictment) for planning the destruction of the Nyange Parish Church and the resulting killing of approximately 2000 Tutsi civilians. The Chamber shall now determine an appropriate sentence.

1. Applicable Law

669. A person convicted by the Tribunal may be sentenced to imprisonment for a fixed term or for the remainder of his life.<sup>1778</sup> The penalty imposed should reflect the aims of retribution, deterrence and, to a lesser extent, rehabilitation.<sup>1779</sup> Pursuant to Article 23 of the Statute and Rule 101 of the Rules, the Trial Chamber shall consider the general practice regarding prison sentences in Rwanda, the gravity of the offences (the gravity of the crimes for which the accused has been convicted and the form of responsibility for these crimes) as well as the individual circumstances of the convicted person, including aggravating and mitigating circumstances.<sup>1780</sup> In addition, the Trial Chamber shall consider the extent to which any penalty imposed by a court of any State on the accused for the same act has already been served<sup>1781</sup> and shall credit the accused for any time spent in detention pending his surrender to the Tribunal and during trial.<sup>1782</sup>

2. Submissions

670. The Prosecution requests that the Trial Chamber impose a sentence of imprisonment for the remainder of Kanyarukiga's life.<sup>1783</sup> The Prosecution submits that life imprisonment is an appropriate sentence in light of the gravity of Kanyarukiga's offence, his individual circumstances and certain alleged aggravating factors.<sup>1784</sup> The Prosecution identifies five potential aggravating circumstances: Kanyarukiga's position in the community and his abuse of that authority; Kanyarukiga's premeditation in carrying out the acts leading to the massacre; Kanyarukiga's direct participation in the crimes as a perpetrator; the violent and humiliating nature of his acts and the vulnerability of the victims; and the duration of the offences and the suffering of the victims.<sup>1785</sup> The Prosecution contends that there are no mitigating circumstances in this case.<sup>1786</sup>

671. The Defence does not make submissions on sentencing in its closing brief. Rather, the Defence submits that, because it has asked the Chamber to acquit Kanyarukiga on all counts, "[t]o make submissions on sentencing or possible mitigating factors at this stage would violate Gaspard Kanyarukiga's presumption of innocence."<sup>1787</sup> The Defence submits that it "reserves its right to make submissions on sentencing and mitigating factors in the event of a conviction, after the verdict is rendered in the final judgement."<sup>1788</sup>

<sup>1788</sup> Defence Final Brief, para. 505. The Defence reiterated in its closing argument that it was not making submissions on sentencing or mitigation. T. 24 May 2010, p. 84.

3. Deliberations

672. The Chamber recalls that Rule 86(C) of the Rules provides that the parties shall address matters of sentencing in their closing arguments. Thus, notwithstanding that the Defence did not make submissions on sentencing in its closing brief and argument, the Chamber has nevertheless made findings on this matter. In reaching its determinations, the Chamber has considered the totality of the evidence in the record.

3.1. Gravity of the Offence

673. The Appeals Chamber has held that all crimes within the jurisdiction of the Tribunal are serious violations of international humanitarian law and that there is no hierarchy of crimes under the Statute.<sup>1789</sup> When determining an appropriate sentence, a Trial Chamber has broad discretion to individualise the penalties to fit the circumstances of the convicted person and to reflect the gravity of the crimes for which the accused has been convicted.<sup>1790</sup>

674. The Chamber has found Kanyarukiga guilty of genocide and extermination as a crime against humanity. Genocide is, by definition, a crime of the most serious gravity, which affects the very foundations of society and shocks the conscience of humanity. Crimes against humanity are also extremely serious offences because they are heinous in nature and shock the collective conscience of mankind.<sup>1791</sup>

675. The Chamber has determined that Kanyarukiga participated in the planning of the destruction of the Nyange Church on 16 April 1994, which resulted in the deaths of over 2000 Tutsi civilians. These crimes were grave and resulted in overwhelming human suffering.

676. Although Kanyarukiga's crimes are grave, the Chamber is not satisfied that he is deserving of the most serious sanction available under the Statute, given that it has not been established that he directly participated in, or was present during the destruction of Nyange Church itself.

3.2. Aggravating Circumstances

677. The Chamber has wide discretion in determining both what constitute aggravating and mitigating circumstances and the weight to be accorded to such circumstances.<sup>1792</sup>

The Trial Chamber recalls that aggravating circumstances must be proven beyond reasonable doubt.<sup>1793</sup> Furthermore, any particular circumstance that is included as an element of the offence for which the Accused was convicted cannot also be considered as an aggravating factor.<sup>1794</sup>

678. In the Chamber's view, it has been established beyond reasonable doubt that the victims in this case were particularly vulnerable. The evidence shows that they took refuge in a place of worship, that they were disarmed on 13 April 1994, prior to when the attacks began and that, during the attacks on 15 April 1994, they were driven into the Nyange Church and forced to lock themselves inside. It is also established that the victims were civilians, including women, children and the elderly.<sup>1795</sup> Further, the church was surrounded on 16 April 1994 so that none of those inside could escape. Finally those who had taken refuge in the Nyange Church were ultimately crushed by the church structure itself. They had no means to defend themselves.<sup>1796</sup>

679. Given this, the Chamber finds that the vulnerability of the victims in this case is an aggravating factor in sentencing.<sup>1797</sup>

3.3. Mitigating Circumstances

680. Mitigating circumstances need only be established on a balance of probabilities.<sup>1798</sup> Mitigating circumstances need not be directly related to the offence.<sup>1799</sup>

681. The Chamber recalls that in a number of cases, both at the ICTR and ICTY, it has found that the advanced age of an accused at the time of sentencing was a mitigating factor.<sup>1800</sup> The Chamber notes that the age of the Accused in this case has not been established beyond reasonable doubt. Nevertheless, mitigating factors only have to be established on a balance of probabilities, and the Accused appears to be between 63 and 72 years old.<sup>1801</sup> Given this, the Chamber has treated the Accused's age as a mitigating circumstance.

3.4. Sentencing Practice

682. In determining an appropriate sentence, the Appeals Chamber has stated that "sentences of like individuals in like cases should be comparable."<sup>1802</sup> However, it has also noted the inherent limitations of this approach considering that "any given case contains a multitude of variables,

<sup>1801</sup> The Chamber notes that the Amended Indictment shows that the Accused is 65 years old. Amended Indictment, para. 1. On his application for political asylum in South Africa, Kanyarukiga wrote his birth date to be 15 June 1938. The log book in which South African Police recorded Kanyarukiga's arrest on 16 July 2004 states his age as 57 (which would put his birth year at 1947), and the Docket recording more detailed information about the Accused (which includes his arrest record noting his date of birth as 1947, and his Rwandan Driver Licence which lists his date of birth as 1944). ranging from the number and type of crimes committed to the personal circumstances of the individual.”<sup>1803</sup>

683. The Trial Chamber has considered that, under Rwandan law, genocide and crimes against humanity carry possible penalties of life imprisonment, or life imprisonment with special provisions, depending on the nature of the accused’s participation.<sup>1804</sup>

684. The Chamber has also taken into consideration the sentencing practices at the ICTR and the ICTY. The Chamber recalls that, at this Tribunal, principal perpetrators convicted of genocide and extermination as a crime against humanity have received sentences ranging from 25 years to imprisonment for the remainder of their lives, except in cases where the accused pled guilty or there were other significant mitigating circumstances.<sup>1805</sup> Senior authorities, particularly Ministers, have received the most severe sentences.<sup>1806</sup> Life imprisonment has also been imposed on those at a lower level if they planned or ordered atrocities or if they participated in the crimes with particular zeal or sadism.<sup>1807</sup> Secondary or indirect forms of participation have usually entailed a lower sentence.<sup>1808</sup>

685. The Chamber has considered this in determining an appropriate sentence.

3.5. Credit for Time Served

686. According to Rule 101(C) of the Rules, credit shall be given for the period during which the convicted person was detained in custody pending his surrender to the Tribunal or pending trial or appeal. Gaspard Kanyarukiga was originally arrested and detained on 16 July 2004 in South Africa. He was transferred to the Tribunal on 19 July 2004 and detained at the United Nations Detention Facility in Arusha, Tanzania. Pursuant to Rule 101(C) of the Rules, Kanyarukiga is therefore entitled to credit for time served as of 16 July 2004.

4. Conclusion

687. The Chamber has the discretion to impose a single sentence and notes that this practice is usually appropriate where the offences may be characterised as belonging to a single criminal transaction.<sup>1809</sup> In this case, the Accused's convictions for genocide and extermination as a crime against humanity are based on the same underlying criminal acts.

688. Considering all the relevant circumstances discussed above and having ensured that the Accused is not being punished twice for the same offence, the Chamber sentences Gaspard Kanyarukiga for genocide (Count 1), pursuant Article 2(3)(a) of the Statute, and extermination as a crime against humanity (Count 3) pursuant to Article 3(b), to a single sentence of

689. This sentence shall be enforced immediately, and pursuant to Rule 101(C) of the Rules, Gaspard Kanyarukiga shall receive credit for time served as of 16 July 2004.

690. In accordance with Rules 102(A) and 103 of the Rules, Gaspard Kanyarukiga shall remain in the custody of the Tribunal pending transfer to the State where he will serve his sentence.

691. Gaspard Kanyarukiga was initially indicted on charges of genocide, complicity in genocide, conspiracy to commit genocide and extermination as a crime against humanity on 21 February 2002.<sup>1810</sup> Judge William Sekule confirmed the Indictment on 4 March 2002 and ordered that the Indictment and Arrest Warrant be placed under seal so that they would not be disclosed to the public or media prior to being served on the Accused.<sup>1811</sup> The non-disclosure order was rescinded on 9 April 2003, following an ex parte motion by the Prosecution.<sup>1812</sup>

692. The Accused was arrested in South Africa on 16 July 2004 and transferred to the ICTR on 19 July 2004. On 22 July 2004, Kanyarukiga made his initial appearance before Trial Chamber III, pleading not guilty to all four counts in the Indictment.<sup>1813</sup>

Decision on Prosecution Motion for Protective Measures (TC), 3 June 2005, paras. 4-5.

702. On 16 May 2007, the Defence moved the Pre-Trial Chamber to set a date for trial.<sup>1828</sup> In a decision issued on 11 June 2007, the Chamber declared the request premature, noting that the Chamber was in the process of ascertaining the Parties' availability for a status conference.<sup>1829</sup>

715. On 25 August 2009, the Defence filed an extremely urgent motion for a stay of the proceedings, arguing that a fair trial was not possible due to the alleged disappearance of the three laissez-passers, which the Defence claimed were seized from the Accused at the time of his arrest.<sup>1859</sup> On 28 August 2009, the Chamber issued a decision denying the Defence motion for a stay of the proceedings but remaining seized of the underlying issues.<sup>1860</sup>

4. Trial Phase

716. The trial in this case began on 31 August 2009.<sup>1861</sup> After calling 11 witnesses over 14 trial days, the Prosecution closed its case on 17 September 2009.<sup>1862</sup>

717. On 31 August 2009, the Defence made two oral motions for postponement of the trial, arguing that additional time was needed to allow the Prosecution to locate the alleged laissez-passers and to allow the Defence time to review recently disclosed Seromba exhibits.<sup>1863</sup> In an oral decision rendered the same day, the Trial Chamber denied the first Defence motion for postponement for the same reasons cited in its decision on the Defence motion for a stay of the proceedings.<sup>1864</sup> The Chamber ruled that it would decide the second Defence request for postponement on a case-by-case basis as the documents were presented.<sup>1865</sup>

718. On 3 September 2009, the Chamber granted a Defence motion for witness protection measures.<sup>1866</sup>

719. On 4 September 2009, the Defence filed a confidential application for immediate production of documents mentioned by Prosecution Witness CBK during his 4 September 2009 testimony.<sup>1867</sup> On 7 September 2009, the Defence filed a confidential addendum to its initial application, requesting that the Trial Chamber: 1) order the Prosecution to explain whether it had prior knowledge of Witness CBK's allegations; 2) order the Witness and Victims' Support Section to appear in court for examination on these allegations and 3) recall Witness CBK for additional cross-examination.<sup>1868</sup> The Defence also requested that the proceedings be adjourned and that the witness's open session testimony from Friday, 4 September 2009, be moved to the closed session transcript.<sup>1869</sup>

720. On 7 September 2009, the Trial Chamber rendered an oral decision ordering the Prosecution to immediately disclose documents received from Witness CBK, ordering the Registry to extract the portion of the Witness CBK's testimony that was given in open session on 4 September 2009 and denying the Defence request for adjournment.<sup>1870</sup> The Chamber also ordered the Prosecution to file its response to the remaining Defence submissions by close of business on Wednesday, 9 September 2009.<sup>1871</sup> On 7 September 2009, the Prosecution disclosed the documents received from Witness CBK.<sup>1872</sup> On 9 September 2009, the Prosecutor filed a joint response to the Defence application and addendum, arguing that the Defence request for production of the documents mentioned by Witness CBK was now moot and that the Defence had not shown just cause to recall Witness CBK.<sup>1873</sup> On 17 September 2009, Prosecution Witness CBK was recalled for further cross-examination on the issues raised during his 4 September 2009 testimony.<sup>1874</sup>

721. On 8 September 2009, in response to oral submissions from the Defence, the Trial Chamber ordered the Prosecution to disclose Witness CBY's Gacaca records to the Defence as soon as practicable.<sup>1875</sup> On 9 September 2009, the Trial Chamber reiterated its instruction and ordered Witness CBY to remain in Arusha until 11 September 2009 for the completion of his cross-examination.<sup>1876</sup>

722. On 11 September 2009, the Chamber ordered the Registry to transmit to the Prosecution an inventory of items with which the Accused arrived at the United Nations Detention Facility in Arusha.<sup>1877</sup>

723. On 16 September 2009, the Chamber denied a Defence motion for certification to appeal the Trial Chamber's decision denying the Defence motion for a stay of the proceedings.<sup>1878</sup>

724. On 17 September 2009, the Chamber denied a Defence motion for certification to appeal the Trial Chamber's oral decisions of 31 August 2009, finding that the Defence request for certification to appeal its decision on the motion for adjournment due to the late disclosure of Seromba exhibits was premature because the Trial Chamber had not denied the Defence request.<sup>1879</sup> The Chamber also found that the Defence's successive applications regarding the laissez-passers were unnecessary and disruptive and amounted to relitigation of issues that had already been decided by the Trial Chamber.<sup>1880</sup> The Chamber concluded that the motion was frivolous and denied fees and associated costs.<sup>1881</sup>
